BILL Crane, Veteran Selma District Scout Executive, has achieved membership in the coveted "Opportunity Club" of Region Five, Boy Scouts of America, of which Chilton County is a part. Bill deserves the honor if anyone ever did. He is the most conscientious and obliging gentleman we have ever met in that particular field of endeavor and we say they have improved the Club no end, by accepting Mr. Crane. He is tops!

WILL wonders never cease? We learned this morning that Ruby Ellison, popular landmark for travelers and unquarled friend to the daily coffee drinker has left the Dixie Cafe and gone to the Holiday Inn in South Clanton to work. Say Ruby, when you grow that "Pony Tail" come by and let us take a look at it, will ya?

SERIOUSLY, Ruby Ellison is one of those rare "individualists" who never meets a stranger and counts her friends by the handful! She has been at the Dixie for 10 to these many years now, and we cannot see how the place will be quite the same without her! Actually, one could write a book on Ruby, but suffice it to say that she has made her mark, the hard way and were going to miss seeing her every day! One more thing, too we venture to say without reservation, that the Holiday Inn won't be the same from now on either! 'Nuff said!

THERE will be a Teenage Dance, Friday, January 5 at the Clanton Moose Lodge beginning at 7:30 O'clock. Music will be provided by the local band. Admission is 50c per couple and everyone is invited. Tom Cox who is a member of the Lodge says there will be plenty of fun for everyone, so come on out and join in. The Lodge is located off the Lay Dam Highway on Rockett Avenue.

SHELTON Motors will soon have a new sales manager, or so reports Russ Shelton, owner of the establishment. We await results.

SORRY to hear that the father of Leon Wilcutt has had a stroke, in Birmingham. We don't know any of the details because Leon is out of town this week. We hope for the best for them!

SEMMIE Scott has started a "Rogues Gallery" of distinguished Clantonians. If you haven't seen it you owe it to yourself to see the rogues!

Field Lab Course At C. C. H. S.

Auburn University will offer a Field Laboratory Course at Chilton County High School beginning Thursday, January 4 at 4:00 p.m. Any person interested in the course should attend the first meeting. The course to be offered is Current Problems in Education. It carries four quarter hours of graduate credit and the cost is $25.00.

$2 BILLION IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

The cost of accidents in the United States is $2,000,000,000 a year. There are 87,000,000 licensed drivers in the United States. In 1960, 18,500,000 of these drivers were involved in automobile accidents with damage extensive enough to be reported.

The Alabama Motor Club reminds motorists that this is an expensive endeavor. A driver who hurries right in the old pocketbook, Property damage was reported at $2,200,000. It is to the interest of every driver to reduce this waste expense.

CHILTON'S TOP NEWS STORIES OF 1961

As Seen By The Editors Of The CC News

CERTAINLY one of the most inspiring and interesting stories of 1961, with regards to our County of Chilton was the construction of the new County Courthouse and Jail after some 20 years of effort by various citizens, groups and politicians to make this dream a reality. During the early days of this New Year 1962 you will see the culmination of a county building program the likes of which has never been seen in these parts, and the structures themselves are second to none. A proud day for Chilton Countians.

Expanded Industry—
Another story which created probably the most interest among the lay and working classes of the County was the expansion of the E-Z Pak Corporation in Maplesville. This brought about much action in the County, in literally every corner, including quite a boom in real estate. The "boom" did not materialize as expected but the pattern is being followed on into the New Year and considerable results should be evident by the middle of '62. Two other industries also expanded during 1961. They were listed as Ala. Furniture Mfg. Co. and Knight Engineering Co. The local branch of Dan River Mills also installed some expensive equipment during the year, but it did not increase the job opportunities of the County any appreciable amount. It did, in fact, increase production at the local plant, however!

Beards Come Out—
During the early weeks of 1961, some of the stalwarts of the community, partly in commemoration of the Civil War Centennial and partly for the heck of it, let their beards grow out. It wasn't an earth shaking event, but it did create interest in a lighter vein.

Signs Of Progress—
In late January of 1961 the News published a feature on "Signs of Progress in Chilton County" in which businessmen participated and publicized their major improvements to date. It went over very well, and served, we think, to better enlighten the people as to the basic progress of our community and the firms and merchants.

Trade School Till—
Perhaps the most controversial and hottest issue of 1961 was the effort to establish necessary money for a Trade School in Chilton County. Many differences of opinion were aired on this project, one which the News believed and still believes to be good for our County. As of today we are one step nearer this goal in that the State at large ratified the constitutional amendment to allow the people to vote on such an issue, should the necessity present itself.

School Progress—
Much publicity was given the progress of the school building program in Chilton County even though funds are short and some plans had to be curtailed. Our school facilities are greatly improved over last year's and plans are to continue in this educational progress. Operating funds are short, but that is a 1962 story yet to be thrashed out!

Boys Scouts—
Businessmen and industry presented a salute to the Boy Scouts of America on their 51st Anniversary and the Bank of Maplesville announced plans for a new building and moved into it, the latter part of the year. Mrs. Lena Downs was credited with beginning the Home Demonstration Club movement in Chilton County and honored for her effort in this category.

Flood Damage—
Some $66,000 worth of damage was done to Chilton property due to floods in early 1961. The Civil Defense Rescue Squad and the Red Cross utilized all available facilities to help those who suffered at the hands of Mother Nature.

Road-EO—
Clanton played host to the Alabama Jaycee Teen-Age Driving Road-EO, another first for the community. Morris Moatts, Billy Lawrence, William Helms, Bobby Futral and many of the Jaycees were active in this event. It went over well, too!

And Peaches, Too—
The Peach Queen for 1961, Miss Mary Kate Tucker, was chosen and sent to Atlanta to parade and otherwise honor the County's number one crop. And a peach tree killer was identified and efforts be gun to annihilate the intruder into our economy. And the County's peach crop, though abundant in size, was a flop due to the fact that sales were bad and price was unusually low.

The local Masons dedicated their new lodge building here and Clay Carroll came home from a very successful round in big league baseball, as the hero of the day.

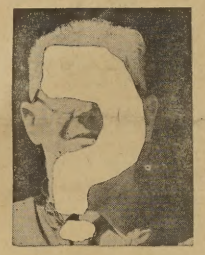

New Zoning laws were adopted for Clanton, J. A. Peterson resigned as principal of Jenison High School after 37 years and the Loyal Order of Moose was chartered in Clanton.

A general shuffling of positions in the County saw W. A. "Bing" Lecroy leave his post as County Superintendent of Education to accept the State position. Gordon Conway replaced Mr. Lecroy. L. C. Shields became principal at Jenison and James Duke Hefflin was promoted to Chairman of the Board of Education upon the resignation of J. Pope Payne long time holder of the post. Charles Hamby, a newcomer to the scene was established as principal of Isabella High School.

102-year old Bob Bates made a return visit to Clanton to renew old friendships and visit familiar places and the County Fair came off as planned, as usual. The Holiday Inn opening south of Clanton was considered a big event and over 6,000 students registered in County schools for the 1961-62 classes. The School for Retarded Children was a big dream of a stout-hearted few and they realized results. . . it is now a reality.

Bookmobile and library facilities received quite a boost from the interested organization in 1961 to the extent that we will have library services for the County in 1962. The year was ended up with the Veterans Day Parade and the Christmas Season taking the spotlight in the news. The year as a whole was bad for most Chilton Countians, but the new one has started out much better and the outlook is encouraging. . . one of optimistic enthusiasm. And so goes another 365 days in history. . .

Thurl Patterson First To Identify "Mystery Man"

WHO IS HE?

THURL Patterson, Clanton, was first to identify this week's News "Mystery Man" as being Mr. Ed Yeargan of Thorsby. Mr. Patterson will receive his check of $2 in cash or a year's subscription to the News.

This game is getting to be a lot of fun! A couple of folks came in this week and were very positive that the "Man" was Henry Roper of Stokes Chevrolet fame. "Wasn't that!" Another gussed it was Jimmy Bell, another said it was L. A. Clayton and still another gussed Ollie McDowell. . . it was Mr. Ed Yeargan of Thorsby.

Remember now. . . no guesses will be accepted before 8:00 a.m. Thursday morning and tell us you must come in by order to win. We'll be glad to hear from you over the telephone but you can't win that way, unless nobody comes into the office. Jim chance of that, the way they've been coming by.

If you know who this week's "Mystery Man" is come by Thursday morning and tell us. You could be the lucky winner this week! Everybody's eligible from 5 to 95, except employees of the News and their immediate families.

Paving To Concord To Begin This Month, SACP

Governor Patterson and Highway Director Engelhardt have entered into a contract with Chilton County for the construction of grading, drainage and pavement on 0.413 mile road from point at the southern City limits of Clanton easterly to Concord Church.

The estimated cost of this work is $11,300.00 of which $5,650.00 will be paid by the State Highway Dept. and 5,650. by the County.

The work was let by SACP Contract and construction should get underway in the near future.

The work is being done on this project is part of the regular Farm to Market Program where by roads and bridges are being replaced and improved to higher standards to serve the local people.

The regular program provided by law and the Special Aid Program as granted by the Governor and the Highway Department will be the means for the construction of 1000 miles of County roads and bridges within the State during each year of the present administration. Chilton County will construct its proportionate share.

This is the first administration that has entered into an Agreement with every County covering the granting of special funds for road and bridge construction on the County road system.

Registrars Thank "Kind People"

The Chilton County Board of Registrars wishes to "Thank You" kind people for the help you've given us in eliminating a number of names from our "Qualified voter's list". We urge that you continue supplying us with the names of any deceased persons name appearing on these qualified list as well as any others who should be removed. Your response to our recent request in each of our County papers has been most gratifying.

Moving Into New Courthouse Begun This Week

ACCORDING to the office of Probate Judge J. C. White, offices in the Courthouse began moving into the new building this week. White says the moving will be spaced out over the month of January to keep down confusion and to keep the functioning of the various offices at a maximum.

Those offices which were totally or partially moved by Wednesday morning of this week are:

- The Tax Assessor and Collector for the Probate Office.
- The County Clerk, Sheriff of Revenue and Control, County Purchasing Agent, Sheriff and the County Register. Others are moving and will continue to move their offices throughout this week and the rest of January.

400 Alabama Youths Face January Call

A total of 400 Alabama registrars will be summoned to the induction station here during January to fill Alabama's Selective Service quota according to State Director Walter M. Thompson, Jr.

Thompson said that Alabama's call include only volunteers, delinquents and registrants without children in Class I-A, IAO of 22 years or older. Alabama's quota of 400 will serve toward filling a national call of 15,000 men for January. All will be inducted into the Army.

The State Director again pointed out that individual county calls are based on those available registrants already examined and acceptable.

County by County the call includes: Autauga 2, Dallas 2, Chilton 9, Coosa 1, Bibb 8, Elmore 1, Perry 0 Shelby 0

So. Bell Pays $11,037.69 To Chilton County

Nearly $2,500,000 in ad valorem taxes were paid by Southern Bell to the state, county and municipal governments of Alabama during 1961. An ad valorem tax payment of $11,037.69 was delivered to Chilton County by tax collector's office last week according to W. Waters telephone company office manager.

The telephone company estimates its total 1961 tax payments to Alabama's state, county and municipal governments at $5,760,000. This does not include any income, social security or excise taxes paid to the federal government.

EARWIGS IN YOUR WIGWAM?

OR . . . POSTERIOR PINCHERS MAKE SNAPPY INSECTS

County Agent Selters reports that recently a number of inquiries have been made concerning the invasion of earwigs into homes. Its natural habitat is basements. Out of door earwigs are most often found in well mulched flower beds or plant boxes. They are nocturnal in nature and move about at night in search of food.

A striking characteristic of the insect is a pair of forced like pinchers attached to its posterior. When disturbed the insect throws its tail up over its back and moves the pinchers as if to sting or pinch the intruder. Actually, the pinchers can do no harm.

This insect can be controlled by spraying or dusting the areas outside of homes and in basements with 10 percent chlordane or 10 percent DDT or 20 percent toxaphene. Inside the home, areas where these insects are seen can be sprayed with chlordane.

Concord P.T.A. Will Met

Our Readers...

THE very thing that makes the reader of the Community Newspaper so close to that newspaper is the fact that he is, actually, a reporter for the press.

The big dailies must afford reporters to bring in the days news, but the weekly is fortunate enough to have readers and friends who will volunteer those services free of charge.

This is a good time to thank all who have "reported" for the News this past year. Without your enthusiastic support and concern our job would be made much more difficult. We don't ask that you do all our work for us, but if you can just keep us informed... remind us of this or that, we'll take care of the details. It's an association of which we are very proud, because we have so many supporters and it is gratifying to serve such as they. Thanks again for your loyal and truly appreciated "reporting" support in 1961. We look forward to having it in 1962! We'll do the editing and publishing if you'll help us find, and report the happenings in the community.

You Can't Have Both...

ACCORDING to a contributor of ours, you cannot have freedom and equality! He says, "If a people are free they cannot be equal and if they are equal they cannot be free." In a most literal sense, this is true; for where can there be freedom when everyone is forced to be equal? We'll take freedom and poverty any day, before equal slavery to do the bidding of our masters!

"Made In Japan"

THERE is increasing concern in Chilton County and over the nation, with regards to foreign made goods being imported into this country in an ever-increasing quantity. It is apparent that if we as Americans, intend to maintain our high standard of living, we are going to have to consume our own products instead of buying foreign made goods. We must either do that, or we must sell--to somebody--that which we are able to produce.

"Made in Japan" is a phrase which is being seen around entirely to frequently for some of us, and it is time our economic experts sit down and do what the people believe to be right. With unemployment at a staggering level, and production being held down to a minimum in many industries, it is ridiculous for us to continue to support foreign-markets at the expense of our own people.

Some of us are ashamed to assert ourselves and speak up, but we know of at least one merchant in Clanton who has refused shipments of goods, when he found that they were "Made in Japan". Would that more of us stand up for the rights of our American brothers. We have nothing against a product of the Japanese, but charity begins at home. And so does common sense!

We want to see more "Made in Hometown, U.S.A." on the items we buy. And Hometown, U.S.A. wants it, too!

100 Years Ago

ON THE MARCH, GO!

With a new year 1862, the Confederates began the Shenandoah Valley Campaign, and strategic line in Kentucky, and, indeed, gained favor with newspapers.

On January 1, 1862, the Confederate march on Romney, Virginia began under the command of General "Stonewall" Jackson. At his headquarters in Winchester, Virginia, since November, 1861, he had worked fast to improve his troops. Jackson believed in activity for his soldiers and said, "An idle soldier's campaign is less liable to produce disease than sedentary life by camp fires in winter quarters."

Just as the Confederate Shenandoah Campaigners were eager to move, so was eagerness shown by Confederate General A. S. Johnston's desire to hold valuable points in Kentucky. He was stationed at Bowling Green, Kentucky; General Leonidas Polk at Columbus, Kentucky; and there was a fortified camp at Cumberland Gap in Western Kentucky.

The Confederate strength was watched by Union forces. General Don Carlos Buell was encamped at Louisville, Kentucky and Flag Officer Andrew H. Foote "backed him up" with Federal gunboats at Cairo, Ill.

Abroad, Henry Hotze young Mobile newspaperman, was in London as Confederate foreign agent. He gained favor for the South through his work with the press and by May 1, 1862 he began his own weekly journal, The Index.

A Brand New Year...

IN the make-up of things, history and the Good Lord have given mankind the opportunity to refresh himself and, if a wrong turn has been made, to start over again with renewed vigor and enthusiasm. Thus, a New Year is born!

The one on which we are about to embark is called 1962 A. D. and for the people of Chilton County, it reflects already promises of a better tomorrow... a fresh new outlook... a quickened awareness of our possibilities and our future obligations.

You are possibly one of those who looks at the New Year with a certain amount of skepticism and doubt. You need confidence! Or perhaps you are exuberant in the idea that you will make new resolutions for the better. Make one very good one... and stick to it!

Or are you one of those who accept the times as step back and observe your past progress, or lack of it? back and observe your past progress, or lack of it? You certainly could use some determination and renewed spirit!

The New Year is for all, and belongs to each of us alone. We can accept it to better ourselves, to fall behind, or just maintain the status quo! Whatever you choose, it is your own choosing and your own opportunity, whatever you decide to do with it!

As for us, simply, we will strive earnestly to do better and to improve some of those faults which the Lord has seen fit to allow us to realize. The ones we can't see will have to wait a while longer.

Happy New Year!

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

WHAT ARE YOUR NEEDS?

To become a widow suddenly is a dismaying experience, especially when there are young children to provide for. Few conditions of life are as desperate.

One woman, suddenly faced with this disheartening situation, was encouraged when she read Isaiah 54:5, "For thy Maker is thine husband; the Lord of hosts is his name."

She gathered her children around her and cried, "O Father, You said YOU would be a father to the fatherless, and You said YOU would be a husband and a judge of the widows. Now, Lord, a father brings in food and provides the other necessities of life for his wife and for his children. I am depending solely on You to keep Your Word. You said YOU would supply all our needs according to Your riches in glory by Christ Jesus."

When she prayed this prayer, her funds were exhausted. At the moment the food supply was getting very low, so low that there were only some stewed tomatoes remaining. It was a cold February night. She rose from her knees and thanked God for His promise to provide and began to prepare her children for bed.

A widow with four small children, one only a few months old, without a means of earning a livelihood, facing the lonely prospect of struggle, suddenly abandoned her fear and turned to God. It was wonderfully comforting for her to know that God had promised to be a father to the fatherless, a husband to the widow.

Shortly thereafter, she heard a knock on her door. A woman, a complete stranger, was there. She said, "I have something for you. Will you accept it?"

Dazedly she agreed. The woman went out to her car and, with another woman, began to carry things into the house--smoked and fresh meats, all kinds of canned foods, flour, eggs, milk, and even cake and candy.

It was like a dream. The food had been sent from a church about 30 miles away. The widow knew that the provision had come from God, and she remembered that God had said, "Before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear" (Isaiah 65:24).

The widow's heart was filled to overflowing with gratitude and joy, for this incident marked the beginning of God's providence for her and for her children.

She had learned the sweetest lesson of all life--to trust the Lord. She had learned that it was not necessary to ask God more than once for a need, for God knows the need even before the asking. She learned also that God meets more than bare need. He provides abundantly, superabundantly.

If you have any problem that is more than you can manage alone, place your complete trust in God, for "He careth for you." He will save your soul, heal your body and provide for your every need.

MAN OF THE WEEK

AS one of Chilton County's most active civic leaders, Mr. Ed Yeargan, Thorsby, has certainly earned his place as the Man of the Week. "Mr. Ed," as he is known by his many friends, has headed up the Cancer Drive in Chilton County for a number of years. Under his leadership that drive has been one of the most effective in the County. He has been active in the Christmas Chest activities for many years and his work in the American Legion is known throughout the State.

Ed Yeargan retired some three years ago from a position with Liberty National Life Insurance Co. one which he had held for nearly two decades. Since that time he has spent much of his time on civic activities, and teaching school as a substitute teacher.

He has served as Post Commander of the American Legion at Thorsby and has been very instrumental in the success of that Post in this area. He is also a staunch supporter of the News, having served on the staff for a brief time just after his retirement from the insurance field.

Man of manner and soft spoken, Mr. Ed is one of Chilton County's greatest supporters and is influential in many varied fields of endeavor. His efforts have meant a great deal to the industrial development of Chilton County and he is very active in the work of the Methodist Church. He is the father of four and he and his wife Myrtle, live at Thorsby.

The News salutes Mr. Ed Yeargan, a strong, but comforting friend, a good neighbor and a 100 percent true American.

THIS WEEK ON CAPITOL HILL

Capitol Hill -- Last week a column was devoted to those local politicians from 17 of the states 35 senatorial districts being mentioned as possible candidates for the respective county senate positions. Here is a continuation of the most talked about contenders.

From Sen. Norman Crawford's 18th district Bibb and Perry County, the word is that former Sen. H. R. James of Bibb County plans to offer again. However there has been also some speculation that if Bibb House Speaker Virginia Ashworth does run for Lt. Gov. he might make this case.

Nineteenth district politicians of Choctaw, Clarke and Washington County are saying the only announced candidate from Choctaw to replace Washington Sen. Dennis Porter is Julian Watters. Political word is that E. O. Eddins 20th district is that it looks like Eddins again and again and again for his third term, possibly with out opposition.

The Senate seat vacated by Escambia Sen. Douglas Webb of the 21st district, which includes Baldwin and Monroe is expected to be sought by Baldwin Rep. Louis Brannon and attorney C. Lenoir Thompson of Bay Minette. Earlly it was believed former Sen. Jimmy Faulkner might make the run but reports indicate he will not.

Wilcox Sen. Roland Cooner of the 22nd district is expected to be opposed for his chair. Dale and Geneva County's 23rd district is expected to see former Sen. Neil Metcalf and Geneva banker Hubert Hulse.

Barbour's district 24 will probably watch Sen. Jimmy Clark get by without opposition this time, along with his two House colleagues, McDowell Lee and Sim Thomas. Since Crenshaw Sen. Alton Turner cannot run again under the courtesy rule between that county and the 25th district an exciting race is expected to develop between former Coffee Rep. Bess Stokes and Enterprise Mayor M. N. "Jug" Brown or present Rep. Rexford.

The 26th senatorial district Bullock and Macon will probably see Macon Rep. Grady Rogers run for Bullock Sen. L. (Snag) Andrews. An interesting race is expected to develop between Lee Sen. Yetta Samford's district 27 senate seat have been Russell Reps. Homer and Joe Smith, former senator. However there is strong talk now Smith will seek his present House seat by without opposition.

Montgomery's district 28 will more than likely see Vaughn Hill Robinson have little trouble in retaining his chair. DeKalb in school teacher Kenneth Hammonds Collinsville businessman Jack Weaver Collinsville High School principal Chad Hawkins Ferrell have all indicated they may try for Cherokee Sen. George Godfrey's seat next May in the 29th district.

Robert Harris, who was believed to be a likely starter, has reported he will seek his House post again.

Dallas Sen. Walter Givhan of the 30th district is believed now to be without any trouble especially since it has been just about confirmed that Selma Mayor Christ Hienz will run as a three man race is presently shaping up in Marion Sen. Hugh Moore's 31st district which also takes in Colbert and Franklin. They are Franklin Sen. Ernest Odell of Russell, Phil Campbell of Macon, Sheldon Pinon and Russellville farmer Oscar Anderson.

While Hale Sen. W. F. "Fluke" Wilson of the 32nd district is preparing to run for Agriculture Commissioner race, the names most mentioned from adjoining Greene County who have indicated a desire to run for Wilson's chair are Governor P. T. Martin, former supt. of education S. D. Bayer and former Sen. David Hall.

Three names have been discussed for the 33rd district. Will Caffery's district 33 senate seat. They are Mobile attorney Max Rovers "I, former Mobile Rep. John Tyson and Mobile businessman Jimmy Kalleley. An interesting race is expected to develop between former Clay Rep. Pete Mathews and Clay "Probate Judge Wilbur Nolen, Sr. for the senate seat now held by Clay Rep. John Gaither of the 34th district, which also includes Coosa County.

In Henry Sen. Carl Farmer's 35th district, Houston Rep. Charles Adams and former Dothan Mayor Jimmy Thrower are expected to tie up in a red-hot battle to wind up the coming year's senatorial races. And since last week's column, Lamont businessman Cliff Hayes has announced he will seek the senate from Fayette, Walker and Lamont's 12th district.

A Motorist

Resolves...

Floyd H. Mann, Director of the Department of Public Safety said today, "Sincere New Year's resolutions are in order relating to the use of the motor vehicle in 1962."

Director Mann said, "Undoubtedly the first thing we should consider as the subject of a New Year's resolution is the problem of obeying traffic laws. Years of experience have proved beyond a doubt that the most dangerous thing a driver can do is to break or bend a traffic law. At least two out of every three drivers involved in accidents and in fatal accidents are guilty of a traffic violation at the time, or immediately before the accident occurs. This has been true for many years. It will be true for years to come, unless we settle down and resolve most seriously that we will always make every effort to obey the traffic laws."

Too often we give in to a temptation to speed just a little or to drive after having consumed beverage alcohol. Some drivers get in a hurry and fail to obey stop signs and traffic signals - Others still compete for the right of way at intersections.

Mr. Mann said that since most of the traffic slaughter on the highways is caused by a disregard of the traffic laws, he is urging all motorists to adopt with sincerity these resolutions as guiding principles for fair play and personal safety in 1962.

1. That I will personally resist that nagging temptation to bend the traffic, and when I have that urge to cheat just a little on the traffic laws, I will remind that traffic law violation can mean bloodshed.

2. I pledge to my family and other innocent people who may

INGS We see and hear by BOB

YOU'VE heard "Dan'l Boone Cilled A Bumbler" and you know that! Well, John Higgins has "Cilled a Gobbler" and he did it in Chilton County, too! Mr. John says it cost him just about $100 a pound to buy this bird, but it was worth all $100 of it. It's the first turkey gobbler he has bagged in all his years of turkey tracking (or is that trotting) and he says he was spent about that much hunting the critters! Maybe your luck's changing, Mr. John... or your aim one!

WILSON Maddox and the Misus are off this week (and last) on a Florida jaunt that will take them to the sunny 80 degree shores of Miami Beach. They are attending a Darius De-elite convention somewhere down that way and while that close they couldn't resist the temptation of taking in Miami. Wilson says to tell all his creditors that he will be back... he's not going for good!

LEARNED by way of County Agent John Sellers this week that our home is infested with badgers! We always thought that was something for people with bald ears, but it turns out these little varmints are "Nocturnal Nuisances". They throw their tail up over their head when disturbed as if they are saying, "So what? Their natural habitat is a basement. That must be why the ones at our house go around all night with their tail up over their head, but it ain't no basement. Must be confusing."

WELL, the New Year of 1962 is upon us. Optimistic that the year looks good for Chilton County. Our economy from all indications will be considerably better than it was in 1961. It wasn't so good compared to other areas of the State and nation. Everything but the weather is looking up, and that is good. We must do it right as well take in stride, for all we can do to change it.

THIS is as good as we know for you to personally take stock of your feelings toward Chilton County and the aspirations for which it stands. 1961 was a hope, the end of an era of selfish thought and action and disregarding of the things which we hold dear and the truths which our nation was founded upon. A brighter tomorrow is in store for those who will renew their faith in their country and their fellowman and under the leadership of the Almighty peace will reign supreme on this earth.

We are caught up in the current of bigotry, hatred and selfishness. It is not too late to determine our true course and follow it, no matter what the cost. We must do it. The price we pay will be nothing to what our children have to pay in years to come. Stand up, America; firm for the rights of mankind all over the world, and the brighter tomorrow will come. Strength of conviction will triumph; not without sacrifice or cost... but it will come!

ONE thing about 1961, it looked like a good year, but you looked at it right side up, or looked down. Some of us looked at it upside down more we did right side up! Want a very popular year with a lot of folks and other things, creep out very quietly in these parts!

CON. ELLIOTT-- Public Housing Development Feared In Danger

In view of continued pressure by minority for the passage of public housing and with persistent rumors that the White House will soon issue an order to bar racial discrimination from the public housing program, the Seventh Congressional District of Alabama has a larger percentage of cities and towns supplied with public housing than any other congressional district in the southern states. Low income public housing in the Southeast is on things that serve the race better than the white. In percentage of population of Negro and white in the Southeast, the Negro has a considerably larger share of public housing. It is unthinkable that the present satisfactory arrangement in low income public housing should be disrupted.

The integration of public housing would mean the end of public housing in the Southeast and along with it would go urban renewal and other programs under the Housing Act.

Ten years ago consumption of ice cream and other frozen desserts was 17.2 pounds for each person, 18 pounds in 1955 and 18.4 pounds in 1960.

GEMS THOUGHTS IDEALS

BY DONALD MARTIN

ONE DAY AT A TIME

It is hard for you to live by the One Day at a Time motto. Christian life is learning to live this way. The long stretches, and trying to live life as a whole is too much of a load for us. Most of us can carry out motto for one day at a time. Then when the sun goes down let's ask God to help us pull down the curtain of darkness and help us find the secret of true and happy living.

Donald Mar'in In Exercise Trailbreak
At New York

Army Specialist Four Donald Mar'in son of Mr. and Mrs. Booker T. Martin, Route 2, Clanton, Ala., recently participated in Exercise Trailbreak, a 12 day winter training maneuver at Camp Drum, N. Y. During the first ten days, Specialist Mar'in and approximately 1400 other paratroopers of the 82d Airborne Division's 325th Infantry from Fort Bragg, N. C., took part in acclimatization and cold weather training. During a simulated combat situation, the paratroopers repelled aggressor forces and seized road and communications networks. The exercise exemplified the Strategic Army Corps' ability to go anywhere, anytime, and land ready to fight. Martin, a fire team leader in the infantry's Company D, entered the Army in 1958 and was last stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C. The 21 year old soldier attended Chilton County High School.

TURBINE ENGINES
SOON MAY POWER
MANY FAMILY CARS

DETROIT—Family passenger cars powered by the gas turbine engine moved a step closer to reality as Chrysler Corporation weighed a decision to build a limited number of gas turbine powered passenger cars for use by selected typical motorists.

Announcement of Chrysler's advance the revolutionary gas turbine field was made jointly by Robert Anderson, vice-president and director—Product Planning and George J. Huebner, Jr., executive engineer—Research, for the automobile company.

They spoke at the start of a 3,000-mile, five-day test evaluation run from New York to Los Angeles by a modified 1962 Dodge powered by a gas turbine. In Los Angeles, the Turbo Dart was joined by a 1962 Plymouth Turbo Fury, also equipped with a turbine engine. Together, the cars began a tour from Los Angeles to Cleveland, Ohio, for public display and dealer inspection.

"The coast-to-coast Dodge trip is one phase of a program of evaluation we are making at Chrysler Corporation to guide us in our decision—to build a limited number of turbine powered automobiles and to place them in the hands of typical motorists who will use them under a variety of normal driving conditions," Mr. Anderson said.

"On the basis of the public interest shown in our turbine engine, and on the basis of our own knowledge of the engine's many advantages and benefits, we believe a market for a turbine-powered automobile may be possible."

Mr. Huebner, who directs Chrysler Corporation's turbine development program, listed the following passenger car gas turbine engine benefits.

The gas turbine has only about a fifth as many parts as the reciprocating engine, it runs smooth and practically vibrationless. It does not require a distributor or breaker points, needs only one spark plug, and no oil changes. In addition, the Chrysler gas turbine has a clean, cool exhaust, with no carbon monoxide and no unburned carbon.

It built in a volume comparable with a piston engine, turbine costs would be comparable with those of piston engines, Mr. Huebner said.

Booklet information on the Chrysler-developed gas turbine is available to the general public at all local Chrysler, Plymouth and Dodge dealerships. Printed matter includes turbine engine illustrations, advantages of Chrysler's developed regenerative turbine engine principle, engineering data and statements of the company's program for the development of the turbine engine in future passenger car production.

TEAM OF TURBOCARS—The Dodge Turbo Dart (foreground) and the Plymouth Turbo Fury—each powered by Chrysler Corporation's newest gas turbine engine, are shown together for the first time prior to their public display. With the cars is George J. Huebner, Jr., executive engineer—Research for Chrysler Corporation, who has directed the company's gas turbine development program since its inception in 1945. The company is weighing a decision to build a limited number of passenger cars powered by the revolutionary new engine for use by selected typical motorists as a final evaluation of the engine.

Push-Button Mining

Mechanization advances in the coal mining industry are producing behemoths like this 16-story stripping machine which tears earth from the coal seam in 105-ton bites. It is so big it has a story elevator inside the cab.

At another mine, the Peabody Coal Company this year introduced the latest in push-button mining. The machine enters the strip alone and is operated by a 2-man team at the controls outside. Significantly, in 1961, the Peabody Company, second largest in the nation, recorded a $21 million profit on the sale of coal—the highest of any recent year!

While extensive mechanization has made the coal industry well, it has cost many a miner his job in the process. The result has been mounting pressure on coal state politicians and on the National Coal Association.

On the federal government's part, hundreds of thousands of Approximately 35,000 of the total were added during 1961. To render service, and to expand and maintain its Alabama facilities, Southern Bell employs approximately 6,500 people. Salaries and wages for 1961 are estimated at $33,553,000. Taxes for the year totaled $18,607,000.

Frank Newton, Southern Bell's vice-president and general manager in Alabama, says that the near-record expenditure for the expansion is based on the expectation that the company will be allowed to earn a reasonable return on its investment.

Estelle Edwards were the dinner guest of Mrs. Minnie Davis on Xmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker were the dinner guest of her parents on Xmas. Mr. and Mrs. George Underwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCoy from Cleveland, also sister spent Christmas with his grandmother Mrs. Etta Sawyer and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Davis and children Mrs. Earl Davis and son from Detroit, Michigan visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dickerson the Christmas week end.

New Years Eve Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smithman and children and Mrs. Mary Smithman were the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dickerson.

The churches that contributed to the Emancipation program were as follows: Morning Star $2.00; Fountain Chapel $5.00; Union Baptist $5.00; and Hopewell Baptist $5.00.

Distributor For Radiation Shelters,
Miller

American Shelter Corp. announces today the appointment of Lester K. Miller, Prattville, Ala., as exclusive distributor for Radiation Shelters made of galvanized steel. Massed produced by the Martin Steel Company of Mansfield, Ohio.

Present shelter is the result of many years of intensive research and engineering. It was among the first to win National Civil Defense acceptance. At present the factory is producing approximately 200 shelters daily or the equivalent of 100,000 tons of steel a year.

Martin Steel Company, since 1909 has pioneered in the design and manufacture of quality steel products such as the famous corrugated galvanized steel, road culverts and other steel products.

Mr. Miller, who owns and operates Sunset Motel Prattville, Ala., plans to headquarter his new business at the Motel and will install model shelter on his premises in the immediate future.

Mr. Miller, a former builder and contractor, came to Prattville, Ala., from Florida and purchased the Sunset Motel about two years ago. He, his wife and two sons reside at the Sunset Motel. They are active in church and civic affairs of the community.

WMU Quarterly Meeting To Be Held
January 10

The Chilton Unity Association WMU Quarterly meeting has been announced to meet Wednesday, January 10, 10:00 a.m. with the First Baptist Church, Clanton. The theme: "That Thy Way May Be Known—We Bring Our Tithe," was chosen for the meeting. Mrs. Sam Mayo, a native of Missouri, a graduate of Carver School of Missions in Social Work, and served with her husband as missionaries to the Migrants until his death in 1957, will speak on the subject "That His Way May Be Known in America." Special music will be rendered and a short conference with the officers will be held. The ladies of the churches are invited to bring a covered dish. Lunch and fellowship together will bring the meeting to a close. Mrs. J. W. Johnson, president and her co-workers extends a cordial invitation to the women and pastors of all the churches to attend to hear the message of the speaker, who until recently served as Field Worker with the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Doctors and nutritionists agree that for breakfast everyone should get one fourth to one third of the day's total recommended food allowances.

Alabama 4-H Members Return Home After Exciting Week in Chicago

Three talented Alabama youngsters become so proficient in their 4-H projects that they carried off top state awards for 1961.

Mervin Barnes, 19, swine project winner from Graceville, joined 1,400 4-Hers in Chicago for the 40th National 4-H Club
Congress, as did Joyce Williams, 17, of Moundville, state winner in the recreation program. The state sent 30 delegates and had four national winners.

Mervin Barnes

Miss Williams

Barnes launched his swine project seven years ago and has raised 76 hogs. He has picked up a profit each year, with the total now nearing $1,500. Many prizes and ribbons attest to the success of his project.

Moorman Mfg. Co. provided his expense-paid trip to congress, held the last week in November. A son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Barnes, he is president of his local 4-H Club.

Thomas Shipp

Jerry Green

All were awarded expense-paid trips to the 4-H meeting for being named the state's top 4-Hers in tractor, agricultural, dress reue and foods-nutrition projects, respectively.

They were among 1,400 delegates, including 30 from Alabama, to the congress in Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel.

The congress each year is arranged by the Cooperative Extension Service, National 4-H Service Committee and more than 50 of the nation's leading business firms, foundations and associations.

American Oil Foundation donated young Shipp's trip. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Shipp, he learned to operate tractors
as part of his project.

Young Green was the Chicago goal of International Harvester Co. He has won numerous awards in beef, swine, tractor and forestry projects. The son of Mrs. Dora Green, he helps operate the family's 105 acre farm. He has been in 4-H work for seven years.

Miss Perry has made 61 garments and 16 articles and learned how to model them in prize-winning fashion as part of her project.

Simplicity Pattern Co., Inc. provided her trip and also awarded her a pair of leather casual slippers. Miss Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Perry, won top honors for modeling a green wool suit that she made.

Miss Bryant has been preparing meals since the age of 11.
Her trip was sponsored by the General Foods Corporation.

The daughter of Mrs. Emma Bryant, she is a Jacksonville
State College student.

THINGS
We see
and hear
by BOB

MR. Clyde Mims called across the snow this morning to ask if we were interested in an air conditioner. He said, "I'll give you a bargain. Suppose that's true, but we have never seen that kind of optimism anywhere. That's like trying to sell advertising on a day like Wednesday!"

THIS kind of weather in what we consider the "deep south" is not only uncommon, it's also uninteresting. I've seen more people sitting down in the street and on the sidewalks in a half day Wednesday than all the rest of the year put together. If you don't believe that's uninteresting, just try walking across the street. Especially if there's a slight grade! Them's the nerves that's tenderest, too! Ouch!

MR. and Mrs. J. J. Pickens are back in Clanton after several weeks in Tullahoma, Tennessee where Mr. Pickens underwent surgery. He was in the hospital for about six weeks. Mr. J. J. is looking well, however, and he says they will be here only temporarily. If this weather keeps up they may change that to "indefinitely." Glad to see him up and around again! Mr. and Mrs. Pickens have been supporters of the News ever since there are a "News" and they are mighty fine folks!

THE situation in a nutshell: If you can't see the weather, otherwise don't! That's the weather folks! And now to the stock market. It's froze up! So are our toes!

REP. George Andrews of the Third District, it says here, was one of the few who had perfect attendance at the 1961 session of Congress. He has been member of Congress for the past 18 years. Pretty good record: 231 meetings!

AT Clanton Motors Wednesday morning only the stoutest showed up for work in the early morning hours of the morning. Lawrence Wright, one of the few, wore a big old fur collared coat and said: "I told my wife that everyone would laugh at me if I wore this thing, this morning. You know what, we didn't see the first one laughing! They were too busy hugging the heater and warming our own toes to worry about what anyone else was wearing."

THE Blood Program of the American Red Cross is celebrating its 40th Anniversary this month. And every eight minutes that ticks away, unnoticed by most of us, a life is saved by the blood you gave at the Blood Bank! Happy Anniversary to a most deserving humanitarian program. Let us may live that others may die the same!

HOT DOGS! The date we've been waiting for has finally been announced. The Open House of the new courthouse and jail will be on the 18th day of February and you are invited. In the weeks to come, we will be giving you as much information as we possibly can about this long-awaited history-making event in Chilton's history. All this and politics, too!

FOR those who do not know, for one reason or another, the subscription price for one year of the News is $3.00. You can save a year, over the single copy price, by buying it. Subscriptions are being taken in really excellent this time. We need the support of you folks to continue with a good newspaper for you. Don't ever think your "one" subscription doesn't help. Each one is a valuable asset. Our business and we can do our job for our community only with your continuing good support. Active support! CHILTON SNOWBOUND; ROADS CLOSED

SUB-ZERO weather, and Old Man Winter have brought paralyzing conditions to Chilton County since Tuesday of this week. Unofficial reports stated Wednesday morning that a snowfall of nearly four inches covered Chilton County Tuesday night. Six degree temperatures froze the whole business and as of today the entire County shivering under a coating of ice and snow. All main roads are closed and according to the weather bureau Wednesday at noon, little or no relief is in sight.

MOST CITIZENS CAUGHT UNPREPARED
CITIZENS awoke Wednesday morning with water pipes frozen, autos stalled and confusion in general. There was no school Wednesday, with no work today and business in general has come to a temporary standstill. Those merchants who are braving the elements and opening for business are doing a minimum of business and usually with skeleton forces. Many employees are unable to travel to work or anywhere else.

ROADS CLOSED THROUGH THURSDAY
Main arteries and even connecting ones, had been closed or barricaded Wednesday morning and according to the office of the Sheriff, the unofficial report was that the highways would remain closed through Thursday and possibly longer if prevailing weather did not ease up.

DEATHS REPORTED
At least two deaths were reported early Wednesday morning, but neither, apparently, was due to the severity of the weather or exposure. An automobile turned over north of Clanton at Driver's Bar BQ Tuesday night. Cause of the accident was attributed to the ice. The car's occupants were unhurt.

OLD-TIMERS HAVE THEIR SAY
Most of Chilton's senior citizens say that this is certainly not the worst weather, or the coldest in Chilton's history, but everyone agrees that it is among the most severe weather which the County has ever seen and is certainly among the most unexpected. The snow and ice has created quite a bit of misery and inconvenience and, before it's over, will probably be the bearer of some tragedy in one form or another. Did someone say we have had no winter? You'll have to find another conversation piece now. How about "Stalled Cars And Sitting Pretty"?

Appreciation Banquet, 15th
The annual appreciation banquet of the Tuscaloosa Council, Boy Scouts of America will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, January 15, at the Whitley Hotel in Montgomery.

Dr. Leslie S. Wright, president of Howard College, will address the 300 volunteer Scout leaders from fourteen central Alabama counties who will attend.

According to council president J. Allen Reynolds, Jr., the banquet will highlight the 42nd annual meeting of the Boy Scout Council, and will be preceded by a business meeting at 5 p.m. Reynolds will preside over both sessions.

Baptist Pastors Conference Meets January 13,
The Baptist Pastors Conference of the Chilton-County Association met Saturday, January 13, 2:00 p.m. at the Northside Baptist Church. The officers have planned a very interesting program. A cordial invitation is extended to all preachers to attend and enjoy a good fellowship. Reverend Hyman A. Winslow, president, and Reverend Lloyd Jones, program chairman, reported from the churches and from the communities will be heard.

JACK FROST NIPS THE NEWS

AMONG others things, balky machinery, due to the excessive cold, caused our News to be a little late this week. We are just as sorry as can be, but Old Jack Frost wouldn't let us alone. Wednesday brought most of the trouble; as fast as we could get one of our employees to work, another would be stranded in the snow and ice somewhere, so we were pretty much hampered, all things considered.

We don't miss many weeks getting you your paper on time. . . we drive some 75 miles to do it many weeks of the morning. But this week, we couldn't even do that. Our hands were tied, our presses stiff, our printers froze up! With the cooperation of Mother Nature we'll be on time again next week! Thank you and keep warm, will ya?

Youth Rally Meets Saturday, January 13

Mapleview Baptist
The Baptist Youth Rally of Chilton County Association meets Saturday, January 13, 7:30 p.m. at the Mapleview Baptist Church. A fine spiritual program has been planned for this convocation. The youth leaders of the churches are planning transportation for the young people to attend. Wayne Smith, president, Don Graham, program chairman, and Roy Kendrick, song leader and co workers are expecting a large crowd at this rally Saturday.

Farrington Speaks To Local Jaycees

MR. FARRINGTON

FLEETCHER Farrington, candidate for the Commission on Agriculture and Industries spoke on Tuesday, January 9 to the Clanton Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Farrington presented to the local group some very interesting statistics on the steady growth of the south and of Alabama in recent years. He also pointed out strongly to the potential of our state and the south in the competitive and decisive years ahead.

THEY SAY MISERY LOVES COMPANY. . . IF THAT IS TRUE IT SHOULD BE LOVELY THIS WEEK. WE'RE SURE WE'VE SEEN A LOT OF IT!

MAN BREAKS LEG IN FALL WEDNESDAY

MR. Arvil A. Williams, 56 year old flag pole painter, who is in Chilton County to paint all the school and municipal building flag poles, fell on the ice Wednesday morning about 11:00 O'clock and broke his right leg. He was rushed to Chilton County Hospital for emergency treatment. Mr. Williams' home was not disclosed. He is in fair condition at the local hospital.

TEAM TRAPS WHISKEY RUNNER

A team of law enforcement officers, including the Sheriff's offices of both Dallas and Chilton Counties, the City Police of Mapleview and Clanton, a Local A.T.U. office, State A.B.C. man, along with the bloodhounds and handlers from Kibby apprehended one Rodney Douglas Todd, 19 while he was transporting 173 gallons of illegal whiskey across state and county lines. He was headed for Birmingham when he was taken. Todd, a resident of Meridian Miss., was held on $1250 bond with the County for transporting. His 1964 Pontiac, equipped for carrying such heavy loads was confiscated by Chilton by Chilton County Sheriff's office.

On Thursday night, January 4, Doris Cook, west Chilton Deputy Sheriff, received a call from a commissioned deputy in Dallas County that Todd was on his way through Chilton. Cook notified Mapleview Police Chief Morrison who stationed himself at Highway 82 south of Mapleview to intercept the car. He chased the auto to within six miles of Clanton where the Clanton police headed the fugitive off. The man left his car and struck out into the woods near the Erchel Mims place near Clanton. The dogs were brought up from Kibby and the man was held at bay in a hay barn belonging to Wallace Fox, some two miles west of where he abandoned his auto.

County Sheriff Hugh Champion thanks all officers for their cooperation in this effort and believes that through such teamwork the man was apprehended hastily.

The illegal whiskey was destroyed according to our report.

William G. Wyatt With Sixth Fleet

William G. Wyatt, machinist's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elder Wyatt of Route 2, Clanton, Ala., is serving aboard the destroyer USS Solev, operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. In December the Solev was the first American warship to enter the harbor at Alexandria, Egypt, in five years. During the visit, the ship entertained the pupils and teachers of the American Mission school in Alexandria.

Raymond Lolley First To Identify S. A. Jones As "MM"

WE finally stamped the folks this week! On Thursday and Friday we have been having from 20 to 30 persons in to identify the News "Mystery Man" and about that many (it seems like more sometimes) calling in. This past week, all was pretty much quiet with regards to the "Mystery Man" nobody seemed to be sure just who the gentleman was!

A few identified the man early Thursday morning, but they were all wrong. Then Thursday afternoon at 4 O'clock Raymond Lolley, of Spigner Funeral Home came in and guessed right. . . yep, it IS Mr. S. A. Jones.

We will hasten to explain that this is not a very good picture of Mr. S. A. and we did a pretty good job of disguising his most distinguishable features. As a matter of fact, we doubt if Mr. Jones knew himself who it was!

Raymond will receive his choice of $2 in cash or a year's subscription to our favorite newspaper! If you can identify the "Mystery Man" we'll do likewise next week! When do you reckon this gentleman is? We'll be waiting!

LATE FLASH

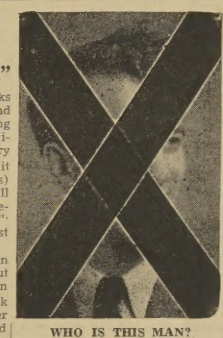

THURSDAY morning, practically no stores were open in Clanton, water pipes were freezing completely and several deaths have occurred, although none has been attributed to the frigid weather. Reports Thursday morning did state that some livestock froze to death in Chilton Wednesday night! Snow was forecast for Thursday F. M.

To The People Of Chilton County

This article is written to ask you for the office of Superintendent of Education of Chilton County and to announce that, at the proper time a will announce my intention of running for this position as head of your county's schools. I would like to be your superintendent for two main reasons: 1. I know I can be of real service to you in this position. 2. I want it to round out a successful career as a school man.

The following statements will give you some information about my preparation and suitability for the job. My two college degrees were earned at the University of Alabama. I have a A. A. professional certificate earned at Auburn. For twenty nine years I have been here at Clanton as principal of the Elementary School. I was born and reared in the Mulberry community. I was for many years a member of Mulberry Baptist Church.

School business is big business. Proper school management is of real concern to us all. I believe public money should be spent as thoughtfully and wisely as we would our own money. I believe that the public must be brought in on all planning for the future. Our needs are many and great

HOSPITAL HAS HEAT FAILURE

WEDNESDAY Morning, due to the unusual cold, the gas pressure at the Hospital "froze up" and the heating units had to be converted to the emergency diesel power, which is there for that purpose. Hospital Administrator Elmore stated that "it did quite cold in the halls and on one wing of the building due to the fact that the pressure dropped and no one knew it until it started getting colder. At the time, there were about 35 patients in the hospital. He said by mid afternoon Wednesday they were all getting warm again!

Band Calendar Sale

THE Band Boosters Club of Chilton County High School are selling band calendars. The proceeds to go towards buying new instruments and equipment for the band. The members will be selling and if you are interested and have not been contacted please call 658 and Mr. DeLoach will take your order.

No New Cars; Just Good News Coverage. . .

AT the outset of this new year, your Chilton County News is making a concerted effort to gain new subscribers in Chilton County. In the past year we feel we have made much progress toward bringing you a good community newspaper. . . the kind you want! In order to continue to bring you this kind of "News coverage" we need your support through your subscription to your "Alert Community Newspaper".

We think we have quite a lot to offer you for that $3 a year and we'd like very much to prove it to you by sending you the paper each week. You can save money now, if you will act quickly. See our community representative, Mr. Ed Yeargan, or telephone 32 today and get the details on what we mean. Our prime objective is to serve the people of Chilton County, and we can do a much better job of it, with your active support. Thank you, The Editors

IN AN interview this week with Judge of Probate J. C. White, the News learned that the Open House Ceremonies of the new Courthouse and Jail will be held on February 18th, the third Sunday. This announcement has been long in coming, and is welcome news to Chilton Countians. Do not let anything keep you from attending this program and the opportunity to visit your new buildings. Having been through them several times, this reporter can tell you they are magnificent.

Belcher IEH Homes To Sponsor Stage And Talent Show

ACCORDING to Mr. Leon Willcutt, local Sales Manager for Belcher IEH Homes, plans are being made to hold Stage Shows and Talent Contests in Chilton County Schools in the very near future. See advertisement in this issue.

Winners of the Talent Contests will receive valuable prizes and a large portion of the proceeds for the events will go to the school where the performance takes place. The first show is being planned already and the school, has been notified. A date should be known and set by next week. Mr. Willcutt says, "the purpose of the whole thing is to bring some clean, wholesome entertainment to the people in the rural areas of Chilton County and at the same time give the schools an opportunity to make a little extra money. . . which is badly needed by most of them at this time!"

The Belcher Boys Band will make appearances at all the shows, which will be held at all the schools in the County. Plans to date are to present the shows on Saturday nights. This newspaper will keep you posted on the developments so keep a sharp eye out for announcements of date and places. It's the type of thing the entire family can enjoy and YOU will be invited to the shindig!

Library Board Makes Plans For Future

THE Library Board of the City of Clanton met in the home of Mrs. Omar Reynolds on Wednesday afternoon, January 3, at 3:00 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman Mrs. Omar Reynolds. Among the things discussed was the date of the availability of the old jail for library use. This date will be known after the meeting of the County Board of Revenue on January 8.

Among the problems discussed was the securing of a librarian and the obtaining of adequate funds for the maintenance and maintenance of the library. Any one desiring to apply for the position should contact any member of the Library Board. Following are suggested qualifications for a librarian: 1. General education and professional training. 2. Previous library experience if any. 3. Character and personality. 4. Capacity for leadership in educational, cultural and civic life of community. 5. Wide knowledge of books. 6. Understanding of people and ability to get along with them. The library must have adequate financial support if it is to serve its most useful purpose. The citizens of Clanton are urged to give it this support. Each interested citizen is asked to pledge $1.00 per month for the next year. This amount can be paid with his utility bills at the City Hall each month making it easier for the Board is in great need of more pledges to assure the establishment of the library. Any member of the Board will be more than glad to accept any donation or pledges. Those pledging as much as $12.00 per year will be put on an honor roll and considered friends of the library; however any donation will be greatly appreciated. Members of the Library are as follows: Mrs. Omar Reynolds, Mrs. Joe Earl Gowan, Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. Clint Carlisle, Mrs. A. M. Thornton.

They feel sure it is a wonderful place to live and are eagerly looking forward to their arrival at the home of their daughter and family, Lt. and Mrs. Robert C. Miller, stationed at Larson AFB, Washington.

Methodist Nupitals For Mis Garner And Mr. Thompson

Amid a setting of white chrysanthemums and white gladioli Miss Marilyn Garner became the bride of John Wilton Thompson at a candle light ceremony in the Concord Methodist Church near rural Ozark, Alabama. The wedding took place at 4:00 p.m. December 30, 1961, with the Reverend R. C. Miller officiating in the double ring ceremony.

Nuptial music was presented by Miss Martha Dan Turner.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. C. Ray of Clanton, Alabama and Mr. W. T. Garner of Dothan, Alabama. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thompson of Ozark, Alabama.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace and French illusion. The bodice was of alternating ruffles of lace and illusion. The bodice was of purest white winter satin and was caught with a bouffant satin bow at the back of the waist.

Her finger tip veil of illusion fell in flowing wisps of tulle from a crown of satin and seed pearls. She carried a small cascade of feathered carnations white orchids and tulle. The bride's only ornament was a string of pearls.

Mrs. J. L. Smith of Dothan the bride's only attendant wore a lavender brocade street length dress with a matching headpiece of satin with a pout veil. Her shoes were lavender satin. Tommy Thompson of Ozark, cousin of the groom served as best man.

Candle lighters were Faye Snell, cousin of the bride and Hayes Godwin, Jr. cousin of the groom. Groomsman were Lee Garner of Clanton, brother of the bride and Hulon Snell of Dothan.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the groom. After a short wedding trip to North, Alabama, the couple will be at home at 909 East Broad Street, Ozark, Alabama, until the groom's graduation from Auburn University in May.

NEWS OF Samaria

Don Graham pastor Being the first Sunday of the new quarter, we commemorated The Lord's Supper in the traditional way. This was a truly inspiring service and all in attendance, we feel received a great blessing.

There have been changes in our Visitation Program, beginning this week everyone who is willing to visit will be given a list at the beginning of the week. The people on this list will be visited at your convenience.

Next Saturday night at the Mobileville Baptist church at 7:30, the Chilton Association Youth Rally will meet. There will be a very inspiring and interesting program. If you need a way please meet at the church at 7:00. Make a very special effort and we feel you will be blessed for this effort.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

I have a news message of great urgency I wish to share with you. News that is startling and so familiar that it has become unfamiliar. In these bad weather months of mud, rain and freezing temperatures people of the Samaria community and all other communities are still lost in sin and Hell bound. And are we not guilty of treating this fact with ashrug of the shoulder and saying "Oh well, lets wait till the roads get paved?" The weather clears and we get over our chronic ailments then we'll see what we can do." Let me encourage you to do what you are going to do for Christ now, don't hesitate for in our hesitation hinges the eternal destiny of precious souls. And will you treat this with the urgency you would treat a news warning of tornado threats, etc? Let us hurriedly destroy all things that would hinder our faithfulness to the Lord and his church and endeavor to continue to make advancement for the Glory of God.

SOMETHING YOUR BOY WILL ENJOY

RINGLING BROS.—GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH

The tinsel tankard trail of the circus leads into Montgomery, Ala., at the State Caliseum Feb. 9-11, when Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey present four performances running through Sunday. Shows will be at 8 P.M. Friday and Saturday with matinees at 2:30 Saturday and Sunday.

No effort has been spared to make this newest edition of The Greatest Show on Earth the most spectacular in history. Many thousands of dollars have been spent on an extravagant wardrobe to costume the hundreds of human and animal actors and the circus world has been spared for talent with which to astound, amaze and entertain children of all ages. Children under 12 will be admitted for only half price at all performances.

The 1962 edition of the circus now playing for the 92nd consecutive year, is filled with hazardous aerials, acrobats, performing bears, tigers, lions, dogs, horses and camels, as well as precious balancing acts, tightwire geniuses, Ringling's famous contingent of white face buffoons and beauty and pageantry.

FLORIDA

Florida's north and south are topsy-turvy. Southern Florida is the most northern, and the old Dixie South is in the northern part of the state. Tallahassee, capital of Florida, is in the north but is all South with capital S. The silver domed Capitol building is the center of a city known for its ante-bellum style homes and gardens. Tourists are intrigued by the tung nut orchards around Tallahassee, the Indian civilization displays in the state university's museum and the state geological museum's mastodon skeleton taken from the depths of Wakulla Springs.

HERE ARE 2 OF THE NEW JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLETS

WHICH ONE IS THE CONVERTIBLE AND WHICH THE HARDTOP?

Top one's our new Impala Sport Coupe whose steel roof line is a dead ringer for the Impala Convertible's below. But after rich new styling, what? In glamor and go, comfort and craftsmanship, here's all you'd reasonably expect of an expensive car. Except the expense.

Slip inside a Jet-smooth Chevrolet, relax and just notice how good you feel. Ready for action? Just flick the key and let 'er purr (your choice of two standard engines—a 135-hp 6 or 170-hp V8—or optional extra-cost V8's way up to a 409-hp mile-shrinker). That gentle cradling motion you enjoy is Jet-smooth ride at work. And the rich interior and neat craftsmanship are Body by Fisher at work. Have your dealer give you the whole story. That's the work he loves best.

Swanner & Dailey Vows Exchanged

The marriage of Miss Sarah Faye Dailey and Thomas Glenn Swanner was solemnized Sunday, December 31 at 12:15 p.m. in the Sanctuary of the First Methodist church in Clanton, Ala. Rev. Lloyd Kimbrough, pastor of the church officiated in a double ring ceremony. Two large floor baskets of white gladioli, white mums, lily heads and pom-poms were on either side of the altar. Beside each basket was a seven branched candelabra holding white burning candles, entwined with ivy. A program of wedding music was provided by Mrs. Kenneth Hayes, pianist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin D. Dailey and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leon T. Swanner. Grandparents of the couple are: Mrs. O. M. Carter and the late Mr. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dailey of Camden, Mrs. L. D. Sisk and the late Mr. Sisk of Franklin, Tenn.

Miss Shirley Campbell, served the bride as maid of honor and her only attendant. She was wearing a turquoise silk dress with bell skirt and rounded neckline, with matching shoes and white feather hat. Her bouquet was white pom-poms.

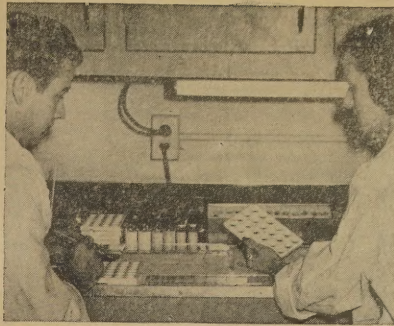

Larry Culpepper attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Ervin Dailey, brother of the bride and Buel Burdette, brother in law of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was attired in a street length with white fur collar on the jacket, with three quarter length sleeves white satin shoes and her hat was white made of ribbon with a nose veil. She was carrying a white Bible topped with a white orchid with white satin streamers tied in sweetheart knots.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Dailey wore a blue knit dress with three quarter length sleeves, full skirt, with black hat accessories. She was wearing a white corsage of pom-poms. The mother of the groom was attired in a Navy blue dress and wearing a black velvet hat and accessories to match. She was also wearing a white corsage of pom-poms.

After a short wedding trip the bride and groom will be living in South Clanton. The bride will continue to work in the Circuit Clerk's office at the County house. The groom is employed at Carter's Radio and TV Service.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mrs. James F. Dailey of Camden, Mrs. Glenn Bryson of Forest Home, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pope of LaGrange, Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence D. Sisk and Mrs. Virginia Sisk and Mrs. Dora Lee McMeans of Spring Hill, Tenn.

We had a wonderful message both Sunday morning and Sunday night. Bro. Smith brought the morning message and evening message. Everyone who missed hearing him missed a great sermon.

We invite everyone to our Sunday School and preaching that follows and Training Union Sunday night.

Although the weather was bad Sunday night we still had a wonderful attendance.

Remember the sick and shut in in our community and elsewhere.

Next Wednesday night we will begin our Study in Jeremiah. We urge everyone to make a special effort to attend. I'm sure when you come expecting a blessing you will receive one.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Mims Sunday guest were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson and Shelton Wilson and friend of Montgomery.

Miss Jean Ratliff of Selma and Mrs. Pike and son of Enterprise were the Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Minor.

Personal Notes

During the Christmas holidays Mr. and Mrs. Huey Beauchamp along with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill of Eufaula motored to Miami, Florida to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. Grouse.

While in Florida they also visited Key West. They reported a very enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Grouse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hill.

A. C. Matthew Wilson, Jr. left Saturday for his new base in Nebraska.

A. C. Wilson has been visiting his mother Mrs. Ida Wilson and other relatives.

He was formerly stationed in Wheeland.

Modern Mold Dramatizes Waldorf Apple Salad

The world-famous Waldorf Salad now is found in as many variations as there are cooks, but the original combination of sweet and tangy apple chunks, rich, crunchy walnut bits, crisp and cool celery strips remains the flavorful basis for this family-favorite salad. This modern interpretation catches these basic ingredients in a handsome molded tower of gelatin, fluffed with whipped cream and mayonnaise. Bright bits of Washington State Red Delicious or Winesap apples peek through the gelatin to create a "show-piece" salad for luncheon, dinner, or buffet serving.

Jellied Waldorf Mousse

1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup diced celery

1 1/2 cups diced, unpeeled Washington Red Delicious or Winesap apples
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup cream, whipped

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill until thick and syrupy. Blend mayonnaise and gelatin until smooth, then add diced Washington apples, celery and nuts. Fold whipped cream into gelatin mixture. Turn into 1 quart mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold onto salad greens. Serves 8.

'Extra Push' For TB Drive Asked By Chairman

Christmas is over, but there's a bigger need than ever for children countians to help push the 1961 Christmas Seal Campaign over the top, Christmas Seal Chairman Mrs. R. M. Tucker said this week.

She called on citizens to answer the plea for an extra push now that the rush of Christmas is over. Mrs. Tucker said, Contributions are needed and appreciated just as much now as before Christmas.

In fact, the chairman added We need an extra push so that the TB Association can meet the needs of an ever expanding program to better protect all of us from tuberculosis.

To date $507.15 has been contributed in Chilton county toward a goal of 1382.00. Remindering, not quite have been sent to those who have not answered the Christmas Seal appeal yet. We sincerely urge all time who have not yet responded to take a minute out today to consider now much the continued health, happiness and productivity of himself and his family mean to him. And, how lucky it is to be free from the sorrows of tuberculosis.

She continued, When you think of the 10,762 sufferers of TB in Alabama today and some of them right here in Chilton county, it makes us all want to give that extra push and it also makes the contributions much more meaningful.

In closing the chairman said To all those who bought and used Christmas Seals, we say each little Seal used brought us closer to the success in our battle against tuberculosis. To those who have not yet responded to the Christmas Seal appeal, we say It is not too late!

Industry- 9,000 New Job Opportunities For Alabamians In 1961

Nearly 90 million dollars in new and expanded industries, creating more than 9,000 new job opportunities for Alabamians, was announced in 1961, the annual industrial review compiled by the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce in Montgomery revealed.

New industry in Alabama during the year is planned to invest $29,920,000 in new plants. M. Blount, State Chamber president, said. Existing Alabama industries, showing their faith in the State's future, announced expansion plans which total $57,412,000 for the year. Blount continued for combined total of $87,332,000.

These 96 new plants and 139 expansions of existing plants are scattered throughout Alabama. New plants were announced for 56 different cities and expansions are listed in 67 Alabama municipalities. There are 38 counties with a brand new industry and 46 Alabama counties had an existing industry expand.

Expansion of these existing industries, John M. Ward State Chamber Executive Vice President said, is one of the very best forms of attracting new industry into the State because it shows a favorable business climate exists for industry in Alabama.

An industry that is satisfied with conditions in the State and expands its operations serves as a magnet for industries seeking better business climate for their operations Ward added.

Both new and expanded industry figures are below those for the State during 1960, but are in line with conditions generally throughout the nation. Alabama's best new industrial year during the past decade was in 1953 when more than 152 million dollars in capital was invested in the State.

Alabama's best year during the decade for expanding industries was in 1951 when capital of 223 million dollars in capital was announced by existing industries.

Pine Seedlings Now Available For Planting

The State Department of Conservation announces to land owners that pine seedlings are still available for this season's planting.

Conservation Director William C. Younger says considerable quantities of loblolly and slash pine seedlings are available at all three of the state nurseries.

In addition to loblolly pine and slash pine, limited quantities of shortleaf pine, yellow poplar and catalpa are on hand at Auburn Nursery which is located in Lee County five miles south of Opelika on Alabama Highway 37. Yellow poplar, redcedar and catalpa can be obtained from Miller Nursery Nursery which is situated 1 1/4 miles southwest of Autauga County in Autauga County. A small quantity of shortleaf pine seedlings remain at Hays Nursery located about 12 miles north of Atmore, Alabama, on the north side of the Atmore State Prison Farm.

Director Younger states that the Division of Forestry advises that unless we have an unusually early spring in 1962 trees can be safely planted until early March. However, land owners who wish to plant this season should file their applications as soon as possible to insure delivery or pickup on the dates that seedlings are needed.

All species presently available are priced at $4 per thousand service charge L.O. nursery. State Forester J. M. Stauffer states that seedling application forms can be obtained at all local offices of the Forestry Division the Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service and also at the State Office of the Department of Conservation. An advance payment of $2 per thousand trees must accompany the application when submitted to the State Office.

Only those plants which take a raw product or a semi-finished material and process it a step further along toward a finished consumer item are included on the State Chamber's list.

$100 Million In Road

Projects Scheduled For 1962 Completion

Major highway construction well in excess of $100 million is in prospect in Alabama during 1962.

Our road building program is running in high gear, Gov. John Patterson reported this week. New highways and bridges are being constructed all over the state on all types or projects, the modern Interstate system, arm to market roads, urban projects and mainline primary routes.

Not included in the $100 million figure is the cost of scores of roads to be built under the farm-to-market and special aid county programs, nor the expense of maintaining or repairing existing highways.

About 130 miles of Interstate highways, all four-lane divided roadways with limited access, will be opened to traffic during 1962.

In addition, some 180 miles of four lane primary and urban projects are expected to be completed during the year. Included are numerous bridges, underpasses and overpasses.

"Alabama is fast becoming known from Coast to coast as the state with the good roads," Gov. Patterson said. "We are in the process of building a splendid network of highways, roads which because of advances in engineering are better built and on which it is safer to drive."

The governor said he received many letters every week from out of state motorists in praise of Alabama's fine highway system.

In a matter of months, motorists will be able to travel from one end of the state to the other on the Interstate system without having to stop for a red light or travel through a dangerous intersection.

Scheduled for opening during 1962 are 10 sections of Interstate highway costing a total of $67,620,000.

Hargis And His Christian Crusade To Be Broadcast

The daily Christian Crusade radio broadcast by Dr. Billy James Hargis will be carried over Radio Station WIXI, it was announced today. Dr. Hargis is the founder and director of Christian Crusade, Tulsa, Oklahoma, international anti-Communist ministry. The broadcast will be carried at 8 a.m. Monday thru Saturday and on Sunday 1:15 p.m. at 1480 on the dial.

An ordained Protestant minister, Hargis resigned his pastorate in Spaulds, Okla., to devote his full time to an inter-denominational anti-communist ministry and founded the Christian Crusade organization. Hargis is beginning his 14 year of active crusading against Communist infiltration into American life. Christian Crusade's basic message are carried into 45 states by means of daily and weekly radio broadcasts. Recent publication introduced a national television series and has completed the filming of a 26 weeks series. In addition, the organization publishes the Christian Crusade Magazine which has a monthly circulation of more than 90,000. The newest publication is a weekly intelligence digest, The Weekly Crusader, which is co-edited by Hargis and General Charles A. Willoughby, former chief intelligence for General Douglas MacArthur. Christian Crusade also distributes, without charge Hargis' weekly newspaper column, For and Against.

A method now used to form steel is to place the piece to be formed over a die of the desired shape, submerge it in water, then set off an explosive charge in the water above it. Water transmits the force of the explosive to the steel, pushing it against the die and thus shaping it.

Telephone Talk

W. R. Waters

Your Telephone Manager

THIS TIME of year you're probably busy with all sorts of new projects, for this is the time we start living up to all our New Year's resolutions! One resolution that's a pleasure to keep is one that I made this year — to keep in touch with old friends! There's really nothing like a Long Distance telephone call to make you "feel good all over" . . . and spread happiness at both ends of the line.

MAKE SOMEONE HAPPY . . .

CALL LONG DISTANCE

SHOPPING TO BE DONE? And you can't leave home? Just pick up your phone! Today, more and more busy homemakers are shopping by phone. In fact, latest Bell System studies show that four out of five women purchase goods or services by phone at one time or another! So next time bad weather . . . housework . . . whatever keeps you at home . . . just pick up your phone and go shopping!

DID-YOU-KNOW-DEPARTMENT: About 40 per cent of overseas telephone calls are with Pan-American countries; about 30 per cent with Pacific, and 25 per cent with European countries.

THE NEW YEAR found Clanton with 3937 telephones in service. Here's how the exchange has grown during recent decades:

January 1, 1940 487 telephones
January 1, 1950 1746 telephones
January 1, 1960 3591 telephones
January 1, 1962 3937 telephones

The Clanton exchange was established in 1906 with 56 subscribers.

First Methodist Church News

The Epiphany Luncheon at the First Methodist church on Monday, January 8 was one of the highlights of the WSCS of the year.

With Mrs. M. L. Batson, president and Mrs. Omar Reynolds and Mrs. Campbell White leading out it was quite a success. The luncheon table was most attractive with white mums, snapdragons, carnations and money pines at the speakers table. Pink gladioli was the centerpiece.

Mrs. Reynolds greeted the new members who were Mrs. Phillip Craig, Mrs. Howard Buckner Sr. and Miss Margie Day. Honorary Life membership certificates were presented to Mrs. Ott Miller by Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer and to Mrs. Lloyd Kimbrough by Rev. Kimbrough. Honorary baby membership went to Mrs. C. C. Carleton for her son Mark Phillip and presented by Mrs. Gordon Robertson. Each were given a white pom pom corsage and a rose bud to the baby.

Mrs. Omar Reynolds introduced Mrs. W. M. Chambers of Birmingham, Spiritual Life Secretary of the Birmingham District who in turn introduced Mrs. Bachman G. Hodge, wife of the late Bishop Hodge. She is Spiritual Life Secretary of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham. They were each presented with a corsage.

Mrs. Hodge, spoke on a new Life in Jesus Christ which was most interesting.

First Baptist News

The WMS of the First Baptist church met in the chapel of the church Monday p.m. at 2:30 o'clock when they had their Mission Program and business meeting.

The meeting was opened with the group singing Jesus Shall Reign. WMSU hymn of the year followed with prayer by Mrs. J. E. Gowan. Mrs. Charles Moore, president, presided over the business. The minutes were read by Mrs. J. C. Bynum, secretary. Reports from various committees were given.

The program was presented by Circle II with Mrs. F. N. Scott program chairman as leader. The topic of the program was That Thy Way May be Known. Others taking part on the program with Mrs. Scott were Mrs. J. E. Mullins, Mrs. Willie Bean, Mrs. E. L. Mullins and Mrs. Flem Higgins.

The Girls Auxiliary and Sunbeams met at the church at 2:30 on Monday.

Bible Study is conducted by the pastor Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson this week from the book of Jeremiah.

Alpha Delta Kappa Holds Meeting

The Kappa chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa held its January meeting in the home of Mrs. Herman LeCroy. The president Mrs. Walter Haywood requested Mrs. LeCroy to give the devotional in the absence of the chaplain Mrs. W. E. Robinson. Mrs. LeCroy used scripture from Proverbs and read "The New Year" from Tennyson's "In Memoriam."

During the business meeting the main item discussed was the Book Fair which will be held on January 11, 12, and 13 in the Clanton City Hall.

Miss Laura Johnston, a member of Gamma chapter of Montgomery brought an inspirational message on The Challenge of the New Year and Continual Growth in Maturity.

Mrs. Frances Jones of Omicron Chapter of Montgomery was a guest of the chapter.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. LeCroy, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Sexton served a delicious salad plate to the members and guests.

Ken Ellison Is Six Years Old

It was a happy occasion for Ken Ellison when he celebrated his 6th birthday on Thursday January 4th at school with a party. His mother, Mrs. Joe Ellison and grandmother Mrs. Al Leibold came to the Seventh Day Adventist School where Ken is attending, bringing a huge white birthday cake topped with a cowboy and holding 6 yellow candles. The cake was baked by his grandmother. They also had ice cream, candy and orange drinks of which they served Ken and some twenty of his classmates at ten o'clock.

They sang Happy Birthday to Ken as he blew out the candles. He received many nice and useful gifts of which he opened and displayed for his friends to see.

Assisting with the party were Ken's teachers, Mrs. J. F. Connerly and Mrs. M. J. Johnson.

Miss Silver Shield

Miss C. C. H. S. And Mr. C.C.H.S. Crowned

At the Assembly program last Wednesday a.m. in the Chilton County High School gym, Miss Silver Shield and Miss CCHS were crowned and Mr. CCHS was also crowned. Roscoe Williams president of Student Council had charge of the program. The devotional was given by Jamie Propst, reading the 1st Psalm. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

After the announcement by Mr. S. E. Waters, principal of the school and others, the program was in charge of the Annual Staff. Miss Ann Thompson won the title of Miss Silver Shield and was crowned by Miss Carol Young. Miss Mary Linda Vines won the title of Miss CCHS and was crowned by Miss Connie Baker. The Banner was pinned on her by Betty Robinson. Gerald Clecker won the Mr. CCHS title. The Banner was pinned on him by Luke Blanton.

The program was enjoyed by the entire Student Body and Teachers.

Stainless steel foil, rolled thinner than paper, was used as heat insulation in the space vehicles of America's two astronauts.

Mrs. Futral Hostess To S. S. Class

The Winsome Sunday School Class of the First Baptist church met with Mrs. Bobby Futral on January 2 for their monthly meeting.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Jim Clecker. Her theme was New Years Resolutions. Mrs. Alford Littleton, teacher of the class, gave a very interesting talk on Joy in Qualifying.

In the social hour, the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following: Mrs. Johnny Mac Taylor, Mrs. Jim Connerly, Mrs. Bonnie Smith, Mrs. Jim Clecker, Mrs. Bobby Wyatt and Mrs. Alford Littleton.

Lynn Easterling Wins Bausch - Lomb Science Award At CCHS

Throughout the United States educators recognize the annual Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award as evidence of superior scientific aptitude.

In announcing Lynn Easterling son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion W. Easterling as the 1962 winner of the S. S. E. Waters, Principal of Chilton County High School said these awards are especially significant. Today everyone realizes the importance of the study of science in our secondary schools. The Bausch and Lomb Honorary Award provides appropriate recognition to senior students with the highest standing in science subjects.

The Science Award - a handsome bronze medal - is presented at graduation in more than 7,500 schools. Since its introduction in 1933, there have been 154,000 winners. Surveys have revealed that more than 36% of the winners have been encouraged by the Award to follow scientific careers.

Winners of the Honorary Science Award are eligible to compete for Science Scholarships sponsored by Bausch and Lomb Incorporated, at the University of Rochester. Three or more Scholarships are provided annually. Students are based on need and have a total combined value of $21,600. The Award winner is usually selected early in December.

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award and Scholarship Programs have been officially approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Miss Barton Addresses The Study Club

Mrs. J. Renfro Mullins was hostess to The Study Club of Clanton on Friday, January 5 at 3 o'clock.

Reading of the Collect opened a half hour business session with Mrs. Charles Patterson, president presiding. Notes of appreciation were read for Charles Patterson, box and Alabama College, Montevallo for the Hollis Farmer scholarship fund.

A $2.00 donation was sent to the Sixth District scholarship fund.

The Club voted to support the GFWC crusade for Seat Belt for Safety in cars on an individual basis. With business adjourned, Mrs. Joe Moore introduced the guest speaker Miss Elizabeth Barton, teacher of Latin and English of the Clanton High School. Miss Barton discussed Dr. Hudson Strode as distinguished teacher of creative writing as a distinguished author of many books; as world traveler and lecturer. Her discussion was most interesting sharply stimulating and added incentive to read Dr. Strode's books if we had not done so.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Frank Scott served delightful refreshments to 16 members and guest Miss Barton.

Civil Service News

The United States Civil Service Commission today announced that an Air Reserve Technician will be examined for the position of military personnel clerk, GS-5 $4345 per year at Bates Field Mobile, Alabama.

All applicants will be required to submit a written test designed to measure their ability to perform the duties of the position.

OAK GROVE

Pastor, Rev. J. H. Dodd Sunday School 10:00 a.m. Worship Service 11:00 a.m. Training Union 6:00 p.m. Worship Service 7:00 p.m. Prayer Meeting, Wednesday 8:30 p.m.

We had two wonderful services at Oak Grove Sunday. Attendance was read good considering the weather. We had 119 for Sunday School and practically a full house for preaching services Sunday morning and 48 for Training Union Sunday night.

Rev. Jimmy Matthews of Selma brought the morning message and if you missed hearing this young man of God yesterday, really missed a blessing. Jimmy is the son of Mrs. Margaret Horton and the late Volle Matthews. We are all so happy for the stand he has taken in the ministry. Our prayers at Oak Grove go with him as he leaves for Greenland very soon to serve his Country.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to Mrs. Preston Thrash in the death of her sister Mrs. Velma Rouse of Miami, Fla. Mrs. Thrash and Mrs. Froy Northcutt left Monday to attend the funeral.

Lets be much in prayer for the sick in our community. Mrs. Ruth Matthews and Bro. Dodd have improved but still desire your prayers.

Mrs. Hadel Langston and Ray Lane and the entire family of Reece Garner are still on the sick list. Don't forget these when you pray.

Please don't forget church and all of its activities.

Clanton Elementary

P-T.A. Hears

Mr. Burton Mullins

The Parents and Teachers Association met at the school for their monthly meeting on January 2 at 2:45 o'clock, with Mrs. Carl McDowell president presiding. At the close of the business session Mr. U. H. Adams, principal of the school presented the P.T.A. with a check for $647. This was money made from the sale of school pictures of the children, and to be used to pay for the utilities of the school.

The devotional was given by the Rev. G. G. Williams. Mr. Burton Mullins, who is head of the Civil Defense Work in Chilton County was introduced by the president, who gave a very interesting and informative talk on Civil Defense.

Bible Study Week
January 8-12

Many of the churches are engaged in the January Bible Study Week this week January
8-12 the date suggested by the Southern Baptist Convention.
Many other churches will plan another date to suit the convenience of the people. It is hoped that every church in

Chilton-Unity Association will have this Bible study. The Missionary will be happy to assist in getting a teacher or will teach the book if invited. The suggested books for every department to study are, Studies in Jeremiah, Adults and Young People, Exploring the New Testament, Intermediates, Men Who Told His Story, Juniors
The World to Live in, Primaries,
Sounds That Sing, Beginners

Good Food to Eat, Nursery Teacher, 50 frame filmstrip with manual titled, The Rebel Prophecy, supplementary material.

The world's longest suspension span will be in the Brooklyn Staten Island Bridge. The 4260 foot span will have more than 146,000 miles of galvanized wire spun into four 3 foot di-meter suspension cables.

"Claudell English" will be the feature attraction at Clanton Drive-In Theatre Sunday - Tuesday, January 21 - 23. The movie stars Diane McBain, among others, and promises to be good entertainment.

The Party Of The First Part

THERE seems to be a grassroots movement to "vote against" lawyers running for public office! This is no reflection on the personal integrity of any individual, but rather, a protest from the average John Doe against "hair splitting", "over-emphasizing" and the "technical details" which worm their way into every facet of our lives through new laws, restrictions, reports to be made, etc.

A lawyer, as such, is a very vital and integral part of our form of government. We undeniably need them! However, we do wonder sometimes, at the wording used, the terms set forth and the minute details of some of our laws and regulations which are drafted by our legislatures and our Congress. The biggest problem the lawyer must overcome, upon his graduation from law school would seem to be that of communication. The average John Doe doesn't know what the average lawyer is talking about. That may be what they want, but it is good to consider the fact, that no matter how simple, the average John Doe does have a vote! And he is the one to reckon with about it.

Some of our best friends are lawyers and we hold them in very high regard and esteem. But doggonit, we don't know half the time whether they're cussin' us, or just passing the time of day!

This one last thought; a means of communication must have been reached by many, because there are certainly a lot of them in public office at this time. The "movement" mentioned must be extremely confined to the heirs, executors, dependents and assigns of the party of the first part. . . all and severally who witnesseth together! We would have made six copies of this, but it doesn't seem hardly worth the Notary Public's time! And anyway, his commission has expired.

Progress With A Future

MEMBERS of Clanton's Housing Development Committee are in agreement that plans have progressed on Clanton's Housing Project, due to the 100% cooperation of the members of the organization. This not only speaks well of these men, but it is also indicative of what can be accomplished when level heads get together to see that something good is done for the community. Our hats are off to these citizens who "seen their duty. . . and done it!"

Members of the Development Board in Clanton are Leo Thompson, chairman; Bob Powers, director; R. L. "Bob" White, I. J. Brock, Sam Powers and Reuben Lowe.

The Value Of Your Red Cross

278 PINTS of blood were administered to patients in need in Chilton County during the past six months. Under the "full price" plan, this blood would have cost these people nearly $7,000; under the Red Cross Blood Program the life-giving fluid cost these people only a fraction of that amount.

And Chilton's citizens have rallied nobly to the call for blood, but it isn't blood that is the immediate need of the local chapter, according to director Burton Mullins.

It's cash we need! Some $450.00 is vitally needed by the Chilton County Red Cross Chapter to carry on their program. A program which, unfortunately, is unknown to too many of our citizens.

For example, the local chapter was very instrumental just last week in transporting a service man from Korea to the States after his wife died unexpectedly. The individuals worked very hard in this humanitarian effort. But few people ever know or think about the sacrifice and work involved.

There are hidden expenses in such a task, and our Red Cross needs your support NOW! You may send your contributions to Howard Buckner, treasurer First National Bank in Clanton or to the Chilton County Red Cross, Clanton. Your help will be appreciated by someone it touches!

A WELFARE STATE FOR FACELESS, VOICELESS AMERICANS

NOW that our public servants of the House and Senate have returned to the Capitol to take up their labors where they so abruptly left off last September we think the following commentary of Editor Russ Metz of THE BATH COUNTY News-Observer of Owingsville, Ky., is most appropriate:

"You've watched a TV or movie situation in which a man is made to dig his own grave while the villain hovers nearby with a rifle. And you've thought to yourself, 'Stupid, you're going to be killed anyway why don't you take your spade and paste him one in the kisser? You may as well go down fighting.'"

"And, yet, today's taxpayer is being cast in a corresponding role as the Government forces him to dig deeper in order to finance the wildest free-spending spree in history. There is no choice, no voice, for the condemned - we just keep digging."

"Or is there none? Who says we cannot paste our congressmen in the faces with a spade of letters, telling him to lay down that rifle and grab a rein on this run-away gravy wagon."

Editor Metz goes on in a succeeding item in his "Pied Typer" Column to give us the following statistical note:

"At the Capitol, you hear talk about a Congressman throwing his weight around. Someone went to the trouble of adding it up. There are 39 tons of Congressmen and nine tons in the Senate."

That makes 48 tons in all. And it has been further calculated by a keen observer of the legislative scene that it would require no more than one ton of fire and brimstone pull on them purse strings letters (that would be around 35,000 or one letter from every 5,000 adults in the nation) to add most of the Congressional tonnage to the economy side of that empty balance that blind Justice is always depicted as holding like the bag in a snipe-hunt.

We are concerned here, not merely with extravagance and waste, but with the further fact that, outside of defense, every big spending bill is dedicated one way or another to the goal of socialization, a welfare state for faceless Americans.

MAN OF THE WEEK

THE News presents, as The Man Of The Week, this Hon. Francis W. Speaks, Member of the Alabama House of Representatives from Chilton County.

Mr. Speaks, born in La Grange, Ga., was employed by the DuPont Company at Childersburg after his graduation from high school at Dadeville, Alabama. DuPont transferred him to St. Paul, Minn., where he is where he joined the Marines when World War II broke out. He served in the Pacific Theatre and saw action at Tarawa, being among the first to hit the beaches in that campaign. His older brother saw action at Guadalcanal.

Mr. Speaks first came to Clanton and Chilton County in 1941. After the War he entered the University of Alabama and graduated in June of 1950 with his Law Degree. Earlier, January 29, 1939, to be exact, he had come to Clanton long enough to make Miss Sallie Gowan his bride. He returned after his tour and opened up a law practice in Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Speaks have two children, a girl eleven years old and a boy nine. Mr. Speaks aside from finishing up his second term in office this year is also a practicing attorney with the firm of

ORDERS, BY MISTAKE
Confederate Brigadier General Felix Zillioffer was killed today also this week when he mistook Union Soldiers for Confederates and ordered them to cease fire. Rather than cease fire as given from an enemy officer, the Union soldiers killed Zillioffer's body with bullets.

This happened in Kentucky where Confederate forces were too few in number, ill equipped and could force a likely break in their lines nearby.

Stationed at Bowling Green, Kentucky Confederate General A. S. Johnston continued, in vain to ask re-enforcements. At the same time, Union General Don Carlos Buell at Louisville, Kentucky urged a two fold plan. He asked that General H. W. Halleck move to the Tennessee and Cumberland river points, aided by the Federal gunboats and that Buell's own forces go to Bowling Green. The plan was refused, and Buell received orders to move to Paducah, Ky. "to secure railroads and support local inhabitants there."

With a division of Buell's army Union Brigadier General George Thomas routed Confederates at Mill Springs, Kentucky on January 19, 1862. Southern troops withdrew into the mountains toward western Kentucky. In command at this battle, Confederate Brigadier General Felix Zillioffer was killed.

In Richmond, Confederate Congress, on January 16, 1862 appointed James D. Bulloch as Secretary of Navy, and passed the Navy Bounty Act to encourage long service terms for seamen. Bulloch served as Secretary of Navy throughout the Civil War.

Navy Has New Program

Re-enlistment
The Navy Recruiting Office at Montgomery, Alabama announced today that they can now reenlist Navy personnel on their first enlistment for 2 or 3 years in addition to the old enlistments of 4 to 6 years. Men who were discharged in pay grade E-3 or below are eligible now, without having passed the test for pay grade E-4 prior to being discharged, provided they meet all the other qualifications for re-enlistment in the Navy.

For more information contact the Navy Recruiting Office at Montgomery, Alabama, Building 100, Post Office Building, Montgomery, or call Montgomery 263-7521 ext. 353.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

Election of a new Speaker of the House and the President's State of the Union message highlighted the convening of the second Session of the 87th Congress last week.

For the first time in many years the Democratic members of Congress, who presently constitute the majority, found it necessary to select a new Speaker of the House in order to fill the vacancy created by Speaker Sam Rayburn's death on November 16.

Although some had predicted earlier, a Democratic caucus unanimously selected former Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts for the position. Speaker McCormack, a 70 year old veteran of 34 years in the House of Representatives, was sworn into office during the opening session of Congress on Wednesday.

In assuming the duties of the majority leader was Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma who has served the sixth year as Democratic Whip, containing 14 Democrats. His title is Representative of Louisiana.

THE HOUSE

With the death of former Speaker Rayburn, Rep. Carl Vinson became the ranking member in the House of Representatives. Now serving his 48th consecutive year the 78 year old congressman holds seniority in point of service by more than eight years over his three nearest competitors. If he serves in the next Congress he has indicated he would like to do he will have set an all time record for years of consecutive service in the House.

Total membership in the house this year stands at 432 (258 Democrats and 174 Republicans) with five vacancies existing as the result of deaths or resignations.

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES SESSION

The President's State of the Union message which he personally delivered before a joint session of Congress on Tuesday made it apparent that there will be a busy legislative year. Placing strong emphasis on economic and welfare measures he proposed several broad new actions and reiterated his request for certain proposals referred to Congress last year.

In international affairs he called for a new five year trade expansion act; proposed a special fund to give long term support to the Alliance for Progress projects in Latin America; and asked for U. S. participation in a bond issue designed to help finance operations of the United Nations.

In the domestic portion of his message, the President proposed about 20 laws or groups of laws. He stressed his request for standby authority to cut certain taxes and step up public works as part of his six-point program to strengthen the national economy as a protection against recession, and he also renewed his appeal for social security health insurance for the aged.

BUSY YEAR PREDICTED

With a statewide campaign facing members of Alabama's delegation in the U. S. House and Senate, it is predicted that there will be a considerable amount of shuttling between Washington and Alabama for the nine incumbents prior to next May's Democratic primary election. When the time comes to visit all 67 Alabama counties, I will at the same time make every effort to see that the interests of the people I represent are not neglected here in Washington.

THIS WEEK ON CAPITOL HILL

While Alabama's weather has been consistently at the freezing level during the past several weeks, the state's political Fahrenheit has been steadily climbing to the boiling point in the coming gubernatorial race.

For since the lawmakers went to the capitol, there has been a lot of talk, and a lot of speculation, as many rank and file voters as possible in an effort to get a picture of what to look for next year. Here is a thumbnail sketch of what was found.

Little doubt was ever registered that former Gov. James Folsom "will be the man to beat." But there were scores of persons who felt that Folsom will probably win if he runs, but I'm going to vote against him." Therefore, from the talk received, and from the apparent fact Folsom's strength is weakness, is like a "Gigantic Myth" hovering over the state the real gubernatorial race is fast centering around "the man who can get in a runoff against Folsom."

Four men are being the most talked as making this runoff. They are: former Barbour Circuit Judge George Wallace, Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion, Gov. Albert Boutwell and Tuscaloosa Sen. Ryan deGraffenried. The most mentioned of these in the grassroots, as of today, has been Wallace, runnerup to Gov. John Patterson in 1958 and who hasn't stopped running since.

Closely behind Wallace, and who during the past few weeks has been mentioned more and more, is Gallion. Behind him has been Boutwell and an occasional Eugene "Bull" Connor and Walter "Crack" Hanna heard.

One of the most interesting comments heard from time to time, even from those who plan to vote for him, has been: "Although Wallace seems to be in second place now, he might wind up like Jimmy Faulkner did last time (third)." Wallace, personally, feels this will not happen. "Because Faulkner got anti-Folsom votes his first race. My time was a vote for Wallace."

However, if and when Wallace were to fall it seems at the moment the man to watch would be either Gallion, Boutwell, or if the Tuscaloosa senator catches fire deGraffenried. Organization, personality and issues are what will have to be relied upon by the man who does make the, presently felt, "inevitable runoff against Folsom" who many interviewed thought was not as strong politically this time as he was in 1954.

When commenting on Folsom both pro and con thought if Folsom looked good on the stump it wouldn't matter much what he said or did. But that if his physical appearance was poor, the rural folks who have not been hearing all the things said about him might start believing these allegations and turn against him. The other incidents which was believed might hurt Folsom's chances for an unprecedented third term worthy in the mansion during his last term with Negro Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, and his alleged sending a telegram to U. S. Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion, and the "freedom riders."

Folsom followers are confident at this stage of the game however, their candidate will "beat the field in the first primary election." Meanwhile, Wallace Gallion Boutwell and deGraffenried are pulling all stops to get in a runoff against him; for all of them are sure Folsom would never survive in a runoff.

So here's what is being said of what to expect from these most talked about contenders during the coming weeks as told from leaders in their respective counties. Look for deGraffenried to make a big pitch about "The Little Judge versus Big Jim" with emphasis placed on the biblical story of David and Goliath. Union vigor and fire eating speeches on segregation, industry, etc., are also hoped to be used as the tools to garner the strong anti-Folsom support behind him.

Gallion is expected to continue for some time to come his appearing at all dayings in rural communities, lining up Patterson's old organization, and running a splashy advertised campaign in an effort to convince Alabamians that he's the only contender who can "grow."

Boutwell, termed by many pundits the "sleepier" or "dark horse" will more than likely not throw many of his political pebbles into the gubernatorial waters until fairly late in the campaign, hoping then to run home on the inside rail through a tightly knit organization and sound issues.

deGraffenried is expected to spend a good bit of his time on television cameras. His supporter feel Ryan's youth appearance and eloquent oratory will convincingly tell Alabamians who he is and why he should be governor.

'LAST week everyone was hollering about their frozen toes. This week it's their busted pipes! Where's that dabburned plumber?

AND speaking of it . . . we wish we were plumbers at a time like this. Only things that could make a plumber go down the drain at a time like this is if his foot slipped! And he'd be into the gutter for sure then it's about the only thing that could save him, but who wants to be a plumbers friend?

THE weather we have been having is certainly good for one thing for a spell . . . conversation! Those jokers down at the cafe finally have something good to talk about. Or we should say, to talk about good! Man they can chatter!

IT is indeed interesting to observe the artistry of our citizens with regards to, as our young son puts it: "The Dumbable Snowman." Some have been quite good, some about like ours. It sure isn't hard to tell that we are Realtors, even this way and don't know the first thing about erecting and maintaining a decent snowman. Dr. Dumas and family down south of Clanton built a fine snowman specimen, but we bet they've had practice at it. The boys out in Glendale Dan Cox Jimmy and Johnny Hewen built a reasonable facsimile, but we bet he shored was a dirty critter.

ALL in all, discounting the dented fenders (both on the family car and on the family) everyone enjoyed the unique pleasure of the snow and ice. As for ourselves, . . . what we enjoyed most, was seeing that warm southern sunshine find the fire out of that snow. Too cold for us warm blooded southerners!

WE will have to admit that we enjoyed the slipping and sliding about as much as any of the younger folk, but we sure didn't enjoy the repercussions in our purses. When we got to the broken water pipes of the fifty degree temperatures we were obliged to work in. And we bet that the frost on our fingers were nice, too. But perhaps the best fun of all was getting up at 6 A.M. and going out in the snow and ice and locking up that stupid, unadul-

HEARING DEFECTS
The child is hesitant, shy and seemingly confused; and other pupils labeled his not so bright. It wasn't the state of his mind that was the problem. The child had a bad hearing defect.

Discovering a child's hearing defect should be a consideration for parents and family doctor. Often it remains for the teacher to detect that a child is hard of hearing while observing his actions in the classroom, his response to questioning and his manner of speaking.

Hearing defects can be treated with more success in children than in adults. At least 95 per cent of deafness in children is of the conductive type due to a disorder in the external canal, middle ear, Eustachian tube, or tympanic membrane. A common cause of deafness in children is blockage of Eustachian tube. This blockage occurs more often in children than in adults, and early treatment is the only hope for complete and permanent cure. Another cause of deafness can be a foreign body obstructing one of the canals. In such a case, removal of the offending substance will restore hearing.

Injuries cause more deafness than hearing defects. Deafness is increasing as automobile accident rates increase. There are an estimated 18 million persons in the United States with hearing defects. Many of the hard of hearing could have been benefited by proper treatment when they were children. The child going to school needs his hearing.

Architects recently have used steel wire rope, long noted for its use in spectacular suspension bridges, to achieve column free space in gymnasiums, assembly halls, airline terminals and airport hangars.

ated, freezing dog of ourst Good bye snow. . . we hope!

WE may sound a mite disrespectful calling him a "cabbage head", but by his own admission, the cold weather really got to Mr. Clyde Mims. He said he went to IGA to get a cabbage and on the way in he met James or one of the boys if he wanted a possum or something like that. Anyway during the conversation (and you know Mr. Clyde, you know) he was considering the way into Marylene's Beauty Shop instead of the grocery. Was his face red when he asked for a "cabbage head"? They thought for a minute there it was some kind of new hairdo to keep your ears warm!

TOLD Mr. "Bulldog" Keme that this would be a good week the put a special emphasis on "love handles!" and he said "That reminds me, I've got a shipment of those things up at the bus station!" Supply and demand, you know! If you don't need them again the kids can always look like a trip in there. That trap door makes a real good trick exit!

SAW some otherwise intelligent persons doing some pretty stupid things, especially with automobiles, during all the freezing weather. Proof of that statement can probably be found in all the body and repair shops in the area this week. Those who took it easy and practiced caution, usually came out O.K. Other "hotrods" didn't do so well!

NOW ain't that just like a woman! Thursday morning of last week, the worst one of the bunch, we left for work at 7 a.m. and saw Morris Powwell assist the missus into the family car. She looked like a trip to Storkville. We followed him to town and weren't sure that was where he was headed until he ran a red light right in the middle of town. We knew then that the old bird was pushing him. Sure enough, he was the daddy of a baby girl, who makes two for the Popwells.

They have a grown daughter who is already out on her own. Now that she is to live over, it does look like mother would be a little more cooperative. They always try to make it difficult for pore old dad! Congratulations folks!

Parker Fertilizer Company To Offer New Fertilizer

Howard Parker, President of the Parker Fertilizer Company, announced today that his company will offer the farmers of Central and North Alabama several high analysis fertilizers this spring. These fertilizers will be granulated and contain 12 elements. They will be known as "bonus fertilizers." Granular fertilizers are free-flowing and blend well in the mixture. Minor elements will be added, as the soils of this section of Alabama respond exceptionally well to elements such as iron, magnesium, zinc, copper, sulphur and boron.

In his talk with this paper, he said that the successful Alabama farmer will set his yield goals on a bale and a half to two bales of cotton to the acre, 75 to 80 bushels of corn, a cow to the acre on pasture or winter pasture, and 40 bushels of soy beans to the acre, etc. The marginal farmer will be out of farming in 5 to 10 years. Fertilizers now manufactured by this company will be the type that will produce maximum yields, and the farmer that uses them will be the farmer to make money.

Mr. Parker further stated that his trade marked STA-GREEN package plant food for home use had doubled in sales each year for the past 4 years and this year his company expect-

UNTIL THAW—Truckers Asked To Lighten Their Loads

Because of weather and road conditions in Alabama this week State Highway Director Sam Engelhardt has issued an appeal to all truckers to limit loads to eight tons for a period of four or five days beginning Saturday morning, January 13.

The Highway Director stated the reason for his request as follows:

During initial thawing periods following such heavy freezes as Alabama has experienced this week, loaded trucks with a gross weight of more than eight tons cause severe damage to roads. Mr. Engelhardt explained that as the water under the mass of a paved road freezes and subsequently expands the pavement edre is slightly lifted. As the thawing process begins, the pavement edre remains elevated above their normal supporting base. Thus for a period of four or five days during a thaw even normally loaded trucks operating over such unsupported

Barry Taylor Is Six

It was a happy occasion for Barry on his sixth birthday when his mother Mrs. Keeble Taylor invited his cousins and friends in for a visit with him. He couldn't join in games as he was recuperating from a tonsillitis but enjoyed their visit. Of course he had the birthday cake which was white with six red candles and in the golf man motif as Barry is a little golfer himself. There was a lake with a boat golfer on top of the cake which was very unique.

The children brought him nice and useful gifts of which he proudly opened for his friends to see. They were served cake and ice cream by his mother assisted by Miss Judy Hayes. As they left they were given balloons, jump ropes and airplanes as favors.

Those visiting Barry one his birthday were: Ricky and Kim Lawrence, Mrs. Richard Lawrence, Belinda Lawrence, Kathy Dian and Debbie Scott, Jackie Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lawrence of Thorsby, Lori Blankenship Bill and Joni Hayes Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hayes, Bobbie and Al Hayes and Kay Bobbie as favors.

Circus Girls' Beauty Is Show's Trademark

The most glorious and gorgeous girls in the world wear the silken, spangled accoutrements of the Greatest Show on Earth.

Swiftness from all the nations of the Continent, England, the Far East Japan, China, Indonesia, the Argentine, Mexico, Canada and the strictly home grown variety of American girls are to be seen in the gilded costumes of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Beauty is a trademark of the show - the Ringling Circus. There we have a troupe of Kanakani dancers from Tokyo. There is a heel clicking mitehacha from Japan. English girls are seen in their traditional blue and white. But the American girls are the circus beauties.

Circus girls, no matter what their nationality, come usually from circus families that go back for generations. They are taught by their parents as children.

It is no easy job to be a circus girl. The traveling is continuous and hard. The rehearsals are continuous and hard. And the final proof of the pudding, the actual performance under the hard, cold, cruel light of the arena can be more than hard.

But the circus girl, this continual battling with time tables the elements and circus schedules is life. She would have no other life. She'll be here in all her multiple beauty and charms, when Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus comes to the State Coliseum in Montgomery, Feb. 9, 10, 11.

Of course, the circus is more than girls. There are elephants, acrobats, spectacles, high wire walkers, clowns, clowns, clowns. And of course, one can never get away from the circus cotton candy.

Circus girl Francesa Elshini poses prettily to add to the excitement of the Ringling Show.

HOW TO HAVE CHRISTMAS EVERY DAY

What a wonderful time of year Christmas is! We celebrate the birth of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus of Nazareth.

We are all drawn more closely together as a family group. Our hearts seem to be bubbling over with love and compassion for everyone we meet.

We exchange gifts. We sit around the fire and tell our children, our parents, and others how much we love them, how much we appreciate them.

There is something exciting and enchanting about the whole Yuletide Season that makes us seem to glow with a warmth from deep within.

Then we pray: "Dear God, would that we may all spend many, many happy Christmas Days together! Watch over us, bring us all back together again next Christmas. Don't let our family circle be broken."

My, how the magic of Christmas can affect us!

I once heard a man say: "You get out of Christmas just what you put into it." I think this is true. The home that is prettily decorated, the preparations

Mom and Dad make for the gifts and the extra "goodies" that go on the table all add up to a glorious celebration—one to remember throughout the whole year.

This is all good. But the important thing about Christmas is that it is the celebration of the birth of Jesus! The Spirit of Christ and the Christmas Season abide in millions of people's hearts everywhere!

The nice thing about observing Christmas is that the magic it brings need not tarnish and fade away on December 26.

The thing to remember is that Christ is no longer a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. Christ is a mature Christ who grew to manhood, went about preaching and healing the sick and doing good...

...who died on the cross that we might have everlasting life. Christ is the risen Christ, who gained victory over death so we might live.

Jesus can be our constant companion each day of the year if we accept Him as our Saviour.

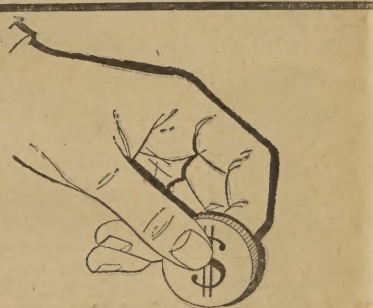

By doing so, we can have Christmas every day of the year!

"Liquidate" Snow

"Liquidate it," may turn out to be the simple answer to the problem of getting rid of snow that faces many city street commissioners, airport managers, parking lot operators, and service station owners every winter.

That, anyway, is the answer from research laboratories of the American Oil Company. And they have an experimental oil-burning "snow-melter" to back up their answer.

Laboratory technologists have their own unique dilemma: they're beginning to worry about more snow to complete their evaluation of the snow disposal unit and determine all of its possible uses.

"This device, using the heat from burning fuel oil is an unusually effective way to solve the problem of millions of dollars in direct expense, loss of income and transportation delays according to Dr. Arthur Lien, Manager of research and development for American Oil.

A front loading tractor continuously dumps snow from plowed up piles into a large tank on the "melter." The experimental unit melts 25 tons of snow an hour, but a larger model can melt 75 tons.

Fertilizer Tips For Truck Crops, 1962

The latest fertilizer recommendations for truck crops as furnished by the County Agent's office is given below. The principal changes from the last recommendations are for tomatoes and pimento pepper. Remember that these recommendations are necessarily general in nature and may not meet all situations. We strongly recommend a soil test to determine the specific need for any particular field. Mr. Sellers states that this can be adjusted slightly upwards for home gardeners.

Soil Conservation News

After several years of low corn and oat yields, Marvin Oates of the Macedonia community asked the Soil Conservation Service for help on a drainage ditch, after the drainage ditch he asked the Service for a Conservation farm plan. The soil map showed that part of his bottom land was Class I land and the poorly drained land was IIIV. We suggested that he cultivate the Class I and pasture the Class IIIV land.

The plan called for KY 31 fescue on the pasture land. This fall the fescue was nitratized with 300 pounds of 16 percent nitrate and his herd of 25 cows has been on the fescue with no supplement. Mr. Oates states, that some of the cows have gained 100 pounds. Mr. Oates plans to clear 10 more acres this fall and plant to fescue. Mr. Oats said, "he would continue until he has 50 acres or 1 acre of fescue for each mature cow."

The Soil Conservation Service has moved to the new courthouse, located in the basement Room 121.

who will undergo a very serious operation Tuesday of this week in a Birmingham hospital. So don't forget him when you pray.
Mr. Walter DeShazo is sick and has the doctor with him one day last week. We hope he is going to be well again.
Mrs. Charlie Cooper fell and hurt herself on Thursday of last week and was carried to the Chilton County Hospital by a Highway Patrolman. They X-rayed her and found she had no broken bones. She remained in the hospital for several days.
She went out to the mail box and slipped and fell in the snow and ice. We hope she will soon be well again. At this writing she is improving but is still in the hospital.
Those enjoying spending the day with Mrs. Eula Tucker on

NEWS OF--SAMARIA

Don Graham Pastor
Due to unfortunate weather conditions, the Youth Rally and other meetings were postponed until later date which will be announced at later dates. We hope that you will make special efforts to attend these meetings on their new dates.

The Youth Rally will be at the Mapesville Baptist Church.
This promises to be one of the best and most inspiring meetings we have ever had. Begin the New Year right and attend our Youth Rally.

The Intermediates and Young People are going to have a recreation period at the church in the near future. Any of you who will join us are invited.
This will be an enjoyable time for all. There will be all sorts of games and food.

We have relinquished our Visition Program on Thursday nights. If you would like a list of people to visit, contact the pastor. This list of people may be visited at your convenience.
We have church services at regular times. Our Prayer meetings are still on Wednesday nights at 6:30.

Over 138 Million Telephones Can Be Connected From Clanton

Telephone users in Clanton can call 138,239,700 telephones, 97.6 per cent of all the telephones in the world.
This includes the 244 telephones in Muscat and Oman all three of the telephones in the British Virgin Islands, and 60 per cent of the estimated 4,276 000 telephones in Russia.
According to the 1961 edition of "The World's Telephones," released by American Telephone and Telegraph Company, there were 141,700,000 telephones at the beginning of 1961, a gain of 8,100,000 in 1960.

All figures in the report are as of January 1, 1961, since it takes a year to collect and compile the data. At that time the United States had 74,342,000 telephones more than 40 per 100 persons. Today there are some 77,500,000 telephones in this country.

The report shows the number of telephones in the world almost doubled since 1951. The United States, with 52 per cent of the world's telephones, accounted for 47 per cent of the entire gain of the past decade.

The United Kingdom was second in the number of telephones with 8,270,000 or 16 per 100 persons. West Germany ranked third with 5,994,051 or 11 per 100 persons. Canada had 30 telephones per 100 persons, for a total of 5,728,167. Russia had about two telephones for every 100 persons.

While Canadians ranked fourth in the total number of telephones, they apparently use their phones more than anyone else.
In 1960, Canadians, averaged more than 538 telephone con-

THINGS
We see
and hear
by BOB

WE made at least two mistakes last week, but strange as it seems we corrected them both in the same issue. Both were in the front page political article. One had to do with Francis Speaks "Second Term" in Office, which he is already serving and which we corrected on page two in our "Man Of The Week" column. The other was the County Democratic Executive Committee meeting; we stated in the article that it would meet the 20th. That should have been the 27th and it was in the adjoining article on the same page. Sometimes, in dealing with folks, figures and facts, you just can't help but make a mistake or two. There's no room for error, so when you make one, it stands out like a Republican in a Democratic Primary! Sorry folks!

SOMEBODY said we made a most mistake Confound it! It seems that Mr. Carl Harrison, whom we said would seek the Senate seat is really running for the House of Representatives. We don't know who to believe... because that was according to the information we received... both times! Somebody is knowing and we'd appreciate knowing who's right and who's wrong (besides us, that is).

IT has been said, and we certainly agree, that there is a wide gulf between public enthusiasm for New Frontier politics and personal sympathy for John F. Kennedy in his efforts to handle the toughest job in the world. We appreciate that, but we do have some opinions on how it should be accomplished. The main reason being, that he wants us to foot the bill. We understand this dilemma, but he asked for the job... we did not!

SEE where Joe Elmore of Liberty National spent a couple of days in Birmingham last week running how to be a better insurance man. Mr. Elmore has learned a workable system for meeting those payments on time. How about that Joe?

A son of a gun! We use that term because the fellow in question here has a Papa who has a "pistol ball", and coincidentally, is a good friend of yours truly. William Otis Miller, Jr. (the Junior), to those who know him in the county, has been tapped at Auburn University for membership in the Mu Epsilon national mathematics fraternity for outstanding students and faculty members. A 2.3 in all mathematics is required, and a 2.0 overall average is needed to be eligible for this honor. Bout the only thing they ever tapped him for is his efforts in behalf of our state's peach growers. He will step up the audacity to command the shoulder to go to the state's official Congratulations!

CHILTON County, according to information from the office of Armstrong Selden, did not wait in time for 1962 Peach Crop Insurance through the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Chilton has already been working for this farm benefit program for some time and is to be commended for his efforts in behalf of our peach growers. He will step up the audacity to command the shoulder to go to the state's official Congratulations!

WE do not question the merit of articles concerning the proper care of eyes, teeth and health in general, but we do wonder about the "proper" presentation of same. It seems that all organizations, dealing even remotely with the medical profession have determined that it is "unethical" to advertise. Yet we get news releases from these organizations more than frequently requesting us in effect, to advertise for them! What we can't seem to grasp is: if it's "unethical" for them, then why isn't it unethical for us to do it for them? It seems that a definition of "ethics" might be in order!

FRANK Ross has made the Hall of Fame! In truck sales that is. It seems that during the past year Mr. Ross has been chosen a member of the Honor Club for "outstanding truck sales achievement in 1961". Congratulations Mr. Ross. That should be quite a "pick up"!

Demos to Meet Saturday, 27th

Mrs. Latham To Speak At Demo Meeting

Mrs. Lamar Allene Latham

"WOMEN in Politics" will be the subject of a woman candidate for State Treasurer January 27 at the meeting of the Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee in Clanton.

Mrs. Lamar Allene Latham, former resident of Chilton and now of Birmingham, will be speaker. Mrs. Latham pledges herself to serve faithfully and efficiently as a full-time, hard working State Treasurer. She is a native Alabamian and a life long Democrat. She is a State leader against Communism active in civic and professional affairs, and a member of the Baptist Church.

Mrs. Latham has a record as a successful operator of her own private business organization for the past 20 years.

Much Progress Made In Bid For Library

At a meeting of the Chilton County Library Board on January 18 at the Dixie Cafe, a progress report showed not only the work being done for getting the library program and bookmobile moving in the county, but also that many individuals and organizations are showing their genuine interest and willingness to help. The work on the old jail is progressing to make way for housing the nearly 6000 books now in the county. The Junior Chamber of Commerce have agreed to take charge of the painting of this area. The County Board of Revenue have contributed from the old Court House such equipment as desks, tables, filing cabinets an dtwo air conditioners. Mr. Ivan Smith has offered the services of his mathematics classes to work out measurement problems for Mr. J. Reid Thompson, the vocational agriculture teacher, and his boys together with Mr. Smith and his boys will be responsible for planning and constructing the shelves according to library specifications. Lumber will be needed for this purpose. Any donations will be welcomed. Mr. Jon Will Pitts has agreed

Coburn Calls Meeting Of Demo Committee

K. C. (Kermit) Coburn, Maplesville business man and Chairman of the Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee has called a meeting of that body for Saturday, January 27th at 2:00 p.m. The meeting will take place at the new County Courthouse and all members are expected to be present for this important gathering.

Candidates for public office who expect to run in the May Democratic Primary cannot legally qualify until this meeting of the Committee.

Same Board Elected At Peoples Savings Bank Here

THE Peoples Savings Bank held its annual Stockholders meeting on the 8th day of January, and elected the same Board of Directors. They are Mrs. Mary P. Burnett, L. A. Clayton E. L. Mullins, Omar L. Reynolds, A. Reddie Taylor and R. C. Williams.

At this meeting President L.A. Clayton revealed to the Stockholders that the year 1961 was the best year the Bank had ever experienced in earnings. After paying a $10.00 per share Dividend the Bank added back $6,000.00 to reserves and over $56,000.00 to Undivided Profits.

At a later Directors meeting the following officers were elected for the year 1962: L. A. Clayton, President; John C. McKinney, Vice-President; Wallace R. Wood, Cashier and Flora I. Harris, Assistant Cashier.

to see if he can secure some concrete steps for the jail building. Some planning fixtures will be needed. Mr. Conway, the school superintendent, thinks there may be some in some abandoned school buildings.

Mr. Bullard, the Orkin man, has offered spray the quarters when things are in readiness.

Mrs. Otto Jones has offered a donation of books. Mrs. Bobby Rutherford brought to a member a map with the county roads marked. This will help in planning bookmobile routes.

Mrs. Rose Sutley and the Jemison High School Commercial Department have offered their services for typing and publicity.

The Bibb County Library Planning Committee will meet with the Chilton County Library Board in the near future to coordinate plans for library service in the two counties.

Present for the board meeting were two area librarians from the State Library Agency in Montgomery: Mrs. Nancy Gonce and Mr. Derek Wilson. Both will be working in the county as the library services are extended to the entire county.

Alabama Draft To Call Only 233 In February

STATE Director Walter M. Thompson, Jr. said today that a total of 233 Alabama registrants will be called to the induction station during February to fill the State's Selective Service quota.

Jaycees To "Block" For March of Dimes

HOLLIS Smith Chairman of the Roadblock Committee of the Clanton Junior Chamber of Commerce, told the News this week that the organization will form a series of six roadblocks for the 1962 March of Dimes on February 4th from 9 until 4 O'clock.

Smith said the roadblocks would be established on Highway 31 north and south, Higgins Ferry Road, Selma Highway 22, Lay Dam Road and the Enterprise Road.

Mr. E. S. Monroe is serving this year as County Chairman for the March of Dimes.

C of C To Hold Annual Banquet

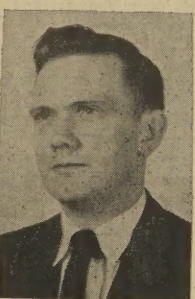

WORD was released this week that the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual meeting to elect new officers, and the annual banquet on February 12 at 7 P.M. The affair will take place at the Holiday Inn in Clanton and will be speakers of state-wide renown at the meeting. All members are urged to get their tickets early and attend this most important meeting and banquet.

Moatts Is Named Chilton's "Young Man Of Year"

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has chosen Morris Moatts as Chilton County's Outstanding Young Man of the year and he will represent this County in Birmingham on January 27th at a banquet where the Four Outstanding Young Men in Alabama will be chosen.

Moatts has been active in the Jaycee organization here a few years ago, and since that time, the Clanton Jaycees, partly under his leadership, have been consistently the most active group of its kind in the community.

SUCCESSFUL EFFORTS—The Junior Chamber has sponsored a Teenage Driving Road Contest. They plan to sponsor a Peach Festival this year. In the past this effort has been one of the most rewarding in Chilton's history. Morris is the owner of Pine-dale Gardens, where in Clanton and besides being active in the work of the Methodist Church and the Loyal Order of Moose, he has been one of the few to continue efforts on the Library Program for the County, which is now enjoying some degree of success. The Jaycees could not have chosen a more active, energetic, hard-driving young man than Morris Moatts. We wish him luck in the State competition.

Your Poll Tax And Your Voting Right

THEIR are mathematical geniuses and self-styled politicians who tell us that a "light vote" often means success in an otherwise futile effort to put something across to the voters. Or, we should say "past the voters!"

Paying your Poll Tax is a necessity before you can exercise your right to vote or run for public office. It is a good rule, just as literacy tests are good rules for determining who is qualified to vote intelligently. They are not only good "rules"; they are the law!

We know very little of the value of a light vote and its effect on the success or failure of a proposal to the people. We do know, that if only a minority of the people are qualified to vote, interested in their community's future, then we do not get a true vote of the people's wishes as to how they want to be governed.

It is your privilege and your duty, as a citizen, to exercise your rights and vote! You cannot vote until you have paid your Poll Tax! If you intend to vote in the May primaries, you must pay your Poll Tax before the first of February. Do it today! Have your say about how your government is run. We will have better communities and a better Country when all qualified citizens exercise their rights as individuals and vote their honest convictions on what ever matters come before the people!

Flood Control Project Will Commence Soon

THE actual work will begin on Clanton's Flood Control creek drainage project within two weeks, according to Mayor J. Hollis Jackson, who attended the opening of the project on the project in Mobile Friday, January 19th.

Low bidder on the project was the firm of Marbury-Pattillo, a Birmingham concern, with a bid of $214,186.50. There were 12 bids on the project.

Construction, which is supposed to begin within eight days after acceptance of the bid is scheduled to be completed in November of this year.

The work will commence on the East end of the project just east of the old Walnut Creek Bridge and will extend to a point just west of the Mt. Pleasant Road. On the southern stream, construction will extend to a point just west of the Mt. Pleasant Road.

The channel to be dug will follow, generally, the present run of the streams with a few improvements here and there. The sides of the channel will be lined and it is estimated that it will completely do away with flooding problems in the Clanton Area. The City of Clanton and Chilton County will be responsible for the maintenance of the project when it is completed.

Attending the meeting in Mobile with Mayor Jackson were Mack Godwin, member of the Clanton Council, and Burton Mullins County Director of Civil Defense.

County Road Project Will Get Underway

GOVERNOR Patterson and Highway Director Englehardt have entered into a Contract with Chilton County for the construction of grading, drainage and pavement on 1.476 miles of road from Floyd Church to the Autauga County Line. Construction will get underway in the very near future.

The project will cost approximately $284,000. The grading, drainage and pavement will be done by County forces and the construction of the Highway Department paying $14,200.00, or half the cost.

Chilton County C of C Directors Meet January 18

A special meeting of the Board of Directors, Chilton County C of C, was called by President John M. Higgins and those present were, besides the President: John P. Lawrence, Jr. Bobby Lane, E. S. Monroe, Johnny Vines, all members of the Board; Jon Will Pitts, Executive Secretary and as guests there were present: Mayor Jackson, Mr. T. E. Wyatt, Editor of the Union - Banner and Bob Tucker, Managing Editor of the Chilton County News.

Mr. Higgins called the meeting to order and then turned the floor over to Mayor Jackson, who stated to the Chamber that

How Many Teachers Vote?

The American Heritage and Citizenship of the Alabama Education Association is making a survey through the local associations to determine the per cent of white teachers who are qualified voters.

In an effort to get a full response, the cooperation in using the facilities of the Education Office has been solicited by the committee. Therefore, to cooperate as requested, survey forms have been sent to the schools of the Chilton County School System.

The Alabama Education Association Heritage and Citizenship Committee encourages teachers to claim full political rights and to accept full political responsibilities. The committee has accepted the following platform:

Every teacher should register. Every teacher should inform himself on the issues before the voters and their representatives.

Every teacher should study the candidates and their records. Every teacher should vote regularly in both primary and regular elections.

Every teacher should seek to make his influence felt through all the avenues open to him within the framework of the law. Every teacher should have the privilege of participating in the political party of his choice.

Every teacher should have the privilege of running for public office for which he is eligible by law.

Mrs. Williams First To Identify Mr. John Higgins

RALPH Vines, the first winner in the News Mystery Man feature, was guessing right on the beam this week too, but he made a little mistake. According to the rules, which have been published, the first one after the News office

After 8 A.M. Thursday morning is the winner. Ralph came in at 7:45. If he had just had another 15 minutes to kill somewhere, he would have had it made.

Mrs. R. C. Williams was in with the first correct answer this week. Someone beat her in, but they guessed wrong (bless 'em)! Mrs. Williams will receive her choice of $2 in cash or a year's subscription to the News.

We broke a record this week on number of entries, and counting phone calls, we recorded some 48 individuals. Compare that with the two correct guesses we had on Mr. S. A. Jones and you can see interest in the MM feature is Newport Business Forms Company desired to purchase additional acreage in the Industrial Park located in South Clanton, for the purpose of constructing an additional plant building and moving its operations at Tupelo, Mississippi to Clanton.

Board member John P. Lawrence, Jr. made the following motion which was duly seconded by Mr. Lane:

"I move that the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce offer to Newport Business Forms of Alabama, Inc. the remainder of the Chamber's Industrial Park in South Clanton less and except present easements and rights-of-way subject to being surveyed and definitely located; with the stipulation that they construct an industrial building on said property within three (3) years after a conditional deed to that effect is granted to them; and said deed be granted to said Company in consideration of $1.00 as soon as a survey of the property, together with plans for the building proposed to be built upon the property is submitted to this Chamber of Commerce for approval and with the further stipulation that Newport is to assume and pay for all cost of the survey, cost of the title search and all other necessary legal costs and expense necessary to complete said transaction.

Whereupon said motion was put to the vote by the President and all members of the Board present voted in favor of the motion and there were none opposed.

President Higgins appointed as a committee of two: T. E. Wyatt and A. Reddie Taylor to contact Dr. Charles and Dr. Joe Moore and also Jasper Dennis, Sr. to see if they would be willing to make their acreage holdings immediately adjacent to Industrial Park available to Newport for this new expansion program and President Higgins also requested Mayor Jackson to convey to Mr. Bohanan and the Newport Business Forms Company of Alabama, Inc. the Chamber's sincere gratitude for their consideration of our area and that the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce pledges to them its full support and co-operation in bringing about this new expansion program.

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Complainant
Vs. One 1964 Pontiac, Two Door
Sedan. Motor No. A8XHZ5996, Respondent.

In the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama in Equity
Case No. 3307.

The Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of Lawrence F. Gerald, Jr., Deputy Solicitor of Chilton
County, Alabama, against one 1964 Pontiac Automobile, Motor
No. A8XHZ5996, being exempted to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 4th day of January, 1962, one Rodney Douglas Todd did transport in said automobile certain prohibited liquors or beverages from one point to another in the State of Alabama, and that said automobile, was on said date seized by officers on Highway No. 22 in Chilton County, Alabama, and said bill of complaint prays that said automobile be declared confiscated property of forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an order of condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore, ordered, adjudged and decreed that notice of the filing of said bill of complaint be given for three consecutive weeks in the Chilton County News, a Newspaper published in the City of Clanton Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right title or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claims by the 19 day of February, 1962, and that failure to do so, their said rights, title or interest will be forever barred.

Ordered and decreed, this 15 day of January, 1962.

Gallion Praises Study on Text Book Changes

Attorney General MacDonal dall today praised the Alabama Legislative Council for adopting his plan for a probe into the constant changing of school textbooks. Gallion, for several months, has been criticizing the textbook program in Alabama and has demanded a stop to the frequent changes in school books.

The Attorney General said
"The Legislative Council proposed the textbook situation only adds merit to what I have been preaching for months. I fully support the Council in their probe. The textbook situation in Alabama is bad. Money has been taken from the pockets of the poor in Alabama too long for useless changes in textbooks, and we cannot afford such waste."

Gallion added, "Not only will parents and students benefit by limiting the changes of textbooks it will be a great help to our underpaid teachers. They have to spend many hours preparing new lessons everytime a book is changed, and most changes are so trivial that the only thing they accomplish is to place an additional burden on our parents, students, and teachers. I am gratified that the Legislative Council has seen fit to join me in this undertaking."

The Legislative Council announced that it would investigate the procedure followed by the Department of Education in selecting textbooks used in Alabama public schools. That announcement followed several months of criticism by Gallion of the State textbook program

Debbie Sue Brown, 5, Clanton, Wash., is off to a swinging start as 1962 New March of Dimes Poster Child.

six months, however, she was to be brought back.

"We drove home sadly," Mrs.
Brown relates, "trying to adjust ourselves to the tragedy of losing our beautiful baby.
But our spunky Debbie Sue had no idea of leaving us at three months. At eight months, we returned to Seattle where her spine was mended. When she came out of surgery, she was so mischievous that she succeeded in wrenching free from the blood-transfusion tube and the needle used for intravenous feeding. Doctors told us she must lie face down on the night train riding home. Instead, she insisted on sitting up and jabbering without end and keeping all the passengers awake."

The Astoria County Chapter of The National Foundation March of Dimes promptly offered assistance and, since 1958, it has financed much of the cost

National Debut For Debbie Sue As March of Dimes Poster Child

Debbie Sue Brown, a five-year-old winsome young lady of Clanton, Wash., who is annoyed because she must wait a few years before marrying the boy next door, was selected this week as the 1962 New March of Dimes Poster Child.

Debbie Sue won out over hundreds of small children, afflicted with birth defects, arthritis or polio—health fields embraced by the program of The National Foundation
March of Dimes. The Poster Child lives a life both exciting and glamorous. If physical condition permits, there usually are visits to the White House, to Senators, Governors and other prominent persons as well as radio and television ap-
March of Dimes in January.

She will star in a January TV special, "The Scene Stealers," and her picture will appear nationwide on thousands of March of Dimes posters, coin collectors, and mail appeal envelopes.

Debbie Sue, high-spirited and active today, although doctors once believed she would survive the open spine with which she was born, lives in a valley of the Clearwater Mountains near the banks of the Snake River.

She is brown-eyed and blonde, the daughter of Jack E. Brown, a state highway surveyor, and Barbara Brown, who have a younger daughter,
Carla, one year old.

Debbie Sue's birth defect of an open spine was not immediately apparent. But a few days after birth her grandmother, Mrs. Fred Benning, a registered nurse of nearby Orofino, Idaho, recognized that a serious disorder was present; and the parents then drove 400 miles at headline pace to Seattle's Children's Orthopedic Hospital. (The mother collapsed on arrival and was herself hospitalized.)

At the hospital the parents were told that Debbie Sue's spinal defect was of such severity that the infant probably could not live beyond three months. If she were alive at School Attendance; Basketball Record; Lunchroom Menu Take Tops In News

Our school is very proud of the attendance record we have made this school year. Last month our record was 93%. We hope to keep this record and go higher.

On account of the snow and being out of school, our P.T.A. did not meet in January. We are happy to report that the response to the utility bills has been good. However, we are hoping it will continue as we want to do our part in paying our bills.

The P.T.A. is expecting our parents and friends to join them at the Maplesville School Auditorium on Friday evening, January 26, for a basketball game where P.T.A. members will play the faculty members. There will be a game between both the men and women. Proceeds will go to the P.T.A. Come enjoy the fun and help put funds in our P.T.A. treasury for library books.

Our superintendent, Mr. Gordon Conway, states that construction on our new high school building is moving along as rapidly as possible, but the work has been hampered by the weather conditions.

The new building will house the upper six grades of the school. Mr. Conway states that he hopes that the construction will move along fast enough that it might be possible that we will move along fast enough to exercise in the auditorium in May.

Our school basketball team has a good record up to this time. The team has a record of 9-1. The football team also had a very good record of 7-3.

The Beta Club has recently sold candy to add funds to their treasury. They also had a slave sale before Christmas which added to their funds. We congratulate them on a job well done.

The lunch room workers report that an average of 270 lunches are being eaten in the lunch room daily. They are serving a well-balanced meal every day. The students are enjoying their lunches! They show it by going back for the second and sometimes the third time for more food and the workers are proud to serve them.

The students have a choice between white and flavored milk.

The menu for the week of January 15-19 was as follows:

Monday: One-half pint milk, barbecue chicken, lima beans, pineapple crunch, rolls, butter and rice.

Tuesday: One-half pint milk, chicken pie scalloped tomatoes, field peas, bread, butter, and peanut cookies.

SAMARIA NEWS
The Youth Rally for the month of January was called off because of the bad weather. We said this would be re-scheduled but unfortunately it can not be re-scheduled for the month. There will be a meeting in the month of February though. It will be held at the Concord Baptist Church.

The Intermediates and Young People are planning a recreational period at the church. Any of you who wish to join us are welcome.

The Young Married People have made plans to have a Pizza Supper. There will be some good eating and you are invited.

We have a few words of our Visitation Program. We have not completely done away with our Visitation Program but rather we have changed its procedure where we think it will be more effective and enable us to reach more people. Our plans are as follows: every member of our visiting team will be given names of people to contact during the course of a week at their own convenience. We feel this new procedure will greatly benefit our Visitation Program, and we are trusting God to bless our efforts. If you would like to become a member of the visiting team, please contact the pastor immediately.

We would like to cordially invite you to our services. We see you Sunday?

Cooper 4-H Club
The boys of Cooper School 4-H Club met at 8:30 a.m. January 17, 1962 for the fourth meeting of the year. The meeting was called to order by our president Jerry Jones. We had devotionals by Kenny Jones. Then we had songs led by Roy Mims and Linwood Loomis. The meeting was turned over to the program chairman Mr. Dan Mims. He talked to us about electricity. The meeting was adjourned by the president.

Reporter, Robert Hilyer

Mary Clements and Miss Sybil Langston.

MRS. CARL GLASS TELLS OF TOUR IN MEXICO
At a recent meeting of the Quest Club, Mrs. Carl Glass gave club members a report of her visit to Mexico during this past summer. Some of the towns visited and discussed by Mrs. Glass were Monterrey, San Luis Potosi, Queretaro, Mexico City, Puebla, Toluca, Cuernavaca, Taxco, and Xochimilco. A collection of articles made in Mexico were on display. Colored movies made by Mr. Glass during the tour were shown by Mrs. Glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Duffee of Birmingham, Mr. N. L. Duffee and Mrs. George Naish visited their old home town, Verbena on Saturday. They went to the cemetery, on into the country about 3 miles and view of the sights of their childhood. Many places have changed, new brick homes for the old wood kind new surfaced roads, the old ones growing up in weeds. Progress in many areas, new models of cultivation could be noticed.

REX IS SEVEN
Rex Hall celebrated his seventh birthday with a group of school friends.

There was indeed a happy time of play, movies, gifts and refreshments.

Those celebrating with Rex were: His sister, Vicki, Billy Shields, Dennis Scott, Ricky Martin, Butch and Jack Horton, Gene Martin, Michael Cobb, Brad Simmons, Donna and Tammy McNeill and Miss Mary Clements.

The party ended with a snow ball battle and a sled ride.

R.A.'S MET
The R.A.'s final report, after all tallies were in on the provision for the Baptist Children's Home at Troy, money $93.00 and a $65 value on food stuff and clothes. Ten R.A.'s with their Pastor Rev. Louis Brasher and Mr. Robert Hall motored to the home carrying two cars loaded with provisions. This was a love trip and one the group also enjoyed, bringing an offering from their church.

Jerry Stephens was the January honor RA for January, receiving a sword drill Bible.

- We Can Afford It No Longer -

"AWAKE America" is too general a term; it does nothing to arouse the feeling of the individual! And so we say, "Awake, individual"; because it is past time that we resume the practice of governing ourselves; of deciding what we will spend, and what for.

It is becoming increasingly noticeable that John F. Kennedy had nothing whatsoever to do with acquiring the family fortune. If he had used the methods and tactics in his own private affairs that he proposes we use in the functioning of the Federal Government, the family wouldn't have a dime; let alone a million or so dollars.

Mr. Kennedy proposes that we all put forth greater efforts to make more money in 1962 so that he will be able to spend all that he proposes to spend, in the name of the United States of America. In the first place, we personally are not as bent on spending money as Mr. Kennedy seems to be. In the second, why should we make more money, so taxes will take it, so Mr. Kennedy will have the doubtless enjoyment of spending it?

Everything, or nearly everything, when it comes to spending, proposed by the Federal Government these days, is all out of proportion to what the average American citizen believes to be necessary.

We will readily concede the fact that we do not know the first thing about running the Federal Government in its vast spending proposals. But by the same token, they will have to admit that we do know a little something about contributing to the cause! That should give us a little say as to how it is spent.

We don't want to give the Cuban Refugees $45 million; we don't owe them $45 million and we can't afford to give them $45 million so why should we then, take them to raise? If Mr. Kennedy or his Cabinet feel that the Cuban fiasco and invasion obligates us to that amount, then why don't they pay it? We don't recall writing our Congressman or voting to invade Cuba!

Nor do we wish to spend five and a half billion dollars in space! We do most certainly want to keep up in the space race if it is vital to our Country's security, and it seems to be; but we also want to keep our Country sound financially, and we can't do that blowing missiles into the air by the handfull and hoping to realize some "scientific achievement" from them! We must spend what we can afford to spend... no more!

And we don't particularly see why we should spend thirty-five million dollars on an appropriation to the Tennessee Valley Authority. If TVA is that important to Tennessee, then why doesn't Tennessee invest the money? And, as we said earlier, if it's that important to our noble leaders, then why don't they kick in and buy it?

As for raising federal salaries and increasing Tax Collection Personnel, why doesn't the Federal Government use that extra personnel to weed out the thousands of federal employees who spend most of their time "staying out of the boss's way" and then we wouldn't need the extra taxes! In other words, get rid of a number of freeloaders!

Though our leadership does not seem to share our feeling, we would be more than satisfied not to spend more this year than last year. In fact, ridiculous as it may sound, we would be satisfied just to break even. We are not supposed to be in the business of "Federal Government". All we want, and all we want to pay for is "good government," and that is sufficient! To date, we do not have it!

And it seems to us, that if the logical and sensible way for private enterprise to expand and grow is to tighten up its profit belt, and devise new and better ways of doing things, at least cost, then it is also sensible and logical in the operation of our Federal Government!

Some of Mr. Kennedy's proposals, as to expenditures and tax increases, are ridiculous and they strikingly point up the bare fact that we must address ourselves, since we are the financiers of this "business venture", to those responsible and let them know exactly how we feel about the situation of today.

Any half-way good businessman, even a poor one, can tell you that we are being taxed into oblivion! We don't care if John Kennedy or our young son wants more, bigger and better things to play with... if we can't afford it... they don't get it!

Mr. Kennedy: We can absorb unjustified spending and unrealistic taxation no longer. We expect you, and the other elected and appointed officials of our country to lead us out of this hole of individual depression and back onto sound footing in our national economy. Until we are, once again, on solid ground, we recommend no more spending in Federal Government than is absolutely necessary! We will contribute all we have for the good of our Country, but we are sick and tired of giving so much to so few for so little!

$400 Million Tax Leak--

DESPITE what you hear about the new, $92 billion Federal budget being in balance, it should be borne in mind that this is nearly $10 billion more than the Government's estimated income for the current fiscal year - and only a very considerable upswing in the nation's economy could produce this much more revenue during the year beginning next July 1st.

Thus, no one should be surprised at a White House demand on Congress for more taxes. But before you accept the idea that you should pay still more to Uncle Sam, you might give a thought to the loophole operators who pay virtually no income tax, and whose present immunity makes your own obligation that much bigger.

For example, the shocking fact is that many families of modest means are paying more income tax than the average multi-million dollar savings and loan association or insured mutual savings bank! Because of a glaring tax loophole, this $118 billion dollar industry has been paying less than one percent on net income. Thus, in the years 1952 to 1960, while insured commercial banks paid more than $8 billion in Federal income taxes, savings and loan associations paid only $43 million and insured mutual savings banks only $11 million. In 1960, savings and loan associations paid less than one percent of net income to the Government, mutual savings banks paid only one-quarter of one percent and commercial banks 35 percent.

The resulting loss of revenue is estimated at $400 million a year - which would go a long way in meeting that postal deficit or would have paid ten percent of last year's increase in defense spending to meet the Berlin crisis.

And, certainly, this mighty leak should be plugged before the Congress asks still more money of those who are now paying their full share and that of the savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks besides!

Right And Wrong Is Easy--

ONE of the greatest malady's of our present social structure is that few people are willing to judge others as individuals. Instead we willingly pin a tag on literally everyone we read about and come in contact with! What is happening to the individual in our society?

Our system of free enterprise, and free government, and free speech and religion is based on the rights of the individual not the welfare state and it's rascals. If you believe in these fundamentals, then you should have little trouble deciding right from wrong!

Will Government "Got It Alone"?

THIS Administration, it would seem, has decided either to minimize or to totally abandon (reports so far have been conflicting) the partnership plan of electric power development which was conceived and, to a certain extent put into effect by the Eisenhower Administration. The idea of partnership was that government and the investor-owned utilities would work together on major projects to produce maximum benefits at minimum cost to the taxpayers and the consuming public.

Writing in Newsweek Raymond Moley has this to say: "The principle behind partnership was that whenever the money for such projects was obtainable in the free market from investors, there would be no need for spending Federal money. This seemed a good way to ease the burden on the Federal budget. No monopoly in the sale of power could be created because the Federal Power Commission would have to approve such arrangements, and the price of power would be regulated by the states.

"Another advantage of the partnership plan would have been the creation of large property values which would provide needed revenue to state and local governments.

"But public-power zealots fought hard, and partnership never had a real trial... And now it becomes, firm policy, to go it alone in creating a vast electric power structure, despite mounting deficits, the shaky position of the dollar, and the run on gold."

Mr. Moley quotes a ranking government official who described the rural electric co-ops as "one of the great success in our domestic free-enterprise economy." Of this view, he cogently observes, "Since those cooperatives have been borrowing money from the Treasury at 2 per cent money for which the Federal government must pay approximately twice that rate it is hard to see how such a 'business' could fail."

These are areas in which Congress, if it is to protect the taxpayers, and the rights of individuals and free enterprises in a supposedly free economy, must take definite action.

Key Word - Competition--

WHAT is the key word that applies to retail business in this country?

The answer simple, Competition!
For instance, a survey made by the National Association of Food Chains observes that this industry is lower prices and more and more stores. So management are looking toward such intangibles as friendly locked in a competitive battle involving lower and service and quality merchandise to put them ahead during 1962.

One question in the survey provoked an unusually interesting response. It asked the questionee to list his operation's most useful assets. The greatest emphasis was on high employee morale, expert management, good people, good personnel. In other words, the stress was laid on the human factor, with material considerations, important as they are, following.

This particular survey dealt only with the food chains. But the same things are true of all other kinds dealings in every variety of merchandise and service.

The Pervasive Of Nurses--

THE patience of Job, coupled with the tenacity of a bulldog, the endurance of a dirt farmer, not to mention the tenderness of a mother and the wisdom of Solomon himself are just a few of the necessities of being a public nurse in a public hospital. We hear things, both pro and con about our nurses at Chilton County Hospital, but we can speak from experience and our judgement of people; the nurses at our hospital are among the finest in the land. We would put them up with any Ben Casey could come up with and they are most deserving of your consideration, gratitude and thanks. We, personally, are most comforted that we have them. They just don't come any better!

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

This week should tell whether the Organization of American States has the strength and courage to thwart the spread of communism in the Western Hemisphere.

A meeting of the foreign ministers of the 21 American republics belonging to the OAS which I am attending at the request of the Secretary of State, is under way in Punta del Este, Uruguay, to decide what action can be taken with respect to the communist government of Cuba.

As chairman of the Inter-American Affairs Subcommittee of the U. S. House of Representatives I have urged the OAS for two years to act decisively to use its collective security machinery to turn back the wave of international communism now spreading from Cuba and threatening other nations of the Western Hemisphere. My resolution calling for sanctions against the Castro passed the House of Representatives by an overwhelming vote in the last session of Congress.

Under the 1947 Rio Pact, the American republics may resort jointly to the use of sanctions or armed force in eliminating a threat to the hemisphere. The Declaration of Caracas, agreed to in 1954 when communism had infiltrated the Guatemalan regime, is underlining American communism as an extracontinental threat to the hemisphere. As these provisions relate to Cuba, there can be no doubt that the OAS has the legal authority and obligation to act collectively against a government that is openly communist and stands in defiance of every inter-American principle.

However, the OAS has failed to implement this machinery in the past and is just now beginning to come to grips with the Castro-Cuba problem which is undermining American peace and political independence of every American republic.

In accepting the invitation to attend the conference that was extended by Secretary of State Rusk, I expressed to them the hope that this meeting will mark the beginning of the end for Fidel Castro and what he represents in this hemisphere.

Regardless of what specific stand the United States may take, which is uncertain at this time, my chief purpose in attending this historical meeting is to use every means at my command to convince the U. S. delegation, as well as delegates from other nations, that a decision must be made now to stand up to Castro. If this meeting fails to accomplish firm results it will be hailed as a victory for Castro and a diplomatic defeat for the United States.

FUNDS FOR RIVER

It approved by Congress, fund get for 1963 for the Holt Lock included in the President's budget and will make it possible to continue on schedule the orderly construction of this important installation near Tuscaloosa. For the Holt project, the President has recommended a total of $3.5 million to be used in the fiscal year that begins July 1. Also included in the President's budget, which was submitted to Congress last week, are funds of $210,000 for the proposed Clairborne Lock and Dam on the Alabama River in Monroe County and $1 million for construction work on the Millers Ferry Lock and Dam, the Coosa-Alabama System near Camden in Wilcox County.

I expect to appear before both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees later this year to urge that Congress retain in the budget the full amounts recommended for the projects on the Warrior-Tombigbee and Coosa-Alabama River Systems.

STRIFE - SLOW ACTIONS

Who knows but that the Confederates' failure to raise troops rapidly in 1862 could have been caused by continued bickering between the Military and the Administration? And that a continued delay in military action by Union George B. McClellan, General in Chief, led to the issuance of the famous War Order Number 1 by President Abraham Lincoln?

Two Confederate Generals, Joseph E. Johnston and P.G.T. Beauregard put up arguments with Secretary of War Judah P. Benjamin over military details. Such controversy led to a new assignment for Beauregard. He was sent, January 25, 1862, from Northern Virginia and placed under General A. S. Johnston in Kentucky.

Only partially, or not at all, did General Joseph E. Johnston obey orders. On January 24, 1862, he received orders from Lincoln to send to Richmond 6,000 men. Secretary of War Judah P. Benjamin wrote General W.H.C. Whiting about the matter, saying, "It will not do to send your arms to Richmond. You will never see them again if you do."

On the Union side of the picture, military action continued to be delayed by George B. McClellan General in Chief. Perhaps to sour McClellan into action, President Abraham Lincoln issued his famous War Order Number 1 on January 26, 1862. It called for "land and sea forces to conduct a general movement against the enemy on February 22" Washington's birthday.

In an attempt to raise troops and encourage longer terms, Confederate Congress passed various bills in January, 1862. President Jefferson Davis was authorized by Congress on January 24 to call upon Governors to secure recruits. Three days later a bill passed to allow each military company to send one officer and two privates to recruit volunteers by use of the Bounty Act.

The Old Timer

"It's not the minutes you spend eating - it's the seconds."

John Q's Opinion

(A Summary of Facts and Opinions on Clanton County Business)

CLANTON, from local business procedures and situations, it seems that the average merchant in Clanton and Chilton County is fighting hard to maintain his competitive ability in his chosen field. If the consumer cost level, the status quo, as is expressed by our purchased) is maintaining the status quo, as is expressed by our taxes, labor costs and other overhead continue to skyrocket, but it is also a very opportune time for all of us: John Q. Citizen and John Q. Merchant to appeal strongly for Tax Reform. We are ever to overcome the monster which is overtaxation, we will have to do it sometime in the foreseeable future. We, as citizens of Chilton County, should act now, while our strength is generally great and our foe is on the ropes! Write your Congressman!

THE day of the chart, graph, statistic and elaborated poll is on it's way out! It is high time we went back to the old standard of a man speaking his mind on the spot, and following the dictates of his own conscience when acting in behalf of himself, his business or his Country! These cold facts and figures are deceiving, and the way they have been used lately, are degrading as well!

CHILTON County has gained tremendously in the past year, though it does not, and will not likely show up in the department of new year ahead. Our growth this past year has been fundamental. We have learned (the hard way) that we must make changes and alter courses if we are to keep abreast of the times. Valuable lessons in principle and procedure have been digested in 1961 and these things in themselves will make us better able to cope with 1962!

CLANTON has many new and bright prospects for the coming year in business. A new business will be going up within the next few weeks on the corner of 1st Avenue and 7th Street. Herbert Dennis and Fred Smithman will be filling us in on the details at an early date. We understand that this will be the second business of this type in the State. The first was in Anniston and has proven very successful.

The possibilities of industrial expansion are very real at this time. Chilton County with E-Z Pak in Maplesville already making plans for further expansion; the Knight Engineering Co. erecting new quarters at the site of the Industrial Park in South Clanton and the possibility of the expansion of Newport Business Forms very close at hand. These are just a few of the most promising possibilities for 1962.

New construction is underway all over Chilton County, is the educational system, the new shopping center to be built in the spring and the flood control project which will commence in a few days. This is not to mention expansion and faciliating of already existing business in the community.

Clanton and Chilton County will definitely come into the sunlight of new economic life in 1962 and the health facilities, the new courthouse and jail, the library program underway, and the enthusiastic attitude of business in general point to a new era for our community.

Time To Pay Poll

Taxes Running Out

Barely two weeks is left to pay poll taxes if a voter is to protect his right to vote in the important primaries and general election being held this year, Congressman George Huddleston Jr. warned today.

Deadline for the payment of poll taxes in all Alabama counties is January 31, 1962.

The Congressman, Alabama's representative on the Armed Services Committee issued a statement in Birmingham pointing out that failure to pay poll taxes before the January 31st deadline would mean that a person could not vote in the primaries and general election to be held in May and November.

In the May Democratic Primary voters will choose nominees for Governor, all other state officers, most local officials, a U. S. Senator and eight U. S. Congressmen. These nominees will be candidates in the November general election.

"A heightened interest by the general public in political affairs is needed. In elections, such as ones coming up this year, it is important that many of our citizens as possible participate and vote," Congressman Huddleston said.

Mr. Huddleston pointed out that poll taxes can be paid by mail. "A check for $1.50, together with your name, address and voting place, sent to your county tax collector will protect your right to vote," he said. Mr. Huddleston also noted Wartime veterans and people over 45 do not have to pay the poll tax.

"The most important duty we have as citizens is our right to vote. I am hopeful," the Congressman said, "that every citizen who has not paid his poll tax will make an effort to do so before January 31, 1962."

TID BITS TO REMEMBER

God is the silent partner of great enterprises--Business is based on Character; Character is based on Christ -- Other books were given for our information; the Bible for our transformation. Daniel Webster was asked what he considered his greatest thought. He replied "The greatest thought I have ever had is my individual responsibility to God--That of the hour didn't get where he is in a minute."

Former Chilton Resident To Make Race For Senate

JIMMY McDOW

J. T. (Jimmy) McDow, Columbiana automobile dealer, has announced that he would be a candidate for State Senator from the 15th Senatorial District composed of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby Counties. Jimmy is a native of Alabama, having been born in Randolph County and is forty-one years of age. He attended Auburn University before enlisting in the U. S. Navy at the start of World War II where he served almost four years with approximately one year's service overseas in the Pacific Theatre.

After being honorably discharged in October 1945, he entered the automobile business in Clanton and in 1949 moved to Columbiana. While living in Clanton and since moving to Columbiana Jimmy has been very active in church and civic work. He is a Baptist, a Mason, Shriner member of the VFW and American Legion. Jimmy has served as President of the Columbiana Kiwanis Club and Lt. Governor of Alabama Kiwanis. He has served as a member of the City Council of Columbiana, has been a trustee of the Columbiana Schools for many years and is presently serving on the Columbiana Civic, Water and Industrial Boards.

In a statement concerning his race for the Senate Mr. McDow said, "I have always been extremely interested in good government for I firmly believe good government is good business. I have had the opportunity to work with the people from all sections of this district and I believe I know and understand the problems of all groups. It is my sincere desire to serve our people in this important office and I hope that the voters of this district will see fit to give me this opportunity."

CELEBRATES 47th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary Sunday. They were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Burgess where a joint affair was celebrated due to a birthday for Mr. Burgess. A big cake centered the table which was meant for both affairs and Turkey dinner with all the trimmings along with a table full of everything good, was enjoyed by Mr. Lincoln Robinson and mother Mrs. Susie Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR MRS. MATTIE L. BLACKMON

A Surprise Birthday Dinner was given for Mrs. Mattie Lee Blackmon, Sunday, January 2, at her home in Clanton, Route 4. Mrs. Blackmon attended church services and when she returned she was surprised to find a bountiful dinner spread with a beautiful birthday cake which centered the table baked by Mrs. F. G. Blackmon. Nine of her children were present and a host of grandchildren and great grandchildren. Mrs. Blackmon received a lot of useful gifts and among the gifts was a electric blanket from her children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cleckler and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Collins purchased the Marvin Oakes lots in Thorsby, we are happy to hear that and we hope Mr. and Mrs. Cleckler will build and move back to Thorsby soon. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cofer purchased the R. I. Thompson home and we are happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Cofer to move here from Collins Chapel. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rowell of Birmingham visited his mother Mrs. John Rowell the week end.

The Spirit of the Lord was with us in a wonderful way last Sunday. We had 65 present, our attendance is climbing each week. Wherever the Spirit of God is there is where you will find people eager for a Blessing.

Our pastor brought a wonderful message just filled and running over with the blessing from God's Holy Word at both services.

When the invitation was given two came presenting themselves for membership. We are happy to have them and we're expecting to see them in church each service.

Remember our studies in Jeremiah will start this Wednesday night and continue for five Wednesday nights. Everyone is invited.

Our Young People are working very hard to meet the goals set for them. So as a reward we're planning a social for them in the very near future. So continue your good work. Be back next Sunday and bring someone with you.

And Mother Never Will Know . .

Joan Belletti isn't even in school yet, but she knows how to solve a big problem. In the picture on the left, she helps herself to a paper cup for a glass of milk. Then comes the accident, but fortunately there is no breakage. But what will Mother say about that mess on the floor? But Joan quietly figures out the solution, as the picture on the right shows. Everything will be spic and span in no time and Mother will never know.

American Research Program Pays Off

The American research program pays off in terms of thousands of lives saved. For example the society supported the development of the cell examination of the uterine cancer, sometimes called the Pop Smear Test, which has saved the lives of several women. Uterine cancer kills 14,000 women per year but if every adult woman has the Pop Test once a year the disease could be practically eliminated. Research also pays off at the bedside of the patient through improvements in surgery and treatment.

An Announcement

Grove 439 of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle will meet with Mrs. Ed Nunn on Thursday, January 25, (tonight) at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Nancy Sasser, State manager, is expected to be at this meeting. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Golden Hostess To Music Club

Mrs. W. C. Golden was hostess to the Music Appreciation Club when they met on Tuesday afternoon January 16.

Mrs. L. G. Nichols presided over the business session. The program was introduced by Mrs. William P. Burnette, which was Eras in Music. As each era was introduced, Misses Miriam Frances and Alice Gerald would play a piano number that would depict that era.

There were 25 members and 4 guests who enjoyed this program. The guests were Mrs. Lawrence L. Gerald, Misses Miriam Frances and Alice Gerald and Mrs. H. Y. Brock.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. S. E. Waters and Mrs. W. H. Klinger in serving cake and Russian tea to the group.

Neely - Martino Wed

Miss Joyce Martino became the bride of Lt. Wallace Neely on January seventh at Travis Airforce Base in California. Lt. Neely had just completed an assignment in Hawaii. They will be stationed in Jacksonville, Florida, where Lt. Neely will be Flight Instructor for the next 3 years. They have been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Neely.

JMF Chapter Will Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Jefferson Manly Falkner Chapter, UDC will meet at the home of Mrs. O. L. Howard in Verbena, Friday, January 26 at 3 o'clock on Friday night.

Mr. John M. Higgins of Clanton will be the guest speaker.

Joe Ellison left Monday for Los Angeles, California. He will be out there for the next few weeks working in that area.

Worthwhile Club Met

Mrs. O. D. DeLoach was hostess to her club on Thursday, January 18 at 3 o'clock. Arrangements of fruit and Camellias gave a very welcome to the guests as they arrived.

A brief business period was held. Volunteers were asked to help in the Heart fund drive which will be on February 25 Sunday afternoon, with Mrs. Earl Vaughn as chairman.

In the social hour a tempting salad plate was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Tom Kemp to Mesdames L. A. Lambert, Tol Kunkle, Ben Studdard, R. Cardy, Luther Bean, W. F. Oaywood, G. T. Murphree, John Studdard and Mrs. Willie Bean.

Clanton's Roller Rink Has Its First Anniversary Party

Clanton's Roller Rink observed its 1st anniversary on Friday night, January 19 with a party in the valetine motif. A huge heart made of golden metallic paper was on the wall. Golden bells with fluted streamers hung from the center of the room. Colored paper over the lights gave a soft glow to the setting.

In a guessing game contest Judy Bean won its prize a $5 bill. The runner up was Johnny Cathy, who won passes to skate. For the largest families skating there was a tie between Hoyt Vines with 3 children and Jack Riley of Montgomery who also was skating and had 3 children. Each received a box of candy and passes to skate. Soft drinks were given all the skaters.

There were around one hundred who enjoyed this party.

Ruth S. S. Class Met

Mrs. Morris Padgett was hostess to the Ruth S. S. Class in her lovely new home on Lay Dam Road on Friday night, January 19 at 7 o'clock.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Charlie Weldon. Mrs. Johnny Smith presided in the absence of Mrs. Paul Parrish, president. Mrs. Padgett gave the devotion which was pertaining to prayer, reading appropriate scripture. After the routine of business delightful refreshments were served by the hostess in the den around the table.

Those enjoying this hospitality were: Mrs. Harold Littlejohn, Mrs. William Hicks, Mrs. Johnny Smith, Mrs. Charlie Weldon and Mrs. M. O. Nelson teacher of the Class.

Winsome S. S. Class Met

Thanks From Mr. Elmore

THE Chilton County Hospital and Nursing Home has recovered from the recent cold seizure and experience a full patient load of various types. The cold weather did cause some necessary adjustments and some personnel and Nurses "moved in" for 3 days to assure adequate help.

The hospital was planned for such emergencies and can operate without the use of natural gas by converting the boilers to diesel fuel. The lights and heat for the Nursery can be obtained from an emergency generator.

The administrator, William E. Elmore wishes to thank the personnel for their efforts expended and the extra time and effort spent to continue the splendid patient care the hospital is endeavoring.

The administration wishes to express their full hearted thanks to the Funeral Homes, City Police, Highway Patrol and others who helped in the transporting of personnel during this time.

Gardenettes Met With Mrs. Hayes

Mrs. Thomas Hayes was hostess to the Gardenette Club on Monday at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Hayes, president, called the meeting to order and presided. All the members joined in reading the club collect. Roll call was answered with a favorite rose. Reports were given from officers and committee's.

A letter of resignation was read by Mrs. Erskin Connell who has moved away. Mrs. Zora Smith, gave the report from the meeting of the landscaping of the courthouse. Old and new business was discussed. All were urged to give and help with the heart fund. Plans were made to have a workshop on the 4th Monday in April at the home of Mrs. M. L. Batson. A nominating committee was appointed with Mrs. R. L. Bowers chairman, Mrs. M. D. Foshee Jr. and Mrs. Dan Mims.

Mrs. R. M. Alexander had charge of the program. A film was shown of the famous Rose Garden of Perkins and Jackson. The film was shown by two of the local high school boys, Mike Johnston and Mike McKee. Delicious refreshments were served to 15 members and the two visitors in the Valentine motif.

An arrangement of red carnations adorned the mantle.

W. A. LeCroy Announces For State Superintendent

W. A. (Bing) LeCroy

I believe that we are on the threshold of a new dawn for the public schools of Alabama. It seems to me that more of our citizens than ever before are realizing the need for a strong school system to help our state grow and prosper in the years ahead.

If we are to have the kind of schools that we want and need for our boys and girls of Alabama, we must have, not only the support of the people, but we must have capable, alert, and aggressive leadership at the helm of our school system. We must have a state superintendent of education who understands the problems and potential of our schools, and one who can and will work in harmony with our school people, the State Legislature, and with the lay citizens of Alabama to build a better educational system.

I am asking the people of Alabama to give me the opportunity to serve as your State Superintendent of Education for the next four years, because I feel that I can successfully meet this challenge.

Navy Has New Enlistment Program

March of Dimes Mothers Hold Key In Fight Against Crippling Disease

Some two million Marching Mothers, wearing the symbolic Golden Key of Hope, will appear on America's doorsteps toward the end of January asking support for the 1962 New March of Dimes fight against crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Why do these women brave winter weather to ask their neighbors for funds? Mrs. Phyllis Sublett of Evansville, Ind., does it because experience with her fourth child, three-year-old Steve, who was born with a birth defect, has shown her the need to have medical help more readily available in the community when an imperfect child is born.

Steve was born with an open spine and water on the brain in 1958, the year The National Foundation expanded its program to include birth defects," says Mrs. Sublett. "I had never heard of either condition. Since then I have learned that these malformations and hundreds of other birth defects, afflict one out of every 16 babies born in this country each year.

"These children need help, their parents need to know where to find the specialists who can give prompt and effective treatment. I know now that the March of Dimes supports work in clinics to improve treatment, in laboratories to find the causes, and in building a network of diagnostic and treatment centers to make new knowledge available to everyone, not just those fortunate enough to live close to great medical institutions. "The March of Dimes already supports nearly 50 centers throughout the country, and many more are being planned. "That's why I'm in the Mothers' March—to let people know this help and hope exists. I want to ask them to support so the 250,000 American babies born each year with birth defects need not go through life helplessly disabled for lack of proper treatment." In Denton, Tex., Mrs. Mona Graham says, "Until our lit-

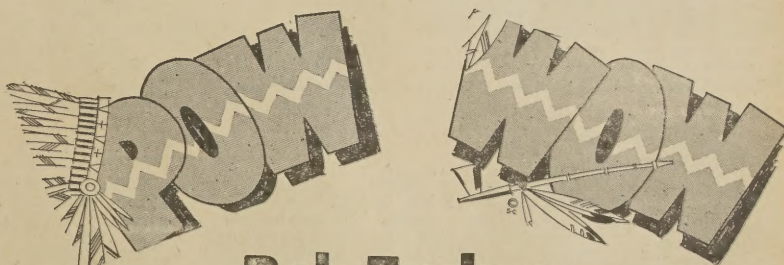

"IS MY BABY ALL RIGHT?"—More than 250,000 mothers of babies born with birth defects in the U. S. each year hear a heartbreaking reply to this question. Marching mothers will seek public support late in January for March of Dimes research and patient aid to control crippling birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis, just as polio has been controlled.

le Sondra developed juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, I'd always thought you got when you reached old age. Now I know that thousands of children are stricken with it each year. It can twist and cripple little bodies with permanent disability if it's not caught and treated in time. "I've seen the wonders accomplished at Arthritis Clinical Study Center at Parkland Hospital in Dallas supported by the March of Dimes, and I know that doctors in the laboratory there and elsewhere are working hard to find out what causes arthritis and how it can be prevented or cured. "I'm a Marching Mother because I know firsthand how important this work is."

Marching Mothers across the nation have similar reasons. Mrs. George Dibben of Kansas City, who lost a child born with a birth defect, marched actively until the past year. But then her own arthritis forced her to "retire" to a quieter paperwork and record-keeping job for the Mothers' March. In Justin, Calif., Mrs. Polly Spangler has been confined to a wheelchair since a paralytic polio attack in 1954. Yet she, too, enthusiastically works for the Mothers' March via the telephone, and prepares marchers' kits for distribution. Multiply these shining examples by thousands, and you have the reasons for the scope of success of the traditional Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes. Mothers' March volunteers know there is a need for the cause they support, and they are determined to make every one of the 40,000,000 households they call on aware of the magnitude of the problem. Mothers' March volunteers will be identified by a distinctive badge bearing the Golden Key of Hope, symbolizing medical progress against crippling diseases. Each will give those who open the doors a valuable health information slip summarizing basic information about birth defects, the most important unmet childhood medical problem today, as well as arthritis and rheumatic disease which afflict 11,000,000 Americans.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEET

The Isabella Home Demonstration club held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Dessie Roebuck. Fifteen members and our home agent Mrs. Johnny Lane and our new assistant agent Mrs. Martha Bradford were present. The meeting was called to order by ex-president Mrs. Conger Cummings. Devotional by Mrs. Casey Cummings. Prayer by Mrs. J. M. Bryant. Pledging of allegiance to flag by all. Mrs. Lane discussed the different projects for the new year that other clubs over the county were doing or going to do. One was helping with the classes of special children being taught about over the County, by buying materials such as paper towels, crayons, art paper, dominoes, etc., they could use. Since one of our club members, Mrs. J. A. Wells was a teacher of one of those classes over at Maplesville we voted to give her $5.00 dollars to use in teaching the children. Another project mentioned was helping in the equipping of the new courthouse kitchen. Due to the fact our new year books had not been completed we couldn't have a regular program. We were dismissed with prayer by Mrs. J. D. Conway. Game played was the exchanging of gifts. Refreshments were served by hostess.

NEW BABY

Little Lesia Louise Williams arrived at the Chilton County Hospital January 16, at about 4:00 o'clock a.m. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams of the Mt. Nebo community. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Williams of Pleasant Grove Community on Billingsley Highway and Mrs. Lulu Calfee of this community are the proud grand parents.

CORRECTION

Little Billy Nabors was not operated on Tuesday of last week as stated in the paper. He only went for a check up, but is going to have an operation in the near future and I know he and his family will appreciate the prayers of the Christian people everywhere from now until time for the operation. Let's pray that the operation will be a success and Billy will grow up to be a very strong healthy man and that he will live a long useful life for the Lord.

Mrs. Jimmy Hitchcock Plans to Run for APSC

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 1—Mrs. Jimmy Hitchcock, widow of the former Auburn All-American halfback and baseball star, expects to follow in the steps of her late husband who served on the Alabama Public Service Commission more than 12 years.

"It is my intention to seek the Democratic nomination to Place Number 2 on the Alabama Public Service Commission in the May 1962 party primary," Mrs. Hitchcock said in a statement issued here today. "My formal announcement will be made at the proper time after the qualifying date is set by the State Democratic Executive Committee."

Mrs. Hitchcock is no stranger on the Alabama political scene. She campaigned with her husband, Jimmy, in 1946 for his first election to the Alabama Public Service Commission. Once again she hit the campaign road in 1950 when Jimmy was elected by O. P. Les, a veteran of Alabama politics. The team of Mr. & Mrs. Jimmy Hitchcock repeated with a sweeping victory. In seeking re-election in 1954 and 1958 Jimmy was recognized as having done a good job and was re-elected without opposition.

The untimely death of Jimmy Hitchcock on June 24, 1959 left a 3 1/2 year unexpired term of office on the APSC. Mrs. Hitchcock was mentioned and promoted by friends from over the state to the only one to fill this vacancy since she had worked so much as Jimmy's unofficial secretary and was familiar with the duties of the APSC.

Mrs. Hitchcock gained additional experience working on the secretarial staff of the Alabama House of Representatives. At present she is employed as office manager of the Montgomery Electrical Contractors Association.

The people of Alabama are very familiar with the name of Hitchcock in the field of sports. Only recently Billy Hitchcock, brother to Jimmy, was named manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Mrs. Hitchcock has carried her part in this field also. She is the former Dorothy Shawkey, daughter of Bob Shawkey, the former manager and pitcher for the New York Yankees. Traveling with her parents in the baseball sports world, she met her

I have qualified to run for the office of State Auditor. I intend to campaign in every County City and Town and see as many people as possible, to do so.

Since being elected Secretary of State, I have worked closely with our present State Auditor. I believe my experience and qualifications will help me greatly in the operation of this office.

The Constitution will not allow me to run for Secretary of State, therefore, I am seeking the Auditor's office which will be vacated by Mrs. Giamer.

It has been an enjoyable experience serving the people of Alabama as their Secretary of State. I believe this office has run with the highest of efficiency and we have carried out all our duties without any increase in our budget. The Secretary of State's office is staffed with efficient and high type personnel, who are dedicated to their work.

The State Auditor's office is not a party making office and segregation will not be an issue. However, I feel that my views on this question should be stated firmly and clearly. I am 100% for segregation in all forms between our races. I believe Negroes should be given every opportunity to advance within their race. I feel that it would be better to close our schools than to have them integrated. I have two sons and a daughter, and I would refuse to send them to an integrated school.

I will appreciate everyone's prayers and active help and suggestions.

husband when Jimmy joined her father's baseball team. Upon marriage in 1938 to Jimmy, a native of Union Springs, Alabama, Dorothy Hitchcock came to her home and has been a resident ever since. To keep up with the family of athletes she has done her part by acting as official scorer for the Montgomery Little League since it was organized in the early 1950's after her husband's death.

Dorothy Hitchcock graduated from high school in Warren, Pa., and attended Western College for Women in Oxford, Ohio. She is the mother of two sons, Jimmy, 20, who will be a Junior at Auburn in the Spring, and Bobby Gordon, 12, who is in the 7th grade. Mrs. Hitchcock is well known in Montgomery for her work with the YMCA and was Montgomery County Chairman for the Heart Fund Campaign in 1960, and headed the Mother's March of Dimes Campaign in 1961. She is a member of the First Methodist Church and is very active in the Sunday School Department. Other activities include the Cub Scouts, of which she was a den mother when her sons were in this camping and citizenship organization. Mrs. Hitchcock participates in the work of the Parent-Teacher Organization at both the Junior High and Senior High level. She has been an active member of one of the Montgomery Garden Clubs and she enjoys her hobby of cooking and making a home for her sons.

OBITUARIES

William E. Price Died At Mt. Creek

Mrs. William Edward Price, age 83 of Mt. Creek, Ala., died on January 19, 1962 at the Chilton County Hospital.

The funeral services were held on January 21, 1962, at 2 p.m. at Marbury Baptist church with Rev. Hughey Denton conducting the services.

Burial was in the Marbury Cemetery with Martin Funeral Home in charge of all burial arrangements.

Serving as pallbearers were: Esby and Roy Adams, Everett Ellis, Frank Blackwell, R. L. Rike and L. C. Ellis.

Friends of the family took care of the flowers before and after the services.

The closest surviving relative is a cousin Mrs. Viola Jones of Montgomery, and there are a large number of distant relatives surviving.

W. J. Armstrong Succumbs At 74

Mr. William Jerome Armstrong, age 74 of Verbena, Ala., died on January 19, 1962 in Dadeville, Ala.

The funeral services were held in the Martin Chapel at 3 p.m. Sunday, January 21, 1962. The services were conducted by Rev. R. V. Smith.

Burial was in the family plot at Verbena, Ala.

Evangelistic Conference Jan. 29-30

Churches and pastors of Chilton County Association, if the Alabama Baptist State Evangelistic Conference is of any concern of yours, then you should make plans to attend Monday, Tuesday, January 29-30, 1:45 p.m. first day at the Central Park Baptist Church, Birmingham. Dr. Robert G. Lee, former pastor of the Belview Baptist Church, Memphis, will preach at this meeting Monday night. All the churches should make it financially possible for the pastor to attend. Deacons and other leaders of the church should ride with the pastor to attend this Conference Monday evening to receive the information and inspiration necessary for the future revival meeting in the church during 1962.

Bible School Clinic February 5-7

Evidently by this time the pastor and superintendent have led the church to elect the Vocation Bible School faculty and that these workers are already making preparation for the school in the church this summer. They need to order text books, record materials, and other supplies from the Baptist Book Store right now. Also these officers should attend the Baptist State Vacation Bible School Clinic Monday through Wednesday, February 5-7 at Montgomery.

Brotherhood Convention Meets February 8-9

An inspiring meeting that will present great challenges every pastor and man of the church will not want to miss is the Brotherhood Convention which meets February 8-9 at the Parker Memorial Baptist Church in Anniston, Alabama. It will be a blessing if every church will make it financially possible for the pastor, the Brotherhood president, if he does not have an organization, a man who is a key leader to attend this Convention. It is with much concern and hope that every association officer will plan to attend at least the first day and right session of this great meeting.

Youth Rally At Concord February 10

The youth and their adult leaders of the churches of this Association are looking forward to the Youth Rally, Saturday, February 10th, 7:30 p.m. at the Concord Baptist Church. Look for a specific program to be announced and make plans to attend for a great service at digging out of the snow which came on the last meeting night.

News Prints Coupon For S.S. Benefits

"Many workers in the Chilton County area may be losing benefits payable under the Social Security law because they haven't filed an application for them," said George W. Barker, District Manager of the local Social Security Office.

Barker pointed out that before a determination can be made as to whether or not a worker can become eligible to receive social security benefits he must file an application. There is no longer reason for many working people 65 and older to delay making application for their social security benefits. Under recent changes in the law, persons eligible for social security benefits can earn more and still collect some benefits in addition to their earnings.

The law now considers both a person's earnings and his benefit rate in determining whether he can be paid some social security benefits. Barker suggested that working people 65 or over who have not applied for their social security benefits should check now to find out whether it is to their advantage to file an application.

The Chilton County News is printing the coupon below to make it easy for older working people to do this. Fill out the coupon and mail the coupon to your social security office at the address shown on the coupon, if you are still working at 65 or older and have not yet applied for your social security benefits.

The local Social Security Office will send to social security recordkeeping headquarters in Baltimore, Maryland, for the official record of your social security account and benefit rate. When that record is received the social security office will get in touch with you.

Now—
Ford frees you forever from the expense and bother of frequent car servicing.
Twice-a-year maintenance is here—and only the cars from Ford have it!

In a new Ford Galaxie or Fairlane, the odometer rolls off a long 6,000 miles between every service stop. Compare this with other '62 cars and here's what you'll find: many cars still have to be taken in for service every 1,000 miles; some every 2,000 miles; others every 4,000 miles. Only the cars from Ford need service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

When you own a '62 Galaxie or Fairlane, you don't have to drive with one eye on the odometer to make sure you're not forgetting an oil change or a grease job or other servicing. Ford's twice-a-year maintenance saves you time, saves you money. Just one stop every 6,000 miles takes care of servicing. You'll go 50,000 miles between major lubrication, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications, two years or 30,000 miles without changing engine coolant-antifreeze. Brakes adjust themselves.

Why buy a service headache when Ford is ready with the cure? See your Ford Dealer—and see how close Ford has come to the fill-it-and-forget-it car!

State of Alabama, Complainant vs. One 1954 Pontiac, Two Door Sedan, Motor No. A6X25696, Respondent.

In the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, in Equity Case No. 3307.

The Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of Lawrence F. Gerald, Jr., Deputy Solicitor of Chilton County Alabama, against one 1954 Pontiac Automobile, Motor No. A6X25696, being exempted to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 4th day of January, 1962, one Rodney Douglas Todd did transport in said automobile certain prohibited liquors or beverages from one point to another in the State of Alabama, and that said automobile, was on said date seized by officers on Highway No. 22 in Chilton County, Alabama, and said bill of complaint prays that said automobile be declared contraband property of forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an order of condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore, ordered, adjudged and decreed that notice

A "Plantersville Boy" Announces For Governor

Eugene "Bull" Connor

(Announcement By Eugene "Bull" Connor)

Pretty nearly every town in Alabama except Plantersville has elected a Governor at one time or another. It is Plantersville's time in 1962.

Alabama's next Governor should have had experience in public affairs. I served in Regular and 2d Special Sessions of the Legislature. I have served as Public Safety Commissioner of Birmingham over twenty years, an office which has given me experience in the management of public finances, which has put me over the largest law enforcement agency, the largest school system and the largest public library system in the State of Alabama. These schools have never closed their doors under my administration. I have learned to live within the income which the people give me to spend in whatever office I hold. During my years in public office, I have only voted for one tax on whiskey and beer — as a member of the Legislature and one city tax — cigarettes — as a member of the City Commission of Birmingham.

A weak-kneed and feather-legged crowd on integration is taking over in some of the Southern cities and states. Alabama, fortunately is among those states still standing firm. She needs a Governor in the coming four years whom the people can trust completely on this issue — one who they know will do everything that can be done to stop the slaughter of the right of the states to make and enforce their own local laws.

of the filling of said bill of complaint be given for three consecutive weeks in the Chilton County News, a Newspaper published in the City of Clanton, Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right title or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claims by the 19 day of February, 1962, and that failure to do so, their said rights, title or interest will be forever barred.

Ordered and decreed, this the 15 day of January, 1962.

NEWS OF— OAK GROVE

Pastor, Rev. J. H. Dodd Sunday School, 10:00 a.m. Worship Service, 11:00 a.m. Training Union, 6:00 p.m. Worship Service, 7:00 p.m. Wednesday Service, 6:30 p.m.

We had two wonderful services at Oak Grove Sunday. We had 134 present for Sunday School and a full house for preaching service. Bro. Jimmy Matthews brought the morning message using John 3:16 for his text. Jimmy is the son of Mrs. Margaret Horton and the late Vellie Matthews. It is inspiring to hear one who has been in the ministry such a short time bring out God's word so clearly. He will leave next Monday for Greenland to serve in the U. S. Army. Let's all remember Jimmy in our prayers and too, let's remember his wife and four beautiful daughters that he leaves behind.

Mrs. and Mrs. Reese Garner had as their Sunday guest, Sgt. and Mrs. Fred Lawley and children of Columbus, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glass's Sunday afternoon guest were a right which is now for the first time in the history of our nation being assaulted headon by the Supreme Court.

I have been a delegate at large from the State of Alabama to two Democratic National Conventions; I am presently the Democratic National Committeeman from Alabama. I would be profoundly grateful for the privilege of serving my native State as Governor. It is my purpose when the time for qualifying comes to offer myself for that office as a seasoned and experienced public administrator and as one who never has and never will talk out of both sides of his mouth about the great issues that confront our State and its people at this critical time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Staton and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sullivan and Terry Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Tatum and Pam and Mrs. James W. Staton. The Sunday guest of Mrs. Ruth Matthews and Vicky were Mrs. Margaret Horton and Ann and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Collins of Celera, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Armstrong of Montgomery and Bro. Jimmy Matthews, his wife and daughters also of Montgomery.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Mrs. Floyd Glass in the death of her mother Mrs. A. W. (Babe) Brown of Birmingham. We still have several on the sick list. Let's remember all of oursick and bereaved in our community.

Roger Hill is at home from Shelby Memorial Hospital and is improving. Mrs. Staggs is not doing so good at her home. Bro. Eddie Little's boy is in a serious condition at his home.

Jan Satterwhite is going to the Childrens Hospital for a check up Monday.

We were so glad to have Mr.

Goldner Gothard unite with our church by letter Sunday.

Let's keep up the good attendance we're having in Training Union. Bro. H. T. Campbell our Training Union Director and Bro. Leonard Pierce our Sunday School Supt. urge each and everyone in the Oak Grove vicinity to make a special effort to attend Sunday School and Training Union.

A MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR PLANT EACH MONTH? During 1961, Southern Bell invested 32 million for new facilities in Alabama. This addition to the state's economy is equivalent to building a $2,650,000 new plant each month.

RING ABOUT TEN TIMES before hanging up. It may save you a second call.

BAD WEATHER? And lots of shopping to be done? Why not shop by phone? Now it's easier than ever to do your shopping by telephone. Stores are waiting to take your telephone orders. So remember — when you can't leave home, just shop by phone!

AND BEFORE you go shopping — whether it's by phone or in person—look first in your Yellow Pages for information! Kennels, keys . . . trucks, trees. You'll find 'em all in the Yellow Pages. Anytime you're looking for anything, remember:

IT'S AT YOUR FINGERTIPS . . . IN THE YELLOW PAGES

STILL ON THE subject of shopping, how would you like to pay all your bills by phone? You may be able to, someday. It's one of the many possible future uses for DATA-PHONE, a new service that let's machines "talk" to each other by sending figures, symbols and other information — at incredible speeds — over ordinary telephone wires. To pay bills, you'd just call your bank and slip punch cards with billing information into a special device connected to your phone. You'd use different cards to pay utilities, charge accounts and other regular bills.

This is "machine talk." The information on this data-processing tape can be sent over regular telephone lines electronically—just like your voice.

Auburtin explained the dividend was made possible by a dividend the association received from the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans, in which all of the stock is owned by the 58 Federal Land Bank Associations throughout Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. Directors of the Federal Land Bank Association of Marion are Donald B. Hancock, of Uniontown, President; W. Harrell Watts of Sardis, Vice President; Raymond R. Bamberg of Brent; G. M. Cook of Camden; and James N. Dennis, of Clanton.

Naval Air Reservist In Clanton

Commencing next month the Naval Air Reserve will have recruiters at the Clanton Post Office on the third Tuesday of each month. These men will be on hand from 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. to discuss the training program now offered by the Naval Air Reserve in Birmingham. The unit is seeking former enlisted men with naval aviation ratings. These men can now reenlist in their old ratings regardless of the length of time elapsed since discharge. In addition, members of the Naval Reserve who currently hold aviation ratings may also join the training program and serve one week end each month as a "Week end Warrior." Men who are interested in the Naval Air Reserve may write to the recruiting office, U. S. Naval Air Reserve Training Detachment, 1428 Graymont Avenue West, Birmingham 4, Alabama, or contact the Air Reserve Recruiter at the Post Office on 20 February 1962.

Executive Committee Meets January 28

Perhaps the serious cold snowy weather that swooped down on Chilton County has cooled the spirit of fidelity among Baptist ranks in the churches and Association. It is time to get spiritually warm pastors, layman and heads of the departments, and attend the Executive Committee meeting, Sunday, January 28, 2:15 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Clanton, to transact kingdom business. On the account of five pastorless churches it reduces the number to 109 members of this Committee who have been called to serve in this capacity. The associational heads of the departments, also members of this committee, are expected to report the progress and plans to their respective organizations. The time has come for Christian leaders to make tremendous sacrifice to fulfill the call to serve in the work of the Great Commission of our wonderful Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

HERBERT Dennis and Fred Smithman have returned from the "northwest" after signing the necessary papers for a new Auto Franchise for Clanton. Grand opening will take place on February 14th at the location on the corner of 7th Street and 1st Avenue. Herbert and Fred ask you to keep your eyes peeled for formal announcement in this paper and to make plans to attend their Grand Opening. We would like to be among the first to wish the fellows well in their new venture. Well, OK, we will settle for second.

THERE are advantages to every profession. That of a waitress in a restaurant is no exception. Jonecy, down at the Dixie Cafe says that the practice of self-control (with some customers) is perhaps her greatest advantage over the rest of us. She says there's plenty of opportunity for practice. You know the kind we mean: "What's this lemon pie?" I ordered Pomegranate Pudding" or the one who wants his coffee sautéed and blowed before served to him. . . you know the kind. Buck up, Jonecy, we have "advantages" in our profession, too!

DON'T know whether the Savings Bank we try to save time, we kill a day, but they sure had us fooled on the 25th day of this month. Take a look at your calendar, you'll see what we mean!

LOOKS like the State Senator's race this year will be a hot one. Harold Harlin, Mr. Fred Phillips and Mr. Jimmy Melby, all of Columbiana in Shelby County. Mr. Harlin and Mr. Melby spoke briefly at the County Democratic Meeting last Saturday afternoon.

WE haven't gotten it officially and we don't expect to, but we think that the Republicans will have a Primary this Spring, and with a "full state of candidates". You might say that's another first for Chilton County, if it happens, because it has been something like 24 years since that has happened. We don't know about the Republicans in the County, but the majority of the Democrats we talk to, seem to think it's the best time that could happen to our Party.

IT is said that the Flood Control Project, now underway, could increase our agricultural ability by about forty thousand dollars or more annually. This itself, is enough reason for getting the job done, but we are counting on it being of even greater value to us in other fields of endeavor. Those who would seem to think that this is definitely a possibility! '62 already looks brighter than did '61 for this area.

THERE are too many (right now I'm a Democrat!) in Chilton County. We expect, and we hope, that this Republican Primary will open the gate to some of these fellows' long-deserved fall! It's time to hear some of the sheep's wool!

JUDGE J. C. White says, "We Democrats are too willing to let accomplishments go un-noticed. We must emphasize that we are capable of running our County government. Our record is our platform! We could elect the very best people we have!" We'd like to see the Judge and add to some coincidence or the end of fate and Providence. . . the very best consisted in Chilton County ARE Democrats! The records prove it!

AT least they were calling themselves Democrats when they were "on the job!"

How Chilton Stands In Rural Development

By virtue of the fact that Chilton was established prior to 1961 as a pilot county in "Rural Development", we are eligible to share in Federal Public Law 87-27 commercial development loan or public facility loan or grant program.

The Area Redevelopment Act provides an additional source of financing for local projects that will create new and permanent employment opportunities. ARA's appropriated resources are:

1. A $200 million revolving fund for loans to finance new industrial and commercial projects.

2. A $100 million revolving fund for loans to finance new public facilities that are needed to spark industrial and commercial growth.

3. A $75 million fund for grants to finance such new public facilities in whole or in part.

4. Additional funds of $45 million for retraining and $10 million for retraining subsistence allowances have been authorized.

Requirements for financing under ARA:

To be eligible for an ARA loan or grant, a project must be located in a development area designated by the ARA; and must serve to advance the overall economic program approved for that area by ARA; and must be certified by the local development agency and by the State as being consistent with the overall economic development program. There must be reasonable prospect that a loan will be repaid. A proposed project should meet the following tests:

1. It will contribute to the long range economic growth of the area in which it is located.

2. It will result in permanent new employment opportunities.

3. Financing from sources other than ARA is not available on reasonable terms.

4. The project will be financed by local or State funds to the maximum extent possible, but at least 15 percent.

5. The project is economically and technically sound.

6. The project will not reduce employment in other areas.

Loans or grants are available under long range, low interest rate contracts. Public facility loans for periods up to 40 years at 3 3/8% interest.

Commercial loans are available up to 25 years terms and at a 4 3/8% interest rate.

The ARA program is another source of development financing.

Bill Helms calls Mullins; Wins

WHO IS THIS MAN? BILL Helms was the first one in to identify the "Mystery Man" last week. Bill said it was Ed Mullins, and he was right. He will receive $3 in cash or a year's subscription to the News, whichever ever he prefers.

Don't call in, if you can possibly come by the office. Or let someone come by for you. You know where the office is. This might be the first one in. Some times, as was the case a few weeks ago, we stump everybody and only a few can enter. That makes your chances pretty good.

You cannot officially make a guess until after 8 a.m. Thursday, publication day. After 8 o'clock, come a running! Everyone is getting quite a bit of excitement about this. It has created more interest than we ever hoped it would.

Don't forget to see the "Man Of The Week" feature on the editorial page each week. The Mystery Man is always featured there the following week, so you can see what he really looks like.

Can you guess who the "Mystery Man" is?

Things That Should Be Said...

Our Responsibility To Ourselves
With Regards To Our New Courthouse

IT has been called to our attention this week that certain groups have been refused further use of the Courthouse facilities because of damage caused to the building at a recent gathering. In order to have rights, and exercise them, you must first have respect of the property of others and exercise care and common sense when you are responsible for that property.

We know of no group in Chilton County that would be denied use of the Courthouse facilities, providing that the individuals involved would take responsible care of those facilities.

You, the voter and taxpayer in Chilton County, have a sizeable investment in what is now the Chilton County Courthouse. It is yours to use, enjoy and protect; but you must be a responsible citizen to enjoy the rights and privileges that come with citizenship.

Our Courthouse must last us a long time. It is a beautiful example of craftsmanship and skill and every citizen of this County should do his utmost to preserve and take care of the building. Accidents do happen, and are judged accordingly. Negligence and carelessness must also be judged for what they are.

If you expect to use the facilities of the new Courthouse; then you will also be willing to accept the responsibility of helping our elected officials to keep it in as good a condition as is humanly possible—for our own use, and for those who come after us. We all want what is right, and it must be kept in mind that it is our individuality as well as our individual right to maintain, as well as enjoy the use of the new Courthouse.

Necessary

Bi-Partisan Effort To Preserve 6th District

IN a meeting Tuesday night, several of Clanton's leading businessmen and political figures met at the County Courthouse to discuss the possibility of preserving the Sixth Congressional District, the Hon. Armistead Selden, Representative.

Under the 9-8 plan, which will do away with one of the Congressional Districts in the State, the Sixth District is as vulnerable, if not more so, than any of the nine.

Feeling is that our Representative is one of the outstanding in the State, in fact, in Congress but the Sixth District is the lightest voting District in the entire State of Alabama. That is where the danger lies, and the supporters of Mr. Selden feel that a fight will be necessary if we are to preserve our District.

The importance of this effort cannot be emphasized too greatly. If we lose our District to the other eight in the State, then we stand to lose greatly in the progressive years ahead. The Coosa River Development Program is just one example.

Funds are being solicited by the above-mentioned parties and it is hoped that a goal of $5 thousand will be realized for this effort. It is of the greatest importance that you consider this appeal very carefully, before you say "no" to giving assistance. Similar efforts are being made in all other municipalities in Chilton County and also in the other Counties in the Sixth District.

Do not misjudge our chances by assuming that our Congressman, being one of the best, has no chance to worry about. We cannot underestimate the possibility of losing. If Mr. Selden loses, the entire Sixth Congressional District suffers. That means whether you are Democrat, Republican or Independent, you stand to lose your local representation in the Capitol.

Arrangements have been made with the National Guard for the Unemployment Group to meet in the future in the Auditorium in the U. S. Army near the Airport.

This building is designed to accommodate large groups where as the Courthouse is designed to accommodate smaller groups.

The unemployment group has grown to some six or seven hundred persons weekly. This of course has forced the County to find a much larger space than is found anywhere in the new Courthouse. The largest space in the new Courthouse can only accommodate three hundred and fifty people.

It is highly regrettable that this has become necessary. However, there will be ample free parking area at the Army. The building is modern in every way and can accommodate the entire group at one time.

Another reason, as many of you know, this space will be available every week and the group will not be forced to be running from place to place.

We hope this will be highly satisfactory for all concerned. If I or the Board of Revenue and Control can be of further service please let us know.

New Spark Noted In Demo Ranks;

Field Will Be Crowded This Year

Only Four Qualify
At Opening Meeting

THE Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee, in session last Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, voted to adopt the resolution set out by the State Committee as to the qualifications of candidates running on the Democratic Ticket, and the dates set for primaries, as well as the last that March 1st will be the deadline for candidates to qualify for the office they intend to seek.

Primaries In May—The first Democratic Primary will be Tuesday, May 1st. The second, for runoff elections will be on Tuesday May 29th. There could possibly be a third Primary this year with regard to the loss of one of our Congressional Districts, but speculation is that Rep. Armistead Selden will have no opposition and therefore will not have to participate in a run-off. The first Primary will be in the District (the Sixth in our case), the second would be on May 15th if there is a run-off and the Third, all Congressional Representatives will have to run State At-Large!

Those Qualifying—Qualifying with the Committee at Saturday's meeting were incumbent Sheriff Hugh Chapman who said, "I appreciate the two years unexpired term and the four years following in which you elected me Sheriff of Chilton County. I did not quit some other party and come into the Democratic Party, I was born into it." The Sheriff also said, "There are many reasons why I want to be your Sheriff and I don't have to tell you what Hugh Chapman stands for, you all know that!"

Also qualifying was present County Solicitor Bud Gerald who has served two terms and will be seeking a third.

For County Superintendent of Education was Gordon Conway who said, "I solicit your vote and influence in our efforts to carry out the program of education for our children in Chilton County!" Each speaker was applauded enthusiastically by the group.

The only other candidate qualifying openly at the meeting was Lonnie Cost who will be seeking another term as a member of the Board of Revenue and Control from District One. Cost served on the Board before but was defeated in his last effort by incumbent Dalton Chapman.

Included in those who gave brief talks on the importance of voting, clean campaigns and emphasizing a greater interest in politics by every citizen were Judge of County Court J. B. Atkinson, State Senator Joe Graham, Probate Judge J. C. White, County Committee Member V. O. McKee.

Judge Atkinson stated, "Our people have been progressive during the time of leadership in this County by the Democratic Party." Judge McKee said, "You cannot count your friends by the number of votes you receive in an election. We should campaign on the merits of the man and not on the demerits of the opposition." There should be, he maintained, "no animosity toward anyone, by anyone, when the race is over. We should keep it on a high level and back the winner of the Democratic Primary in November if it is necessary."

Qualifying Fees Set—The Committee, voting on the resolution made by Luther Little, agreed unanimously on the following fees for the various offices:

Board of Rev. & Con. . . $200
County Solicitor . . . $200
Supt. of Education . . . $350
Sheriff . . . $350
Board of Education . . . None
Demo. Exec. Committee-men . . . None
County Coroner . . . None

The meeting was presided over by Chairman Kermit Coburn with A. B. "Buster" Foshee filling the Secretary-Treasurer's chair. There was a large crowd of interested citizens, a number of them being "new possibilities" for one or the other offices mentioned. Qualifying papers may be procured from either the Chairman or the Secretary.

Prayer by Sen. Joe Graham and closed with prayer by Mr. Luther Little.

Waters Speaks To Clanton Lions

TELEPHONE systems of the present and future were discussed at last Friday's meeting of the Clanton Lions Club. W. R.
Waters, Southern Bell's office manager, presented a film called "The Big Bounce" which dealt with international communications by means of earth satellites.

According to Waters the Clanton exchange has more telephones than many nations.
About 53 percent of the world's telephones are in the United States which has only six per cent of the world's people. The Soviet Union has about three per cent of the world's telephones. Waters, in speaking before the local Lions, attributed this country's leadership in communications to the free enterprise system.

Mincemeat Squares

That holiday pie favorite, mincemeat, assumes a new role as filling for these easy bar cookies. Orange-sparked cookie-cake layers enclose spicy mincemeat filling for interesting flavor contrast.
The dough for these cookies will be rather thin and quite sticky, not unlike butter frosting. Spreading the dough will be easier if you drop it by spoonfuls around the pan and then smooth very gently with a spatula or back of a spoon. During baking, the dough will spread evenly.
The big reason why these cookies go together quickly is the self-rising flour used in the dough. Baking powder and salt are already mixed into self-rising flour to save you extra sifting and measuring steps. And, because Mincemeat Squares are made with enriched self-rising flour with its added measure of calcium, iron and three B vitamins, they are as wholesome as they are delicious.

Serve chewy-good Mincemeat Squares with tall glasses of milk for after-school snacks. Or, since these moist cookies both pack and keep well, slip a few into lunch boxes for a nutritious dessert. Returning college students will be pleasantly surprised to discover the box of cookies you've tucked into their suitcases.

MINCEMEAT SQUARES
1/2 cup sugar 1 tablespoon grated orange
1/2 cup melted shortening rind
2 eggs 2 cups sifted enriched self-
1/2 teaspoon orange extract rising flour
1/2 cup prepared mincemeat

Combine sugar and shortening. Beat in eggs until mixture is smooth. Stir in orange extract and orange rind. Gradually add flour, stirring until well-blended. Place half the dough in a well-greased 9-inch square pan. Spread dough with mincemeat and cover with remaining dough. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 30 minutes. When cool, cut into 1 1/4-inch squares. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen squares.

Old South Sausage Pie

When Appetites work overtime at your house, try serving Old South Sausage Pie. It's an attractive, quick-to-fix dish that's bound to satisfy the heartiest of eaters.

Old South Sausage Pie is high in flavor goodness. Prepare the spicy sausage-chili mixture first. Then top it with little golden Cheese Puffs, crispy-brown on the outside and tender, light on the inside. Serve Old South Sausage Pie, steaming and bubbly, from the oven to the table.
These little cheesy biscuits and other favorite breads practically just "happen" when you've a bag of self-rising flour on the kitchen shelf. Self-rising flour, with the proper amounts of leavening and salt already carefully blended in, makes biscuit and bread baking quick and simple. Self-rising products offer nutritional advantages as well—they're enriched with thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, calcium and iron.

OLD SOUTH SAUSAGE PIE
1 pound pork sausage meat 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1/2 cup chopped celery (about 1 cup)
1/2 cup chopped onion 1 1-pound can kidney beans,
1/2 cup chopped green pepper not drained (about 2 cups)
1/2 teaspoon salt Cheese Puffs
Brown sausage meat in heavy skillet. Drain off excess fat.
Add celery, onion, green pepper and salt. Brown lightly. Add tomato sauce and beans to meat mixture, mixing well. Cover, reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Pour into 1 1/2-quart casserole and top with Cheese Puffs. Bake in hot oven (450°F.)
25 to 30 minutes or until Cheese Puffs are golden brown.

CHEESE PUFFS
2 tablespoons shortening 1 cup sifted enriched self-
1/2 cup shredded American rising flour
1/2 cup milk
Cut or rub shortening and cheese into flour until mixture is crumbly. Add milk, mixing until flour is moistened. Drop by tablespoonfuls around edge of casserole. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Demos To Hold Kickoff Banquet

Democrats from all over Alabama will be in Birmingham for the first rally of the political year when the Jefferson County Steering Committee has their big buffet dinner and dance on Saturday, February 10, 1962 at the Tutwiler Hotel. David J. Vann, Chairman of the Steering Committee made the announcement in Birmingham today.

Vann said that all prospective candidates for Governor have been invited and many of the hopefuls have already indicated they will attend. The big rally in Birmingham will follow closely the opening of qualifying dates for posts in the May Democratic primary.

The meeting which will be held in the Main Ballroom of the Tutwiler Hotel is being sponsored by the Jefferson County Democratic Steering Committee.

Tickets for the dinner are $7.50 and are available from all members of the Steering Committee and at 1101 or 1501 First National Building, Birmingham.

Birmingham attorney Erskine Smith and businessman Raymond J. Rowell are co-chairmen for the event.

Efforts To See That The Ballot Is Used... Not Abused!

SOMEONE'S appeal, coupled with increasing necessity, is finally waking a sleeping people, and our good citizens are once again taking an interest in the affairs of their government, local, state and national.

It is encouraging and inspiring to hear so many men, and women, in political life and other public affairs calling for increased interest and emphasis on registering to vote, and the actual application of the vote himself.

In Chilton County, an increasing number of good, solid citizens are working toward effective action by individuals so that we will once again have the intelligent, law-abiding citizens of this community voting at a maximum according to number.

It has been said by some on the scene that not enough of the right kind of citizens are qualified to vote. If this is true, then the work is cut out for us. The suggestion has also come to us that the place to begin this type of educating is in our schools, the source of strength of the coming generation. We hope such organizations as the American Legion, as well as civic clubs will endeavor to help the school faculties in this most important role of service to our community and our Country. Under our system, the ballot is the individual's insurance against tyranny and oppression. We must make every effort to see that it is not abused, but used!

The Trend Is Not Temporary

ENCOURAGING acceptance of the opinion expressed in last week's editorial is widespread. If soundings from various individuals in Chilton County are a good indication, and we believe they must be.

"We Can Afford It No Longer" is the published opinion of a majority of Chilton Countians. But! If we are to hold our own, moreover, to make gains, in the efforts to halt excessive government spending and unfair socialistic practices, then we must VOTE OUR HONEST CONVICTIONS from the very smallest political office to the office of President of the United States. With a firm conviction, we can truly influence the men we send to Washington. If, however, we elect them, and then forget they exist with the tired old phrase "let John do it!" we not only will contribute to the downfall of our system of free enterprise... we will deserve whatever befalls us!

It Takes Guts

WE wonder how many of our Representatives in Washington, and how often, stand consistently against unwarranted spending by the Federal Government when it is called for by the President of the United States?

If you will excuse the expression, "It takes guts" to stand and be counted, when the pressure is so personal and of such magnitude. We firmly believe that we still have a few men in politics who have the stomach for integrity! We just wonder how long they can in the face of present circumstances?

Acid At "Big Jim"

ONE of the wonders of our time is "Big Jim Folsom!" He is, it seems, one of the "outstanding men" of this generation, regardless of how you flip the coin or turn the wheel.

Considering the popular acceptance of the man, we can see no logic or purpose toward helping their cause, when "Them lyin' newspaper" point acid-coated fingers at "Big Jim"! They are, ineffect, helping his cause considerably. If they're against him, they speak out, and in doing so bring down the wrath of farmers, teachers, housewives, and all manners of voters around their heads. We are not saying that anyone should not speak up for that in which they believe. But it does seem likely that in this particular instance they are definitely using the wrong approach! They're "joining Jim" whether they realize it or not!

Republicans Cagey

THE G.O.P. in Chilton County does a lot of talking about having everything out in the open; letting the people decide, etc., etc., yet they make every effort to keep meetings like that of last Saturday a secret until the very last minute. If they expect the dailies to give the people their story, then we assume that's where they are going to get their candidates, and consequently, their votes! If that be the case, the Democrats in Chilton will have no contest!

Another Stab At America

UNION members in general, the New York Electrical Workers Union in particular, are misinterpreting freedom to the pursuit of happiness! These, mentioned in particular, now feel that they should work only 20 hours a week and get paid the equivalent of some of us working 40 and more hours per week! How can anyone be so conceited and self-centered as to feel he is worth this kind of money, even in our day and time?

It takes little or no imagination to understand that if an employer pays his help exorbitant wages, he must surely charge someone for those extra dollars. And who pays? The consumer, unless the employer tries to absorb the entire load for himself, and bankruptcy has been the reward for many who have tried. Why don't these workers realize that they ARE the consumer, and that price will continue to increase as long as they demand increases in their paychecks? If you ask the average Union worker, he will agree with the laws of supply and demand, yet so many consistently ignore any efforts to better balance the national economy and strengthen the buying power of the dollar!

Why?

On Postal Rates--Roberts' Effort

For Weeklies

Rejected

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is an excerpt from the Congressional Record House of Representatives, in which Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts, Demo., Ala., made an effort to sustain weekly newspapers by offering an amendment to limit the hike in postal rates which is now pending in Congress. Rep. Roberts' proposed Amendment was rejected by the House.)

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. Roberts). Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment. The Clerk read as follows: Amendment offered by Mr. Roberts: On page 4, line 1, after publication insert "exceeding three ounces in weight which are". On page 4, line 12, after rates, strike out the period and insert "applicable to all publications exceeding three ounces in weight." On page 4, line 14, after the word publications insert "exceeding three ounces in weight." On page 4, line 15, after the word "and" insert "and non-profit organizations--five-eight cent effective on and after July 1, 1962, and before July 1, 1963; and three-fourths cent, effective on and after July 1, 1963."

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. Chairman, this amendment would not favor or discriminate in favor of light weight publications, but would treat them as far as rate increase and getting a mail subsidy is concerned that is now applied to what we call the "lick mag-zines." They will still take almost the same rate, since under my amendment they will take five-eighths of a cent during the first step and it will be pegged at three-fourths of a cent instead of one cent as in the case of the Murray amendment. This is designed primarily to protect the small weekly and monthly papers which are primarily concerned with local happenings, and get very little in the way of paid advertisement. I think the comparison is 20 percent for these little papers whereas the other magazines as high as 63 percent.

Mr. WATTS. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield? Mr. ROBERTS. I yield. Mr. WATTS. Mr. Chairman, I want to evidence my strong and wholehearted support and advocacy of the amendment offered by my friend and colleague the alert and distinguished gentleman from Alabama, Congressman Kenneth Roberts, respecting the treatment to be accorded our newspapers under this proposed postal rate increase program.

To me, it is a choice between two evils. I have no alternative. Representing as it does, the overall, comprehensive--though affecting--the other magazine, there is some question in my mind as to whether or not the newspapers of our country should bear the burden of any increase in postal rates. Certainly, in weighing the equities of the problem, substantial consideration must be extended the great service that the press renders the Nation and its people.

It is my personal feeling--and a most strong one it is--that no one can reasonably deny the importance of the role of our newspapers in educating an informed, alert and intelligent public which is responsive to and knowledge about the daily affairs of its Government. Certainly in a democratic society such as ours, this role cannot be taken lightly, particularly in one which includes heavy concentrations of rural area where the newspaper oftentimes represents the sole medium of communication with the world about them. Only an informed citizenry can undertake the responsibilities as well as enjoy the privileges of representative government. Given the significance of the press, it is intolerable and unthinkable to impose upon it additional financial burden, a burden which could seriously affect its continued existence in many areas of our Nation.

The amendment was rejected. STRENGTHEN AMERICA'S PEACE POWER! U.S. SAVINGS BONDS. ALERT! To the Needs And Wishes of CHILTON COUNTY CHILTON COUNTY NEWS. ABUNDANT LIFE by ORAL ROBERTS. SET A GOAL FOR YOUR LIFE. Some time ago, a friend and I were talking about the importance of setting goals in life. Every life must have a destination. My friend gave this example. Three men were working in a stone quarry, all doing the same work. A gentleman came by one day and asked the first man, "What are you doing?" "I'm earning $10 a day working in this stone quarry," he said. He walked a little farther and asked the second man, "What are you doing, Sir?" "I'm a stone cutter," the second man answered. "I'm cutting stone."

MAN OF THE WEEK

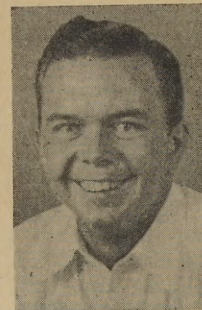

JOHN M. Higgins, the News Man of the week, is one of Clanton's and Chilton County's most influential citizens in many channels. He is at present, President of the County Chamber of Commerce and has been active in local politics, as well as in the field of education, being a strong supporter of the proposed Trade School program for this area.

JOHN M. HIGGINS
They are members of the Baptist Church.

Mr. Higgins has business interest all over Chilton County. He deals primarily in lumber and real estate. His work with the Red Cross Industrial Development Board, the Chamber and his civic club activities, as well as his long and determined efforts in the development of the Coosa River make his one of this County's leading citizens, by any standards.

He and his family live on Martha Street here in Clanton. ED Mullins, local businessman, comes from a long line of Clanton and Chilton County merchants and landowners. He is presently owner and operator of Mullins Supply Co. and he and his family, members of the First Baptist Church in Clanton lives in a beautiful home just off the Lay Dam Highway.

ED MULLINS
member to the "Man of the Week" series.

Ed is a real dyed-in-the-wool native of Chilton County, having received his education in the schools of this County and having lived here all his life. He is a devoted family man and especially enjoys trips to Bermuda, Jamaica, etc. which he wins almost annually with the company, whose merchandise he sells. trends be reversed? If it is agreed that industry is the answer, and there is no doubt that it is, what kind of industry could be profitably located in Clanton?

I endorse your efforts and I certainly think you are correct about the importance of being before us forever to be acted on in our own sweet time. Nor need we think that the town can stand still. There are too many ghost towns which in an hour's drive of Clanton testimonial to prosperous villages that tried to stand still in a changing world.

I do not think that any industry relocating to keep from going broke should be encouraged to come here. Low wages long layoffs, tax exemptions having to give building and land, are conditions that will cost the people more than the payroll will ever be worth.

This could be the fate of Clanton. There are indeed indications that it is. How many grocery stores are there compared to twenty five years ago? How many businesses are there in Clanton actually making any money? What went with the fruit and vegetable stands along the highway? Is the county losing its gaining population? Can these

What the county needs is an industry that is particularly fitted to the county's soil, customs and skills of her people. Moreover, its product should be one that is already a glut on the market. There is just such an industry waiting for us if we have the courage and foresight to go after it. If this letter escapes the waste basket, I shall in a later issue name this industry and discuss the possibilities of getting it. Doyle McBae

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

Passage of a postal rate increase bill last week marked the first major legislative action of the House of Representatives in the Second Session of the 87th Congress.

Approved on a vote, the postal measures raises rates by one cent on first-class letters, post cards, and air mail. It also increases the cost of mailing advertising circulars and magazines and newspapers that go beyond the boundaries of the county in which they are published. Classroom and non-profit publications, particularly those of religious organizations, are exempt from the increases.

The rates on advertising circulars would go up one cent to 3 1/2 cents, while magazines and newspapers would undergo increases ranging from more than one-half cent to one cent. The proposed rates for both magazines and newspapers would materialize in two stages, the first increase going into effect on July 1 and the remaining one year later.

BANS COMMUNIST MAIL One of the most significant features of the postal bill passed by the House is the provision which bans the free delivery to homes in the United States of mail from abroad that is determined by the Justice Department to be communist propaganda. The communist propaganda mail ban was formerly in force as an administrative ruling, although it has not been in effect since last March, since an estimated $450 million in additional federal revenue with the second class increases adding $53.4 million. Increases on third class mailing would add another $171 million. The total revenue which would be realized from the House bill is more than that requested by the Administration and also above the amount included in a committee reported bill that was turned down by House members. It is expected that the Senate will modify the bill, however, than the House for second an KINDNESS-- The habit of saying kind words reacts on the heart and makes it kinder. It crowds out steadily and surely, bitterness and sarcasm, slander and cynicism, and substitutes graciousness and charm. There is a great power in kind words, and there is boundless opportunity for their use in each life. S. S. Quarterly Meeting Held Last Monday

This is a report of the Chilton-Unity Baptist Association Sunday School Quarterly Meeting which was held last Monday at the First Baptist Church, Thorsby. 22 churches out of 54 were represented, 16 pastors 13 superintendents, 11 Association Sunday School officers, 1 pastor and a total of 200 people present. Macedonia took the banner with 56 percent or 45 percent of their enrollment. Liberty Hill was runner up with 71 percent or 72 percent of their enrollment. First Thorsby was second runner up with 80 percent or 24 percent of their enrollment. Two great messages were delivered by Dr. J. G. Hutchinson and Rev. Jerome Robinson followed by an informing panel discussion of questions pertaining to the ministry of the church, centering upon the role of the Sunday School in assuring successful revivals. Approximately ninety percent of the people that attend the Service on Sunday, are reached through the Sunday School. It should behoove the pastor and other leaders of the church to make the building attractive and comfortable. Do you see that the lights are turned on before dark for the night services? Do you begin the service on time so that the teachers will have their full thirty minutes to teach the lesson? These things are important to attract more and more people to attend the services at your church.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Hubert Langston family in the death of their infant son. Graveside services were held at Oak Grove Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Staggs is improving but still desire your prayers.

Mrs. Ruth Matthews and Vicky had as their week end guest Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matthews and boys of Fulton-dale.

Mr. Tommy Satterwhite received word Monday night that his sister in law, Mrs. Arab Johnston of Birmingham had passed away. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Satterwhite family.

Our funeral church and Sunday School. Also our singing next Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Twelve Commandments For A Teacher

The Twelve Commandments for a Teacher. 1. Thou shalt have no selfish pleasures before thee. 2. Thou shalt not make unto thee any personal engagements nor trifling excuses for being away from the class on Sunday. 3. Thou shalt not take thy responsibility in vain, for the Lord will not hold him guiltless who taketh lightly his God given task. 4. Thou shalt keep it whole. 5. Honor thy calling and try class that thy days may be long in the success which the Lord thy God shall give thee. 6. Thou shalt give up all thy interest by thine own irregular attendance. 7. Thou shalt be pure in thy faith in the Word of God and in thy interpretation in word and in deed. 8. Thou shalt not steal the time of thy class and the peace of mind of thy Superintendent by being late. 9. Thou shalt not bear false witness by failing to practice what thou teach. 10. Thou shalt not covet superficial success, but only that which results from careful and prayerful preparation and effort. 11. Thou shalt not fail to covet the soul and the life of thy pupil for the Lord. 12. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself. Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of truth (2 Tim. 2:15).

Mrs. Thomas Swanner Feted

At the Veterans Club on Wednesday night, January 17 at seven o'clock, Mrs. Thomas Swanner, a recent bride was feted at a miscellaneous shower Mrs. Thurl Patterson and Mrs. Grady Carter were co-hostesses.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Carter, the honoree who was wearing a lavender flannel sheath with a black velvet bolero and a white point collar. Buel Bledette, daughter of the bride, Mrs. L. T. Swanner mother of the groom and Mrs. O. M. Carter grandmother of the bride.

Buel Bledette, registered the guests in the brides book from an appointed table, which was accented with a planter of greenery.

The club room was decorated with seasonal flowers and greenery. A log fire was burning in the huge fireplace which gave a warm welcome to the guests. The room was bright with greenery, centered with a glowing brass container with yellow mums and snapdragons.

The gift table had an arrangement of white mums and snapdragons in white vase. Many nice and useful gifts were displayed by Miss Annie Dailley sister of the honoree.

Games and contests planned by Mrs. Patterson were directed by Mrs. Cecil Carter assisted by Miss Dailley. There were enjoyed by all. Prizes won were given to the honoree. Miss Sharon Craig also assisted with the contests. Following the diversion the guests were invited to the refreshment table which was covered with a white linen cloth.

The centerpiece was a low crystal bowl of yellow tinted carnations and stephanotis flanked by two crystal candle holders with yellow burning candles. Lime punch with ice cream was served by Mrs. Cecil Carter from a crystal punch.

The table was laden with party sandwiches, nuts, mints and individual cakes, all embellished with white accents with yellow and green further carrying out the color scheme. Others assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Henry Patterson and Miss Dailley.

An enjoyable evening was had by all and best wishes was extended the honoree.

tre dining room where the color scheme was further carried out in the refreshments. The tea table was covered in pink, over laid with pink net. The corners were caught up with pink nettes and white baby's breath.

Pink punch was served from a crystal bowl surrounded by ivy dotted with pink flowers by Mrs. John Patterson of Birmingham sister of the honoree.

Alternating with the coffee were Mrs. Lawrence Mims and Mrs. L. J. Crew. The decorations on the buffet were white carnations and white grapes. Dainty party sandwiches and cookies were served. The napkins used were in the stork motif.

A surprise birthday gift was presented the honoree as that was her birthday also.

My Neighbors

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

The Bible
My God shall supply every need of yours. —(Phil. 4:19)

Don't we all need a feeling of greater confidence? As we open our minds to the mind of God and let His creative ideas flow through us, we gain new understanding—and our confidence in ourselves as an expression of God increases.

ANNOUNCING:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County. I am quite sure that you remember my running for this same office four years ago, and I come to you now, as then, depending on you the people for my support.

Any consideration and support that you may give to me during the forthcoming campaign will be greatly appreciated by me.

Sincerely,
Melvin Powell

Former Lt. Gov. Allen Announces Candidacy

Former Lieutenant Governor, James B. Allen, officially announced today that he will be a candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Allen, a Gadsden attorney, pointed out the need of the people of Alabama for experienced leadership during this critical time.

Said Allen, "Whoever is elected governor will have to look to the legislature to shape and put through his program. I want to help the legislature enact a constructive program that will be in the interest of the people of Alabama, and at the same time see that their rights and interests are protected."

Allen pointed out that his record of public service clearly showed that he has always been in the forefront of those who stand for good government in Alabama.

He first held public office as a member of the House of Representatives in the State Legislature in 1938 and was reelected in 1942. He resigned from the House in 1943 to enter the Armed Forces.

After combat service in the U. S. Navy, Allen was elected State Senator from Etowah and St. Clair Counties. During his term as Senator, he was named the outstanding member of the State Legislature.

In 1950, Allen was elected Lieutenant Governor. While serving as Lieutenant Governor, he instituted the television program, "Legislative Report" (now "Meet the Press"), in order to air legislative topics of interest to the people of Alabama. In 1954, he ran for Governor and finished third in a field of eight candidates.

As presiding officer of the Alabama State Senate, I want to cooperate with the members of the Senate in making that body a great deliberative body."

Allen, a native of Alabama, has practiced law in Gadsden since 1935, is a widower with two children, Jimmy, age 16, and Debbie, 7. He earned his law degree at the University of Alabama.

Knowledge for Survival for Chilton Countians

How would nuclear attack affect Rural areas and what could it do to us? This question has been asked us many times - possibly you may have thought the answer. It is part of Extension educational responsibility to the people of the county. We are responsible for our own protection and to make this knowledge available to Rural people.

To the People of Chilton County

Since many of the good citizens of our County have asked me to run for Superintendent of Education, I have prepared a program of progress for and from the people. This platform stresses their desires and my beliefs. We ask all the voters who think it is time they have had enough to join in the clean sweep for a good educational system in our county. Please study this platform carefully and vote for progress if you believe in or want the following:

1. It is high time we had an audit of the expenditures of the board of education. We need an audit that the people have asked for. Why do you suppose that opposition has already started against me?

2. A detailed publication in the local papers of the names of persons and business firms with the amount received for services rendered. Wouldn't you like to know where your tax money has gone? Why will every effort be used to defeat me on this stand?

3. The publication of the Board of Education in the local papers. Anything rotten in Denmark needs to stay there instead of creeping behind the doors of the Board of Education. Even the action of the board should be in the interest of the public.

4. A candidate who will not hang his head when political or jealous lies are told in him. My answer to such charges is that the voters and the voters read chapters 5, 6, 7 of Saint Matthew and seek the advice of friends, neighbors and members of no church.

5. A Superintendent who will employ common principles in his dealings with the public and when handling your money - have you ever seen a public official who believes that public officials should take their duty. If these beliefs defeat me, then let me be defeated.

6. A Superintendent who will help create an environment in which teachers will feel free to make decisions for themselves or disagree with unfair policies of the Board in the proper way.

7. A candidate who refuses to accept the answers that have been given for our educational systems being far behind in certain areas, so disorganized and in such financial condition. It is time we stop paying the light and water bills.

8. A candidate who refuses to listen to the charges that teachers, principals and coaches already make to much money. I favor a twelve months salary for all principals and coaches, providing they provide a summer recreational program in their community to insure a youth fitness program.

9. A superintendent who will oppose the textbook program that requires frequent changes in school books.

10. A superintendent who will make sure that any opportunity that could exist for kickbacks will be corrected immediately. I expect to receive opposition from the few on this stand. Make sure you notice those who talk against me. Why are they doing it?

11. A superintendent who realizes that most of the promises made to many sections of the county have turned sour. I believe that more thought could have been given to how the tax money could be best spent.

12. A superintendent who will ask for the policy that requires all business of the board and school departments to be done with our local banks. Why do we allow our hard earned money to be taken from the county? Why haven't the towns of Thorby, Hemison and Maplesville gotten their fair share of the money spent by the board? Have a few forgotten that the schools have schools and merchants who are working for a decent living? The voters in these towns will show how they feel about the matter. Why will many farmers seek to defeat me on this issue? Have they gotten more than their share?

13. A candidate who realizes that deplorable conditions still exist in many white schools and in all the colored schools. Why has our leadership been so poor that all our citizens haven't been given an equal opportunity to an education? Both white and colored children must be better provided for.

14. A superintendent who will see that local teachers are elevated to better positions rather than securing others for the position. Any rule of the board that would prevent this must be repealed. There has been too much political hay made along this line.

15. A superintendent who realizes that every high school in this county needs an adequate art, music, band and sports program. I elected superintendent, I will see that all sections are treated equally in these matters. Why have they been neglected so far?

16. A superintendent who will ask for the policy to stop our school children from soliciting on the streets and hounding local merchants for funds that aren't necessary.

17. A candidate who does not want your vote unless it is for your belief in men and my program designed to correct deplorable conditions that stand in the way of our county having an educational system that will meet the needs for preparing our youth for college and everyday life problems.

18. A candidate who has a platform and doesn't beat around the bush about it. You can't play both sides of the fence and be honest with the voters. All this platform requires is that each voter use a little common sense in evaluating all lies and smears used by the opposition to defeat such positive stand on all issues.

19. A candidate who is running to serve the interests of the common man. Isn't it time the man with the children in school had a say so? In this race the common man will show how he feels about being neglected all these years.

20. A superintendent who will balance the budget of the Board by using every means possible or close the doors until it can be done. Schools don't operate just to give teachers a job.

21. A superintendent who will not stop until strict discipline and less frills are found in your schools. Indecent ways of dress and low problems found inside the schools and on the front steps will be stopped if found to exist.

22. A candidate who will promise to be superintendent if elected. There will be no confusion as to who is superintendent.

23. A superintendent who will oppose consolidation of our schools unless it is the last resort.

24. A superintendent who will create an advisory board composed of citizens from every section, who will work with me to seek ways to improve our educational system. Every P.T.A. must be represented, not a few.

25. A superintendent who will see that major changes are made when it serves the best interest of the schools concerned or the county as a whole.

26. A superintendent who will adopt a strict code of ethics for himself, then ask the board of education to work with the teachers in adopting one for themselves.

27. A superintendent who agrees with the teachers that if they work on time other than school time, then let's pay them for it.

28. A superintendent who will see that our school buses are used by our teachers to take trips of educational value without any cost for the bus.

29. A superintendent who will see that our school children aren't charged excessive fees to attend your tax supported schools.

30. A candidate who promises to fight for this platform because it comes from the people and he believes in it. When these conditions are corrected we can then look forward to great progress in education for our county. None of these issues are being done at the present, nor has a positive stand been taken by anyone other than myself. Don't you want a part in this platform?

Sincerely,
Lloyd D. Mims

varying degrees of blast, heat and initial radiation. However, the 300 locations usually considered as the most likely targets comprise less than 7 percent of the total land area of our country. The remaining 93 percent, with more than ninety million population, are considered non-target areas and probably would need protection from radioactive fallout.

Fallout is created when a bomb explodes close to the ground. Thousands of tons of earth and other materials are lifted and carried aloft into the mushroom cloud, there to mix with radioactive debris from the bomb.

from Clanton led by Southern Bell's foreman Ervin Joiner, reported a first circuit at 2:30 p.m. Work continued in the snow and icy waters of a creek bottom under the damaged lines until all circuits were restored.

Later in the week, a fire which destroyed a residence north of Plantersville burned into a telephone cable and interrupted service to a number of subscribers in that area. Most of these telephones were placed back in operation during the night by means of temporary wire.

Miss Gertrude Jones, chief operator in Clanton, reported a record number of long distance calls during the unusual weather. Thursday saw 921 long distance calls completed by the Clanton operators. Normally, Christmas is Clanton, heaviest day for long distance calls. Last Christmas 580 long distance calls were handled. At the same time local calls in Clanton approached 40,000 per day. This is about twice the number normally handled each day during this time of year.

Recent Snow Increased Local Telephone Usage

Snow and fire presented some special problems to local telephone workers during the recent severe weather. Wednesday morning, two ice-laden trees fell into the Maplesville - Clanton long distance route. Seventeen "spans" of vital circuits were ripped away from telephone poles. For a few hours, Maplesville's 645 telephones were unable to reach Clanton or any other exchange. Telephone men from Clanton led by Southern Bell's foreman Ervin Joiner, reported a first circuit at 2:30 p.m. Work continued in the snow and icy waters of a creek bottom under the damaged lines until all circuits were restored.

Later in the week, a fire which destroyed a residence north of Plantersville burned into a telephone cable and interrupted service to a number of subscribers in that area. Most of these telephones were placed back in operation during the night by means of temporary wire.

THINGS
We see and hear
by BOB

THE Chilton County Citizens Council will hear State Attorney General MacDonal Gallion speak at the County Courthouse on Thursday, February 15th at 7:30 p.m. Members of this organization are concerned with acquiring new members. It is and can be a vital force in the South's effort to put down integration, as it is dishied out by some of our northern brethren. Learn more about this organization. Attend this meeting and understand better just what the Council is for and what it is trying to do for this community and the South as a whole.

TUESDAY past, was Eagle Scout Day in the Tuckachee Area Council and the following names look very familiar to us: Charles L. Patterson, Joe Hayes, Earl Monroe, George Tucker, Richard Maddox, Jack Moore, all from Clanton and all became Eagle Scouts in 1961. A fine group of young men representing the finest youth movement in the world today. We're proud of our Boy Scouts. They are outstanding Boy Scout Week, February 7-13. Does your boy belong to a Scout group?

EDWARD Davis reports to us this week that the Jaycees will sponsor a Junior Golf Mat- this year and they are having a little difficulty in getting contestants. If you are good at golf, get in touch with Ed right away, or with any member of the Jaycees. State Finals will be in Birmingham this year. Ed's time in March. By the way, you must be high school age.

THE Board of Revenue and Control reports this week that the demolishing of the old County Courthouse has been delayed because of the fact that the O- house ceremonies are to be held on the 18th, and there was some anxiety about that many people being around during the razing of the building. Anyway, who purchases the old building says "demolition" will begin on the 19th day of this month, the day after Open House.

AT the recent Auction held by the County Board, some $1600 was realized from the sale of old air conditioners and other odds and ends from the old courthouse building. The Board was very pleased with the number of people who showed an interest in this sale!

Join The Soil Test Drive In February
Farmers, like everyone else, spend money to make money. One way to make more money is the use of fertilizers and lime in the Chilton County. As a rule deficient soils produce low yields. However, good management and a sound fertility program will increase these yields.

Soil testing is the best way to increase the fertility on individual farms in the county. The County Agent's office has instructions and boxes for testing soil samples. More fertilizer or lime is not the answer, says County Agent. More important, the questions of what kind of soil you have, and how much. On some soils the greatest returns may result from lime. On other soils more profit may be realized from nitrogen, phosphate, or a combination of these. Lime and fertilizer could be profitably used in Chilton County, but it must be applied wisely.

Local V. F. W. To Hold Meeting
LOCAL V. F. W. Post 3193 will hold its next meeting on Thursday, February 8 at 7 p.m. All members are asked to be present.

New Sales Manager At Shelton Motors

Paul Harthern, the new sales manager of Shelton Motors, came to Clanton from Tuscaloosa. He was born in England and moved with his family to the United States in 1951. After graduating from Florida State University in Tallahassee, Florida, Mr. Harthern moved to the University of Alabama for graduate study in counseling and guidance.

His experience in the automobile business has been extensive covering periods as a successful salesman and recently as sales manager. Mr. Harthern expects to become active in the social and civic activities of our town and county. He is also active in church affairs. Mr. Harthern has been appointed to the teaching staff of Jewison Elementary School. They will be living on the Lay Dam Road.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heart felt thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness to us, during our recent bereavement, especially do we thank the Nurses at the Chilton County hospital for their services to us and our thanks to Dr. Joe Hall Johnson. We also want to thank Rev. Hyman Atcheson and Rev. Vester Bice for their words of kindness and Rev. Laney McCreynolds and wife for their service of music. Also the entire staff at Spigener Brown Service for all their kindness and thoughtfulness during the services. The Robert Culp, family 6-1tc

Tie In News Mystery Man Fun Contest

The first time it's happened! Last Thursday morning Mr. Gene Gore and Mrs. Grady Hefflin tied at guessing the News Mystery Man. They both guessed right. It was Mr. Charlie Patterson. They each get a half year's subscription to the News or $1 each, whichever they prefer. We've gone a little different this week on the Mystery Man! So many folks have guessed during the past few weeks, we thought we'd make it tough this week! You must come by the office to win and the earliest entry after 8 a.m. on Thursday is declared the winner. DO YOU KNOW WHO THIS MAN IS?

Fulmer To Run For Representative

E. A. "Red" Fulmer, lifetime resident of Chilton County, announces this week that he is a candidate for the House of Representatives seat from Chilton County.

Fulmer, a former State Commander of the Disabled American Veterans and a member of the State Board of Veterans Affairs for eight years, made this announcement to the eNWS early this week.

"Red" as he is called by his friends, is married to the former Mary Popwell, daughter of the late Jim Popwell and they have three fine sons, age 21, 15 and 13. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Fulmer of Clanton and has been associated with Clanton Motors as a salesman for the past eight years.

He has been in business for himself in Chilton County in the past, and has wide experience in the affairs and interests of the people of this area.

In announcing his candidacy "Red" said, "I am anxious to serve the people of Chilton County in this capacity, and if they see fit to elect me, I will do the very best job that my ability will allow, and that my conscience will call for."

Abrams Announces For Supt. Post

I now announce myself as a candidate for the office of Superintendent of Education of Chilton County, while making this announcement, I must say that it is now time for us to raise the level of our school systems up, way up to new levels of excellence.

As a trained observer of school children for many years, I can truthfully say to the youthful parents of present day children that they are the best fed, the best clothed, the best housed, the best mannered and the best behaved of any children in any Country at any age in history.

To give these children the quality education which the times demand will require a new awareness and a new alertness on the part of the public and a new energy on the part of school people.

The right educational leadership is all important. I can serve the people of Chilton County your influence and your VOTE! (Pd. Pol. Adv. By U. H. Abrams, Clanton, Ala.)

NEWS OF MAPLESPRINGS

Sunday School 10:00 a.m. Worship Service 11:00 a.m. B.T.U. 6:00 p.m. Worship Service 7:00 p.m. Wednesday Service 6:30 p.m. Attendance was off some last Sunday due to weather and road conditions. Never the less we had a wonderful time with the Lord.

We had several visitors and we extend them a hearty welcome to our church at any time.

The Young People are having a hot dog supper next Saturday night. We hope for them a good time making new plans and new vows to serve the Lord more in the future than in the past.

Remember our study in Jeremiah, each Wednesday night, having two 45 minute periods with 15 minutes refreshment time between the periods of study. Everyone is invited. Rev. and Mrs. Logan and Debbie were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bowles.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Davis and Debbie spent last week end in Birmingham visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wright.

SAMARIA NEWS

Don Graham, pastor The Young Married People of the church have planned one of the most delicious suppers in the world. They are planning a Pizza Supper. It will be held at the church in the kitchen on February 7 which will be on Wednesday night. This will come after Prayer Meeting. We want to remind you that you are invited.

The Young People and Intermediates have planned a recreation period at the church. We have all sorts of games at the church and would like to invite any of you to come.

This will be on the first Saturday if the weather permits. We want to remind you that we still have a Visitation Program. If you would like to visit, please contact the pastor immediately and you will receive a list of names.

The roads to the church are passable and we would like to see you at church for these events and for our regular services.

NEWS OF MACEDONIA

The Macedonia H. D. Club met at the home of Mrs. M. W. Langston, Monday. There were eleven ladies present. The meeting was opened by Mrs. A. P. Davenport reading the 23rd Psalm, and Mrs. J. D. Ward leading in prayer.

Several items of business were discussed. Among them our projects to the coming year. Everyone answered the roll with what they might do to improve the club for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Moore spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. N. E. West of Clanton. Visiting with the Wests on Monday was Mrs. J. D. Ward and Mrs. M. W. Langston. We are happy to report Mrs. West is improving very nicely after a major operation in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Moore enjoyed a chicken supper Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Stroud and girls of Maplesville. Mrs. Stroud and Mrs. Moore shopped in Clanton Monday.

Visiting with the D. E. Moore Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ward and Mr. Joe Ward.

Sunday night was good, the messages were excellent brought by our pastor, Rev. C. P. Davis. There were some visitors, whom we welcome back.

Thursday evening, the Gleaner's S. S. Class will have their meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Rasberry at 1:30.

The book of Jeremiah will be taught February 4 through the 9th. Bro. Davis will teach the Adults and the teachers their departments in Sunday School.

Our church received the banner at the Sunday School Rally at Thorsby last Monday night. Our church is not interested so much in the banner, but that all our members are held together by the love of God in a most gloriously cooperative manner. This we are extremely proud of.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayes and children spent the week end down visiting fifth Mr. and Mrs. D. Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rasberry and Mr. Hoyt and Miss Miriam Freeman visited Mr. Joe Jackson of Thorsby Thursday night. He is improving somewhat.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ray and Gwen over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brasher and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Spain. With them Sunday were her parents and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brasher of

To The Voters Of Chilton County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County. Having had several years' experience as a law enforcement officer for the City of Clanton and as a deputy sheriff for this County, I feel that I am fully qualified for this office.

I will conduct a clean, honest and fair campaign. If the voters of this county will honor me by electing me to this office, I will serve you, the citizens of this county, as your sheriff to the best of my ability.

Your vote and influence will be sincerely appreciated.

Yours truly,
Reuben Gore

A. T. A. Day Sunday
February 11

Alabama Temperance Alliance Day, February 11 in all the churches of every faith in Alabama. Preach on the evils and destruction of liquor. Assist the people with the Bible reference on liquor. Order tracts from the Alabama Temperance Alliance, 1726 Comer Building, Birmingham, Alabama. Move together as a team against the liquor traffic.

To The Voters Of Chilton County

Lonnie L. Cost, writes to the people and voters of the first district and throughout Chilton County.

Dear friends, first of all I want to thank the good people and voters throughout Chilton County and especially my friends and voters in the first district for your fine support and vote you gave me four years ago.

Friends, I was one among three who made it available to work, put twenty-one feet of pipe, and haul gravel in your driveways, and if elected we will make lots of improvements to the above mentioned.

I will get every foot of paved roads possible and will grade and widen every mile of roads in the rural section where most needed. We will try to get all the right of ways and curves cut back that we possible can get too. If elected there will be no big "It or little 'It" regardless of creed, color, or political affairs and will at all times bear in mind that I am just elected to represent the people, and that I will do.

Thanking the good people and voters in advance from the first District for your vote and support in the coming Primary election on May the First.

Your friend,
Lonnie Cost

NEWS OF — Providence (Beat 13)

Rev. Robert Carden, pastor. Due to so much illness in the community, our attendance at each service has dropped considerably. But we know that each of the sick will soon be back at Church. Continue to pray for each and everyone.

There will be a singing held at Providence this Sunday, Feb. 11, 1962, at 2:00 o'clock. All you singers limber up your vocal cords and come on out and help make this a wonderful afternoon of joyful singing.

Our pastor's wife, Jo Ann is suffering from a bad case of strep throat. It was informed that her temperature has been quite high but she was resting a little more comfortably Sunday night. Pray for her speedy recovery.

It's a boy for the Henry McClusky's, born Friday, Feb. 2, he weighed in at 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. and both mother and son are doing fine at Shelby Memorial hospital. Teresa Sunningham is confined to bed with flu.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who were so kind and thoughtful to us while Rufus was in the hospital in Prattville and during his convalescence at home. Everyone has been wonderful to us.

What's so good about this crop?

The crop shown here was fertilized in the fall and grazed by beef cattle. The cattle were removed the first of March and the oats were top-dressed with nitrogen. This nitrogen stimulated fast regrowth. Now, the oats can be grazed again or allowed to produce a crop of grain. The right amount of nitrogen on small grains at the right times can make a big difference in beef production. Experiments conducted in Alabama show that you get about 400 pounds of beef per acre by top-dressing pastures with nitrogen in the fall and again in the spring. With cattle selling at 25c per pound that's about $50-$70 profit per acre.

Top-dress your small grains now with nitrogen ... 250 to 300 pounds of granular USS Ammonium Sulfate per acre will supply the required amount. USS Ammonium Sulfate is 21% nitrogen, with 24% sulfur for sulfur deficient soils. Because it's granular, USS Ammonium Sulfate flows easily from any spreader. Won't clog up. Ask your dealer for it in bag or buy it in bulk and have your dealer spread it for you.

USS Ammonium Sulfate is a product of United States Steel.

Democrats Beware

THROUGH the so-called "Two-Party system in Chilton County is the professed ideal of many in this area, there are still many Republicans who are not willing to play the game according to the accepted rules of fair play.

This is not a "doomsday warning," but it is necessary for all good Democrats, and Republicans for that matter, to look out for, and stand up for, their individual and collective rights when the time comes.

The Republicans in Chilton County are "padding" the Democratic ticket for the May Primaries. They intend to weaken the power of the Democratic areas in the County, by running Republicans in the Democratic Primary. They hope that this will split enough of the voters up, so that their Republican nominees will fare better in the General Election.

And the possibility of a Republican winning in the Democratic Primary is not entirely remote. If this happened, they would have smooth sailing all the way. They couldn't lose. This has happened before in Chilton County, but the Republicans have not been organized for some time to the extent that they could have a Primary of their own.

It is time, if you are a Democrat, or ever hope to be one, to get behind the candidate whom you feel will do the most for the County, as well as the Democratic Party. We have had enough pussy-footing and back-sliding. It is time to unite!

Challenge Of Our Times

WHAT is perhaps the greatest political challenge of our generation it to take place during the coming Primary elections in Chilton County.

The very nature of politics, as it has grown to be, is to discourage the right man for the job from seeking that job in the first place. We "average" Americans tend to turn away from politics and leave it to "those who know about such things," in other words, the professionals! We, in Chilton County, have the not always available opportunity, this year, to elect good men to office. Men who know, and want, what is best for our communities and our people!

The greatest wrong you can possibly do at this time is to shirk your responsibility as a voter, to ignore your right to vote your honest convictions. It is evident that we fortunately have the golden opportunity to elect qualified and honest men to serve as public officials. We also can ignore the entire thing, and dishonest men will tell us what to do. . . or do it for us without telling us. . . moreover, asking us!

While you still have the opportunity to "speak your mind" about good government, for Heavens sake, stand up and do it! We agree wholeheartedly with Senator Joe Graham when he says, "Our government will be just as honest or dishonest as we citizens make it!"

We cannot afford the questionable luxury of apathy toward politics. The challenge of our time is before us. What will you, as a citizen of Chilton County, do about it?

Your cow knows the difference

Eiland, Milton Taylor, George Smith, John McWaters, Tate C. Davis, H. T. Lawrence, G. H. Tucker, Dr. T. A. Hayes, Ralph Johnston, Raymond Hamilton, William F. Helms, H. T. Salter, Jr.

Several Clanton Scouts who were awarded their Eagle Badge in 1961 took part in "Eagle Day" ceremonies in Montgomery, Tuesday, February 6, as guests of the Montgomery Kiwanis Club. Chilton County officials joined Coosa and Tallapoosa to form the Horseshoe Bend District on January 1, 1962. The annual District Recognition Banquet will be held in Alexander City on February 12, 7:00 p.m. This will be held at the City Elementary School Lunchroom. Cost is $1.50 per plate. Persons wishing to attend should make reservations by mail to Judge J. C. Coley, P. O. Box 58, Alexander City, Ala.

RESIGN, OR NOT?

While giving encouragement to a general under his command not to resign, Confederate General Joseph E. Johnston sent in his own letter of resignation to President Jefferson Davis. Dated February 5, 1862, Johnston's letter urged that President Davis visit the Army, and added "the highest benefit would be your assuming the command."

Whether this statement stemmed from the loss of officers; a recent order from the President to move troops quickly to the South, then to reverse the orders, after the inauguration, in order to meet Richmond; or from the letter Johnston held about General "Stonewall" Jackson's resignation, who could know?

With Johnston's own resignation in the mail, he wrote General Jackson to remain with the army. Johnston's letter said, in part, "I don't know how the loss of this officer can be supplied. General officers are much wanted in the department."

Just as Jackson's letter had been returned to him, so was Johnston's returned to him, to be reconsidered. Neither resigned after thinking it over.

Mrs. Mary K. Powell Succumbs At 39

Mrs. Mary Katherine Powell, age 39, died at the Chilton County Hospital, in Clanton, Ala., on January 31st, 1962. She was the daughter of Mrs. Oliver Cox and the late Mr. Cox.

She is survived by her husband, Lloyd Powell; 3 daughters, Mrs. Annette Glenn, Miss Margaret Yvonne and Miss Rebecca; 3 sons, James E. and Donald C. all of Clanton, Ala. 5 sisters, Mrs. Sybil Parrish, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Doris Peters of Verbena, Mrs. Olivia Wade of Verbena, Mrs. Melba Hudson of Abeline, Texas and Mrs. Brenda Esterline of Akron Ohio.

Her mother Mrs. Oliver Cox of Cooper and a brother Taska T. Cox also of Cooper, another brother Freddie O. Cox who is in Germany and one grandchild. The funeral services were held on Feb. 2, 1962 at Providence church with burial in the church cemetery. Rev. Floyd Smith and Rev. F. F. Glidewell were the officiating ministers.

Serving as pallbearers were Leeva Bates, Tommy Monroe and Earl Powell, George Bell, and Charles Esterline.

Honorary pallbearers were Charles and Bruce Payton and Raymond Wyatt.

The flowers were arranged and taken care of by Margie Nell Mims, Dutch Baker, Zoni Bell, Ruben Payton, Mrs. Charles Payton, Earline Robinson, Hattie Smith, Corene Coburn Judy Powell, Helen Baker, and Sue Doss.

All arrangements were under the direction and supervision of Spigener Brown Service.

were threatening resignations, Union forces were successful at three different points. On February 6, 1862, Fort Henry on the Tennessee was captured after only two hours of battle; Roanoke Island, North Carolina fell into Federal hand on February 8, 1862; and Fort Henry Union forces went by boat to Florence, Alabama to capture a steamboat, destroy supplies and cause much alarm by the invasion.

EPILEPSY

The old taboos about epilepsy are giving place to a humane approach. Until a comparatively few years ago, epilepsy was not understood; and epileptics were shunned and for employment. Today, literature is available as a guide to persons engaged in vocational counseling and job placement for individuals afflicted with epilepsy. The latest edition of such a guide puts emphasis on the employability of epileptics whose seizures can be substantially controlled.

There are approximately 800,000 people in the United States who have epilepsy. Some facts about epilepsy are enlightening and encouraging. In over half of the cases, modern treatment completely controls seizures; and another 30 per cent of seizures can be cut down until they are hardly a handicap.

The years before the age of 20 is the period when epilepsy appears in 75 per cent of the total number of cases; so it is important that the child afflicted with epilepsy be helped to lead a normal life as possible. Parents are urged not to over protect the epileptic child as though he were predestined to invalidism.

There is no sound reason why an epileptic child, under proper medical care, should not attend a regular school. A full and happy active schedule rather than a guarded isolated existence actually decreases the frequency and severity of seizures. Companionship with children of the same age helps to insure the growth of the child into an emotionally mature adult.

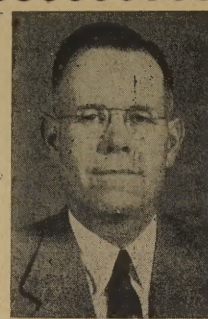

Epilepsy is not inherited, not contagious; and epileptics are generally as intelligent as other people. There is no medical reason why they should not marry and raise families. Medical science has changed the outlook for the epileptic. The discrimination and resignation to optimism and hope.

MAN OF THE WEEK

AS Chilton County's Tax Assessor for the past several years, the most recent re-election being unopposed, Mr. Charles Patterson has been a most reliable and dependable asset to the community.

Mr. Patterson has not only served his County well in his present position, but has been active in civic affairs and as a farming improvement over the years. He and his wife Helen have one son, Charles Jr. and they live on 3rd Avenue in Clanton.

Charles L. Patterson served in the Armed Forces of the United States, acquiring a high rank and also a distinguished record. He is an active member of the First Baptist church in Clanton and also takes a very sincere interest in Scouting. His son has earned many honors in the Scouting Program of Chilton County, including many coveted awards and citations. Charles Patterson, as the News Man Of The Week, is a most deserving one and we are proud to add his name to our honor roll of distinguished Chilton County citizens.

CHARLES L. PATTERSON

TROOP 57 MORE THAN 25 YEARS OLD

This troop has been active as a scouting unit over a period of 25 years. Through these years it has been the aim and obligation of the unit to train boys in scouting crafts and skills, emphasize character principles, and good citizenship, and enhance leadership qualities in boys. In order to accomplish these aims the members of this unit have been encouraged to participate in outdoor activities, lead in troop activities, and apply scouting principles to their everyday life.

Specific mention has been made of boys in association with scouting; however, scouting involves the entire family. The success of any boy in scouting is directly dependent on family interest and support. In fact, the interest and support of the entire community is essential for a successful scouting program. Talents and specialized skills of many community members are needed to complete training in a well rounded scouting program.

The importance of the role that a sponsoring institution plays in scouting can never be over emphasized. In reality, the people of the sponsoring institution are the "backbone" of the scouting in a community. The people in the Clanton area are fortunate to have the Clanton Kiwanis Club sponsor the boy scout and cub scout programs.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

The fight against communism here in our own hemisphere gained momentum last week when a majority of the foreign ministers of the 21 American republics voted to impose sanctions on Cuba and cut off its communist government from the councils and agencies of the Organization of American States.

The action taken by the foreign ministers at a conference in Punta del Este, Uruguay, which I attended as one of two advisers from the House of Representatives, constitutes the first realistic approach by the Organization of American States to the Cuban communist problem that threatens the security of the entire Western Hemisphere.

During the first few days of the conference, it appeared that the countries of Latin America were so divided in their proposed methods for coping with the Castro menace that the critical meeting might collapse without taking any meaningful action to protect the family of American nations against this scourge.

Our delegation, ably headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, worked patiently but persistently to convince the representatives of other governments that this could well be the last opportunity to stand up in union against Castro. My arguments were based chiefly on the fact that without the cooperation of Latin America now, it would be useless for the people of the United States to support a long range Alliance for Progress program designed to thwart communism in Latin America. It is in their efforts to improve their standard of living.

MEETING IS SUCCESS As the conference drew to a close, a number of far-reaching resolutions were adopted. Although several governments abstained from voting on various points, it is significant that not one country voted with Cuba on any issue. A decision to condemn Castro regime by declaring it incompatible with the inter-American system was unanimous except, of course, for Cuba itself. Two thirds of the countries voted to exclude Cuba from participation in the agencies of the Organization of American States. Of the resolutions included in the final declaration against Cuba, such as placing an embargo on the shipments of arms to that communist stronghold, were approved by overwhelming vote.

This week the OAS Council will meet to begin putting into effect the expulsion of Cuba from the various hemisphere councils and agencies. In the meantime, several of the governments which abstained on this particular point are already encountering opposition at home. The various governments of Foreign Ministers, together with vigorous programs of essential reforms and self-help on the part of the Latin American nations, are the only basis for stimulating the progress of the Alliance for Progress to improve living standards in the area. It is a fact that the area is suffering, realization of this fact can prevent the further encroachment in the Western Hemisphere of international communism which thrives on poverty-stricken and dissatisfied peoples.

GREETED BY PRESIDENT

Upon returning from the conference in Punta del Este, we were taken by helicopter from the airport to the lawn of the White House where we were greeted by President Kennedy. Vice President Johnson and a number of congressional leaders. Later we talked informally with the President and reported to him our views on the conference. He indicated that he was pleased with the outcome.

Proclamation of National Beauty Salon Week

by the Mayor of Clanton, Alabama

WHEREAS, the members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association have dedicated themselves not only to the raising of business and financial standards within this community, but also to the lifting of personal spirits and promoting a more hospitable and institutionalized, through this Association's outstanding public welfare program; and

WHEREAS, this widening of horizons brings an even greater need for human beings to offer outside products and a closer regard for these qualities which promote confidence and well-being within the home and the community; and

WHEREAS, each man, woman and child is uplifted by both the sight and the practice of good grooming; and in turn the community which can boast of handsome members finds its prestige uplifted among fellow communities; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John Hollis Jackson, Mayor of Clanton, do hereby proclaim the week of February 11 to 17, 1962, as "National Beauty Salon Week" throughout America, dedicated to bringing a "lift" to those who seek new dimensions of personal confidence, hope and inspiration.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John Hollis Jackson, Mayor of Clanton, do hereby proclaim the week of February 11 to 17, 1962 as "National Beauty Salon Week" in Clanton, commending all citizens to commend the good which can be achieved by helping to lift the hearts of those about us.

GEMS THOUGHTS IDEALS

By Mrs. Clyde Martin

GOD ANSWERS PRAYERS—When Napoleon with his Army was in Germany devastating the country, a mother knelt with her small children in prayer for their safety for the night. The mother prayed and the children listened. They noticed in her prayer that she asked God to build a wall about the children, a protecting wall from the father. When the children were in bed they spoke about the mother's prayer. They wondered how God could build a protecting wall around them.

Hayes - Kew Vows Said

On Tuesday morning, January 30, at eleven o'clock the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Linn Kew daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Kendall Kew and Jackson Poe Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Minter Carney Hayes of Clanton, Alabama, took place in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

The morning sun filtering through the stained glass windows created a perfect background for the organ selections rendered by Mrs. George Hornner, organist.

Dr. Kew gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was lovely in a period gown of Italian lace and tulle over duchess satin. The bodice was designed off shoulder effect and long pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt terminated in a chapel train. The French tulle finger tip veil was fastened to a cap of matching lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

The only bridal attendant was Miss Hollie Massey. She wore a street length dress of aqua lace and taffeta with full skirt and matching coronet veil. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Minter Carney Hayes was his son's best man. Ushers were James Milton Adams of Clanton, Alabama and Robert Swenson Anderson, cousin of the groom of Andalusia, Alabama.

Mrs. Kew chose a handsome midnight blue sheath crepe with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Minter Carney Hayes wore a Italian silk linen costume suit of Navy. Their flowers were white orchids.

Mrs. Hayes is the granddaughter of Mrs. Pleasant D. Linn and the late Mr. Linn of Salisbury, North Carolina and the late Dr. and Mrs. Arthur John Kew of Keene New Hampshire.

Her husband is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Douglas Brooks of Andalusia, Ala. and the late Dr. and Mrs. Julius Poe Hayes of Clanton, Alabama.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hayes received informally in the parlor of the church Mrs. E. Troy Allen presided at the coffee service and Mrs. Reddie Guy cut the brides cake.

Among others assisting were Mrs. William H. Ivey, Mrs. George Pessey and Mrs. Robert E. Miller.

After a short wedding trip the couple will live in Tuscaloosa, Alabama where both are enrolled in the University of Alabama.

Peppermint Frost Cookie Loaf

One of the most useful items the homemaker can have on her pantry shelf is a box of Carnation instant nonfat dry milk crystals. Magic crystals save refrigerator space, and there are no last minute dashes to the store when milk supplies get low. Use instant crystals for all cooking and baking needs, where recipes call for milk. No special recipes are needed.

As a beverage, plain or flavored, it's delicious and contains just 81 calories per eight-ounce glass when reliquefied according to package directions. . . good news for weight-watchers.

The home economists of the Carnation Company have developed an easy-to-do, economical frozen dessert called Peppermint Frost. The Frost is made with whipped instant crystals which create an appealing lightness in texture. Try Peppermint Frost layered with chocolate wafers for a colonial party dessert. Whipped instant crystals are a perfect dessert topping, too. Try fluffy mounds of the topping on fruit or cake.

PEPPERMINT FROST COOKIE LOAF
(Makes 6-8 servings)

¾ cup crushed peppermint stick candy
¾ cup marshmallow whip
½ cup hot water

Combine peppermint candy, marshmallow whip and hot water. Stir well. Cool. Fold into instant crystals. Arrange 8 wafers in bottom of 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Top with half of frost mixture, 8 wafers, remaining frost mixture and remaining 8 wafers. Freeze until firm (about 3 hours).

*To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals: (Makes about 2½ cups)

½ cup ice water
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals

Four ice water into a mixing bowl. Add instant nonfat dry milk crystals and whip until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add lemon juice and continue whipping until stiff (3-4 minutes).

Robert M. Culp Succumbs At 75

Mr. Robert Moses Culp, age 75 of Clanton, Ala., died at the Chilton County Hospital at 5:15 p.m. on February 3, 1962.

His funeral was conducted by Rev. Hyman Atchinson and Rev. Vester Bice, at the Northside Baptist church on Monday, Feb. 5, at 2:00 p.m. with burial in the Shiloh cemetery and Spigener Brown Service was in charge of all arrangements.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Douglas Cleave and Rev. and Mrs. L. W. McReynolds.

His survivors include his wife Mrs. Callie E. Culp, one son Preston of Thorby, Ala., seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, one sister Mrs. Louise Nummy of Miami, Fla. and one brother Rev. N. H. Culp.

Pallbearers were: W. O. Neeley, L. G. Harris, Jack D. Marcus, Albert Walker, Bill Walker and Onzie Garner and the flowers were arranged by the Junior girls and the young Peoples Sunday School class of the Northside Baptist church.

4-H Club News

The Junior II 4-H club met in Miss Black's room at the Chilton County High School, Tuesday, January 23, 1962.

The meeting was called to order by the president Judy Cole.

Mrs. Lane led the class in the pledge of Allegiance to the flags. The secretary was absent from the meeting, so Mrs. Lane called the roll.

The meeting was adjourned until the regular meeting February.

Study Club Met

The February meeting of the Study Club of Clanton was Friday the 3rd with Mrs. Charles Patterson as hostess. Mrs. Robert Powers, vice president presided and called the meeting to order with reading of the Collect.

Mrs. Omar Reynolds, chairman of Clanton Library Board reported that response to the library fund is most gratifying. She stated that the Study Club is 100 percent with its pledge to the fund.

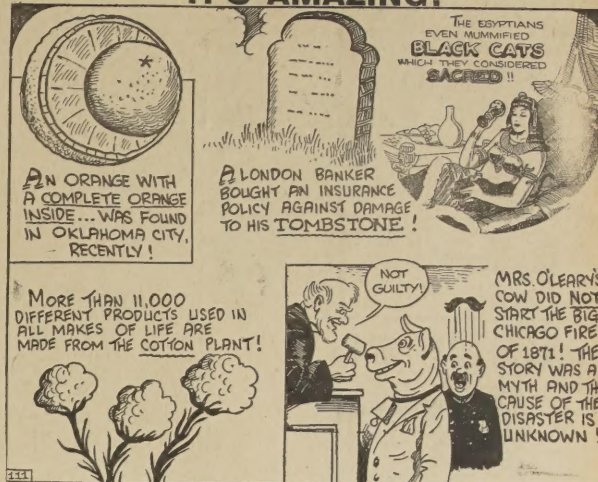

Appointed on the nominating committee were Mrs. John Higgins, Mrs. Frank Scott and Mrs. John Mullins.

A book review was the highlight of the meeting. Mrs. J. Renfro Mullins introduced the guest speaker. Mrs. Reese G. Mullins who reviewed "Silas Marner" by George Eliot. Mrs. Mullins pointed out that Silas Marner is a great story of affirmation. It affirms and reaffirms the truth that man cannot live alone. He cannot live without the love of his fellowman and the love of God, with out these he reduces his life to mere existence. In this sweet simple tale George Eliot shows us that the individual can grow only when he responds to these two essential needs.

The story written a hundred years ago is world wide in scope and appeal. Its teachings have proven true through the ages and remains true today.

The hostess served a delightful salad plate to 15 members and guests were the women of the Clanton High Faculty.

IT'S AMAZING!

Cromwell - Lindberry Vows Said

Miss Lynn Shirley Lindberry became the bride of William Blake Cromwell III in a ceremony at the home of the bride on fourth ave. north on January 23 at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Lindberry is the daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Shirley Lindberry of Clanton and the late Mr. Lindberry. Her grand parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. McKee of Clanton and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lindberry of Pulaski, Va.

Mr. Cromwell is the son of Mrs. Roy Lee Downs of Clanton and W. B. Cromwell II of West Point, Miss. His grandparents are Mr. Robert Frank Gettys and the late Mrs. Gettys of Aberdeen, Miss. The late Mr. and Mrs. William Blake Cromwell, Sr. of West Point, Miss.

The wedding took place before in improvised altar of Southern Smilax centered with white gladioli and white mums and flanked by burning white tapers. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle Mr. John W. McKee. She was married in a green plaid suit of light weight wool with toast accessories and a small natural mink hat. Her corsage was a white yellow threaded orchid.

The Rev. Martin Chandler performed the double ring ceremony. Guests included only members of the immediate families.

The brides mother chose for her daughters wedding a sheath of brown light weight wool. She was wearing a corsage of white rose buds with maline and white ribbon. The groom's mother wore a blue and white sheath and also wore a corsage of white rose buds with maline.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. The brides table was covered with a white linen and lace cloth centered with white carnations and white burning tapers. The three tiered white wedding cake was topped with a bouquet of white carnations with baby breath fern and white maline puffs. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl and crystal compotes which completed the table arrangements. White mums were used in other parts of the room.

After a short wedding trip the bride will remain with her mother for a few weeks, then where he will return to Demopolis where he is employed at Cooks Spigener Funeral Home. They will make their home in Demopolis.

Mr. T. H. Blow Succumbs At 51

Mr. Turner Harrison Blow, age 51 of Childersburg, Ala., died on February 3, 1962, very suddenly at Jemison, Ala.

He is survived by his wife, Hattie Martin Blow, one sister Mrs. Lucille Robinson of Clanton, Ala., 5 brothers Audley, Colonel and Riley all of Jemison, Elmer of Tallapoosa, and John of Clanton, also one grand child.

TELL ME....

Meet The Winners!

Here are the flowers to try in your '62 garden — the All American Selection winners: Dianthus Bravo, giant Zinnia Red Man, Basil Dark Opal and Zinnia Old Mexico.

After two years testing in dozens of test gardens in both the United States and Canada, the four flowers above have been chosen from dozens of other entries to carry the proud titles of All-American Selections for 1962.

Dianthus Bravo, upper left, is a dwarf, compact-growing annual pink or dianthus with blooms of a new color for that flower — bright orange-scarlet. Flowers are fringed, may grow 2 inches across and bloom for a long season.

Dark Opal is the name given to a purple-leaved variety of the herb Basil (lower left). Use it in your herb garden or as an ornamental, or, of course, in flower arrangements. Plants are dwarf, compact and fragrant. Zinnia Old Mexico (lower right) is colored rich mahogany and gold; has a large flower for the Mexican type of zinnia, quite suitable for cutting. Plants grow to a foot and a half tall and may be used for bedding. Quite different is the second Zinnia winner called Red Man (upper right). This has giant flowers, up to 6 inches across, colored scarlet with yellow centers. Each petal is curled and twisted; the flower quilled. Plants grow 2 1/2 feet high, are excellent for planting in the border.

Pineapple Biscuit Ring

Some mornings it seems like you're going around in circles? But, why not—when you have a delicious breakfast "circle" like Pineapple Biscuit Ring. This sunny coffee cake has all the flavor and nutrition needed to make a sturdy foundation for a good breakfast meal—to start off a busy day of work and play. With October—fall arrives, and with fall, homemakers return to their kitchens with renewed interest in baking delicious hot breads like Pineapple Biscuit Ring. Biscuits, muffins and other hot breads take just minutes to prepare when you're using self-rising flour and self-rising corn meal. Both these products have the correct amounts of leavening and salt already added to assure successful and handsome baked products time after time. Hot breads prepared with enriched self-rising flour and corn meal are nutritious, as well, offering thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, food iron and calcium to everyone's diet.

Prepare Pineapple Biscuit Ring in a jiffy. If you wish, prepare the biscuit mix the evening before by sifting together the self-rising flour and sugar and cutting in the shortening. In the morning you need only add the milk, roll and shape the dough and bake to a golden brown. Serve the biscuit ring hot, with parsley scrambled eggs, bacon strips, coffee and milk.

PINEAPPLE BISCUIT RING

2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 cup shortening
Sift together flour and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough, stirring just until flour is moistened. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll into rectangle about 1/4-inch thick. Spread pineapple over dough. Roll up like jelly roll. Cut roll into 1/2-inch slices. Arrange in circle on a lightly greased baking sheet, overlapping slices. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Makes one 9-inch ring.

Treat Seeds With Fungicides

Some of the diseases that attack seeds lying in the soil are borne in the soil itself. Others are on the seeds and control of these is easy. Seed fungicides will kill disease spores on seeds if seeds are coated with the fungicides. This treatment is given, as a routine, by many seedsmen to many vegetable seeds. Sometimes you will find on the seed packet the notation of pre-treatment of the seeds in that case, and in the case of flower seeds, you can treat your own seeds.

After buying a proper fungicide, which costs but a few cents, tear off the corner of the seed packet, and drop into the packet as much of the fungicide powder as will on the tip of a knife. Hold the corner opening closed and shake the packet for several minutes until the powder has thoroughly coated the seeds.

That's all there is to it. Seeds may be planted immediately after treatment and will sprout and grow in greater numbers than if this simple process had been neglected.

The Children's Corner: How To Make A Seed Museum

When Mother and Dad come home from buying seeds of flowers and vegetables for this year's garden, ask for a few seeds from each packet and have an exciting adventure of your own. Make a seed "museum", using those few seeds that never will be missed.

This museum may be made in at least two different ways (and you'll probably think of others). You can paste the seeds onto a large piece of cardboard, grouping seeds of each kind together in one small area or you can search the house for small glass or plastic bottles or vials that once held flavoring or medicines, clean them, and put each kind of seed in a separate container. These small vials may then be stored in a shoe box.

Naturally you'll print the name of each kind under the group of that seed on the cardboard or on a paper label to paste on each container. When you don't know one seed from the other, it's easy to get mixed up, so it pays to go slow at first. Take the seeds out of only one packet at a time, paste them on the cardboard or put them in the vial and then label them before you open the next packet.

It won't take you long to find out that no two kinds of seeds look alike — that each kind will announce its name to you the next time and every other time you see it if you have once connected the right name with the right seed.

Try to get some large seeds like corn, some medium-sized ones like carrots and some tiny ones like petunias so that you have variety in your museum. Include some different seeds like the clusters that are beet seeds and the feathery seeds of mariole.

Be sure to make your museum so it can be carried. Then, when it is finished, you can take it to show your teacher and classmates, members of your Out den, Brownie or Bluebird group, who are not likely to know as much about seeds as you do, now that you have made a seed museum.

IT NEVER FAILS!

H. D. Club Holds County Council Meeting

The Chilton County Home Demonstration County Council met January 24, 1962, in the auditorium of the new court house, with sixty members from eighteen club present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Myrtis Smith.

After a short skit on program planning, Mrs. Myrtis Smith conducted a very interesting class on officer's Training.

A report on Farm Bureau and Youth was given by second vice president Mrs. E. R. Dennis.

She encouraged each community to hold a Youth Sunday in their churches sometime during the year, and let the Young People have charge of all the church programs for that day. She also encouraged Home Demonstration club members to help with 4-H club summer meetings.

A report on Civil Defense, Citizenship and Safety was given by third vice president Mrs. Earl Vaughn.

The minutes of the last meeting and roll call were read by Mrs. Jessie Parrish in absence of the secretary Mrs. Lee Richard.

Treasurers report was given by Mrs. H. H. Miller. She reported a balance of $504.44 in Treasurer.

The old nominating committee was asked to retain their positions and nominate someone for office of secretary to be voted on at next Council meeting.

The County Council projects were discussed and it was declined to continue cooking school achievement day, club of the year, club Woman of the year, sponsor two 4-Hers to state conference, Fair community Exhibit concession stand, nursing visits and Christmas float. There was a discussion on buying equipment for the new kitchen unit.

Our new assistant home demonstration agent, Mrs. Martha Radford was introduced by Mrs. Myrtis Smith. They welcomed her to Chilton County.

We were happy to have one of our members, Mrs. Raymond Cox as a member of State Council. She was elected district director of district 4 at the State meeting in Biloxi, Miss., in November.

A card of thanks was read by Mrs. Jessie Parrish from our former assistant H.D. agent, Miss Kaye Curry for the shower given her by the County Council. Motion was made and carried that the County Council help sponsor busses for our annual trip. Each club is asked to turn in suggestions to the committee as where they would like to go.

A committee was appointed to plan the trip. They are: Mrs. Helen Mims, Mrs. Willie Lee Hayes, Mrs. Edna Giles, Mrs. Carol Nelson.

A report on 4-H Foundation Program was given by Mrs. Myrtis Smith. Clubs were asked to make donations for the 4-H Foundation Program.

At noon a covered dish luncheon was enjoyed in the auditorium of the new Courthouse. As guests we had Judge J. C. White, Mr. John Sellers and Mr. Gordon Conway.

In the afternoon it was voted that we have a County wide Dress Revue and H. D. Week in May.

All members who had a perfect attendance record of one year or more were recognized. Mrs. J. C. Bookhold of Bethel School Club had a record of seven years perfect attendance.

Mrs. Lane gave a report on the bookmobile.

The meeting was adjourned until the next meeting in May. Mrs. Leslie Robinson, Reporter

Brotherhood State Convention Meets February 8-9

Men of the churches, the meeting is this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow. Yes, the Brotherhood State Convention meets February 8-9, 1:45 p.m. first day at the Parker Memorial Baptist Church, Anniston, Alabama. Brother Grover P. Promoted To Asst. Manager of Life Insurance Co.

James L. Bean, a native of Clanton, has been promoted by Life Insurance Company of Georgia from assistant manager in Tuscaloosa to training assistant assigned to the company's home office in Atlanta.

Mr. Bean was promoted to assistant manager in 1957, one year after he joined the company as an agent in Montgomery. He has been cited three times for outstanding ability as a life insurance representative. His ability also qualified him to attend Life of Georgia's 1961 "Sell & Stratton" sales conference in Miami, Fla.

James Bean was born December 15, 1932 in Clanton, attended Calera Elementary School, and graduated from Calera High School. He is a four year veteran of the United States Air Force, and a former radio operator with Eastern Air Lines.

Mr. Bean is married to the former Percy Johnson of Calera where they now live with their four year old daughter Jamie Lynn, and one year old son James L. III.

A member of the Baptist Church, Mr. Bean belongs to the Tuscaloosa Life Underwriters Association.

Girl Scouts Has Cookie Sale

When? February 3rd thru 17. Who? Clanton Brownie Girl Scouts.

Troop 401: Angela Wood, Sandra Sellers, Susan Blankenship, Vicki Vinson, Penny Norris, Mary Sellers, Allison Walker, Kathy Merrill.

Troop 240: Margaret Johnson, Barbara Bowers, Jan Joiner, Betty Shakelford, Misty McKee, Warren Headley, Marv Blackman, Marsha Medcox.

Troop 335: Sandra Calfee, Tamara Calfee, Judy Edwards, Amelia Foshee, Marion Johnson, LeSabre Johnston, Claudia Maddox, Joyce McCullers, Jannie Pennings, Rhonda Patterson, Wanda Cook, Mary Ann Elmore, Vicki Thierpen.

Why? To increase, expand and maintain our camping facilities. We strive for greater profits from the cookie sale. So there will be more ample and convenient camping facilities for Girl Scouts throughout our area. Goal! 540 boxes (Clanton Troops).

Price? 50¢ per box, no tips. What kind? Creme filled vanilla and chocolate, chocolate mint, Crisco peanut butter. So when a Brownie comes knocking at your door, with our cookies crisp and tasty, please say yes to her appeal, don't send her away toasty.

Thank you, Rita G. Elmore Troop Organizer

Unemployment Group To Meet At Armory

Arrangements have been made with the National Guard for the Unemployment Group to meet in the future in the Auditorium in the U. S. Armory near the Airport.

This building is designed to accommodate large groups whereas the courthouse is designed to accommodate smaller groups.

The unemployment group has grown to some six or seven hundred people weekly. This of course has forced the County to find a much larger space than is found anywhere in the new courthouse. The largest space in the new courthouse can only accommodate three-hundred and fifty people.

It is highly regrettable that this has become necessary. However, there will be ample free parking area at the Armory.

The building is modern in every way and can accommodate the entire group at one time.

Another reason, as many of you know, this space will be available every week and the group will not be forced to be running from place to place.

We hope this will be highly satisfactory for all concerned. If I or the Board of Revenue and Control can be of further service please let us know.

Your friend,

J. C. White,

Judge of Probate 5-2t

The Uterine Cancer

Out of the 35 million women between the ages of 35 to 70 in the U. S. about 32 thousand will get uterine cancer this year of which 23 thousand will be cancer of the cervix. The greatest incidence comes after the age of 35. The no age group is immune. It is detected in its earliest, presymptomatic stages, cancer of the uterine can nearly always be cured, yet some 14 thousand lives are lost each year to this disease. Some 180 thousand who have cancer of the uterus are cured alive and well 5 years after the conclusion of the treatment.

Symptoms, unusual bleeding or discharge are symptoms which may mean uterine cancer. It either of those warning signs appear, any one should go immediately to a physician.

The "Pap" examination as a major weapon in helping to prevent uterine cancer deaths. Development by and named for Dr. George N. Papanicolaou in whose research the American Cancer Society has invested more than $688,000. The Pap Smear is based on the study of cells which are normal cells. The Women of the Alabama Federation clubs are taking a leading part in the conquer of the Uterine Cancer program.

Blood Mobile's

Speaking of blood and the tragedies caused by the loss of it and the lives saved by the medical profession in using it and the countless number of times it has alleviated human suffering. We seldom stop to think that the American Red Cross has the lion's share of credit for the enlightenment of the blood program. The Red Cross supplies more than 40% of all the blood used in this country. The Red Cross drive for funds is well on its way. In the meantime let us keep in mind this great humanitarian organization, with its stupendous life saving program, its blood mobiles, its disaster functioning, its first aid course and then ask: What have I contributed to the worthiness of this splendid organization?

S. S. Class Of First Baptist Held Workers Conference

The Sunday School Department of the First Baptist church held their monthly Workers Conference on Monday night, January 29. Supper was served at 6:30 with workers from the Primary departments preparing the food. There were around 60 people who enjoyed the fellowship together.

Mr. Melvin Mims, superintendent, presided. The devotional was given by Mrs. J. Gilbert Hutchinson, reading scripture from the first Psalm. Reports were made from each department. There was an average of over 500 present in S. S. for the month of January. The Beginners department was reported by Mrs. Howard Maddox, Club president. The meeting was opened with the club collect. Mrs. Bennett will serve with Mrs. Richard Muncher and representatives from other gardens on the project of landscaping the grounds of the new Courthouse. Plans were discussed for the annual spaghetti dinner sponsored by the club on March 5th.

An interesting and most informative program entitled, Birds and a Bit of Herbs, was given by Mrs. M. L. Batson of the Clanton Gardenettes.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

David Cox Is Four Years Old

It was a happy occasion for David Cox on his 4th birthday when his mother Mrs. Clarence Cox gave him a party, inviting his neighborhood friends in to help him celebrate on Monday p.m. January 29.

Outdoor games were enjoyed for awhile and then they came inside and watched "Bozo the Clown", on television.

The birthday cake was pink and held 4 pink candles. As he blew out the candles the children sang Happy Birthday.

David, they were served luscious ice cream and cup cakes.

Friends enjoying the party with David were Roy Holley, Servin McGuire, Donna Glass, Larry Wilson and Frankie Smith.

Mrs. Cox was assisted by her daughter with the party.

Mrs. Powers Feted

Mrs. Noah Williams was hostess to a miscellaneous tea and gift shower given by members of the WMAS of Northside Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon, January 24 honoring Mrs. Bill Powers (Dorothy Neely) a recent bride.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. James Harris who was also in the receiving line with Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Powers, the honoree, who was wearing a printed silk dress and a corsage of white carnations. The guests were registered in the brides book by Miss Martha Harris. The home was decorated with arrangements of seasonal flowers.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth. The crystal punch bowl was surrounded with silver lace dotted with pink rose buds. The table was laden with wedding cakes, nuts and mints. Punch was served by Mrs. Jack Marcus. On the table were candle holders holding white burning candles.

Mrs. Lowell Harris presided over the gifts in the guest room where many lovely and useful gifts were on display.

Around fifty guests called during the hours of two to four o'clock.

INDIANA

The Hoosiers aren't particularly proud of the huge amount of masonry that is their State Capitol at Indianapolis. More symbolic of the city is the 285 foot-high Soldiers and Sailors Memorial with fountains splashing in summer and an elevator running to the top. No. 1 tourist attractions are the Motor Speedway where the 500-mile races are held, the World War Memorial Plaza which includes American Legion Headquarters, the Scottish Rite Cathedral with its 63 bell carillon. Other attractions are the home of James Whitcomb Riley, poet, and children's hospital named for him.

At this time the president lead the club in the American's Creed.

Then the club sang the song Alabama and the Star Spangled Banner.

At this time the club recited together the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of our country.

It was moved by Richard Ray and seconded that the club be adjourned until next Friday. The motion was carried.

Respectfully submitted, Secretary Roger Crew

The firm will improve Policy Bridge Creek from Hinkle Road to its intersection with Walnut Creek, Goose Pond Creek from a point about a third of a mile above Mt. Pleasant Road to its intersection with Walnut Creek and Walnut Creek for the intersection to below Old Mill Road. The work will include enlarging and straightening the creek channels, seeding the ditch slopes, clearing the stream bank and reinforcing with Walnut Creek and protecting ten bridges across the creeks.

Work is expected to get under way early in February and to be completed by the first of November 1962.

The Corps of Engineers sent advance notices soliciting bids on this job to 596 contractors and material suppliers, furnished plans and specifications on request to 28 prime contractors and 3 subcontractors and material suppliers, and received 12 bids from prime contractors.

Do Electric Co-ops help keep electric costs down?

Yes. With 85 per cent of all our power business in the hands of great utilities, Rural Electric is the most effective "counterweight" to the evils of public utility monopoly. The healthy competition of Rural Electric helps break the grip of monopoly by introducing effective competition. This keeps electric costs down.

A Dish to Delight

HAM ROLLS FILLED with quick-frozen whole green beans—those aristocrats of frozen vegetables... make a delicious and easy-to-fix luncheon or dinner dish. Cheese sauce gives added protein and sliced almonds a crisp touch of elegance.

HAM AND GREEN BEAN ROLL-UPS

- | | |
|---|-----------------------------|
| 1 package (9 ounces) quick-frozen whole green beans, cooked and drained | 2 tablespoons butter |
| 6 thin slices pre-cooked ham | 2 tablespoons flour |
| 2 tablespoons (about) prepared mustard | ½ teaspoon salt |
| | ¾ teaspoon pepper |
| | 1½ cups milk |
| | ½ cup grated Cheddar cheese |
| | Sliced almonds (optional) |

Divide whole green beans into 6 portions. Spread each slice of ham lightly with mustard; roll up a portion of the beans in each ham slice. Arrange rolls in a shallow 6x10-inch baking dish. Meanwhile, melt butter in a saucepan. Add flour and seasonings and blend. Add milk; cook over low heat until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Add grated cheese, stirring until blended. Pour over ham rolls and sprinkle with almonds, if desired. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) until hot and bubbly. If desired, brown lightly under broiler. Makes 3 servings.

What to Eat With Soup for Breakfast

TODAY ACROSS AMERICA, youngsters and oldsters are spooning and sipping soup to help awaken sleepy appetites. Chowders, broths, or vegetable-meat soups can be delightful, warming stimulants, easily prepared from the can in four quick minutes. Soup starts the day in merry style. The flavorful liquid has a comforting way of creating a cheerful outlook—of helping to make the opening hours of a day a time for conversation. Best of all, it is food of complementary nature, and the perfect team-mate with established breakfast foods. So, let's consider the question frequently asked: "What do you eat with soup for breakfast?"

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--|
| Canned Pears with Prunes | Grapefruit Sections |
| Creamy Tomato Soup with Egg Slices | Cream of Chicken Soup with Cereal Bits |
| Waffled French Toast | Popovers |
| | Money |
| Chicken Noodle Soup | Fresh or Frozen Berries |
| Fried Ham on Toasted Roll | Cream of Mushroom Soup with Chopped Beef |
| Sliced Oranges | Buckwheat Cakes |

Plum Chiffon Cookie Pie

Busy homemakers who are active in community life are often called upon to serve as members of various committees. Perhaps it is the Parent Teachers Association, a church group, a local political club, Red Cross, various fund raising organizations; whatever the circumstances, chances are committee members will take turns holding meetings. When your home is chosen as the gathering place, why not combine the business part of the meeting with an afternoon tea?

An ideal accompaniment for tea is a chiffon pie. Here is a new recipe, developed in Carnation Company's test kitchens, which enables you to prepare this favorite without the fuss and bother of making pastry or crumb shells. It is a delightfully flavored combination of fruit and gelatine, made light and fluffy in texture with whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals. The delicate chiffon filling is rimmed with cookies which take place of a crumb or pastry shell.

The weight-watchers among your group will be happy to know this dessert is light in calories as well as texture. Whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals contain two-thirds less calories than whipped cream!

PLUM CHIFFON COOKING PIE
(Makes 6 servings)

- | | |
|--------------------------------|--|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine | 2½ cups whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals |
| ¾ cup sugar | 13 vanilla wafers (approximately) |
| 2 cups (1 pound can) plums | Toasted flaked coconut |
| ¼ cup lemon juice | |

Combine gelatine and sugar in a saucepan. Drain syrup from plums into the saucepan. Mix well. Place over low heat until gelatine is dissolved, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add the lemon juice. Chill, stirring occasionally, until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold gelatine mixture into the whipped instant. Spoon half of mixture into a 9-inch pie plate. Place vanilla wafers around edge of the pie plate. Halve, pit and dice plums. Spoon plums over the gelatine mixture. Cover with the remaining gelatine mixture. Garnish with toasted coconut. Chill until set, about 2-3 hours.

- *To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals: (Makes about 2½ cups)
1. Mix ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with ½ cup ice water in bowl.
 2. Whip until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.
 3. Continue whipping until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes longer).
 4. Gradually add ¼ cup sugar.

We see
and hear
by BOB

OUR young son Mark gets butter and sugar on his bread! When he burned his finger the other day, his mother put some butter on it, to ease the pain and draw out the burning a bit. Mark looked at the goings on a minute and then asked, "Ain't you going to put some sugar on it too, momma?"

IT is strange to us, that with the possibilities given to television, it has taken advantage of very few of them when it comes to actually serving the people. TV commercials are mostly ridiculous and nauseating. The majority of them do not try to sell quality or service but rather they rely on gimmicks, half truths and the art of exhibitionism. The true art of integrity in salesmanship is almost completely missing. We cannot understand the spending of millions of dollars by reputable businesses for this childish prattle. Neither do we understand how the legitimate advertising on TV (mostly local) survives in the market. We know they find a new approach, or people wake up, one or the other!

WONDER if anyone actually believes that one man working from eight to 16 hours a day is worth any more than another working the same hours, just as hard, at the same job. Unions seem to subscribe to this unrealistic attitude, and it is ruining the status of the working man in this country, if not the country itself.

WE were giving son Ben what for the other evening about having food on the sleeve of his new shirt that he was supposed to wash. He said, "Momma, I don't use that sleeve for dinner." She said, "That's dinner, Daddy!" She meant where he had wiped his mouth on his sleeve. Ben quickly spoke up and exclaimed, "Uh huh, Momma. I don't use that sleeve for dinner!" Turned out that was his supper sleeve! Napkins are for laying beside your plate... or didn't you know that?

ONE of the most sensible things we have ever heard Dwight D. Eisenhower credited with saying is, "do away with such words as 'liberal' and 'conservative'..." etc. One of the most significant achievements of our time would be to re-define individual attitudes and concepts. Liberals do not know what word means half the time and so called "conservatives" think they have a corner on the market of intelligent and rational thinking. It's so confusing, there is no wonder the world is getting so topsy turvy. You don't know whether the neighbor is a "community spirit" or a "communist spirit." It's getting that ridiculous because too many ignorant intellectuals are putting fancy sounding tags on just about everything and everybody!

OUR apologies to Mr. Dalton Champion for leaving his office announcement out of the news last week. It was completely unintentional and was an error by a limber-brained editor, who has nothing more to do than sit around and think things. You can forget that, that too!

MEET Mr. Paul Harneth down Shelton Motors this week and he strikes us as a personable and young man who will mean much to the life of this community. Welcome to the life of his lovely wife, to Clanton and Chilton County.

ONE student from Chilton County, Harold Gilliland, was named on the Dean's List at Livingston State College for the first quarter. The Dean's List consists of those students making all A's and B's.

PEACHES DORMANT 1128 HOURS

CHILTON County peaches, according to the County Agent's office, now have in 1128 dormant hours this season. The unseasonal weather, according to our report, has not as yet damaged the crop, but if the warm weather continues it is feared that some damage might be incurred. We will keep you posted, with the cooperation of the County Agent and the Horticultural Station in the County, which keeps a close check on dormancy, variety and pest control!

Gallion Headquarters Opens In Clanton

A local headquarters, due to open today (Thursday) has been set up in the Exchange Hotel Lobby by the supporters of Macdonald Gallion, who is in the race for Governor of Alabama.

Someone will be on hand at all times to answer questions and to pass out material on this candidate.

Higgins Re-elected; Jones, Wyatt, Stokes, Vines Installed as Officers

Mr. John M. Higgins was re-elected as President of the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the annual meeting. Mr. Higgins, who has served since 1960, was elected unanimously without opposition for another term.

Fifty-two members and guests assembled at the Holiday Inn for the meeting and heard the key note address by Judge Conrad Fowler, Probate Judge of Shelby County on the development and progress planning of the Coosa-Alabama River System. Judge Fowler, who is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Coosa-Alabama River Improvement Association, revealed to the group economic forecast of the great prosperity that is expected to come to our area when this great river system is made navigable from Rome, Georgia, to Mobile, Alabama. The plan includes a nine-foot channel throughout the six hundred mile length of the river system measuring some 80 feet in width. If Congress makes it's proper appropriation the system might be opened for traffic as early as 1970.

General George Cleere also of the Coosa-Alabama River Association, supplied other facts and figures revealing the Association's plan and schedule for obtaining this great asset for our area.

J. H. (Skeeter) Stokes was elected as Vice President, John Vines was re-elected to the Board of Directors and new members elected to the Board were S. A. Jones and T. E. Wyatt.

Reports were given by several members of the Chamber who have been active in various projects of the Chamber including finances, trade school program, and industrial park development. Charles Everett, Plant Manager of E-Z Pak Corporation at Maplesville made a brief report on the industrial progress that is being made by his company at Maplesville and the Secretary read to the Chamber a letter of appreciation from Eldon L. Leibold and Doris Leibold for the Chamber's participation in the new industrial building of Knight Engineering Company.

Selden In Race For Re-election To Congress, 6th District

U. S. Representative Armistead Selden, who will leave an all out campaign in seeking re-election to Congress.

Announcing his candidacy, Selden said it re-elected he would continue "to do the very best of my ability to serve well all the people I have the privilege to represent."

Rep. Selden, who was elected to Congress in 1952 at the age of 31, is now in his fifth term. Elevated to membership on the Foreign Committee during his second term, he is now fifth ranking member of this influential House committee. As chairman of the Inter-American Affairs Subcommittee which has jurisdiction over matters involving the Latin American area, he has become a leading U. S. spokesman in this field. His committee reports on Latin America have been hailed as among the most perceptive ever issued by a congressional group.

Congressman Selden attended the recent Foreign Ministers' Conference in Uruguay as one of a four-man congressional group serving as special advisers to Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Selden's insistence on a firm stand against the Castro government is being widely credited as an important factor in the success of the conference.

In domestic affairs he has worked to increase farm income, to maintain segregation and preserve the rights of the individual states, and to secure complete development of Alabama waterways. He has received national recognition for his efforts to enact legislation that will prohibit the issuance of passports to known communists. Congressman Selden holds a near perfect record on roll call votes in the House of Representatives having maintained an average of 100 percent for five years and over 98 percent for the remaining years that he has been in office.

Selden has kept in close touch with his constituents since he has been in Congress by at this meeting a weekly newspaper column maintaining a year round district office, and visiting throughout the area he represents when Congress is not in session.

Chilton County Nursing Home Expands

The Nursing Home, with a resident capacity of 32 a part of the 49 bed hospital, is now making plans for an expansion of the facilities to accommodate 20 to 30 more residents.

A Birmingham architect has been contacted and will meet February 20th, 1962 with Dr. C. O. Lawrence, Board Chairman and other members of the Board of Directors: Mr. J. R. Eklund, Mr. Moody Chambers, Mr. Abney Brown, Mr. Roy Baker, Mr. Charles Burnette, Mr. Curtis Satterwhite, Dr. Joe Moore and Mr. William Elmore Hospital and Nursing Home Administrator.

The Nursing Home has been operating at full capacity since the second month of opening in October, 1957. Since then opening date facilities have been expanded for two additional residents by conversion of two rooms.

The present home was built and equipped at a cost of $351,789.49. The expansion is not expected to cost more than $100,000. The amount as some utility equipment is available.

The expansion is planned without cost to the taxpayer by use of existing monies and sale of bonds.

This expansion will create employment for 10 or more employees to the now 82 employees at the Hospital and Nursing Home. The present payroll is approximately $175,000; a total operating expense for Hospital and Nursing Home is in excess of $345,000 annually.

Don Graham, Pastor The WMU met Monday night at the church at 7:30. The ladies had a very interesting program and would like to invite you to their next meeting.

The Youth Rally for the month of February will meet Saturday night at the Concord Baptist Church. Dr. Jester, a missionary on leave from the field in Nigeria, will be the guest speaker. We hope everyone will make a special effort to attend this meeting. If there is anyone who does not have transportation to the Rally, would you please meet at the church at 7:00. There will be someone there who will take you.

The Young Married People had their Pizza Supper at the church Wednesday night after a prayer meeting. After eating they played games. Everyone really enjoyed themselves.

The Young People and intermediates have planned a recreation period at the church on Saturday afternoon, February 17. We haven't decided what kind of food to have, but whatever it is, there will be plenty of it, so come on over and bring a friend. Remember, if you would like to participate in our Visitation Program you can contact the pastor and receive a list of persons to visit.

Largest Seed Collection In U.S.A.

The largest general seed collection in the world, if not the only one, is the property of the United States Department of Agriculture and is located at its Plant Industry Station and Agricultural Research Center in Beltsville, Md. Started just before the turn of the century in a more or less haphazard manner, the present collections were officially inaugurated in 1908. At present the two collections contain about 100,000 samples of seeds of over 250 plant families (which are very large groups and not comparable to human families). Gardeners are more familiar with plant species than with plant families, so the figure of over 17,000 species is probably more meaningful to them.

This vast collection includes seeds of all sizes, from the mustard seed of the double coconut which may weigh 50 pounds down to the dustlike seeds of various orchids. The smaller seeds are stored in glass vials, the largest simply laid on horizontal spaces available.

Most of the samples are of plants which have been introduced into this country from other countries. There are, however, samples acquired from many sources, which are included as reference material. To aid the student or person who wishes to identify a plant by its seed, there is also a card index of names of all the plants included in this enormous assortment.

Dept. of Education Receive Certificate Of Commendation

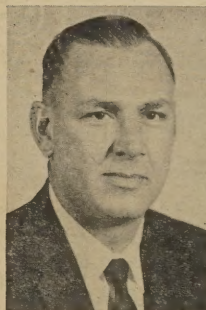

State Superintendent W. A. LeCroy has announced that The National Committee for Motor Fleet Supervisory Training has awarded to the Alabama State Department of Education a Certificate of Commendation. The certificate commends the State Department of Education for leadership in and contributions to highway safety through supporting, advocating, and conducting training courses for motor fleet operators.

For the past twelve years the Trade and Industrial Education service of the State Department of Education has conducted short intensive training courses for Motor Fleet operators through the Southeastern States. Mr. J. F. Ingram, State Director, Vocational Education, received the award for the State Department of Education. The courses are conducted under the supervision of Mr. M. O. Hulse, State Supervisor, Trade and Industrial Education. They are coordinated by Mr. W. L. Rickard, Assistant State Supervisor, Trade and Industrial Education and Mr. A. E. Houk, Coordinator, Motor Fleet Training.

Instructors for the courses are chosen from among the very best authorities in the nation so far as fleet operations are concerned.
 This is one of many similar services offered by Vocational Education in Alabama.

VOTE FOR

Gordon Conway For Superintendent of Education

At the age of twelve I became a member of Mulberry Baptist Church. In my church I have served as a deacon for six years and as chairman of the Board of Deacons. I am currently serving as superintendent of the Sunday School and have served in that capacity for the past five years. I also teach the Young Adult Men's Class.

I am past president of the Chilton County Vocational Teachers' Association and past president of the Chilton County Education Association. In these organizations I have served as a member of various committees.

I hold an honorary membership both in the Isabella Chapter of Future Farmers of America and in the State Association. This membership is awarded for outstanding leadership with FFA members. Other memberships I hold are in the Alabama Education Association, National Education Association, Chilton County Education Association, Alabama Association of Secondary School Principals, Parent-Teacher Association and Chilton County Association for Retarded Children.

Your vote and influence in my behalf will be greatly appreciated.

Subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries, May 1 and 29, 1962.
 (Pd. poll Adv. by Gordon Conway, Rt. 1, Thorsby Ala.)

Harold Harlin, court reporter to the 18th Judicial Circuit for 25 years, said he will file as candidate for State Senator representing Chilton, Autauga and Shelby Counties.

Harlin has been elected and served as a member of the Shelby County Democratic Committee for 10 years. In 1960, he was finance chairman for the Democratic Party in Shelby County.

In 1961, Harlin headed up the Goodfellow's organization which provided Santa Claus for 700 underprivileged children in Shelby County.

Harlin attended Western Kentucky State College. He served as court reporter for six years at Decatur, Alabama where he reported for six years at Decatur, Alabama where he reported the famous Scottsboro trials.

He said, "The interests of the citizens of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby Counties are varied. As Senator, I pledge to serve these interests, to exert the power of this to meet the needs of these citizens and to fight for the agricultural and industrial growth of these counties."

Sunday School Convention Meets February 16

The pastors and Sunday School officers of the churches are hereby reminded again that the District Twelve Sunday School Convention meets Friday, February 16, 1:30 to 8:15 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Wetumpka. The theme: See the People and Solve Your Problems will be discussed under various topics concerning the Nursery through the Adult departments and including the Cradle Roll and Extension departments, by outstanding state workers and pastors of the Baptist State Convention. Mr. Harold C. Marsh, Sunday School Department Secretary and his associates of the Baptist State Executive Board, Montgomery will be in charge. It is expected that many of the pastors, Sunday School workers of the churches, and heads of the Associational Sunday School Departments, will attend this very informing and inspiring service Friday afternoon and evening.

Training Union Exec. Committee Meets February 19

The Associational Training Union Executive Committee meets Monday, February 19, 7:30 p.m. at the West End Baptist Church, Clanton, to plan the program for the Training Union Quarterly meeting which meets in March. This meeting involves the services of the following Christian workers, Robert L. Bowers, director, Henley Carter, Associate director, Mrs. Beatrice Bryan secretary, Eugene Lowery, song leader, Department leaders, Rev. Calvin Ray, adults, Mrs. J. G. Hutchinson, young people, Mrs. L. W. McReynolds intermediate, Mrs. Cecil Powell Primary, P. F. Singley, audio visual aid, Group directors, Rev. Don Graham, Clanton, Rev. R. L. Strickland, Jemison, Rev. V. C. Blacklock, Cooper, Rev. Loyd Jones, Maplesville.

Simultaneous Revivals To Be Held March 25-April 8

A letter was mailed to all the pastors and other leaders of the churches requesting a commitment concerning participation in the Simultaneous Revivals in the Chilton-Unity Association March 25 to April 8. Some may hold the revivals two weeks. Others may plan to hold it one week from Sunday to Sunday. Many of the churches have committed to participate, and have secured the evangelist. Some have asked the pastor to do the preaching. There are many wonderful pastor-evangelists who will be happy to come to any of the churches in this Association if they were invited. Every church is expected to call or mail the commitment to the Superintendent of Missions immediately. Please do this although the church does not plan to participate. With all the churches involved in a revival effort at the same time, praying, visiting and witnessing singing and preaching the gospel, it would have a tremendous spiritual impact upon the populace of this great County. A revival is needed Church leaders.

William G. Wyatt Aboard USS Soley

William G. Wyatt, machinist's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elder Wyatt of Route 2, Clanton, Ala., is serving aboard the destroyer USS Soley, operating as a unit of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

In mid January, the Soley and crew visited Massawa, Ethiopia and participated in the traditional "manning the rail" ceremony for His Imperial Majesty Haile Selassie I, Emperor, who passed in his flagship enroute to witness Ethiopian naval maneuvers. A parade detachment from the Soley also participated in an Imperial Review by the emperor during graduation ceremonies at Ethiopia's Naval Academy.

IOWA—

The State Capitol building at Des Moines stands on a hill which is surrounded by a park consisting of 85-acres. It overlooks the Des Moines River, a sight to remember. The building is open from 9:00 to 4:00, Mondays through Fridays and from 10:00 to 4:00 Saturdays and Sunday. Of special interest to tourists are the paintings and a large collection of War Flags. Des Moines calls itself the farm capital of the nation, and is the sight of perhaps the most famous of all state fairs.

Do
Electric Co-ops help keep electric costs down?

Yes. With 85 per cent of all our power business in the hands of great utilities, Rural Electric is the most effective "counteractor" to the evils of public utility monopoly. The healthy competition of Rural Electric helps break the grip of monopoly by introducing effective competition. This keeps electric

Vote Buying And Selling

THERE is a great cancer in our social structure when a man, or group of men, are willing to sell their vote to the highest bidder. A man who will offer his only weapon against profiteering and poor government, for sale, deserves no better, and is certainly no better man or citizen, than the individual who offers to buy it!

It is a sad day for our forefathers when we, the heirs of the government which they built, stoop to selling our birthright for a bowl of porridge. And that is exactly where some of us stand today!

There seems to be, at least to some individuals, an indistinguishable line drawn between right and wrong, and they make a practice of making wrong look right. . . at least to satisfy their own consciences. Until the day comes when we are willing and able to stand up and say "I vote and express my own opinion and that is that," we will be bribed and bullied by a group of the lowest form of human life on this earth. They are those men who have sacrificed principle and their very souls for prestige, money and what is often misinterpreted by them as "power"! It is not power, but weakness, and it feeds on the gullibility and the apathy of you, the unprincipled or foolish citizen who has the right to vote, but hasn't the brains to use that vote the way it should, and was meant to be used!

The County Roads

SINCE the recent hard weather which played the dickens with Chilton's rural, and local roads and streets the County Road Department and Engineer Bob Alexander have done an admirable job of getting the roads back in shape.

Of course, we know there are many of you who will disagree with that statement, purely because they haven't gotten to "your" road yet. But they are only human, and can only do so much in a day. We think they have done a splendid job of keeping the roads passable and in good shape, considering the inclement weather and circumstances under which they have had to work.

Our hat's off to the men, throughout the County who have had a hand in maintaining our most traveled roadways. There's been a tough, and most of the time, thankless job. We appreciate their efforts and their toil!

Exposed Nerve

OUR editorial on Republicans last week must have been more truth than fiction or it struck a very exposed and sensitive nerve! They're playing the fox, but they had better beware. . . Brer Bar ain't as dumb as they like to think he is!

We Do Not Pledge Allegiance

IT is becoming increasingly more difficult to stand still when individuals insinuate, in the nicest way they know how, that we, as a newspaper editor, have pledged allegiance to making everybody happy, regardless of what principles we may sacrifice in doing so!

Some influential citizens speak to us about this or that with the implied knowledge that "they know we have to do business with John Brown, so we naturally wouldn't want to step on his toes." We do not intend to cut off the hand that feeds us, but when it and what we owe allegiance to no individual or group, and it is insulting for anyone to imply that we do!

As far as we are concerned business is business, and our opinion, or the other fellow's is just that, and should not be used as a shield or a battering ram. We do not wish favors because of favors that we might do in return, and we should not want anyone to feel it was the other way around, either. Our opinions are our own; it is the only way we could possibly live with ourselves. Up to now, we have had no difficulty sleeping at night because of compromise of ideals and we do not intend to change that policy. It may be naive to think it. . . but we feel we are right! If we have lost business or favors before because of our policy of principle, then we will probably lose again! Intimidation is neither our bedfellow nor our watchdog. . . we like it, and intend to keep it that way!

Jemison, Alabama
February 12, 1962
Mr. R. M. Tucker,
Editor-Publisher,
Chilton County News
Dear Sir:

This letter is written to you in the hope that you will publish it in fairness to all so that the voters may see the other side of your front page article in your February 1, issue.

Reviewing our congressional representation to the last quarter of a century, can you or anyone else, name one outstanding accomplishment during this period? Upon what source of information do you base your statement of prestige and popularity in and by the Congress? That is a statement I cannot accept in the face of actual fact. Don't you think it is a little far fetched for you to expect the voters of this congressional district to blindly support any candidate for re-election, running on a Democratic ticket, who has entered into and become a part of a coalition of self styled conservatives and northern, southern and Republican in an effort to appease his narrow minded views and to block or bottle up necessary and progressive legislation and to this end and under this pressure did vote against enlargement of the House Rules Committee thereby attempting to throttle the entire House of Representatives? Who voted against the minimum wage bill, medical and hospital care for the infirm aged, area re-development act, with treasury financing, emergency educational act, public works appropriation bill for fiscal year 1962. Voting for the infamous Landrum-Griffin anti-labor bill and many others.

Let us not forget the resentment shown by the late Speaker of the House, Hon. Sam Rayburn by cancelling an appointment to an important committee. Why should that happen? Can you call such as this popularity?

If a politician is not true to his party, to whom can he be loyal? I am extremely sorry that I cannot agree with you on this issue but the facts in the matter are too plainly evident for even a shadow of doubt. I do not believe the voters will be misled again.

Very respectfully,
G. S. Naish,
Route 1, Jemison, Ala.

ALA. POWER OPPOSES $20 MILLION LOAN TO ELEC. CO-OP

Mr. Gordon L. Robertson, District Manager of Alabama Power Company, said today that his Company is opposing the proposed $20,350,000 loan to Alabama Electric Cooperative, Inc., on several grounds. He said that Alabama Power Company supplies Alabama Electric Cooperative with power, and the co-op requires for its wholesale customers at one of the lowest rates in the nation; its service is good, and it stands ready and willing to supply the co-op with any additional power it requires. He recalled that the original REA act specified that loans to co-ops were to be made for furnishing electric service to persons in rural areas who are not receiving central station service."

Mr. Robertson emphasized that the proposed loan of the Alabama Electric Cooperative will not bring electricity to a single customer who can't get electric service now if he wants it. "The only new customers that the proposed loan of the Alabama Electric Cooperative now being served by Alabama Power Company. The proposed Alabama Electric Cooperative rates to its new customers are much higher than the low rates Alabama Power Company charges its co-op customers."

The Red Cross

The Red Cross is perhaps one symbol most recognized and most welcomed by all mankind. In every part of town, in every corner of the world, the Red Cross stands for neighborly help wherever there is human need.

To disaster sufferers the family burned out next door, Texans made homeless by Hurricane Carla, Burmese destituted by that nation's worst floods in a quarter century, the Red Cross means shelter, food, clothing, medical way of life.

To American men and women in uniform, whether serving half way around the globe or newly arrived in training camps with personal or family troubles compounded by separation, the Red Cross means helpful counsel and, in emergencies, rapid communication and financial assistance.

To surgery patients or the chronically ill Red Cross means life giving whole blood and its disease fighting components, gamma globulin, serum albumin and fibrinogen.

To the traffic accident victim down the block or the innocent bystander wounded in the fighting in the Congo or somewhere else in the "hot spot" the Red Cross means prompt aid that may spell the difference between life and death. With increased international tensions and greater awareness of the need for peace in every American family to be skilled in first aid and home nursing. Red Cross chapters are stepping up their health and safety training programs.

Whether you are a banker, a baker or a sideshow Barker, whether you are in the center of the city, on a suburban street or a super highway the chances are you will benefit from a Red Cross service sometime during the coming year.

The Red Cross is able to give this help only because of the continued support by the American people, either during its annual campaigns for members and funds in March, traditionally designated as Red Cross Month by the president of the United States, or through United Appeals in the fall.

(Use Either of the two following paragraphs that is pertinent to your Chapter.)

Mixed-Up Emotions

SOME of those candidates who are aspiring to be public officials next year, and who profess to desire what is best for the County, would do the County more good if they would really and truly stand and say what they believe and think, rather than trying to say what they think the voters want to hear.

The voting public is fickle, that's true but the large majority of them as not idiots, and they can see a fence straddler a mile down the road!

The Public Speaks

IF the opinions we are getting every day from the laymen in the County are indicative of anything and they should be, since they are the voters-the man who will be our next Superintendent of Education will be the one who can best explain the present educational system in the County and who can best inform the people of just what is going on and why. The average voter, from all indications, is looking for some answers to some vital questions regarding his children. . . that is not to be dealt with lightly!

MAN OF THE WEEK

AS local head of the 900-member Mt. State Farmers Cooperative, Dent Ballard, is a most welcome member to the News honor roll of Men Of The Week.

Mr. Ballard, who is married to the former Mrs. Ben Bona of Chilton County and the father of two fine children, came to Clanton in 1951, some eleven years ago from Montemore, Ala. He attended school at Lanier High in the Capital City and Auburn University. He is a registered Pharmacist, having served in Uncle Sam's Navy in that capacity.

Dent, as he is known through out Chilton County, is a man of varied interests and capabilities. When he came to Clanton, he and his brothers built the Farmers Marketing & Exchange business into one of Chilton's finest organizations serving the farmers of this area. The Mt. State Farmers Co-op, which he now heads, employs some 60 persons and is serving the farmers of this area even greater than ever. It is one of Chilton's leading industries in terms of local employment and manufacturing volume.

As we said, we're proud to count Dent Ballard as a Man Of The Week!

CITIZEN SPEAKS ON OUR INDUSTRIAL POTENTIAL

Editor:
Chilton County News
Dear Sir:

In my letter of two weeks ago I pointed out the industrial potential which with the proper will and determination, we can get. An industry which will conform to our needs and natural resources.

There is, along the banks of the Coosa river, some of the most beautiful scenery to be found anywhere in the eastern part of the United States. I have indeed been told by people who were world travelers that a boat trip from Mitchell Dam to Lay Dam was as beautiful as those fabled spots in Europe or anywhere else they had traveled.

Now our trouble is that this beauty is inaccessible and undeveloped. So we need to appoint a committee to meet with committees from Shelby and Elmore counties.

This should be composed of the probate judges and commissioners of the counties. They should consider a three county scenic highway passing right down the river and joining the four lane highway at the earliest sites. The sole purpose of the highway would be for tourists and vacationers. There should be tree-lined bridges spanning the highest crags then winding through the lovely valleys with occasional views of the broad river. There should be creeks, damed and leveled bottoms for people who enjoy swimming.

The highway need be no super highway, just a good all weather macadam road with plenty of parking places and camping grounds.

I have no idea what such a project would cost, but I know what it would do-it well advertised.

In the spring and summer and fall tourists by the thousands would travel this road. They are the fellows who stop and buy peaches, berries, watermelons and cantaloupes. It would be a peddlers paradise and Chiltons people like to peddle. We would have all the business we ever had and five times more besides, let the trucks go wheeling by, tourists have always been the boys who stopped and spent.

If more counties along the Coosa wished to join in so much the better, the longer the highway the more people will come to see it.

I think the people along the highway who gave the right of way should have choice sites for fruit and berry stands but there should be reserved plenty of stands for all our farmers, rent free, to market the things he grows.

This thing is so big and so important that our people should give up all other farm to market roads and apply all the money here. Bonds should be floated and new taxes passed if necessary to put it through.

Here is a job for everyone, particularly suited for our people, good small farmers, good peddlers and good fruit and berry growers. All can profit from its conclusion and all can help to put it through.

Lets begin by talking it over with our County commissioners and probate judge. Give them the assurance of your support and prod them a little if necessary.

It is on this note I close. To the commissioners and judge under whose administration this work is started will have the honor of beginning the greatest enterprise, that will bring the most good and give more real employment to our people than all other Employment combined.

Yours very truly,
Doyle McRae

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

Legislative action in the House of Representatives last week included the passage of a bill providing for the appointment of an additional assistant secretary for the Commerce Department to serve in scientific and technological affairs. His field will take in the Department's relationships with the Bureau of Standards, the Weather Bureau (including the weather satellite program), and the Bureau of Roads, as well as other agencies and private industry.

By a roll call vote of 231 to 169, House members approved the Commerce Department's request for a new assistant secretary to serve in scientific and technological affairs. His field will take in the Department's relationships with the Bureau of Standards, the Weather Bureau (including the weather satellite program), and the Bureau of Roads, as well as other agencies and private industry.

The present three assistant secretaries in the department do not have specific jurisdiction over these areas, a situation which reportedly has made it difficult to coordinate scientific and technological research activities.

Creation of the new position reflects the government's expanding involvement in programs attributable to the space age.

CLOSER PENSION CONTROL

The pension and welfare bill passed by the House is an amendment to the welfare and pension plans disclosure act that became law in 1958. This act was based on a proposal to prevent abuses and irregularities in the administration of employee benefit plans. Proponents of the measure approved last week argued, however, that the original act did not contain sufficient enforcement powers for the government.

Up until now, the administrators of the private welfare and pension plans covering about 25 percent of Labor. The new million Americans have been required to file brief summaries of three programs with the Department requires detailed financial reporting each year from an estimated 200,000 pension and welfare plans operated by companies, unions or both. It also gives the Secretary of Labor authority to enforce provisions designed to give the government floor supervision of pension and welfare funds.

Those who opposed adoption of this amendment did so chiefly because they feel it would burden small businessmen with costly administrative details while, at the same time, discouraging many employers from setting up employee benefit plans. Also, the measure tends to place too much control over a fundamentally private matter in the hands of the federal government and particularly under one federal official. Doubtless it would add to the cost of running the government. Although there are some abuses in the administration of pension funds, a real need for protection of the general public has not been demonstrated.

The present three assistant secretaries in the department do not have specific jurisdiction over these areas, a situation which reportedly has made it difficult to coordinate scientific and technological research activities.

CONFERENCE REPERCUSSIONS

Events subsequent to the conclusion of the recent foreign ministers' meeting in Punta del Este, Uruguay, have served to emphasize the historic significance of that conference.

In just the last week Argentina has completely reversed its position. Not only does the Argentine government now support the prompt overthrow of Castro's Cuba from the inter-American system, but diplomatic relations between Cuba and Argentina have been severed. In addition our own government has placed a total embargo on all imports from Cuba, thereby severing one of Castro's last sources of dollar exchange.

These events indicate the conference at Punta del Este has signaled the beginning of a new long awaited phase in our struggle against the hemisphere threat posed by Castro and communism.

Statement From
L. A. Lambert

As perhaps most of you know by now I have had to take back ownership and management of Lambert Motor Co. At this time I want to thank all my friends and customers who have favored me in my business. For those that might be interested and under circumstances that exist at present we have a few new Chryslers and Plymouth cars that will be sold to first come first served at Dealers cost no Tradeins. When these cars are gone there will be no more at that price.

Our repair shop and Body shop is still giving the best service we know how with our competent mechanics. And we feel like we have the best front end machine operator and best body man available.

Thank you,

GOD ANSWERS PRAYERS

"How can God build a protecting wall around us in a situation like this? The children said. The next day early in the morning they knew how God did it.

The snow had fallen, and the winds had blown. The snow had drifted so high that all around the house was a high wall. This was the protecting wall their mother had prayed for. The house was completely free from Napoleon and the passing French Army. The children learned a lesson. God does answer prayer.

Japan Trade Center Opens To Serve U. S. Southeast Area

New Orleans, major port area of the southeastern portion of the United States, is the site of a new, expanded trade center recently opened by JETRO, the Japan External Trade Organization. The new facility is in the famous New Orleans International Trade Center.

Like other Japan Trade Centers around the world, the New Orleans office is a non-profit service. Its information services are free to all qualified businessmen. Goods on display there are commercial samples only; they are for sale only through established retail outlets in New Orleans—and throughout the country. Designed to meet the growing needs of the South as a manufacturing and marketing center, the new trade center will provide four major services: Supply information to American businessmen who wish to do business with Japan—both those who wish to sell as well as buy from Japan; Conduct market research for Japanese firms;

Participate in International Trade Shows; Establish better understanding between the business communities of Japan and the United States. Japan is the second best customer of the United States—ranking next to Canada. In the past 5 years, the balance of trade between the U.S. and Japan has favored the United States by 12 billion dollars. That is, we have exported 12 billion dollars more worth of goods to Japan—than we have imported from our East Asia ally. It is hoped that the New Orleans Japan Trade Center will stimulate business and understanding between Americans in the Southeastern portion of the country—and their Japanese counterparts.

New Hours For S. S. Representative

THE Social Security Representative from Selma will begin making his scheduled visits to Clanton every Monday from now on, according to Geo. W. Barker, Selma District Office Manager. The Wednesday visits are being stopped.

The time and place remain the same, that is, at 10:00 A.M. in the Agriculture Auditorium located in the new Courthouse.

INSURANCE AGAINST CONDEMNATION

Nearly everyone is insurance conscious. Insurance is sold to cover almost every emergency from birth to death. Did you know that the oldest insurance company in the world has for thousands of years offered insurance against condemnation? That is true. The Bible tells us that as we forgive others, so we are forgiven. This is one of the laws of life. It cannot be repealed.

Everyone has a chance to put his policy against condemnation into action, for no one goes through this world without being hurt by someone else. But it isn't necessary for you to hold an unforgiving spirit because of these wrongdoings.

During the dry season, when Africa's weather is ideal, a tribe of Christian natives observe what they call "Forgiveness Week." Each man, woman and child pledges to forgive any wrong that has been done to him or her. At the end of the week, when all hearts are cleansed from grudges, a festival of rejoicing is held.

How happy and clean we feel after we have forgiven one who has wronged us! As the ugly attitudes of bitterness, resentment and hatred are washed from our hearts, we become more sensitive to God's love and His goodness. Because forgiveness benefits us so much, we should forgive those who wrong us.

National P.T.A. Reaches 65th Birthday With Glance Back, Plans for Future

An organization that devotes itself to children and their welfare reaches senior citizen status this February, with a schedule full of further projects in behalf of children for the years ahead.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers celebrates its 65th birthday on February 17, the anniversary of the "National Congress of Mothers" held in Washington, D. C., in 1897.

This session marked the beginning of the P.T.A. Its founding, by Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, will be observed this year by more than 47,500 parent-teacher associations throughout the U.S. and in communities of Americans living overseas.

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins, of Roslyn Heights, L.I., N.Y., president of the National Congress, calls the P.T.A. "a great social invention."

Like other inventions, she notes in her Founders Day anniversary message, "it was created out of need—the need of parents for more knowledge about children's health, growth, and development; the need for child labor laws and juvenile courts; the need for health and recreation facilities; the need to build broad highways of educational and vocational opportunities that might be traveled by all children and youth, not just the fortunate few."

Historic-minded P.T.A.'s across the country may mark the Founders Day observance with a glance back to the time of the first Congress. In the words of one historian for the National Congress, those were days "bustling with progress and growth..." but with educators "calling for increased appropriations to the public schools, more attention to teacher training, more practical curriculum, and greater consideration for handicapped children..."

The time was ripe for reform — "especially for launching a movement directed toward the welfare of children." Young Mrs. Birney and the philanthropic Mrs. Hearst sparked what was soon to become a nation-wide organization of which they are memorialized as Founders.

Since that time, P.T.A.'s have continuously directed their efforts toward:

—Establishing and supporting public kindergartens;

—Pioneering hot school lunch programs and supporting adequate appropriations for them;

—Conducting parent-education workshops in all parts of the nation; and programs of home and traffic safety education;

—Urging regular physical examinations for millions of children from birth through high school;

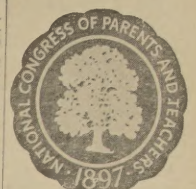

—Raising the standards of treatment for youthful offenders and helping establish juvenile courts for minors;

—Donating millions of dollars in scholarships for prospective teachers.

—Backing bond issues directed toward improving facilities for children's education and recreation.

Large as such achievements may seem, Mrs. Jenkins points out that "much remains to be done for children, in this changing world of 1962."

"Through the P.T.A.," she says, "we help alleviate the hardships and confusion that result from change, and we help to establish services to meet new needs."

Oak tree emblem adopted in 1922 represents relationship of members, local units, and state branches to parent trunk of National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"Polka Dot Heart"

"Will you be my valentine?" The Polka Dot Heart seems to say. This shimmering dessert will delight sweethearts of all ages and it's so very easy to make. All you need is strawberry gelatin, whole cream-filled chocolate cookies, and whipped cream for a topping. Extra cookies in a pretty dish complete your St. Valentine's Day special dessert. Here's how to make it:

Polka Dot Heart
2 packages strawberry gelatin, 2 cups cold water or pick your own flavor 13 to 15 Hydrox cookies 2 cups boiling water 1 cup heavy cream
Add gelatin dessert to boiling water and stir until dissolved. Stir in cold water. Pour three quarters cup of the mixture into a lightly oiled shallow heart mold, about 5 cups capacity. Place in coldest part of refrigerator until almost congealed. Arrange Hydrox cookies in mold and press lightly into gelatin. Return to refrigerator for a few minutes. Gently pour in another cup of cooled gelatin (keep in warm part of refrigerator but do not let set), and let chill until set. Gently pour remaining liquid into mold and chill until completely set. When ready to serve unmold on plate. Garnish with whipped cream and serve with additional Hydrox cookies. Yield: 6 to 7 servings.

Barbecue Sauce Adds Flavor To Rice Dish

French women are known to create the most delicious dishes on a limited budget, but American homemakers can match this flair for cookery.

Here, for instance, is a tasty all-American main course with a bounty of flavor and appetite appeal. Seasoned to perfection with bottled barbecue sauce, this hearty entree features a happy union of packaged pre-cooked rice, green peas and frankfurters. Served with a tossed green salad, it's sure to bring applause from the whole family.

Barbecue Franks and Rice Dinner
 6 frankfurters, sliced thinly
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 cup chopped onions
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 1 pound ground beef
 1 beef bouillon cube
 2 1/2 cups water
 3/4 cup Open Pit Barbecue Sauce
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups Packaged Pre-cooked rice
 1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen Green Peas

Heat frankfurters in butter in a skillet. Remove frankfurters, reserving butter in skillet. Keep frankfurters warm. Add onions, garlic, and green pepper to remaining butter in skillet. Sauté until onions are transparent. Add beef and sauté until brown. Dissolve bouillon cube in water. Then add bouillon, barbecue sauce, salt, and rice to beef. Mix well to moisten rice. Cover and simmer until most of the liquid is absorbed, about 10 minutes. Meanwhile, cook peas according to package directions. Drain well. Place peas and frankfurters in rounds in the bottom of an oiled 1 1/2 quart ring mold. Add rice mixture and pack lightly. Let stand at least 2 minutes to mold; then unmold on a hot platter and serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Why is Lloyd D. Mims gaining more pledges of support and co-operation everyday? Could it be that he has a platform that is open to the public and stands ready to be corrected if any of the following are true?

1. Lloyd D. Mims states that the voters want and need to know the names of all persons with the amount received for services rendered from the income of the one cent sales tax over a period of time. The reason why many parents have turned away from this tax starting producing income has not been answered. Do you think you should pay the light and water bills?

2. Lloyd D. Mims feels that the people of Thorsby and Jenison have been neglected when it comes to their share of the building fund program. In this county the voters want, every section to have its share for country children are precious too. If elected superintendent, he will see that all the children in the county there won't be any other section receiving all the favors. The people in Clanton are fair minded; therefore they demand equal treatment for all children.

3. The people of Chilton County do not have the kind of educational program they need. If elected superintendent, he will see closer cooperation with the teachers and lay public, this program could be developed. Whenever we seek the help of the people, we have to carry out our programs, then desired results will be ours.

4. If a new building is to be built in this county for schools must be complete before we try to build another. The new school must not enter into the building of schools. Why must we have half a building program anyway?

5. Lloyd D. Mims will stop and is now against the communities of Enterprise, Collins Chapel, Thomas Junior, Concord Stanton and Mt. Pleasant. Let us see if we can get the people agree to consolidation. Let's ask them how they feel.

6. Lloyd D. Mims will see that every merchant, who handles such as food, clothing, by the board of education, has a notice that bids will be accepted. Such bids will be published in local papers. No one can stop a merchant from over underbid everytime, or have them if bids are taken.

7. Lloyd D. Mims will see that local merchants receive the same purchases made by the board of education and our schools.

8. Lloyd D. Mims states that bus drivers and bus shop employees could be given a raise or testing their routes, and rerouted to stop much overlapping and unnecessary trips made in order to please a few. Why haul children from the one school to the school of another community? The savings made along this line could be used to give these employees a decent wage. He will stop this or find out why it is.

9. Lloyd D. Mims will leave no doubt in the minds of the voters who are superintendent of education if he is elected. Never will there be any doubt where he stands on an issue.

10. Lloyd D. Mims will never attempt to drive teachers to the back of the room. Nothing that is designed to improve our instructional program. Only duty felt co-operation will accomplish any objective. Let us consult teachers when adopting policies that concern them.

11. Lloyd D. Mims will see that the people know when the board of education will meet. Have you ever been notified that any meeting was to be held for the purpose of discussing business affecting your schools? Teachers need to be present to speak for or against the board of education. After all, whom is the board of education supposed to serve?

12. Lloyd D. Mims will not promise that certain changes will not be made because changes will often bring new life into a system. Don't you agree?

13. Lloyd D. Mims can say that he is not being politically backed by anyone person or business firm. He will not stop that if elected superintendent, he will not be handled, nor try to play both sides of the fence. The children and their needs must be a superintendent's concern.

14. Lloyd D. Mims states the schools in white schools and all colored schools are still in deplorable conditions. Efforts have been made to cover this fact, but the voters know better. Let's work now to change these conditions in the white schools, and we must do something for the colored schools or we are just asking for trouble. Our leaders don't have things under control as if they want us to believe.

15. Lloyd D. Mims will favor using local labor to build all school buildings in the county. Since we have a local firm and men capable of doing our work, we could keep the money in this county by using local union labor that knows how to do the job, if others are going to make a mess of things.

16. Lloyd D. Mims knows why certain business firms and persons of low principles have started working so hard against me. Do they know their fingers will be moved from under and several covered facts might be uncovered?

17. Lloyd D. Mims believes that the voters are capable of deciding for themselves whom they want to vote for. Let us see if we can get more power seeking persons or person afraid of losing their jobs, is not needed and will be refused. The voters are not so ignorant concerning facts that a few have tried to cover.

Sincerely,
Lloyd D. (Simon) Mims

Milestone Reached In Care For Chilton County's Needy Aged

February first was a milestone in Alabama's progress toward medical care for its needy aged, Pensions and Security Commissioner Alvin T. Prestwood said today. On that date the new Medical Assistance for the Aged program became effective as well as a plan where services can be met for old age pensioners.

Medical Assistance for the Aged is to help persons 65 and over who are not receiving old age pensions, but cannot pay for heavy medical bills, the Commissioner explained. The program includes two different medical services, he said. The first is up to 15 days of hospitalization (excluding one-day admissions) for acute illness or major injury when not recommended by a physician. The second is payment of not over $15 to a physician in return for office visits made within 30 days following hospitalization under MAA and related thereto. The maximum per visit is $5.

Application for MAA should be made to the County department of pensions and security only at the time hospitalization is needed or expected to be needed within 30 days. Other applications will be automatically denied unless there is evidence necessary hospitalization within the month. Prestwood said the county departments determine if the applicant meets the eligibility requirements (other than medical need for hospitalization). Each one must show proof he is 65 or over, must be living in Alabama and making the State his home, and must not have income or resources above the limits for the program. In general, a person is eligible if his income is not over $1,200 (single) or $1,800 (married couple living together). Prestwood said allowances are made for reserve, business assets, etc. o

It was emphasized that a person cannot receive MAA if he is receiving an old age pension. A person hospitalized under the MAA program may later be approved for an old age pension or a person formerly receiving a pension might later qualify for MAA," the Commissioner declared, but no one can receive both at one time.

The primary difference between the new MAA program for needy, non-pensioners and the Old Age Pension Hospitalization program is that the Department does not pay the first $50 of MAA hospital cost. Prestwood said. This deductible amount is necessary in the light of available funds, he said.

The physicians' services allowed for MAA and pensioners are the same, Prestwood added. Payment will be made for visits to a doctor's office within 30 days after hospitalization provided they are related to the hospital story, and do not exceed $5 for any one visit or a maximum of $15.

Prestwood also said that a person hospitalized in an emergency situation can apply for MAA after admission for care.

"We cannot estimate how many persons will benefit from this program," Prestwood concluded, "but we believe it will be of real help to many senior citizens whose incomes are sufficient for basic needs but insufficient to cover a costly medical emergency."

There Is NO Excuse For this Waste of Your Taxes— It Can Be Stopped!

Newspapers reported that on October 26, 1961, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States, in a statement to Cabinet officers and agency heads said:

"... I have asked each of you to follow a most careful and frugal policy with respect to commitments and expenditures...."

"I am especially desirous that new programs or expansions of existing programs be undertaken with caution... that sound criteria are used... and minimum funds are spent. I much prefer that obligatory authority remain uncommitted where there is any doubt that expenditures would yield substantial returns to the national interests...."

Despite this expression of the President the Rural Electrification Administration only six days later announced the allocation of a $20,350,000 loan to the Alabama Electric Cooperative, Inc., most of which is to be used to build a wholly unnecessary steam plant to generate electricity for the cooperatives.

What can be the purpose of this REA loan?

When the REA was established in 1936, its avowed purpose was to provide electricity only to persons in rural areas to whom service was not available. The Act of Congress establishing REA provided and still provides that the REA Administrator is authorized to make loans "for rural electrification and the furnishing of electric energy to persons in rural areas who are not receiving central station service...."

The proposed steam plant will not make electric energy available to any person to whom central station service is not now available.

The late Senator Norris, one of the fathers of REA, specifically declared that no money would be loaned by REA "for the purpose of electrifying a rural area which is now supplied."

The late Speaker of the House, The Honorable Sam Rayburn, declared: "We are not in this bill intending to go out and compete with anybody. By this bill we hope to bring electrification to people who do not now have it. This bill was not written on the theory that we are going to punish anybody or parallel their lines or enter into competition with them."

Now, 26 years later, farm electrification is more than 98% complete. So what can be the purpose of this REA loan?

Not one additional farm will receive electricity

Alabama Electric Cooperative, Inc., does not have even one farm customer. Its customers are two industries, six cities, and six distributing cooperatives. This loan is a waste of your tax money that cannot be defended; it is a waste that should be stopped for these reasons:

1. This plant will not bring electricity to a single customer to whom electricity is not already available.

2. The only new customers it will serve are customers now being served by Alabama Power Company.

3. The proposed plant will not bring cheaper power to these new customers. Alabama Electric Cooperative rates to its co-op customers are much higher than the low rates Alabama Power Company charges its co-op customers.

If the cities and co-ops which are customers of Alabama Electric Cooperative had over the past seven years bought all of their power supply from Alabama Power Company instead of from the Alabama Electric Cooperative, they would have saved over $2,000,000!

4. Alabama Power Company supplies Alabama Electric Cooperative with power at one of the lowest rates in the nation and stands ready and willing to supply it with any additional power it requires.

5. The plant is not needed and, therefore, represents a waste of your tax money.

Why your taxes are so high

This allocation is called a loan, but to a large extent it is a gift of taxpayers' money because the interest it calls for—two per cent—is less than the rate that the government must pay for money it borrows.

Alabama Electric Cooperative pays neither federal nor state income taxes, although its customers paid it $2,299,478 for electricity in 1960. The proposed plant will contribute nothing in taxes to national defense or other federal purposes. Your taxes (and ours) are high in part because cooperatives do not pay income taxes, and that deficiency must be made up by all taxpayers at a higher rate of taxation than would be necessary except for these tax exemptions.

This loan or gift of tax money to build this proposed plant will be an immediate and continuing waste of tax funds, not only because no taxes will be paid to the federal government from its operation, but also because it will displace production from Alabama Power Company plants, from which the governments, federal and state, do receive taxes. In other words, this use of your tax money reduces the government's own tax revenues!

Raw example of government hostility to business

The President of the United States has also expressed concern about reports that members of his administration have been hostile to business. Here is a raw example of such hostility.

Loan can't be made without State approval

This loan cannot be made without approval by the State of Alabama through its Director of Finance. Since 1935, Alabama law has wisely provided that such a proposed loan must be approved by the state government, only after a hearing and only after finding that such loan serves some public need and is in the public interest.

Alabama Electric Cooperative, Inc., on February 5, 1962, filed an application with the State Department of Finance seeking its approval. At this hearing, it is our intention to oppose the waste represented by this proposed loan in every legitimate way. Perhaps you would like to add your protest to ours.

Completes Training

William R. Newman, son of Mrs. Ruby L. Newman of Route 4, Clanton, Ala., completed recruit training, Dec. 1, at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The nine weeks of training transform raw recruits into blue jackets ready to take their place in the fleet. Throughout the training, experienced counselors help determine which of the Navy's 67 career fields each man is best suited for.

Harold E. Bodiford
In Alaska

Army Specialist Five Harold E. Bodiford, 28, whose wife Doris lives on Route 2, Jewson, Ala., is scheduled to participate in Exercise Great Bear with other personnel from the 40th Armor in Exercise Great Bear, a joint U. S. - Canadian winter maneuver in Alaska, Feb. 12-21.

The exercise will test cold weather military doctrine and the ability of the two allied armies to work together as a fighting team. Exercise Great Bear will be conducted in the vicinity of Tanacross and Eielson Air Force Base, one of the most rugged areas over which an Alaskan maneuver has ever been held. Principle terrain features in the 3,200 square mile maneuver area are the heavily forested lowlands of the Tanana river valley and the mountains which range as high as 4,000 feet, converging on both sides of the valley.

Specialist Bodiford, a tank driver in the armor's Company A at Fort Wainwright, entered the Army in 1953 and arrived in Alaska on this tour of duty last September.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose C. Bodiford, 3723 Gammill st., Jackson, Miss., he attended Liberty Grove High School in Jackson.

The Jemison FFA Chapter attended the county elimination contest at Verbena on February 1, 7:30 p.m.

Jemison came out with the two placing in the Public speaking contest; Ronnie Ellison represented Jemison in this contest.

Our quartet came out with the number one placing. The Jemison quartet is made up of Jerry Haynes, Larry Gore, Floyd Langston and Charles Mundy.

We were very proud of the very fine performance by the quartet and our public speaker. The Area Public Speaking and Quartet contest will be held at Marbury on February 27th at 10 A.M. Jemison will represent Chilton County at this contest and Isabella will represent us in Public Speaking.

Mr. Ray McGee, Vo-Ag. teacher of the Jemison High School stated that the Sears Polled Hereford, Happy, is now available for service in this school district. We have been using him rather heavy in the past but is not in service at the present. We have two very fine and well marked calves from him; these being his first calves.

Mr. McGee also stated that the Vocational Agriculture Advisory Council will have their next regular meeting on the 26 at 6:30 p.m. We urge all members to be present and there will be some food. Do not eat before attending the meeting.

1961 Pecan Crop
Largest For Ala.

Alabama made one of the largest pecan crops ever in 1961. While weather conditions were favorable, we believe part of this increase was due to the use of more fertilizer and other good practices. We do not necessarily have to make a small crop this year. Trees that made four to eight inches of new shoot growth last year stand a good chance of setting a crop in 1962. To make regular annual crops it is essential to follow a complete program of good production practices.

The important job right now is to fertilize the trees. Pecans make most of their growth in a fairly short period in the spring. On bearing trees, 20 years or more in age apply 100 pounds of 8-8-8 per tree.

If zinc sulphate has not been applied in the last five years, add 10 pounds per tree to the fertilizer. Annual applications of two pounds per tree will also prevent rosette.

Pecans do best with a soil pH of 6.0 to 6.5. Have a soil test made and apply lime if needed or apply one ton of lime per acre if none has been used in the last five years. If lime is applied, be sure to use zinc sulphate.

Plan now to spray for insect control especially nut case bearers and aphids, and to control scab on susceptible varieties if at all possible. A new material Cyprax, now makes scab control

Butane boils and bubbles even though beaker is filled with ice cubes. It is rapidly turning into vapor—the way boiling water turns into steam. Butane's ability to vaporize at low temperatures helps Super Shell gasoline give you quick starts in cold weather.

One of Super Shell's 9 ingredients can boil on ice. Helps your car start fast for top performance on coldest days.

EVEN in zero weather, a car in good mechanical condition should start in 3 or 4 seconds.

If it doesn't, could be that your gasoline isn't vaporizing fast enough. Winter can have that effect on gasoline.

Shell scientists take care of this problem by including an ingredient called Butane in Super Shell's 9-ingredient formula.

Butane can hardly wait to vaporize. It will even boil on ice and turn to vapor (see picture above). Fast vaporization, fast starts. It's that simple.

Note: in very cold weather, Super Shell gets an extra dose of Butane.

Quick-starting Butane is only one of Super Shell's cold-weather ingredients. There are three in all. Read how the other two can also help you when winter's doing its worst.

Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups

The Pentane mix in Super Shell's winter blend helps speed the "warm-up" process inside your engine. Pentane mix works like kindling in a log fire. It ignites easily — gets everything going faster.

"Anti-icer" fights icing stalls

The third cold-weather ingredient in Super Shell's winter blend is an anti-icer. Its job is to fight carburetor icing. This phenomenon can lead to sudden stalls when you least expect them.

Shell's "anti-icer" coats vital carburetor parts with a very thin chemical film. This film discourages critical ice buildup and cuts your chances of icing stalls.

How Super Shell's other ingredients help you get top performance

Now you know about three of the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell. Here's how the others help to give your car top performance.

TCP* additive helps restore the power that combustion deposits can take away.

"Cat-cracked" gasoline is for smooth, even power with a purr.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889213.

Alkylate helps control "high-speed knock"

Gum preventive helps keep carburetors clean inside.

Anti-knock mix gives extra resistance to knock.

Platformate is for extra mileage.

P.S. When you drive in for a tankful of Super Shell, ask your Shell dealer to check your anti-freeze. It's a small precaution, but it could save you a lot of trouble.

HEY MOM: STOCK IN FOR FALLOUT

By Mildred S. Van de Mark

Safe guard your family's survival by planning your food and water reserve now. The United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Office of Civil Defense has made very sound recommendations for the survival of people, in event of disaster. The regular food supply should be increased so that there will always be a two weeks supply of food available for your family in the home.

As food is used from the reserve it should be replaced immediately and stored in such a manner that the fresh supply is always placed at the front of the shelf so that the older will be used first.

Foods that will keep for months without refrigeration, and foods that require little or no cooking should be chosen. It is important that the foods selected are as well balanced as possible for the family's diet and that consideration is given to the preferences of family members. Familiar foods are likely to be more acceptable in times of stress.

If you have prepared a fall out shelter, keep your reserve food supply there. If you have no shelter, keep this food in the basement or part of the house where you will be safest in case of attack. All foods should be in cans, jars, or tightly sealed paper containers, and should be stored in a cool area, preferably not over 70 degrees F.

Amounts of foods suggested for one adult for two weeks, which will supply the calories and essential nutrients needed follows.

Milk - Seven quarts (one 14 1/2 oz. can) evaporated milk equals one qt fluid milk.

Canned meat, poultry, fish, cooked dry beans and peas - 28 servings (8 to 9 lbs.)

Fruits and vegetables - 42 to 56 servings (Approximately 21 lbs. canned)

Cereals and baked goods - 42 to 56 servings (5 to 7 lbs.)

Spread peanut butter and crackers. Cheese spreads, peanut butter, jelly, jam, syrup, honey, etc.

Fats and vegetable oils - One lb. or one pint.

Water should be stored in sterilized containers, preferably glass with screw tops. Heavy plastic containers with tight fitting caps may also be used. Clean water stored in this way should remain palatable for an indefinite period.

Sugars, sweets, and nuts - One to two lbs. (sugar, hard candy, nuts, etc.)

Miscellaneous - Instant tea, coffee, cocoa, others, salt and pepper.

Multiplying suggested quantities of food by number of adults in the home. Teenagers are likely to need more than the amount suggested, while younger children need less. All of the foods listed should remain in good condition from six to eighteen months if stored properly.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

AT least one of our "Men Of The Week" has attained a degree of notoriety because of having been chosen. Mr. Patterson sent the original article in the News to his family and their hometown newspaper wanted to publish it! Of course it wasn't the article they were interested in. . . It's the man we were just fortunate enough to have called attention to him!

WHERE did we go astray? Mark, our youngest son, got away from his mother the other day at church and the caught up with him about the 4th floor of the building! "Just where do you think you're going young man?" she scolded. "I'm going to Heaven," he replied, "and you ain't going!" Guess that's one way to go, but we never thought of it!

THE continuous Government central is burning our stomach! When are they going to stop antagonizing the greatest producers in the world, which the American farmer is, and join him in his basic desire to feed the hungry world? They rant and rave about it being impractical and too expensive to send food to hungry peoples, and we have surpluses of most, and could grow much more than we do! It doesn't seem to be impractical to shoot another missile into the air, and we have yet to learn of that feeling anywhere. It's impractical because they're afraid it will work, and then we would make some gains toward peace. That would knock out a lot of bureaucrats and fancy ditchdiggers in Washington! Which do you think has the more logic, or practicality?

BILL Eiland says he'll be leaving you. He will be out of town this week-end attending a Post Graduate Course in Atlanta, Georgia. You know, Bill's the one that tells you whether or not your eyeballs are coordinating with your ears and so forth!

A note tells us that Hank Meyer, a Senior at Howard College, is President of the Inter-Fraternity organization there. That's all the note says, and congratulations Hank!

SANDRA MIMS, Clanton; Mary Alice Bill, Mt. Creek; Flora Allison, Calera are all participating in College Night festivities at Montealeo, Alabama College this week-end. Miss Mims graduated from C.C. H.S., Miss Bill from Verbena High, and Miss Allison from Jemison High. Looks like Chilton County is well represented!

MAPESVILLE'S 1st Lt. James P. Short recently participated in ceremonies at Ft. Benning, Ga. in honor of the U. S. Secretary of the Army Elvin J. Stahr, Jr. Lt. Short led an Honor Guard of the 24th Infantry, 1st Infantry Brigade.

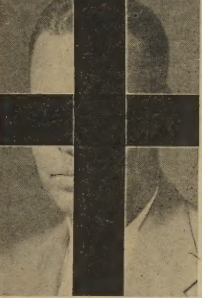

IN preparation for their roles as bookmobile librarians for the proposed library demonstration for Bibb and Chilton Counties, Mr. and Mrs. Reddie Smith of Clanton visited the Cross Trails Regional Library in Opp, Alabama recently to observe activities and learn more about rural library work!

OES Covered Dish Supper
CLANTON Chapter 271 OES will have a covered dish supper at 6:30, Thursday evening, February 22 in the dining room of the Masonic Lodge. All members are urged to come and bring a covered dish. The regular meeting will follow at 7:30 in the Chapter Room.

MILLER WINS THE MYSTERY MAN AWARD

OTT Miller was first in to identify the News Mystery Man last week. It was Mr. Horsley White! Folks out on the routes either didn't mean what they said, or we made it too hard for them, because we did not receive a Post Card from anyone this week. Of the many who came in to guess in the office, only four guessed right, and most of them were sure they were sure they were right! We had 'em guessing Red Fulmer, Roscoe Williams and Randa! Vozey, among o'h rs but it was really Mr. White! You must come by the office after 8 a.m. Thursday morning for your entry to be valid. Those sending in post cards (only cards please) should get them in as soon as possible. First correct answer with earliest Postmark wins!

WHO IS THIS WEEK'S "MYSTERY MAN"?

Public Health Conference

Everyone is invited to attend the singing to help sing.

Chestnut Creek Holds Youth Revival

CHESTNUT Creek Baptist Church will hold their Youth Revival the week of March 25, through April 1st. The Youth of the church will be in charge of the service which will be held each night at 7:00 p.m. All members are asked to attend and visitors have a cordial welcome.

Singing At Center Hill

THERE will be a singing at Center Hill church, Sunday afternoon, February 25 at 2 p.m. Everyone is invited. The new convention books will be used.

'Old Glory' Proudly Waves

IN impressive ceremonies, Sunday, the Stars and Stripes of the United States of America were raised to the top of the new flagpole at the new Chilton County Courthouse. The American Legion of Chilton County conducted the ceremony. The flag is one of the very first five fifty-star flags to have flown over the nation's capitol after Hawaii was accepted as a state. (News photo by SCOTT)

Notice! THERE will be a regular meeting of the VFW Post 3193, on Thursday night, February 22nd at the Veteran's Club at 7 p.m. All members are requested to be present.

FFA Week Observed In Chilton

Future Farmers of America throughout the nation are scheduling special activities to focus public attention on the work of their organizations during National FFA Week, February 17 - 24.

Membership in the FFA is made up of farm boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed primarily to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship and to stimulate the boys to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishments in farming.

The Jemison FFA Chapter has 93 members. We have one of the larger chapters in the state. The Officers of the Jemison Chapter are:

President, Kenneth Davenport Vice President, Joe Century, Secretary, Jimmy Robinson, Reporter, David Morris, Treasurer, Royce Davis, Sentinel, Jackie Hicks.

Mr. Ray M. McKee, Vocational Agriculture Instructor in Jemison High School serves as advisor of the FFA Chapter.

The national Future Farmer organization has about 380,000 members, with 9500 local chapters in the 48 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Membership in Alabama totals about 15,000 members.

Future Farmers choose the week of George Washington's birthday each year for the observance of National FFA Week. Although usually recognized as a Revolutionary War General and our first President, Washington's first love was the farm he called Mount Vernon. There he was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotations, fertilization and other soil conservation and improvement methods. It was more than a century after Washington's death before general use was made of many of the sound agricultural practices that he advocated.

A Proclamation

The Future Farmers of America is a National Organization of, by and for farm boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the public high schools of the public. A local chapter of this fine organization is active in the Jemison High School.

As America's future farmers, these young men hold in their minds and hands the progress that this community and this nation may make in the years to come, because a prosperous and productive agriculture is the very foundation of our American standard of living.

As students of vocational agriculture in high school they study the scientific, economic, and mechanical aspects of modern farming. As members of the Future Farmers of America they learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in public meetings; to speak in public; to market farm products; to solve their own problems; to finance themselves; and to assume civic responsibility.

The population of America and of the world is undergoing tremendous growth. At the same time, in this nation the number of farmers is decreasing. Despite the great abundance of agricultural products today, it is vital to our future happiness and security that we maintain a supply of skilled farmers and other

DO YOU HAVE TALENT?

DO you have talent? If you can pick a guitar, fiddle, or sing and dance, and you are a student at Isabella High School, you should get in on the big Talent Contest which will take place there on Friday, March 9th.

"Folks are really working hard at Isabella," said Mr. Leon Wilcutt, Belcher IEH Homes Sales Manager and promoter of the Contest. "And we predict a full house and plenty of good talent when the 9th of March rolls around!"

No foolin' kids; this is the chance you've been waiting for, and the proceeds go to the Isabella School and P.T.A. for project funds.

And besides all that, the Belcher Boys Band, which is heard over Radio Station WKLF, is being well-received in Chilton County and they will be there to entertain and make you laugh.

Advance tickets are on sale by the Isabella Parent-Teachers Association. If you don't have your ticket, what more needs saying? Keep posted on the proceedings through your News! By the way, be sure to see last week's winners inside this issue.

'NEW STORE IN TOWN'

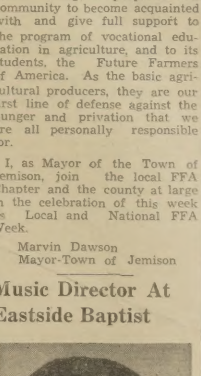

DON'T miss the Grand Opening of the White Auto Supply Store in Clanton this coming Saturday, all day! Herbert Dennis and Fred Smitherman, owners of the new store, invite you down to look over their wares and participate in the drawing to be held. There will also be free lollipop and balloons for the youngsters.

Fred and Herbert have put much time and preparation into the opening of their new store and you will miss something if you miss their Grand Opening. The new store is located in the old Hayes-Stokes Chevrolet Building on the corner of 1st Avenue and 7th Street.

HD Members Equip New C.H. Kitchen

Home Demonstration Club members throughout the county are taking "Equipping the Demonstration Kitchen in the New Court House" as one of the main projects for the year. Home Agents compiled a list of equipment that would be needed and distributed the list to club presidents. Each club is making plans for donating equipment so it will be available for cooking demonstration or luncheon meetings of the County Home Demonstration Council.

Two County Home Demonstration meetings have already been held in the Extension auditorium in the new Courthouse. So club members are already enjoying the auditorium and kitchen.

FARM MEETINGS

A series of general information meetings will be held in the following communities by County Agent John D. Sellers and his staff to discuss soil testing, cotton and corn varieties, pasture development and management, insect and disease control, and other timely topics. All farmers are encouraged to attend the meeting scheduled nearest them.

Simultaneous Revivals To Be Held March 25-April 8

A letter was mailed to all the pastors and other leaders of the churches requesting a commitment concerning participation in the Simultaneous Revivals in the Chilton-Unity Association March 25 to April 8. Some may hold the revivals two weeks. Others may plan to hold it one week from Sunday to Sunday. Many of the churches have committed to participate, and have secured the evangelist. Some have asked the pastor to do the preaching. There are many wonderful pastor-evangelists who will be happy to come to any of the churches in this Association if they were invited. Every church is expected to call or mail the commitment to the Superintendent of Missions immediately. Please do this although the church does not plan to participate. With all the churches involved in a revival effort at the same time, praying, visiting and witnessing singing and preaching the gospel, it would have a tremendous spiritual impact upon the populace of this great County. A revival is needed Church leaders.

Attention Boys Interested In Junior Golf Tournament

The Clanton Jaycees are trying to find a boy young old or under to participate in the county golf tournament.

If the Clanton Jaycees can find enough boys that are really interested in this tournament we will hold a county elimination and the winner will go to the state finals and four will be picked from the state finals to go to the international tournament held this year at the Spring Valley Country Club at Huntington, W. Virginia.

The U. S. Jaycee International Junior Golf Tournament is recognized as the largest of its kind in existence. This past year over 20,000 youngsters participated at the local event and over 1,000 Jaycee Junior Golf Tournaments were conducted in communities, towns and cities all over the nation.

Tournament play is open to all boys who are under 18 years of age prior to midnight August 15, 1962. Each state is allowed to send four juniors to the international tournament as a team representing their particular state.

First, lets get Chilton County represented in the State finals and then we'll see about it in the national tournament.

A Junior Golf not only builds the body, it also quickens the mind and develops interest and skill in an outdoor game than can be played for a lifetime. It teaches lessons that build character and stimulates personality.

B. Golf as a sport is no longer reserved for the privileged few. Today, it is enjoyed by millions. Many dollars for mths game's big state receipts are going into programs which help deserving youngsters play golf.

Eligibility: Competition is open to any male junior golfer who will not have reached 18 years of age by midnight, August 15, 1962.

Rules:

USGA official rules govern all play. An official rule book will be available for everyone.

A. Advice can be given to the player only by his caddy.

B. Loose impediments.

C. No changing ball.

D. No irregularities of surface shall be removed or pressed down.

E. Positively must hole all putts.

F. Clear understanding of lost ball and out of bounds penalties and unplayable lie.

Please contact Edward Davis or any Clanton Jaycees for further information. Dates of the county state and international tournaments will be announced later.

While mankind has been stow to grant women full recognition her influence stands out in the unraveling of all recorded history. Women were vital factors in all the great movement of mankind.

THE PILGRIM WOMEN

Today there are no fields of enterprise which women have not entered and where the best of them have made outstanding success. The women of Center Hill Home Demonstration Club have also contributed their share of success in different enterprises.

Q. What kind of business institutions—these Electric Co-ops?

A. They have brought light and power to Alabama farms and rural homes, schools and churches where there was no power or light before. They have made possible the decentralization of industry into rural areas. They have opened up a vast new market for all sorts of electrical goods and services.
Rural Electric is free enterprise at its best—good for all Alabama.

Pilot Club Held Area Workshop

The 1961-62 Area Workshop for District II of Pilot International was held in Montgomery on February 5th at the Dexter Avenue Methodist Church. The members of the Pilot Club of Clanton who attended the Workshop were: Joyce Clements, Lois Mims, Helen Parrish, Nell Simms, Zora Smith and Clara Ward.

The annual Area Workshop is for the purpose of helping all Pilots to become better informed about the heritage and functions of Pilot International. This purpose was carried out in entertaining fashion by an informal discussion period led by Helen Parrish, representing Miss Pilot 1961, and Mrs. Mary B. Coker of Tallahassee, dressed as Miss Pilot 1921. Members of the various clubs of District II participated in the discussion by answering questions and giving

You are inside Shell's new all-weather laboratory at Wood River, Illinois. Here, Shell scientists test Super Shell for top performance in bitter cold.

Tests in Shell's new "40 below" lab prove that Super Shell 9-ingredient blend can give top performance all winter

SUPER SHELL'S winter blend includes Butane for quick starts. Pentane mix for fast warm-ups. And an anti-icer to help fight stalling. Here's how they work—and how Shell engineers test them for top performance.

1. How Super Shell helps you get fast starts

Butane is the quick-firing ingredient in today's Super Shell. It can boil and turn to vapor even on ice. Butane's ability to vaporize when cold helps Super Shell start your car promptly all winter.

The starting test: A car, filled with Super Shell, soaks up zero-degree cold for 12 hours. It must then start promptly. Shell engineers run cold-starting tests on a variety of cars. They insist that Super Shell help them all start promptly.

2. How Super Shell speeds warm-ups

Pentane mix is Super Shell's fast warm-up ingredient. It ignites easily, helps speed the warm-up process.

The warm-up test: A car, filled with Super Shell, stays in the lab overnight. Temperature: zero. Next morning, the car is started and eased up to cruising speed. Suddenly, the accelerator is pushed halfway to the floor.

The car must respond smoothly, without sputtering.

3. How Super Shell fights carburetor icing

The anti-icer in Super Shell coats vital carburetor parts with a protective film. This film helps guard the parts against critical ice buildup, helps prevent icing stalls when they are most likely to occur.

The icing test: Lab temperature is raised to 40 degrees and air moisture increased. These conditions encourage carburetor icing.

REASON: Fuel evaporation lowers the temperature inside your carburetor, freezing the airborne moisture. That's how ice can build up and stall your engine—and when Super Shell's anti-icer must do its job.

Super Shell winter blend at all Shell stations today

You now know how three of Super Shell's nine ingredients work. The other six are for power, extra mileage, a quiet engine, top performance.

Politician - 1962 Vintage...

SOME very unsavory "facts" have already been going the rounds concerning at least five of the aspirants for public office in Chilton County.

If these situations are real, then our political arena has pretty much gone to the dogs in Chilton County, and the point we wish to make here is, that we have nobody but ourselves to blame for the problem.

If the allegations are true, then we can understand why we have such a time interesting the right man in the field of politics. If they are not true, then that is all the more reason for our difficulty.

If we do not clean up our political minds, ideals and philosophies, then we cannot hope to clean up politics.

We, in Chilton County, can count ourselves extremely fortunate, really, in that we have some mighty fine men who are running for various offices in the forthcoming May Primaries. It would seem, that we do not necessarily deserve such good fortune, but nevertheless we do have it, and it is a valuable opportunity for us to set things straight and make politics clean enough for our best men to participate. As it is, the average citizen makes it difficult to run for office, to the extent that the man seeking the votes, is obliged to have an indestructible self-control; an untiring sense of fair play and lots and lots of plain, everyday, ordinary guts!

For Chilton's Schools

THE program established by Belcher IEH Homes and Mr. Leon Wilcutt, Sales Manager, to give to the various communities in the County entertainment, and at the same time make a little money for the individual schools, is interesting and is attracting more interest each week.

The original Stage Show and Talent Contest in the program, as outlined, was held on February 16th at Enterprise School. Mr. Wilcutt said the first one was a success and the school made some money for much needed projects. The next Show and Contest is scheduled to be at Isabella School on March 9th.

Some folks hesitate to endorse such a venture, because of its commercial connections, but it is apparent that the idea is filling a useful purpose—that of helping our schools and Parent-Teachers Association—and it deserves your attention, if not your support!

Courthouse Dedication

DIGNITARIES and political hopefuls were found in abundance last Sunday afternoon as the new Chilton County Courthouse and Jail were officially dedicated and opened to the public. At least three candidates for Governor and practically all local candidates were present on this auspicious occasion, making it one of the most colorful and memorable of its kind, in the history of this County. Yessir, now we can go on to bigger and better things... we have our new Courthouse and Jail!

An Emergency Plea-

THE Chilton County Red Cross Chapter is in dire need of advanced donations with which they can carry on the Red Cross program now.

The yearly Red Cross Roll Call begins March 1st and Mrs. A. Reddie (Pauline) Taylor is chairman of that Roll Call. If you can see it possible to make your contributions NOW, you most definitely will not be called on during Roll Call in March.

There have been several who have already made their contributions to help in this emergency.

So please see it in your heart to give now so the Red Cross can help now!

Call Mr. Burton Mullins or Mrs. Taylor.

REAL AMERICANS—FARMERS
15% TO NEEDY

America's farms and rural communities increased their commodity gifts to the destitute overseas by 15 per cent in 1961 it was announced today at the annual meeting of the Church World Service, relief and rehabilitation agency of major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches in the United States.

These contributions of CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program), the community food appeal of Church World Service reached a 10 year high of nearly five million pounds valued at $1,210,000, the Rev. Albert W. Tucker, CROP director, reported.

Cited for significant increases in contributions to the program were Kansas, Illinois and Indiana.

Included in 1961 CROP shipments were 1,900,000 pounds of wheat; 1,100,000 pounds of beans 670,000 pounds of rice; 420,000 pounds of corn oil; 200,000 pounds of corn syrup; 140,000 pounds of wheat flour and 115,000 pounds of chopped beef.

Corn meal, vegetable oil, sugar, rehydrated potatoes and soy protein accounted for an additional 115,000 pounds.

These foods helped meet disaster and continuing aid appeals in 28 countries, alleviated dietary deficiencies, and were also distributed as token wages to refugees and the destitute working on community self-help projects were 40,000 pounds of field and garden seeds, four incubators and 25,000 pounds of cotton used to make blankets and quilts for homeless refugees.

CROP receives contributions through Friendship Acres, a special appeal for farmers who dedicate a portion of their produce or livestock as gifts, and through community wide programs.

Across The Editor's Desk—
To The Voters
Of Chilton County

The County Commissioners made a serious mistake when they sold the abandoned Courthouse unless the sale was approved by the voters of the county. The sale they made was almost a giveaway.

That is a good building and ideally situated for a City or County Library and Chilton County needs one. Or if not used for a Library, convert it into an office building and let the income from it help pay for the new Courthouse.

Also they should not have sold it until the new building was occupied and they got the expression from the voters, and in the meanwhile tried to find out if the building would be needed by the County for some other purpose.

I suggest that the newspapers and the People of Chilton County demand that the Commissioners Court rescind the sale and hold it until a LATER AND BETTER OFFER.

VOTER

Among the reception guests one could hear, "Did you know that the County Commissioners have given a salary and travel expense increase?" One newspaper added a comment about the salary increase, "A Congressman would receive more pay in a day than a soldier on the field of battle would receive in a month."

by ORAL ROBERTS

CHRIST IS NEVER STINGY

Christ is never stingy in His gifts to those around Him. When He fed the multitude, He provided more than they could eat. When He healed the people, He made them every bit whole.

Christ taught abundance. He told His followers not to worry about food, clothing and shelter. He assured them that their heavenly Father knew they needed these things and would provide them when His children sought Him and His Kingdom above all else.

When we place Christ at the center of our lives, we will have no cause to worry about tomorrow. God will meet our need abundantly.

A young Christian salesman prayed about his sales each day before he started to work. He asked God for the amount of business he needed to meet his quota. Each day his sales totaled almost to the penny the sum for which he had asked.

One day he said, "God is 'n' the said 'Son, this is all wrong. God is not miserly. He wants you not only to meet your quota but also to be the top salesman in your office. Why not pray for abundant success?"

The young salesman began to ask the Lord to enlarge his work and his prayers were answered. Today, he is a partner in a very successful business.

All blessings come from God. All surplus originates in Heaven, not on earth. Therefore, you can safely look to Christ for the meeting of every need.

God has prepared an abundance of all needed things for you—material things as well as spiritual ones. He does not want you to lack any good thing. He wants to give you all of these blessings, and they are yours when you seek Him first.

In a white frame house near us lives a couple with four children. It is interesting to watch this father provide for them. He works hard and never complains. He teaches his children to be self-reliant and industrious. He has given them a rich spiritual heritage. He delights in supplying their every need. A common mark of a good father is for him to want his children to have an abundant supply for their need. The eternal God is such a Father. He loves you very much. He gives willingly. Everything God has is yours.

Did you know the Bible says, "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory?" When you think of your need, think of how rich God is, how easy it is for Him to supply it.

What is your need today? peace? joy? clothing? a job? money? a home? Whatever it is, God will supply it. All He asks of you is to put first things first—seek first His Kingdom and all these things shall be added unto you.

ness, room count was taken.

Mrs. Vera White Griffin gave the devotional for the afternoon. It was very inspiring. Mr. Norton introduced Mr. Morris Moates who was the speaker for the afternoon. He brought the P.T.A. up to date on the work of the county library. This is something we should be very proud of and everyone should work to keep it.

After the program, Mrs. Ralph Johnston of the Hospitality Committee invited everyone to the Silver Tea in honor of Founder's Day.

The next meeting of the P.T.A. will be on March 13 at 2:45 p.m. in the Agriculture Building.

MAN OF THE WEEK

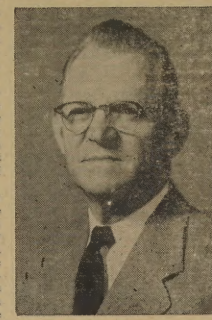

MR. HORSLEY White, as the News Man Of The Week, is a valuable citizen of Chilton County and one with wide experience in promoting and supporting his community.

Mr. White came from Chambers County originally, and to Chilton County on September 6, 1928. He was in the bottling business for 20 years and also worked at the Chilton Post Office during World War II for four years.

He is married to the former Ernie Bihrey. They were married in La Grange Ga. on September 11, 1918. They have two daughters: Thelma White, who is a teacher in the Jefferson County school system, and Essie White Johnson who lives with her family in Clanton. The Whites have two grandsons. "And they are grand," says their grandpa!

A deacon in the First Baptist Church here since 1935, Mr. White is also a member of all the Masonic Bodies, Woodmen of the World and the Shrine. He was chosen as a representative to the Imperial Council of the Shriners in Denver, Colorado in 1960.

His 10th year of service to Chilton County as Circuit Clerk, Mr. White says: "I sincerely hope I can continue to serve the people of Chilton County for still another term!" And we'll tell you, he has served diligently and well.

He is also a member of the Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce and is on the City Planning and Development Board. Mr. Horsley says he's just a joiner! We say he is one citizen who realizes his obligations and works very hard and sincerely to carry them out! We salute him!

Attendance Record
Of Chilton Schools

ATTENDANCE in Chilton County Schools has been unusually good during the current term. The largest number of absentees has been due to illness caused from flu, but the flu now seems to be subsiding.

At the close of the fifth month the total enrollment in the white schools was 4,000 with an average daily attendance of 4,457. The schools having the highest percentage of attendance was Mineral Springs, 95.28. In the colored schools the total enrollment was 1,178, with an average daily attendance of 1,087 and the highest percentage of attendance was 94.55 at the Chilton County Training School.

In the county there are forty-four colored teachers and 183 white teachers.

C. C. Hospital Aux.

Met February 20

The Chilton County Hospital Auxiliary held its regular meeting on Tuesday, February 20th, 1962 in the Dining room of the Nursing Home.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. R. M. Tucker who asked Mrs. Hugh Jones to open the meeting with Prayer.

Reports were made from several committees and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary Mrs. W. A. Willis.

Mrs. Sibby McGowan thanked the auxiliary members and all the organizations in the County for all the wonderful ways in which they had helped to make the residents in the Nursing Home happy.

Upon being asked if there was anything the members of the auxiliary could do to help in the Hospital, the administrator Mr. W. E. Elmore told of the need for more towels and sheets to be made.

The auxiliary members present unanimously voted to take some of the materials home and make them, later do the sheets and drape in any other way they could in the future.

The new officers were elected at this meeting for the year of 1962-63, they are: Mrs. Dick "Evans, president; Mrs. H. H. Channon, vice president; Mrs. Barnett DeRamus, secretary.

Music Director At

Eastside Baptist

CHARLES H. LOWERY

On Sunday, January 28, 1962 the Eastside Baptist church of Birmingham called Charles Lowery to be its music director. He accepted the position on February 4.

The son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Herman Lowery, Charles is presently attending Howard College in Birmingham where he is a senior music education major.

Charles was formerly music director at the Calvary Heights Baptist church of Alexander City, Alabama.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

Considerable controversy has developed in recent weeks over the Administration's effort to create a Department of Urban Affairs and Housing headed by a cabinet-level secretary.

A bill proposing this new department was endorsed by the Government Operations Committee of the House and Senate. Last month, the House Rules Committee refused to grant a rule to permit the measure to be considered in the House of Representatives.

As a substitute method for getting the proposal before Congress, the Administration recently submitted a reorganization plan which calls for setting up an urban affairs department. Now that the request for the new department is embodied in a reorganization plan, it will either be rejected or will be come law automatically.

As provided by a statute enacted in 1949, all reorganization plans take effect 60 days from the time they are presented to Congress, provided neither chamber votes to reject them. They cannot be amended by the House or Senate.

NUMEROUS POWERS
FOR SECRETARY

Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1962, which recommends the Urban Affairs Department, would vest all the functions of the new department, The Federal Housing Administration and the Federal National Mortgage Association, would also be transferred to the department, with the secretary having supervisory authority over both. In addition, the plan dictates that the Public Housing Administration be dissolved as a separate agency and its functions placed under the Secretary of Urban Affairs and Housing.

The President announced last month that the present administrator of the Housing and Urban Affairs Agency would be his choice to head the new department. The administrator is Robert C. Weaver, a Negro who has been criticized for regarding federal housing programs as instruments for furthering racial integration. The new department would provide a central authority in the Secretary of Urban Affairs for a possible Executive Order to end racial separation in federally assisted housing. In fact, the plan would place almost unlimited power, particularly over huge sums of money involved in the various programs that would be consumed by the new department, in the hands of one federal official.

But there are other logical arguments against the creation of the Urban Affairs and Housing Department. While merely transferring to the Department the existing programs and responsibilities of agencies already in operation, the plan would necessitate the creation of several expensive top-level jobs.

In addition to the added expense to the government, the Urban Affairs Department would impose greater control and influence on local slum clearance and housing programs. This could lead to almost total usurpation of local authority.

Because of these and other reasons, I strongly oppose creation of the new department. Of course, its proponents offer numerous arguments in favor of the proposal. The last remains, however, that if a new department were created every time an Administration felt it were needed, the cabinet would become too unwieldy for efficiency and the government too expensive to run.

NAIL BITING

Nail-biting is indulged in by children and adults of all ages and of both sexes. Not an attractive habit, it is surprisingly common in cases of anxiety neurosis. Children bite their fingernails as a follow up of sucking their thumbs.

In former years treatment of nail-biting in children included drastic measures. The child was rebuked by parents in an attempt to shame him out of his so called bad habits. Fingers were painted with bitter acids or quinine, and gloves were put on the child at bedtime. In some extreme instances, the hands were encased in splints to make the nails grow out without the child. If the child had been nervous or anxious before, such drastic treatment increased his neurotic symptoms and some times led to real trouble.

Now it is generally accepted that most children respond with out preventive treatment. Instead, physicians and child guidance directors endeavor to find substitute outlets for the child's aggression.

Insecurity resulting from parental bickering, frequent change of residence, or birth of another child in the family is often mirrored in evidences of conflict such as nail biting. The child often feels guilt, largely caused by parental disapproval, and this guilt may greatly increase the child's difficulty.

Guilt sensation brings fear of punishment which causes more nail biting, then more guilty feelings and more fear. Play therapy is frequently a means of distracting the child from his nail-biting.

Any questions that you want to ask may be sent to Social Security, C/O Chilton County News, Clanton, Alabama.)

Q. How far back can benefits be paid? I was 65 two years ago and had my income cut to $1200. Can I get checks until now? Can I apply now?

A. No. Checks can be paid only for 12 months back. You should apply right away. For each month you delay, you will lose a month's payment.

Q. I am still working. I don't know how much I am getting each year. Is less than $1200. Can I stop working and draw all of my social security?

A. Yes. As long as you're not making over $1200 you will be able to get all your checks.

Q. I am still working. I don't know if I can draw any checks I'm 65. What should I do?

A. Check with us. When we know how much you're making and what your benefit will be we can tell if you would draw any payments now.

Governor Promotes River Projects

River development holds the key to Alabama's future, in the opinion of Gov. John Patterson. "I believe our rivers are going to bring an economic blessing in the next decade," the governor said at Demopolis, where he greeted thousands aboard the State Yacht "Alice." To call attention to the state's second-longest river system, he sent the State Dock-operated boat up the busy Tombigbee for a three-day port call. In this photo, Gov. Patterson, left, points out the newly-selected site of the proposed Demopolis inland dock to Industrial Development Director Leland Jones, right, and Ellis Stewart, state highways specialist. The site is now being acquired.

All-American Favorites For Dinner

Pork chops and apple pie are on the dinner menu tonight . . . and many other nights through the year. Why? Cause they're both all-American favorites and please invited guests or cherished family.

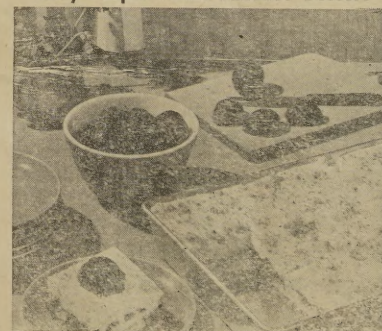

Let's make the pork chops extra special tonight by cooking them in a rich creamy smooth sauce with colorful cheddar condensed cream of vegetable soup, sour cream, chopped parsley, and Maderia wine. A really yummy entree!

To go along with this popular main dish fix a crunchy vegetable molded salad or a simple tossed green salad. Include, too a family-favorite dressing. The apple pies for dessert are the ready to bake frozen individual kind. Serve them warm with a slice of Cheddar cheese.

Pork Chops in Creamy Vegetable Sauce
4 pork chops (about 1 pound)
1 medium onion, sliced
1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1 teaspoon salt
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of vegetable soup
1 cup sour cream
1 cup water
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon Maderia
Brown chops; pour off excess drippings. Add onion, mushrooms, thyme; cook until tender. Blend in remaining ingredients. Cover and cook over low heat about 45 minutes or until chops are tender. Stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.

Juicy Purple Plums Enhance Dessert

It's hard to find a better- or more inexpensive- treat than "Society Dessert" to serve at a club meeting in your home. If there's any left over, the family will go for it, too. Graham cracker crumbs form the base and topping for a filling of canned purple plums, chopped pecans and whipped evaporated milk in a lemon gelatin mixture. A luscious purple plum half atop each chilled serving provides an elegant touch.

Rich-looking canned purple plums, which have been scarce for the last two years, are now available in good supply in grocery stores to add delightful flavor to many desserts and entrees.

Society Dessert
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) evaporated milk
1 can (1 lb. 15 oz.) purple plums in extra heavy syrup
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2 packages lemon gelatin
3 cups hot water
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups graham cracker, ginger or vanilla cookie crumbs
Pour evaporated milk into refrigerator tray; chill until icy cold and partially frozen. Drain plums, cut into small pieces. Add nuts. Dissolve gelatin in hot water and chill until partially set. Whip until light and fluffy. Add lemon juice, rind and sugar. Whip chilled milk and fold into gelatin mixture. Line bottom of 13 x 9-inch pan with crumbs, reserving 1/4 cup for top. Pour in half of gelatin mixture. Arrange plum mixture over it. Spoon in remaining gelatin and sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Chill until firm. Cut into squares to serve. Garnish with purple plum half, if desired. Makes 15 servings.

Jemison F.F.A. Chapter

The Jemison F.F.A. Chapter has recently sold for our FFA Calendar. These calendars have been received and distributed through out the Jemison and Clanton community.

This calendar features a group picture, like the one above, of the members of the Jemison FFA Chapter. Our chapter has a membership as of the date of 93 FFA members and 84 enrolled today in our regular vocational agriculture classes. Some of the members were absent when the above picture was taken. This calendar was made possible by the cooperation of the merchants and businessmen of Jemison, Thorsby and Clanton, by their buying the ad space. The profit from this very fine activity will be used in the operation of our Chapter through this year.

Business men who participated are: The Bank of Thorsby, Barbers Milk Co., The First National Bank of Clanton, Ellison Beauty Salon, Peggy's Beauty Salon, Thorsby Dari-Deite, Bell Hardware Co., Lenoir Building Supply, Collins Gro. & Feed, Wood-ley's Gro., Jemison Physical Therapy Center, S. M. Pate, Ins. Agency, Tommy's Dari-Lan, The Town of Jemison, Mid-State Farmers' Coop, Jemison Beauty Spot, Cobb Bros. Hdw., Jemison Cafe and Flower Shop, Lowery's Barber Shop, Crumptions Amoco Station, Martin Funeral Home, Lenoir Milling Co., The Peoples Saving Bank.

We would again like to thank each of you for your very fine cooperation in the above project. If we can be of any service to you, feel free to call upon us at any time.

Serve Chicken Many Times
... Many Ways

Chicken is wonderful! With the many ways it can be prepared, chicken can be served often... and should be, because it's plentiful and economical... and still be a tasty treat each time.

Have you ever prepared Coq au Vin? A French classic recipe prepared simply and easily with chicken parts, canned condensed consommé, dry red wine, and seasonings. To make the dish complete small whole white onions and canned mushrooms are added. All are simmered together for a rich blending of flavors. Your family will certainly appreciate you treating them like "company" for this is truly a festive chicken entrée.

A salad of mixed greens... dressed with an oil and vinegar dressing... is the perfect accompaniment.

In true French fashion, finish dinner with chocolate pudding served in individual soufflé cups or pot de creme cups.

Coq Au Vin
2 pounds chicken parts
1/4 cup flour

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Generous dash pepper
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 whole small white onions
1/4 cup chopped celery with leaves
1 medium clove garlic, minced
1/4 teaspoon leaf thyme, crushed
Generous dash rosemary, crushed
1 bay leaf
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
1 cup Burgundy or other dry red wine
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom buttons, drained
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Dust chicken with flour seasoned with salt, paprika, and pepper. In heavy pan, brown chicken in shortening. Remove chicken, pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Add onions, celery, garlic, thyme, rosemary, and bay leaf; cook a few minutes. Stir in remaining flour. Gradually blend in consommé and wine. Add chicken. Cover; cook over low heat 45 minutes; stir now and then. Add mushrooms and parsley. Cover; cook 15 minutes longer; stir now and then. Remove cover; cook until sauce is desired consistency. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

KEEP UP WITH YOUR CANDIDATES
[READ THE NEWS]Lloyd D. Mims Explains The Facts
As He Sees Them:

Why is the race for superintendent of education drawing so much attention to one candidate? Could it be the fact that Lloyd D. Mims is the first and only one to stand on issues that the voters are concerned with. The voters have a right to know how any candidate feels before electing him. Lloyd D. Mims states that he is not trying to convince the people he is such a good fellow and so highly qualified, because a candidate for superintendent of education has to meet the highest of standards before he can qualify to run for the office. The candidate must be certified by the State Department of Education and the State Superintendent of Education. His records must be clean in the county where he is to run, or how could he run? Smears in this campaign cannot stand because the record speaks for itself; therefore, the voters realize that the candidate is qualified, so they want to know how the candidate stands on all issues, and what he proposes to do about such issues.

Lloyd D. Mims wishes to state that our county is blessed with some of the best teachers and principals in this country and no reflection can be thrown at them. They are doing an excellent job. When existing conditions are corrected that prevent the people from giving their full support as they should, these people will then give you a system that will be excellent in every way.

The people are entitled to know about conditions that are hindering our educational system. If a candidate presents only good points for political record, then the people realize something is wrong. Lloyd D. Mims is afraid of losing votes because he gives his stand on both the good and bad points. He openly states that a candidate cannot play both sides of the fence and be honest with the public. Leave no doubt in the minds of voters that Lloyd D. Mims feels that his stand is not a list of promises, but a stand on what he will attempt to do and how he will do it.

If a candidate seeks re-election, he owes it to the public to present the record of his past term along with the facts the public demands. Surely every candidate has a reason for seeking office. In 1957, when Lloyd D. Mims is seeking the office of Superintendent of Education. Does he have a fair knowledge of the strong and weak points of the system he wishes to head? Does he understand how the public provides for its children? Read the following statements:

1. The details on the one cent sales tax are still a mystery except to a select few. The leaders didn't spare any effort to tell the people why they wanted the passage of this tax, but now it is impossible to get any idea on how much it brings into our county, how it has been spent, or the plans for spending it. Everyone remembers the many promises that would be taken care of if it was passed. Was there some bad planning in what could be done? If elected, our superintendent of education, I will publish in every detail the names of persons and business firms with the amount received and how it is expended. Someone has gotten paid for services, so let's find out how much and for what. How is this tied up to the extent that light and water bills must be paid by the people. This is a matter of concern to all the people because this tax was supposed to accomplish certain objectives. Yet, for some unexplained reason this tax has not been able to solve the objectives. If the people aren't entitled to know where every cent is going, then they should stop paying the tax. Every cent spent must be in the interest of the public. Why is it so hard to get information about this tax? When any candidate promises to publish certain facts, certain members of that Old Gang of Mims will offer paltry stakes and leave. Don't be surprised any day that one or more try to leave the picture. Just remember that the remaining ones have and are being highly indoctrinated in ways to carry on the same type program. It is time the voters decided whether the old gang will continue to monopolize the picture or be broken up and new faces given a chance.

2. The credit for the income from the one cent sales tax not correcting the horrible congestion or preventing the many promises from turning sour can't be laid entirely at the doorstep of the lawmakers, for the office of the superintendent of this county decided how the income was to be spent and the ones who made the wise decisions concerning which conditions would be corrected. Let's not blame ten or twenty years for the trouble. Let's be broad-minded about this issue and work to acquire first-hand information.

3. It is strange that several counties have gotten so much from the state building program and Chilton County should have, then with the income from the one cent sales tax, we should be on top in every detail. Does it make sense to you that we aren't? I am going to search for the answers unless someone gives them to me. Then the answers will be given to the voters.

4. The school children still go to school in fire hazard buildings in this county. Yet, elaborate facilities are built for smaller schools with two-thirds less children. Has such actions shown that any common sense was used in placing the facilities where the children are in need of the most? I favor taking care of the largest number of children first, especially if they are in such need.

5. Inside our schools must be found the best instructional program anywhere. Our schools must accept the challenge of preparing our youth for college and everyday problems. If necessary we must ask for our colleges to come into our system and help set up a program that will teach them they expect us to teach. We are backward when our children have to take special tests to enter college or see if they have completed high school satisfactorily.

6. This county needs a guidance director who will see that we have the kind of guidance in all our schools that will guide our boys and girls before it is too late. Let's don't make a mistake of anything called guidance. Doing something half way is worse than not starting at all. I favor employing a guidance director for the county to work in the office and with the schools.

7. There is no need for our rural schools to be closed or gradually eliminated. Some of the best teaching in this county is found in the rural schools. I favor buses from leaving these schools with local children and transporting them to another school already provided with pupils. Real money has been spent on these schools to close them now.

8. The children of Concord School are in need of a place to meet for assembly programs. This community has never gotten much from the county except the people. Considering the number of children they have, it is high time they received their share. These people even paid for most facilities they enjoy.

9. The pupils at Clanton Elementary are in desperate need for a place to assemble. You can't imagine this number of children not having an auditorium. If plans have ever been made to construct a new school, I have never heard of it. Yet, we go on a spending spree to build a place to play ball for both boys and girls. I am afraid we have forgotten the academic side of schools when ball playing comes before auditoriums, lunchrooms and classrooms. Lloyd D. Mims does not promise he can correct all conditions, but with the help of the board members, plans can be made to formulate means for correcting them. Progress has been made in the past, but it is time to correct the mistakes of the past.

10. Did you realize that there is a high school in this county without a vocational department or a football team? This school is the same size as others. I pledge every effort to correct this condition if elected superintendent of education. These people are entitled to help, not opposition from the educational leaders. Why do these people fight for equal opportunities for their children? They fought to get their school in the face of stiff opposition. Now that they have a school, I will promise to work with them, not against them, to build a better instructional program. Never will I agree to local children being hauled from their community to over-crowded another school. We are going backward when we don't bring these high schools up to the highest standards.

11. If someone will show me why schools the size of Maplesville and Jemison can't have a hand then I will show them where they can. My efforts will be directed toward this goal. Band instructors must not be limited to a particular section.

12. We are proud of our new gymnasium, but I find that the majority of pupils do not have access to these buildings. To me these buildings are too expensive to be used only by handball or basketball. Our physical education program must become a vital part of our youth fitness program. This program has been, but it cannot continue to be neglected.

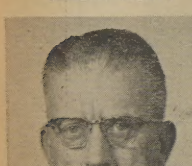

13. In this county there are school children eating lunch under the school building and they have been for all these years. This condition will be one of the first to be corrected and there should be no building program. The cooks in any school that serve a large number of children each day do not have the best of the best. Let's give all the children at Jemison, to name one such school, feed close to a thousand each year. Give these ladies at Jemison modern equipment. Let's elaborate facilities provided for a few children and they will really show you what southern cooking is all about. Visit the lunchroom at Jemison and other places and taste the cooking. At this particular time delayed credit must be given the lunchroom managers and cooks in every school in this county. If our educators would handle our affairs, but the way managers do, then we might have better results.

14. The people of this county are concerned about the conditions of several colored schools, especially those in sight of white schools. Let's give all the children equal facilities. Several of these colored children are being taught in the lunchroom while the cooks are preparing lunch. It is time the educational leaders stood up to their stand on separate but equal facilities. All the colored people ask is equal opportunities. While on the subject of colored children, I state that I am opposed to the way our children are hauled out of the county to be taught a doctrine that is against our way of life. The colored children are our concern too, for they are citizens of our county also. Any action found to go against our beliefs must be stopped immediately.

15. Next week I shall continue to present my platform and facts that are of importance to the people of this county. I feel that I have a platform that the people are behind; therefore, no time should be spent in fighting for it. The efforts that must be put forth in this campaign are efforts designed to get the people behind the platform. Who are afraid of the first things that might not remain the same as they have. Why should anyone be afraid of the first things that might not remain the same as they have? What's wrong with publishing facts when the people need to know? What's wrong with explaining a truth?

My stand is not a stand against anyone particular person, but I stand for a better school system. This stand is the reason why I want to be your superintendent of education. If the people are of the opinion that they stand and are ready for a change, then please unite all efforts to assure its success. Consider source and motive behind the smear tactics used against this stand or against me. It is a shame that a candidate's friends who smear tactics can compare platform against platform to gain votes.

Sincerely,
LLOYD D. (Simon) MIMS

VOTE FOR
Melvin Powell
FOR SHERIFF OF
CHILTON COUNTY

In announcing my candidacy for Sheriff of Chilton County I wish also to thank each and every person that has offered encouragement and pledged support in my behalf. As most of you know I was a candidate for the same office four years ago, at which time I met many people who became friends that I expect to enjoy through the years to come. I could not will toward anyone for not having won that campaign. I appreciate the support I received at that time and humbly solicit everyone's support in the present campaign. I feel that I am qualified for the office I seek, since the jobs I have held through the years have brought me in contact with people from all walks of life.

I expect to conduct my campaign in an honorable, upright manner so that win or lose I will have the good will of all my opponents as well as every citizen of this county. I am 48 years of age, live within a half mile of the courthouse at my home on airport road which I built shortly after being discharged from service. I am a member of Concord Baptist Church and also a member of the American Legion.

I come to you again in the same manner as I did four years ago depending on you, the people for my support. If elected I will hire men for the deputies of the highest caliber possible and together we will strive to conduct the office in such manner that every citizen of our County will be proud. I will gladly cooperate with all law enforcement agencies of our state, county and city to make a cleaner, better place for our children and us to live.

Between now and May 1st I expect to see and talk to most of you personally. Of course there will be some I will miss seeing, but I will intentionally. I ask you to check on me in any respect you wish and with your help now and in the years to come I am sure, we together can have a law enforcement record that we will be proud for anyone to check.

I hope to see all of you within the next few weeks... Melvin Powell

For Superintendent of Education

Experience is a great teacher. I have often been said that I believe that my experience as superintendent of education together with my training and experience as a teacher and as a principal qualify me to be your superintendent for the next four years.

I believe that a school system should be operated on the basis of merit in order that our children get the best education their county can afford. For the best education is the inherent right of every child.

I believe that our schools face many problems and should have the best available leadership. You will choose this leadership and I ask you to select your superintendent on this basis.

I believe that schools should be administered in an honest fair manner. I have truly endeavored to adhere to this belief in administering the schools of Chilton County and I shall always hold to this policy. I believe in being fair to all people by showing special favors to no one.

I believe that if a man would make his record true, he must think without confusion clearly, love his fellow men sincerely, act from honest motives purely and trust in God securely.

I ask for your consideration and support on May 1.

Subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries, May 1 and 29, 1962.

It Is Time for Voters as well as Public Office Holders To Become Alarmed

"... I have asked each of you to follow a most careful and frugal policy with respect to commitments and expenditures ..."

That is the prudent and sensible statement of the President of the United States to his Cabinet officers and agency heads. It is a viewpoint with which few would disagree, no matter what political party claims their support.

And yet, despite this, some agencies and departments of the government (the Rural Electrification Administration is a glaring example) persist in continued and even bigger spending. The Rural Electrification Administration has announced a policy of expanded loans for generating plants and super-transmission systems for the electric co-ops. One such has been announced for Alabama of over $20,000,000—that to the Alabama Electric Cooperative, to which Alabama Power Company has been supplying power for many years. There is no question of the adequacy or quality of this power supply. There can be no question about the ability of Alabama Power Company to supply any additional power the co-op can need in the foreseeable future and, with income tax taken into consideration, with benefit to the government.

"And equipment" has now been extended by government-in-business advocates far beyond the obvious intent of Congress, to authorize loans to rural electric cooperatives (at 2%, remember) such as:

• $280,000 for relending to a local company to install equipment and machinery in restoring its burned-out millwork plant and to another company growing and processing seed potatoes;

• $25,000 for relending to a company for purchase and installation of gravel-crushing and washing machinery;

• $30,000 for relending to a resort area for the purchase of a snow-making machine! There undoubtedly are others.

The inevitable result is to make up the difference by increasing the already heavy income taxes on those who DO pay income taxes.

President Kennedy also has wondered, it is reported, why business should feel that members of his administration are hostile to business. Could you want a stronger example than the loan policy of the Rural Electrification Administration, whose deliberations are conducted under a cloak of secrecy?

We think it is time for citizens to speak out to their elected representatives in protest against such unnecessary government expenditures; against secrecy in matters where the taxpayer's money is involved, against income tax favoritism, and against government loans at an interest rate lower than the government has to pay.

Through this advertisement, copies of which are being sent to public officials, we the undersigned are so speaking out. You can do likewise by letter and telephone. While we are signing this advertisement as directors of Alabama Power Company who are not officers or employees, the viewpoint expressed reflects our unanimous opinion as individuals.

To The Needs And Wishes Of CHILTON COUNTY
Chilton County News

Reuben Gore
Writes
Voters

I was a deputy sheriff of this county under two previous sheriffs and a police officer for the City of Clanton. It has been my opportunity to become acquainted with many of the people of Chilton County.

I feel that because of my experience as a law enforcement officer, I am qualified to serve you as Sheriff. If elected to this Office, I will:

1. At all times cooperate with you, the citizens, and with the county officials and all the city officers in the county, for better law enforcement and better government for Chilton County.

2. Use good, settled and fair minded men from different sections of Chilton County as deputies.

3. Have someone on duty AT ALL TIMES, DAY AND NIGHT, to investigate ALL complaints immediately.

4. I will not employ any member of my family or any relatives of mine.

I hope before May 1st to see each of you personally and ask your support, and to those I fail to see, I want to say it will certainly not be done intentionally.

I will sincerely appreciate your vote and support and will at all times, strive to serve you fair, honestly and to the very best of my ability as sheriff.

Sincerely yours,
Reuben Gore

Caramel Pecan Loaf Orange Walnut Loaf

For "goodness" sake, try this delicious nut bread. In fact, try it twice and get a new flavored nut bread the second time. This recipe is actually two in one. With it you can prepare both the Caramel Pecan Loaf and the Orange Walnut Loaf, getting twice the "goodness" for the price of one.

The Caramel Pecan Loaf, with its brown sugar richness, has typical quick bread easy fixin'. You can prepare both the breads even quicker with self-rising flour. Self-rising flour boasts many convenient features—it eliminates extra measuring-sifting steps, insures successful baked products and offers important nutrients for better health.

Very this quick bread in more ways than the orange-walnut version. Try lemon flavoring with chopped chestnuts or pineapple with flaked coconut.

CARAMEL PECAN LOAF ORANGE WALNUT LOAF

2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1/2 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup chopped pecans
1 egg, beaten
1/4 to 1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening
Sift together flour and sugar. Stir in nuts. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add liquid to flour mixture, stirring until flour is well moistened. Pour into greased 4 1/2 x 8 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 hour.
Makes 1 loaf.

For Orange Walnut Loaf, substitute 1/4 cup coarsely chopped walnuts for pecans and add 1 teaspoon grated orange rind. One half cup orange juice may be used as part of liquid ingredient also.

Founders Day, was observed at the February meeting of the Clanton Elementary School P.T.A., with Mrs. Robert Powers leading the Founder's Day panel discussion. The appropriate devotional was given by Mrs. Sarah G. Palmer.

The night meeting brought out a nice number of mothers and fathers.

A silver tea followed the meeting with the hospitality committee served refreshments from a beautifully appointed table.

Recent Bride Honored

Lending interest to the social season was a lovely tea in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. (Jack) Hayes on Saturday afternoon February 17 when Mrs. Hayes honored her daughter-in-law Mrs. Jackson Poe Hayes. nee Elizabeth Linn Kew with at tea.

The guest were greeted at the door by Mrs. James Q. Wade. In the receiving line were Mrs. M. C. Hayes, the bride who was dressed in a nice green afternoon dress. Her corsage was daintly miniature white camellias flushed with pink, her mother Mrs. John R. Kew and Mrs. S. D. Brooks grandmother of the groom.

The home was beautifully decorated throughout for this occasion. In the entrance hall there was a bouquet of white calla lilies. The living room mantle was adorned with an arrangement of mixed flowers which were white stock, tulips, snapdragons, dutch iris and tulips. They were portrayed in a huge mirror over the mantle. A table also held the array of flowers. In the dining room mixed flowers were used. The tea table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with an Italian cut work cloth. The centerpiece was a silver epergne filled with harmonious white carnations and greenery, enhanced with burning white taper.

Mrs. Omer Reynolds and Mrs. Hugh Jones alternated at the tea service. Dainty party sandwiches and tidbits were served from silver trays.

The family room was decorated with daffodils, white snapdragons and blue iris. Burning yellow tapers in a brass candelabra gave a soft glow. An adorable little Victorian heart graced the table where the guests registered. The guest book was presided over by Miss Clair Reese Mullins. Narcissus and daffodils brightened the screened porch.

During the tea hours appropriate music was rendered by Mrs. William P. Burnette on the piano.

Others assisting with the hostess courtesies were Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. J. W. Hayes, Mrs. Otto Jones, Mrs. Julius C. Burnette, Mrs. James Dow of Birmingham, Mrs. J. R. Vote For Clifford Lee Davenport

To The Voters of District 1, And Chilton County, Alabama

As I have announced myself as a candidate for the Board of Revenue and Control of District 1, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the Republican Primaries May 1 and May 29, 1962.

Friends I am the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Davenport, born and reared in Chilton County, Alabama. I was married to Emma Martin, March 9, 1935, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin who was also reared in Chilton County, Alabama.

Friends I would like to say that I am a member of Pleasant Hill Baptist Church and have been since August 1932. I am also a deacon of Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, a Sunday School teacher for the Intermediate pupils and Director for Training Union. I would like to say if elected as Board of Revenue, that I believe in good government and that I would try to spend every tax dollar where it is most needed. I believe in better roads and more paved roads and better schools and communities.

I would like to say to the people that I own and operate my farm as a cattle farm and that I do not have a public job away from home.

I promise the people of District 1 that I will cooperate with the Supervisor and the other Board Members and look after the roads in District 1. I believe every Board Member should ride the roads and help the Supervisor because Chilton County has a number of roads.

I would like to say to the voters of District 1 and Chilton County that I am 47 years of age and that I feel like that I am capable of handling the job as member of Board of Revenue and Control of District 1.

Friends your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated. Your friend Clifford Lee Davenport, Rt. 2, Jemison, Alabama

What kind of business institutions—these Electric Co-ops?

They have brought light and power to Alabama farms and rural homes, schools and churches where there was no power or light before. They have made possible the decentralization of industry into rural areas. They have opened up a vast new market for all sorts of electrical goods and services.

Rural Electrics are free enterprise at its best—good for all Alabama.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR STATE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

We, as loyal Alabama Democrats, who are loyal to the people of Alabama, loyal to the doctrine of Statesrights, loyal to Southern traditions, and loyal to constitutional government in preference to socialistic, integrationist platforms and candidates of the national party are pleased to announce our candidates for the State Democratic Executive Committee from the Sixth District.

The candidates listed below are all men of integrity, tried and true,—men who will Stand Up and Be Counted whenever the true interest of the people of Alabama is at stake. They are:

O. S. (Tigger) Burke
Gerald E. Colson
Senator Joe Graham
C. E. Hornsby, Jr.

Bruce Jones
Coleman Long
John McQueen, Jr.
N. H. Waters

It is a political certainty that John Kennedy will be the next presidential nominee, and that the platform again will be repugnant to the South. The above men, when elected, will not approve any party rules or oaths that would require hog-tying loyalty to such. Instead, they will favor an open primary which would permit the people to determine their presidential vote.

One big dazzler... one little gem...

now join the world's greatest V-8 collection

405-HP THUNDERBIRD V-8—Thirty years of Ford experience culminate in this startling V-8. Available in every Galaxie, it puts 405 horses under the throttle, a dazzling level of acceleration that cannot be imagined by the average driver. A super-performance option, it comes only with the four-speed gear box. But, unlike some "special" engines that require delicate tuning and modification, it puts out its potential right off the showroom floor. Even more impressive, Ford skill has made it a docile tiger; it idles smoothly, it is durable, its super capacity does not come at the expense of harshness and noise. Among expert drivers, it is praised as a true high-performance V-8 in America... the pace-setter for 9 other V-8's tailored to every driving need.

NEW FAIRLANE CHALLENGER "260" V-8—When the 221-cubic-inch Fairlane V-8 appeared last fall, automotive writers hailed it as a great basic advance, a compact jewel of design. Now the "260" V-8 proves their prediction. With 164 hp, 19 more than the standard version, Fairlane gains a new brilliance of performance—but it still runs on "regular," still outpaces any standard-size Six. It has the durability of time-tested cast iron, slimmer and lighter than Ford's precision-casting technique. Created by the one maker who has built 30,000,000 V-8's since 1932, it brings the sparkle and smoothness of V-8 power well within the thrifty budget's reach, puts truly sophisticated engineering at the service of truly economical motoring.

The Power Controversy--

THE Alabama Power Company and the Rural Electric Cooperatives have locked horns recently in a controversy of who is right and who is wrong!

There are certain monopolistic tendencies by the Power Company which do not meet with our approval, but they are supposed to be governed by the Public Service Commission of Alabama, whose members are voted on by the public. Also the Power Company has offered to furnish electric power to the REA from already existing sources, eliminating the need for additional government monies being spent on power plants is sources of power.

If it is true that the REA is asking the government for some $20 million dollars at 2% interest, when he government must pay 4% on the money, and intend to use it on unnecessary equipment, then we are emphatically and openly a'gin it!

"The Government", as an often loosely used term, is you and me, and we can see no profit, nor even the possibility of breaking even on such a venture, as hat in question! We feel that both the organizations mentioned here are vital to our economic and social development, but we are always against more unnecessary Federal spending, and consequently more unnecessary Federal control of our affairs!

Private enterprise, not Socialistic inflation, is the backbone of our economy. The sooner we return to that basic theory, the sooner America will return to sound economic footing and the intelligent handling of our affairs!

The Gubernatorial Grab Bag--

PROMISES and noble intentions are at a premium today, and the candidates for Governor are handing them out as if they were going out of style.

Judge George Wallace is going to set the Liquor problem straight once and for all, among other things.

Ryan DeGraffenried is going to lead the people out of the whimsical way we are going back into the night.

Albert Boutwell proposes to greatly ease the farm problem with the injection of "new blood" industrial development in the depressed areas of the state... which

And MacDonald Gallion says: "The seed of Communism grows and is nurtured in a climate of over-centralization of federal power." He says, "...all states I know the menace of creeping communism unless we reverse the trend in Washington of mollycoddling communist agents who masquerade as professional dodgers!"

The Big Man in the running, is going to assist teacher and education, the farmer and agriculture and the taxpayer and the road systems of the State. He is also hitting out strong at the Federal interference to our State and local affairs. Jim Folsom is appealing to the "John Doe" citizen.

All these intentions, promises, call them what you will, are sincerely made and most would be kept we are sure to the greatest extent of human ability! But the main thing you, as a voter, want to look for in your candidate is sincerity, a record of proven ability and faith for the people of this state, and most of all honesty, humility, and character! The man who best suits these in these requirements, should be your choice for next Governor of our State of Alabama. We are living in a day when we can afford to accept any man. It is demanding of the man, but since he is asking for the job, we must demand it of him! Keep your mind open, your eyes steady and your heart in the right place and you do not consider personal gain, prejudice gossip and hearsay when you make your decision. You will hear a little bit of everything... you must be sensible enough to weigh the value of what you hear and decide accordingly. And good luck, voter!

AS a community newspaper, serving this County, we must reserve the right to limit copy and to edit reports of various and sundry nature that comes across the Editor's desk!

It is a thorn in the side of all newspaper editors that more people do not understand or try to understand the limits of human endurance and capability. We realize full well that editors are supposed to be super-human in many ways, but it constantly amazes us the number of people who refuse to give him the benefit of the doubt. In fact, sometimes we wonder if there is any such thing!

There is, with some individuals, no room for error and no excuse for not printing their writings, regardless of how irrelevant some of those volumes are, or how uninteresting to the average reader!

We do not work at intentionally upsetting or offending anyone, or any group, as long as it has the best interests of this County and its people in mind. There are limitations to our abilities and our capabilities, but we are guilty only of errors of the mind and not complete negligence and arrogant oversight!

Objectives Of 4-H Club Work

By Ralph R. Jones
Assistant Director
Auburn University Extension Service

It is fitting that one week each year is set aside and featured as National 4-H Club Week. It is also appropriate at this particular time for us to stop, take a good look backward and then a better look forward in order to plot the future direction of 4-H Club work and see clearly where we are going.

4-H Club work in Extension cuts across all subject matter fields. Every Extension Service worker should, therefore, have a high interest in it. It should occupy the same professional and organizational status as work with adults. The opportunities for trained and experienced Extension 4-H Club program are unlimited, but fully qualified and highly trained Extension workers are needed to provide the dynamic leadership which 4-H must have.

Extension youth development activities must offer positive constructive experiences, which build lives of purpose and understanding. It must offer opportunities not only in such familiar areas as crops, livestock, canning, sewing, foods and nutrition home improvement, etc.; but also in many other areas so that new doors of opportunity will be opened to the youth of Alabama. We must help our youth discover, develop and apply all of their God-given talents and abilities.

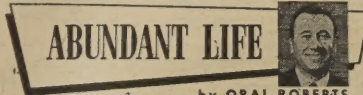

In the future, the primary aim of the Alabama 4-H program will be to provide opportunities for mental, physical, social and spiritual growth.

Specifically, our Extension youth program has the following objectives for helping young people:

1. Acquire knowledge, skills and attitudes for a satisfying home and family life.
2. Enjoy a useful work experience with full responsibility and satisfaction of personal accomplishment.
3. Develop leadership, talents and abilities to achieve their citizenship potential.
4. Appreciate the values of research and learn scientific methods of making decisions and solving problems.
5. Recognize the importance of scientific agriculture and its relationship to our total economy.
6. Explore career opportunities in agriculture, home economics and related fields and recognize the need for a continuing education.
7. Appreciate nature, understand conservation and make wise use of natural resources.
8. Cultivate traits of healthful living, purposeful recreation and intelligent use of leisure time.
9. Strengthen personal standards and philosophy of life based on lasting and satisfying values.
10. Gain attitude, abilities and understanding of working cooperatively with others.

We are proud of the leadership given to 4-H by our county Extension agents and the state subject matter specialists. Above all, we are proud of the 132,000 4-H members in Alabama, their parents, adult leaders and our many business friends who provide the foundation for 4-H work.

SAVED FROM SUICIDE BY A PHONE CALL

In the Abundant Life Building in Tulsa, Oklahoma, is a group of people who are engaged in prayer 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. This is called the Abundant Life Prayer Group. Day and night this group receives requests for prayer from people everywhere. The requests are sent in by mail and telegraph, and many come by long-distance telephone. Calls for help in prayer have come from as far away as Oslo, Norway, and from as near as Tulsa hospital.

The other day a member of the Abundant Life Prayer Group answered the telephone. The call was coming from a point more than 1,000 miles away. A man's voice said, "I have a loaded revolver in my hand, ready to take my life. Then, in a last desperate plea, the man cried, 'Can you help me?'"

The Abundant Life Prayer Partner sympathetically, prayerfully, and with understanding listened to the complete story told by "the voice" at the other end of the line.

"For three days, I have been locked in my room with a revolver loaded, ready to take my life. But each time I have tried to pull the trigger, something has restrained me."

"At one time I knew the Lord as my Saviour, but I drifted away from Him. The further I strayed from the Lord, the more my life became involved, and I ended up serving a prison term. Since my release, I have tried to go straight, but nobody wants to hire an ex-convict. Life has lost its meaning, and I can't go on any longer. Can you help me?"

This time, the question was answered in a convulsive sob. The Prayer Partner lovingly and prayerfully spoke to the man and told him of the goodness of God. As she talked with him and prayed with him, he suddenly interrupted her, his voice ringing with a new vibrance. He told her the light had suddenly broken through into his heart as prayer went up to God in his behalf. The Sun of righteousness had dawned in this man's life with healing in His wings to restore life and health to this individual who only moments before had been determined to take his own life.

Only when she was sure that the man had peace in his heart did the Abundant Life Prayer Partner venture the question which had been in her mind from the beginning of the conversation: "How did you happen to come to the Abundant Life Prayer Group?" she asked.

The man replied, "A lady gave me your telephone number and said to me, 'Before you shoot yourself, call this number.'"

This incident (one of hundreds that has come to my attention) pinpoints a truth that should never be forgotten: There is no distance in prayer. God is here and God is there. He is with me, and He is with you. Nearer than breathing and faster than thought, He can respond to the cry of every anxious heart who turns to Him for help.

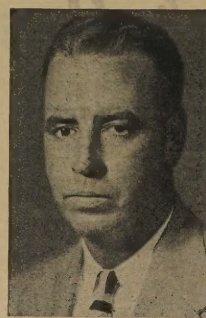

MAN OF THE WEEK

ONE of the most outstanding men yet to be presented as the News Man Of The Week is Mayor of Clanton, J. Hollis Jackson.

Since taking office as Mayor of Clanton, Hollis Jackson has spent thousands of hours on projects, developments and city improvements, and his efforts have shown up and continue to show up in Clanton's growth and progress.

With the cooperation of one of the finest City Councils in the history of our fair city, Mayor Jackson has literally put Clanton on the map in many categories. Street paving, sewage disposal, additional water supply facilities, better housing development, rezoning improvements, park improvements, business opportunities have all seen great progress during his administration.

Mr. Jackson and his family live on 4th Avenue North in Clanton. He is manager and owns a large interest in the Chico Quik Freeze plant here in Clanton. He and his wife Irma have two sons John Solis, Jr., and Alec, who is in the public school system in Clanton. Mr. Jackson is a member of the First Methodist Church, having served in several capacities in his church, and he is a member of the

MAYOR JACKSON

Clanton Kiwanis Club. As some have said, wherever you see a worthwhile project being undertaken, there you will also see Hollis Jackson. That about sums up Clanton's future; and unassuming Mayor Jackson, He has certainly given more than his share toward making Clanton a good place to visit, and a better place to live! The News is proud to recognize him as our Man Of The Week!

on the heart, although Dr. L. L. Hill of Montgomery performed the first successful heart surgery in 1902. These early operations carried a high death rate, and the technique was abandoned. Then in 1937 and 1938, more advanced heart surgery was attempted and proved successful. During World War II heart wounds were common, and great advances were made in handling wounds of the heart and of the major blood vessels. New discoveries in anesthesia and the use of antibiotics have changed the entire picture of cardiac surgery. In 1945 the blue baby operation became a success and in 1948 a Philadelphia surgeon successfully opened a stenotic mitral valve of the heart.

In the early 1950's hypothermia, a procedure to lower the body temperature, was developed which enabled the circulation of the heart to be cut off for up to eight minutes. By passing of the heart is very possible with mechanical pumps, and the heart can be stopped for periods up to an hour. Modern heart surgery promises hope for thousands of people who only a few years ago would have been doomed to invalidism and an early death.

100 Years Ago

OFFICIAL CRITICISM
Confederate officials received much criticism in early 1862. This included the President, Vice president and the Congress.

Only one week after inauguration ceremonies for President Jefferson Davis, criticism of his work, or some stated "lack of work" was prevalent. On March 1, 1862, Mrs. Mary Boykin Chestnut, the South Carolina diarist wrote, "In Columbia, we do not know a half dozen men who would gaily step into Jeff Davis' shoes with firm conviction that they would do better in every respect than he does."

Perhaps some criticism of President Davis was due to friction within the administration. Vice President A. H. Stephens was charged with "openly opposing the administration." In his dislike for Davis, Stephens spent a large percentage of his time at his Georgia home with his blind deaf dog, Rio, and a half brother, Winston. So numerous were his days spent in Georgia that his friends often begged him to return to Richmond and his work. And it was almost impossible for the Confederate Congress to please the people. Secret sessions were condemned since people said they were entitled to know what went on behind closed doors. Yet one Georgia editor wrote, "Nothing but the necessity to adjourn, thicker the currency, or appoint days of fasting and prayer is done in open sessions."

To secret sessions of Congress, the Richmond Examiner said, "The members of the old Provisional Congress locked themselves from the newspapers that they might not drink up the people's votes excluded from the observation of the world."

And even the adjournment of the First Congress was criticised. Members maintained that the work was finished, but people charged them with running from the enemy, since adjournment coincided with McClellan's march on Richmond.

Any questions that you want to ask may be sent to: Social Security Column News, Chilton County News, Clanton, Alabama.

Q. I am a minister. How long do I have to file my waiver certificate?

A. If you are not a newly-ordained minister, you have until this coming April 15 to file this certificate. We'll be glad to mail you one.

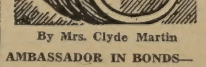

Q. My daughter will be 18 years old the first of March. Won't she still receive her checks since she is still in school?

A. No, children's payments must stop when they reach age 18 unless totally disabled before that birthday.

Q. Do you have to quit work completely to get benefits?

A. No. Many people continue to work after age 65 and receive some benefits. This depends on the amount of your earnings.

AMBASSADOR IN BONDS--

In Paul's letter to Ephesus, he describes himself as an ambassador on bonds. Paul had been explaining the mysteries of the prophecies as found in the gospel. He was very careful of his language and spoke only the right words which were needed to advance the gospel of Christ. Because of his faithfulness he was put in prison and chained. This did not prevent his constant teachings, and people from all parts of life came to hear him tell of Christ. Paul was faithful under this handicap. Are we faithful? Are we speaking for Christ?

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

The most exciting news in Washington this week was also the most exciting exciting development in the entire nation--that is, the successful orbital flight of Marine Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr.

Although the House and Senate were in session on the day of the famous astronaut's flight, reports of the orbit were received in both chambers. Needless to say, it was difficult at times for the members to concentrate on the legislative duties at hand.

The House of Representatives took time out from its regular business to unanimously adopt a resolution extending the warm wishes and congratulations of Congress to Astronaut Glenn. In the Senate, tension and excitement reached such a pitch that it became evident in the early afternoon that no further business could be accomplished. Announced to an almost desecrately, the majority leader dealt chamber at 2:30 p.m. the Senate would stand adjourned. House adjournment for the day came at 4:44 p.m. after the membership had labored through debate and vote on a temporary debt limit increase and passed the Col. Glenn resolution.

URBAN AFFAIRS

DEFEATED

On Wednesday of last week, the House of Representatives dealt the Administration its first major defeat of the year by rejecting a proposal--to create a cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs and Housing. A motion to disapprove the reorganization plan that provided for the new department carried, on a vote of 264 to 150.

While it had been predicted that the House would turn down the plan, it was generally agreed that the Senate would support it. So a move was made on Tuesday to vote on the measure in the Senate first, in the hope that a favorable vote would influence some House members. But the attempt to bypass committee consideration and bring it directly to the Senate floor failed.

Since reorganization plans are killed automatically if either chamber of Congress votes to reject them within 60 days from the time they are submitted, the House action defeats the urban affairs proposal without the necessity of further consideration by the Senate.

As I pointed out last week, most of us who opposed creation of an urban affairs and housing department did so because we felt the plan was too expensive would place too much power in the hands of one government official, would provide the means of forcing racial integration in all public housing, and would usurp the rights of municipalities, in addition to creating additional government bureaucracy.

VOTE FOR

Gordon Conway

For Superintendent of Education

Last week I stated some of the beliefs I hold concerning the education of our children. In continuing, I believe it is a county superintendent's obligation to get the most education possible out of the taxpayer's dollar for the taxpayer's children. I believe that the school dollar should never be used to promote selfish, personal gain in to any person or group.

I believe in equal opportunities for all children and the general educational welfare of all children must be the one objective.

I believe that our bus children deserve transportation that is comfortable, adequate and safe.

I believe that the job of the county superintendent of education is one of the most important ones that you will vote on, on May 1. Your superintendent probably has more responsibilities the year around than any other official in your county. The general welfare of 6,000 children rests largely on his shoulders.

I believe in having the best instructional program that can be provided in all phases of education and certainly do I believe in making improvements where improvements are needed.

I believe that it is costly to the county schools to make changes too frequently in the superintendency. Learning the details of school laws, financing schools, selecting teachers, purchasing and operating buses, building and equipping buildings and the many and varied other things a superintendent does will take a long time to learn. In fact, all is never learned. Making a change means starting a new training period with a new man. The experience of the "old man" is lost.

When you vote on May 1 please consider the advantages of having an experienced administrator as your superintendent. I have had the training and the experience to qualify me for the job. Your vote and support will be truly appreciated.

PURPOSE OF 4-H

The purpose of 4-H Club work is to train all rural boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 in better methods of farm and home practices and to develop those traits of leadership and citizenship that will be useful to them regardless of occupation in later years.

Girls' 4-H Club Song

DREAMING
My home must have a high tree
Above its open gate,
My home must have a garden
Where little dreamings wait,
My home must have a wide view
Of the field and meadow fair,
Of distant hill, of open sky,
With sunlight everywhere.
My home must have its mother,
With heart so sweet and wise;
My home must have its father
With honor in his eyes;
My home must have its children;
God grant the parents grace
To keep our home, through all the years,
A kindly, happy place.
My home must have a friendship
With every happy thing,
My home must offer comfort
For any sorrowing;
And every heart that enters
Shall hear its music there,
And find some simple beauty
That every life may share.

Elect R. O'Dell PAYTON Sheriff

R. O'Dell Payton

Friends, neighbors and fellow citizens of Chilton County, now that time to qualify is over as of Thursday midnight, you know who is running and for what office. I am going to do my best to try and see everyone that is humanly possible for me to see 6 days a week, the 7th day is the Sabbath and I will not be canvassing on Sundays.

I would like to say to our various church people all over the County and to all our citizens of the County if there is any disturbance of any kind that can be reasonably settled by talking to them and get them to go to church and be better citizens of our County. If we as citizens cannot forgive one another how then do we expect God to forgive us. Remember in the Bible John 8:1-12 where the Scribes and Pharisees brought unto Jesus, a woman who had done wrong and that such should be stoned and Jesus wrote on the ground, and then raised up and said he that is without sin let him cast a stone. Jesus then wrote some more on the ground then raised up and said where are thine accusers, hath no man condemned thee. She said no Lord and Jesus said unto her neither do condemn thee, go and sin no more.

Then if the people that is causing the disturbance will not do any better, just be man enough to say we tried and have done our part, now we will let the law do it's part. Then if I am elected your sheriff and public servant let me know at once and I will take care of the situation at once, and one thing for sure, I will never reveal to anyone as to where I got my information. Only through the cooperation of you, the people Chilton County can we accomplish any good.

There is one thing for sure, you cannot be for and against any issue. You have to take a stand one way or the other. As to our children I will if elected work with them to try and make them better citizens for our County. If I should find them where they should not be I would do as I did before when I was sheriff take them to their parents and that such should be asked their cooperation, then if they are caught again there is ways and means to correct them in Juvenile court. But first of all let's try and understand and help our children to go to church and be better citizens.

My wife and I have raised two children Charles R. Payton and Jimmy Bruce Payton. By having raised two children, I feel like that I can help our upcoming children a lot.

In 1955 as Sheriff and public servant of Chilton County I got together some 15 to 20 men and organized a Rescue Squad. The first name was Coosa River Rescue Squad and we did some wonderful work. Since the Rescue Squad was put into effect by me, Alvin Ellison, Dick Scott, Henry McKay along with several others, it has grown ever since until today it is part of our National Defense Reserve Squad under Mr. Burton Mullins. I feel like we have one of the best Reserve Squads that there is in Alabama. I know Chilton County is proud of this organization and it should be. If elected sheriff I will work harmoniously with the Police Squad and all other agencies.

I sincerely solicit your vote and influence in my behalf.

From Mr. Abrams
"A LIGHT UNTO OUR PATH"
Give the people light and they will find their way!
How true this remarkable statement! But the people are not always given sufficient light. Then darkness prevails and the people stumble. Light illuminates. Darkness conceals. Then when the light does shine again it is often too late. The lamp of truth just now would be a light unto their feet.

So, it is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness. People are in darkness about some of our educational problems. They are asking questions. They want light.

Crop Support Price for Middling 1-inch Cotton at 32.47c a pound

The U. S. Department of Agriculture today announced a minimum 1962 crop support price for Middling 1-inch cotton of 32.47 cents per pound, eight, at average locations. This price was determined by averaging the national average support price of 31.88 cents per pound for 1962 cotton announced January 8, 1962, to a middling 1-inch basis by following the same general method of averaging current market prices as in the past.

The Cotton Advisory Committee, in its recommendations to the Department as announced January 14 (press release USDA 602-62) urged that a long-time method be followed for this year's operation. The Committee pointed out that this action would result in higher loan rates for the lower qualities of cotton, and slightly lower loan values for the higher qualities, with the average support price to producers the same as for the 1961 crop.

The average of the crop is the statutory basis for cotton price support. Department officials said that announcing a minimum middling 1-inch support price at this time will enable farmers to determine more accurately the support price for the qualities of cotton they normally produce, when price differentials for the

Under the support program differentials of cotton are determined later, the average support price announced Jan. 8, 1962, will be converted to a middling 1-inch basis. If this is a higher price than the minimum announced today for Middling 1-inch cotton, the price for Middling 1-inch will be increased accordingly.

The basis for later concerning the national average support price to Middling 1-inch will be as follows: (1) By determining the number of points by which a weighted average of the 1962 Schedule of Premiums and Discounts (after such premiums and discounts are determined) is below Middling 1-inch when weighted by the average production for each quality (grade and staple length) for the period 1955 through 1960, and (2) adding the number of points, as determined in (1) above, to the average level of support to place it on a Middling 1-inch basis.

Appropriate differentials will establish the difference between the level of support for Middling 1-inch, the base quality, and all other qualities of the 1962 crop upland cotton. The Schedule of Premiums and Discounts containing these differentials will be determined and published later, when other detailed provisions of the program are announced.

The minimum Middling 1-inch support price for 1962-crop cotton announced today compares to the 1961-crop Middling 1-inch support price of 33.04 cents per pound.

KENTUCKY—

Frankfort, the capitol of the Blue Grass State. It is celebrated for its new Capitol building; its Old State House, now a museum; Daniel Boone's Grave, and its Bourbon whiskey distilleries. The new Capitol is modeled after our national Capitol. Many Kentuckians are perhaps fonder of the small, Ionic, Old State House modeled after a Temple of Minerva. Its interior circular marble stairway is studied by architects. Daniel Boone's rifle is here and the pistol with which Aaron Burr allegedly slew Alexander Hamilton. Frankfort and the Blue Grass State is almost a "must" on any tourist's list, and a visit here will long be remembered.

Boys' 4-H Club Song

A PLOWING SONG

A growing day, and a waking field,
And a furrow straight and long;
A golden sun, and a lifting breeze,
And we follow with a song.
A guiding thought, and a skillful hand,
And a plant's young leaf unfurled,
A summer's sun, and a summer's rain,
And we harvest for the world.

Chorus

Sons of the soil are we,
Lads of the field and flock
Turning our sods,
Asking no odds,
Where is life so free?
Sons of the soil are we,
Men of the coming years,
Facing the dawn,
Brain ruling brawn,
Lords of our lands we'll be.

National 4-H Week Observed By Nations Youth: Two Million Strong, March 3-10

Attended 4-H Leadership Camp

By Hanchey E. Logue
State 4-H Club Leader
Alabama 4-H'ers are making plans to observe National 4-H Week for the 57th time. These boys and girls will be among some 2,300,000 4-H'ers in the United States and Alaska who will celebrate National 4-H Club Week March 3-10, 1962.

Nationally 4-H Club week will be highlighted in Washington, D. C., when six members chosen as delegates will present the annual 4-H Club "Report to the National." The report will summarize outstanding 4-H accomplishments and pay tribute to the thousands of former 4-H'ers whose achievements show the high ideals of 4-H leadership and good citizenship.

While in the nations capital the six club members expect to review the report with President Kennedy at the White House. They also plan to visit Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Administrator of the Federal Extension Service E. T. York and various Congressmen.

The 382,000 volunteer leaders who guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 states and the territory of Puerto Rico will be honored along with present and former 4-H'ers. Four-H production projects are still important. However today's emphasis is on the importance of the individual 4-H boy and girl. State 4-H Leader Hanchey Logue says, "Today we are trying to help boys and girls to discover, develop and wisely use their God-given talents and innate abilities. Growing crops and livestock is important, but growing fine boys and girls is more important."

The main purposes of 4-H Club Week this year are to provide an opportunity to acquaint more young people with opportunities through joining or forming 4-H Clubs, to assist members in starting projects in farming, homemaking, community service, and other activities, to inform the public about 4-H aims and methods, and to pay tribute to outstanding "graduates" of the program.

It is fitting during this year, the 100th anniversary of land grant colleges by which the Morrill Act provided for the government to donate or grant federal land to the states to establish land grant colleges, to tip our hats to the Auburn University Extension Service, which carries on 4-H Club work through county Extension workers with the cooperating local county boards of revenue. "Hats off" to the Alabama 4-H boys and girls while they celebrate National 4-H Club Week and to the 67 county boards of revenue.

L. to R. Barbara Ann Hudman, Peggy Glenn Gilliland, Joy Burkhalter, Judy Garner.

Each spring the Girls 4-H Clubs in the County participate in the Apron, Skirt, and Dress Revue. The girls bring the garments which they have made to their March club meeting at which time they are looked at and discussed. Later, the County contest is held and winners are chosen in each group.

The seniors dress revue winner is awarded a trip to State

4-H Camp in Auburn which is held in July. Other County winners are presented medals and ribbons.

Last year there were 149 girls who entered the school clothing revue and 45 who later participated in the County contest. Each girls club in the County is planning to participate in the school programs at their regular 4-H meetings in March.

The FFA Creed

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement I cannot deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on being and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so, for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

CHILTON STILL IN PEACH BUSINESS

FREEZE DOES LITTLE DAMAGE TO CHILTON'S PEACH INDUSTRY

REPORTS early Wednesday morning from County Agent John Sellers were very encouraging to peach growers, as well as all businessmen in the Chilton County area.

Agent Sellers, displaying a peach branch to us, stated that the freezing temperature two nights in a row, resulted in about a 40% cut in the 1962 crop.

However, this definitely does not mean that a 40% loss will occur in the peach crop as a whole. Most varieties, whether early or late, have not been thinned and anything like the necessary amount and the cold weather did exactly as the County experts had hoped-thinned the crop.

The branch we looked at Wednesday morning was an early variety and had on it some 15 to 20 blooms. Only about four of them were damaged and Agent Sellers stated that the branch should have only two or three peaches on it! A good indication that the thinning job was done, and little or no damage to that particular variety.

Some varieties were damaged more than others and some of the later varieties, not yet opened, were damaged more than those early ones. Indications are that the crop as a whole, suffered little or no damage and that we will have a good crop of peaches, barring any more abnormal or inclement weather.

Literally everyone in Chilton County has been greatly concerned this week about the peach crop. Apparently we are still in the peach business, and none the worse for wear. In any case, the authorities are "pleased" with the way the fruit trees held up under this most recent crisis!

Mt. Pleasant P.T.A. To Meet

THE Mt. Pleasant P.T.A. will meet Monday night, March 12 at 7:00 p.m. The president would like to have everyone present to help discuss an entertainment of some kind, so the P.T.A. might raise money to replenish its treasury and to continue its help to the school in general.

At its last meeting the P.T.A. voted to give each teacher $37.50 to buy material most needed in her room. Worthy projects like this and the paying of some of our school expenses requires both your support and attendance.

Your presence would be greatly appreciated.

In Post "Mystery Man" Contest—POST CARD WRITERS FALLING DOWN ON 'GUESSING'

LAST week's News "Mystery Man" was correctly identified as Mr. Sam Paterson by numerous individuals. The one who got in first with the correct answer, however, was Jessie Charles Mims of Clanton. He will receive a full year's subscription to the News. We did not have a Post Card winner this week, so the full prize goes to Mr. Mims. Post cards came in, but none had the correct answer on them. Come on, you folks with the Post Card; let's have 'em! You can be first!

As of this week and since we have had 13 "Mystery Men" since December 7, 1961, we are making a necessary new rule. Anyone having won previously can win one more time only. Any one person cannot win more than twice! We have had such interest and results from this feature that we are going to continue it and you will find the "Honor Roll" of Men Of

George Wallace To Speak In Clanton

ON Tuesday, March 13th at 7:30 p.m. Judge George C. Wallace, candidate for Governor of Alabama, will speak to the people of Chilton County at the County Courthouse in Clanton. Judge Wallace has according to the pollsters, maintained a large percentage of his very good vote in his unsuccessful bid for Governor four years ago. And, it appears that he is gaining strength in many areas of the state where he has appeared this year.

Plant or Release Cotton Allotment

Cotton farmers in 1962 must plant or release at least 75 percent of their farm cotton allotment or be subject to a reduction of 25 percent of their allotment for 1963. In order to release cotton acreage that will not be planted, farmers must sign certain forms at the County ASC Office on or before March 15, 1962. Full information on this matter can be obtained from the Chilton County ASC Office.

Open House At Maplesville

THE Teachers at Maplesville High School will hold Open House for parents at the PTA meeting, Thursday night March 8th at 7:30. After a devotional and business meeting in the auditorium, parents will visit their children's teachers in the classroom.

After the classroom visits, the P.T.A. Hospitality committee will serve refreshments. The nursery will be open.

Invitation To Bid

Notice to Contractors: Invitation to bid on work of enlarging and paving loading and unloading space at rear of Clanton post office is extended to all contractors in this area by General Services Administration. Information and bid forms may be obtained at local post office. Opening date of bids will be March 31, 1962, 2:30 p.m. in office of General Services Administration, Atlanta, Ga., R. R. Sutley, Postmaster.

Missions Committee To Meet March 13

The Missions Committee, C. H. Stringer, J. G. Hutchinson, G. H. Carroll, Lane W. McReynolds, C. E. Handley, G. P. Rich, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, M. G. Fields, to meet Tuesday, March 13, 7:30 p.m. at the West End Baptist church to plan Associational work for Christ's Kingdom in Chilton County.

CCHS P.T.A. To Barbecue

Tickets will be on sale this week for the chicken barbecue supper, sponsored by the Chilton County High School Parent Teachers Association. The supper will be on March 23.

Methodist Begin $90,000 Building Program

THE First Methodist Church of Clanton will soon begin the construction of an Educational Building. The building will be erected on the corner of 9th St. and 3rd Ave. N. and will join the present facilities.

20 NEW CLASSROOMS—The new building will contain approximately 9,000 sq. feet, consist of twenty classrooms, an office, and rest rooms. The building will be used mainly for the Children's and Youth Divisions of the Church. The building will be centrally heated and air conditioned.

REMODELING ALSO—

In addition to this building, the present building will have some remodeling. The Sanctuary is to be repainted, the Vestibule altered, and modern kitchen facilities installed. The total cost of the building program is estimated at $90,000.00.

BIDS will be opened for the Contract on the New Educational Building of the First Methodist Church of Clanton on April 17th at 2:00 P.M. at the Church office.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from Mr. Hollis Jackson, Chairman of the Building Committee, for a $5 deposit per set. Returns will be made upon return of the sets.

Persons wishing to make a bid on the construction are asked to contact Mr. J. Hollis Jackson.

The financial phase of this program will be launched next Sunday, March 11th. In order to finance this program, the First Methodist Church will issue Bonds. These bonds will be $1,000, $500, and $1,000 in size. They may be purchased for cash or on time payments up to three years.

The Church will pay 6% interest, payable every six months. The bonds are to be offered for sale beginning March 14th.

Anyone wishing to purchase bonds are asked to contact the Pastor, Rev. L. H. Kimbrough or Mr. Otto Jones, Chairman of the Finance Commission. The Bond sale is to be concluded by April 1st and construction is expected to be started by May 1st.

Mrs. H. O. Headley and Joey, Mrs. V. C. McKee, Mrs. H. L. Mims spent Wednesday in Montgomery with the Jack Tucker family and the Hoyt Henley family.

Destroy 600 Gallon Still Saturday

ON Saturday night, about 9:00 o'clock March 3, City Police of Clanton, along with a Federal Agent and State ABC Official, raided and blew up a 600 gallon capacity still located near the fertilizer plant. The still was only about 400 feet beyond the City Limits.

Local Firm Awarded Contract For Roanoke Building

PATTERSON - Alfred, Contractors, a Clanton firm, have been awarded a $50,000 contract to build the three-story Handley High School building in Roanoke, Alabama.

The contract was awarded on February 27 after the firm was successful bidder to the job in the amount of $345,800. Second and third low bidders were Connor Bros. of Auburn with $347,000 and Stewart and McCorkle of Montgomery with $327,725.

The Patterson-Alfred firm is in the completion stages of the new high school building in Clanton. Sam Patterson, partner in the firm announced this week that the building should be completed in another six weeks.

The building at Roanoke will be built in ten months time and they will begin construction in about two weeks!

ATTENTION: FARMERS

(COUNTY Agent John Sellers, this week recommended that growers and producers in Chilton County keep the following schedules for future reference. The News will be publishing these and other pertinent facts for farmers during the coming weeks! Lloyd D. Mims Stands Open

Every effort is being made to see each voter, but if I do not contact you, please remember that your vote and influence in my behalf is necessary. I agree with the statement that experience is the best teacher for the people of this county have learned a lesson as to what happens when a select few run the schools. Don't sit back if you are ready for a change in the way things have been handled. Please remember that Old Gang of Mine well organized and every effort will be used to stay in fights with the votes. If power unless the common man you would like to support me few doubts because of the and my platform, then feel free to ask me or any of my friends any questions or visit the good people of Pinadale or Coopers community. The following issues are my sincere beliefs and promises to the people of this county. I pray that each one can be accomplished with your help.

1. I shall publish all the facts on the use of the one cent sales tax. This is a public record but it is strange that nothing can be published at this time.
2. I shall make every effort to spend your money in the right way, giving equal representation to all.
3. I shall publish the minutes of the board of education in order to keep the public informed as to what is taking place. If this is done, then there wouldn't be so much confusion and opposition.
4. I shall make any records that are supposed to be public open to the public. No one will have to demand the books by court orders or other legal means.
5. I shall publish the names of certain merchants and the amount they have received for services rendered over a certain period. You will be able to find which merchants have gotten all the gravy. Yet competitive bids would give every merchant an equal chance. When I spend my own money, it is my business where and how it is spent, but when I spend your money it is a different story.
6. I shall request that local merchants and local producers of milk be supported by the board and the schools.
7. I shall stop immediately the consolidation of rural schools and restore some already chopped. The people of Clanton do not need to be crowded with children from other school areas.
8. I promise that I am in no way tied to the present administration, nor am I handicapped or handbitten by the past administration in anyway. Only changes be made by being free from either.

9. I promise to replace several members of that Old Gang of Mine because the people are disgusted and have seen enough actions by a few. When several take the roads against a change, because their job is at stake, the people have their eyes opened. The people owe no person a living forever.
10. I promise to represent the county people, as well as the people of the city in the fairest way possible. Never will I represent only that so called layer of society who is against the children, but for the money connections staying in one pot. We have people of the city and the country who are tired of this so called layer running the affairs of our county.
11. I promise to work with the members of the board of education, the P.T.A.'s, civic clubs, and our legislators in any effort to improve our school system. It is a shame when our leaders try to pass the buck to certain persons for our county schools being in such shape. Who decided how the money was to be spent?
12. I shall respect the principals and teacher's rights to operate the schools and teach in them in their own way, so long as the correct procedures and system of discipline are carried out. Registered letters of complaints will be discarded for personal interviews conducted on a professional not political basis.
13. I promise that the children of this county can and will be found inside the schools under close supervision. These children will not be seen on the side of the roads, in cars, on the frontsteps, or on the streets soliciting funds. Those in charge where such conditions exist will be backed in their efforts to correct them. Pressures from a few will be overlooked.
14. I shall see that a stricter curriculum is introduced and backed by stricter discipline if necessary. Our youth must be prepared for college. The idea of introducing subject matter and not having results is a waste of time. Our teachers are capable of making such a change and will be backed against a few who might object.
15. I shall see that the people of Jewison are given help in their lunchroom facilities and fire hazard buildings. There should be no building program unless these conditions are corrected.

16. I shall see that the people of Thorby are given help in securing a football team and vocational building. The children of this section will not be transported to another school to help over crowd it.
17. I promise the people of Maplesville and Jewison that a band instructor will be employed to help them secure a band.
18. I promise to find the way to give bus drivers, and also employees a decent salary.
19. I promise that the supervisors who work in my office will stay in the schools until certain standards are reached. We already have a group of fine supervisors, and if needed an additional one will be employed to relieve the load carried by one of them. Every effort and backing will be given to them in their efforts. All they need is a little backing and a greater voice in what they are supposed to supervise. Then, if changes are in order, let's change.
20. I promise to re-employ certain teachers who have left the county or quit due to pressures from a select few. They had the nerve to question policies and I respect this right of teachers anytime. They will be returned to their schools where the majority of patrons are requesting it. You know whom I mean.
21. I shall stop the payment of light and water bills. Something tells me that there will be money.
22. I shall ask the transfer of any employee of the board of education if the majority of patrons request it. Common sense tells us that something is wrong when the majority of patrons are against certain employees. Every means to correct any faults, if found, will be made before action is taken. After all, the schools belong to the people or have a few forgotten this?
23. I shall make every effort to correct deplorable conditions found in the white and colored schools. Our children must not be transported to another county.
24. I shall see that the people of Jewison, nor carried away to be indoctrinated against our way of life.
25. I promise to be your superintendent, not a superintendent of a few, with ten per, if necessary, backbone. I will be glad for you to find out any of my platform is better carried out at the present, or not, don't you agree is it or is it not?

Sincerely,
Lloyd D. (Simon) Mims

Northside Baptist Church News

The services at the Northside Baptist church last week were well attended. The church school, 31 at Training Union and a fine crowd attended the worship service. A fine gentleman united with the church for baptism and another rededicated his life to the Lord. A grand choir and the congregation participated in a wonderful song service, directed by Bro. Jack Marcus. The special music was rendered by Brothers, Jack Marcus and M. G. Fields. The church agreed to the Training Union hour to 6:30 p.m., and also agreed to cooperate with the Associational Simultaneous revivals March 25 through April 1. Bro. Fields is serving as supply pastor and he and the church extends a very cordial invitation to everyone, especially the church members, and the people of the Dan River Mills area, to attend Sunday

"The Sky Is The Limit."

"The sky is the limit" is an old expression but it gives a pretty good picture of the range of activities the 4-H Club program provides.

The local 4-H Club gives many young people the chance to practice democracy and to develop leadership. Learning to be a member of a club, preside at meetings and give demonstrations instills confidence and builds character.

Four-H work emphasizes the home. The 4-H project provides opportunities to "learn by doing." The project is not something for the member alone, but becomes a part of the family life. Working together as a 4-H family can be a wonderful experience for parents as well as boys and girls. They grow together as they plant the seeds and harvest the fruits of better living.

Group activities such as county camps, county wide meetings state 4-H conference and the National 4-H Congress are enjoyed each year by thousands of 4-H Club members. Each event provides an experience of growth, mentally, physically, spiritually and socially.

During National 4-H Club Week, more than 2,296,000 4-H Club members in the United States are taking a look at the many opportunities offered by the 4-H program.

LOUISIANA—

Baton Rouge has the country's tallest State Capitol. It's 34 stories are most unique and reaches almost 500 feet up. Huey P. Long was responsible for the erection of this unique and stately building as it was built during his administration as Governor of the state. The building is something of a personal monument to him, as he was assassinated in a marble-lined corridor of the building in 1935. His grave is in a sunken garden on the Capitol grounds. Over 52,000,000 people have visited the building, which is a visit to remember. The old Capitol, with its winding stairs and dome with panes of colored glass, is also open to the public.

Patriotic Party For Better Speech Club

What a wonderful climax to a series of studies of famous Americans occurred in our room February 24!

A group of kind and generous mothers changed the appearance of the front of our room in almost a wink. Beautiful red ramellas wreathed the base of the milk glass punch bowl containing sparkling red punch. Decorating the serving and punch tables were large trays containing dainty nut cups decorated with miniature flags and delicious cup cakes embossed in white with red cherries and green twigs. It was certainly an inspiring sight to eager fifth graders.

As we passed to the front we were served by Jimmy Rogers, Jimmy McKee, Phil Cole, Wade Connell, and David Holcombe. Barbara Vandalice and Donna Little served at the punch bowl.

During this festival occasion appropriate music was rendered by John Morgan, Foshie, Jr., Ginger Alred, Belinda Headley, Susan Speaks and Edwin Johnson. Speakers for the afternoon were Lynn Thrash, Laura Ann Klinger, Ginger Alred, Jimmy McKee, Wade Connell, and Edwin Johnson. The boys who served presented pretty comell-

Lloyd D. Mims Informs The Public

Since I have been the only candidate to promise to give the answers to a lot of questions the voters want to know, every effort is being made to make me because a select few realize that Lloyd D. Mims will do everything in his power to spend the taxpayer's money in a business and economical way. To make sure that his actions are always in the interest of the children of this county, he will publish the facts because a public record should be made public. That Old Gang of Mine realizes that Lloyd D. Mims will give every merchant his equal share and the children of this county will be treated equally regardless of how a certain section voted. He will never agree to resign in favor of letting another person be appointed superintendent, nor will he agree to place the school funds in one particular bank now or ever. My friends understand these statements and so do my political enemies. My answers to any sneers against me are that the people aren't so easily fooled as a select few think. The source and motive of these sneers are enough because they came from persons afraid of losing their jobs or having the purchases of a few taken entirely from them and divided equally with all merchants. If any sneers could be so, how could the following statements be true? I have never failed to draw a full salary in this county, nor have I been fired or asked to resign from a job. If such sneers were true, I could not hold an Alabama teacher's certificate and only this past year was recommended for a life certificate from the state of Georgia. By qualifying for this office, I state superintendent of education had to recommend me as having a clean record with the state. Now, you be the judge of such desperate efforts to prevent Lloyd D. Mims from making a few changes long overdue.

Sincerely,
Lloyd D. (Simon) Mims

To The People Of Chilton County

O. J. McGriff

On February 3, 1962 I qualified with the Chilton County Democratic Committee as a candidate for Member of Chilton County Board of Education, Place No. 1. I feel that you are entitled to know something about me.

I was born and reared on a farm in Southeast Alabama. My father was a farmer; also a rural mail carrier for 34 years. I am 39 years of age and the father of four children, two teen aged boys and twins three years old.

I have been employed by the Alabama Power Company for twenty years and was transferred to Lay and Mitchell Dams as Chief Clerk in 1956. I am presently Chief Clerk at Lay Mitchell and Jordan Dams. I have the responsibility for all the office work, including payrolls at all three plants.

I own my home in Verbena and am active in community and church affairs, and have the responsibility of leadership in the following capacities: in the Verbena Methodist Church I am chairman of the Official Board, Sunday School Superintendent, and president of the Mens Club. I am serving the 2nd year as president of Verbena P.T.A. I am also a member and Past Master of the Masonic Lodge. I am a World War II veteran, serving in the European and Pacific theaters.

I pledge to you my untiring efforts to see that our children have the very best educational opportunities available. I also pledge to you my cooperation with the other Board Members and Super. Education to carry out a program that will be beneficial to all concerned.

I am running this race on my own and will be obligated to no one but you the people of Chilton County. This is my first time to seek public office, therefore, I invite you to ask the people of Verbena what O. J. McGriff stands for. You will find that one of the things he stands for is progress.

It will be impossible for me to see all of you individually, through this media I sincerely solicit your vote and influence in my behalf.

A man should not seek a public office without being completely aware of the demands of that position, and he should be well informed on what is going on in every possible category effecting the administration of his duties! In other words... it's impossible!

SOCIETY frowns on the individual who appears to be judge, jury and administrator of punishment. It's ironic too, isn't it, because that describes a parent in pretty good detail! If you don't believe it, ask any kid!

IF some people do not refrain from using the Southern traditions and ways of doing things for political grist and propaganda, we are going to find out, the hard way, that those things no longer mean anything!

THE weather has at least been consistent for the past several days... miserable!

CITY officials and local businessmen are greatly assisting the "Springtime is clean-up, fix-up time" theme lately. New sidewalks, new faces for some of our businesses and new merchants in town are really bringing out the 'Spring has sprung' feeling! Patience folks!

EVERYBODY we know says the peaches in Chilton County look really good this year! It is especially encouraging because it isn't just for optimism's sake... they really are looking good! If the market is favorable, Chilton will pull out considerably during the spring and summer months to come! And high time, too!

Are You "For" Something, Or Just Against Everything--

THERE is great concern throughout Chilton County over our educational problems and how we intend to meet them for the future of our children and the coming generation. It is our opinion that most of the anxieties which we hear expressed from day to day are greatly exaggerated and are not nearly so grim and terrible as some would have us believe.

We most certainly do not imply that our educational situation today is beyond the stage of improving. What we do maintain is that there are many of our elected officials and private citizens as well, working very hard on the problems that confront all of us today, and we should work with them to solve these problems rather than constantly reminding them of what a mess they have gotten things into!

No progress will ever be realized when our entire conception of our school problems are tied up in griping and complaining about how pitiful the situation is. If you are truly concerned with our problem in this field, and are willing to work to improve it, then you will offer your support to those responsible for the problems and their remedies and solutions and work with them for the benefit of our children!

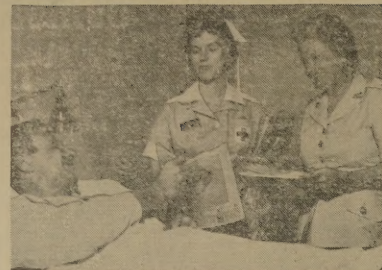

Your concern should not be with running-down individuals, but with solving the problem as a whole so that our children... yours and mine... will enjoy a full and very necessary education! Instead of trying to knock others down, why don't we all pull together to help them to stand up, so they can do the job we hire them to do! A man or an organization who is constantly having to defend his actions, has little time for anything else!

Fanatics Are A Minority--

THE preservation of our Southern way of life is as important to one true Southerner as it is another, but we fail to see the value of crying "wolf" in an area where harmony prevails between the races.

Too many candidates for political office, whatever the office may be, are assuming that every rural Southerner is not only an "ardent segregationist", but is a fanatic on the subject!! We, in the back woods, know that is not true. There are those who are truly interested in maintaining segregation because they believe it is the right thing, and there are those fanatics who claim to believe in segregation when in reality all they believe in is themselves... they THINK they

Service with a Smile

Cheerful Red Cross workers help brighten the day for patients in the hospital in East Bay. Mrs. George A. Morris, (center) Gray Lady whose bedside home town is Tuscola, Ill., brings reading matter to Sgt. 1/2 Frank J. Parise, Ocala, Fla. Miss Mary A. Moffatt, Memphis, Tenn., ARC assistant field director, who takes care of welfare problems at the hospital for the Red Cross, checks to see if he needs any of her services. Mrs. Morris is one of a group of wives of U. S. Army officers, enlisted men and civilian employees who serve as Red Cross volunteers at the hospital.

FUND DRIVE BEGINS

The American and Cross opens its 1962 fund drive in March, with a call to the Chilton County Hospital, at 10 o'clock a.m. on Monday, March 12. At this time there will be a guest speaker, Mr. James W. Cullens from Montgomery. He will be introduced by Mr. Tom Eagan who is Field Director of the Voluntary Administration in Montgomery.

This coffee will also be for the purpose of the Roll call chairman, Mrs. Reede (Pauline) Taylor to give all her workers their material and instructions. The Hospital Auxiliary Ladies' meeting at their November meeting to make the Red Cross Roll call their project for this year. Speaking of Service with a Smile, the doctors in the County were approached at their last meeting and asked to help with an Emergency which had to be taken care of before the Roll Call. They responded most graciously and generously and the local Red Cross will ever be grateful to them.

Also the Employees at the Chilton County Hospital under the leadership of the Administration, Mr. W. F. Elmore. It may be true, that a picture is worth a thousand words, but we all know that the printed is mighty effective too, especially when it has local clout.

So be it the Red Cross Kick off effort if you are interested in giving your Service with a Smile.

● YOUR SOCIAL ● SECURITY

(This series of questions about Social Security is compiled from the questions sent to the Social Security Office from Chilton County and answered by David G. Adams, Field Representative. The amount of that you want answered may be sent to your social security office.)

Q. How many quarters of coverage (credits) do I need to get the maximum social security payment?

A. Quarters of coverage are only used to determine if you will receive social security payments. The amount of your payment depends on the amount of your earnings.

Q. I have a maid who works two days a week for me. I pay her $2.50 for each day. Should Social Security taxes be paid on these wages?

A. Yes. If you pay a household worker $80 or more in cash wages in a calendar quarter, you must make the report and pay the taxes each calendar quarter.

Q. Would I be able to get a "birth certificate" through your office?

A. No, we do not issue birth certificates. However, we do have a census form you may use in sending for a search of the census records for use in proving your age.

Isabella F. F. A. Met. March 3

The Isabella Chapter of the Future Farmers of America held its regular monthly meeting Friday, March 3.

The meeting was called to order by president Frank Daniel. There were 45 members present. The chapter presented Judge J. C. White with the Honorary chapters Farmer's degree for his chapter. Also present at this outstanding contribution to the meeting was Judy Feebe, Chapter Supervisor from 1961.

hate all Negroes. This ignorance is so openly displayed we cannot feel anything but pity for them.

We resent any political candidate, and think they should be forewarned to this effect, who comes into this area seeking to arouse the public, and the voter on the issue of segregation! We do not intend to underestimate the possible dangers to our way of life through integration, but neither do we intend to allow our people to be stamped and their principles shaken just because some character who thinks it will help his chances toward public office gets upon the stump and waves the red flag of danger! We need education and information and common sense... not alarmist propaganda! A word to the candidates: There are fanatics in Chilton County on practically any subject you care to discuss; but they are decidedly not a majority of the voting totals. The majority of our people, regardless of what you have been led to believe, are intelligent, sincere, law-abiding citizens. They too, resent being ridiculed!

MAN OF THE WEEK

THIS week the News salutes Sam Patterson as the Man Of The Week! This week, Sam will celebrate his 10th Anniversary in the building supply and hardware business in Clanton.

And from a very humble beginning, this man Patterson, has built one of the finest building supply and hardware businesses in Central Alabama. He seems to be tireless, and another necessary ingredient in his make-up is he is a very good businessman.

Sam, who calls Chilton County home, graduated from high school at Vechuca, Mississippi, and the University of Alabama, where he received a B.S. in Civil Engineering. He is married to the former Virginia Hamilton of Clanton and they are blessed with two lovely daughters: Rhonda, who is ten years old and Jennifer who is five months old.

The Pattersons are members of the First Baptist Church in Clanton. He is a Mason and a Shriner.

The firm of Patterson-Alred Contractors was formed about a year and a half ago and they have already built a high school for Clanton and now have a contract for another building in Roanoke, Alabama. A very good showing for the boys in a new and highly competitive field.

Sam is a civic-minded individual who takes pride in working for the improvement of his community. His business ventures in this community have been successful because he has unusual foresight and energy. We salute Sam Patterson for his contributions to Clanton and Chilton County.

Girls 4-H Clothing Revue During March

By Martha K. Radford
Assistant HD Agent

During the month of March, all the Girl's 4-H Clubs in the county are participating in the Clothing Revue in their schools. Later in the month, they will also take part in the County Revue.

Last week I met with the Stanton and Maplesville 4-H Clubs. There were 14 girls who participated in these. They each told what they had made and the garments were discussed.

Many of you are interested in the styles for Spring. It seems that almost anything goes. The soft, fluid fabrics have the green light this year. Garments are being shown with boat neck lines and also with large Peter Pan collars.

Blouses are either bloused or semifitted, and skirts are flare full or pleated.

It seems that the Navy has landed in the garment field also, middle blouses and red, white and blue garments are being seen everywhere.

So as you plan your Spring wardrobe, remember these points. I will give you more next week.

MAYOR COMMENT

ON STILL RAID

The above Officers had the pleasure of blowing a 600 gallon still into the air with dynamite. After one (1) full week of watching the building of the still, brewing of mash and finally watching four (4) men operate the still long enough to manufacture 22 gallons of whiskey and put the whiskey into gallon jugs the climax came, that is the raid itself. Two (2) of the group were caught and carried to Montgomery by a Federal Officer who took part in the raid.

This still was set up within a stones throw of the City Limits of Clanton, in fact only about 400 feet from the City Limits, located on the North side of town. This was our first experience or knowledge of a still being operated so close in, therefore, our officers were determined to catch the operators of possible.

Being close to a thickly settled area we did not want to have more officers going into the area than was necessary. I wish to thank all officers and people that took part in the raid.

Many hours of sleep were lost by those involved, plus a number of hours of exposure to cold and dampness. Our A.B.C. officer Harry Young, Federal officers from Montgomery plus local officers did a wonderful job, therefore, they are to be commended. I am proud of them.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

A bill designed to help combat the unemployment problem throughout the nation - the Manpower Development and Training Act - was approved overwhelmingly by the House of Representatives last week.

Passed with strong bipartisan support, the bill set up an extensive program of vocational school and on the job training for jobless workers whose skills have been made obsolete because of automation and technological changes. The program represents a new approach to the problem of massive unemployment. It is based on the conclusion that an increasing amount of unemployment in the United States is due to complete elimination of jobs rather than temporary business slumps. This bill attacks the problem through vocational training in state schools and on the job rather than through direct extension of unemployment payments.

As proposed in the House approved bill, the program will be operated on a federal state basis and will provide retraining for about 400,000 workers over a two year period at an estimated cost of $263 million.

SPECIAL HELP FOR SOME
In addition to providing for vocational training, the House bill directs payment of subsistence allowances to unemployed heads of families who are learning new skills. To be eligible, however, such workers must have been regularly employed for at least three years before their jobs were eliminated. The subsistence payments can be made only to one year but cannot exceed the amount of unemployment compensation payable to the jobs by the various states. Extra allowances of up to $36 weekly are permitted only for those who must leave their homes to take training.

This legislation also provides a special training program for young men and women who are preparing to enter the job market. They are entitled to no subsistence allowances, however. Farmers whose combined family income is less than $2000 annually are entitled to the full benefits available through the program.

A similar measure passed by the Senate last year differs chiefly from the House bill in that it projects a four year program costing $655 million. Differences in the two measures are expected to be resolved by a House-Senate conference committee. It is predicted that the conference legislation will be more in line with the less expensive House bill.

"Ten Thousand Lost"

People In Chilton County

Mrs. Albert J. Smith, Alabama Baptist State WMU President, said, "One of the greatest needs of our world today is a truly Christian Nation, and America could be that nation if every Southern Baptist prayed earnestly enough and worked diligently enough." There are about two billion people in the world who are lost without hope. There are at least ten thousand people lost in Chilton County.

The 1960 Government census reveals that there are 25,546 people residing in this county. Approximately 18 thousand profess a religion, and only about six thousand attend Sunday School and church regularly on any given Lord's Day or Sunday. This means that at least 17 thousand people in Chilton county do not attend Sunday school and the Christian churches do not win them, remember they are being exposed to the devil's deceitfulness and communism. Paul said "I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians; both to the wise and to the unwise" (Rom. 1:14). Baptists, we are debtors to all these people.

VOTE FOR

Gordon Conway

For Superintendent of Education

One of the most important county officers to be elected this year is that of County Superintendent of Education. Besides being important, this job is a very complicated one and the person filling the office needs to be a democratic leader.

As a leader, I am willing to listen to and help other people with their problems. I endeavor always to be courteous to everyone, I strive to be honest and fair in the game of life, I may my debts, I am young but out of boyhood, I feel that I am accepted by the people of the community and county in which I live and work and I feel that I will always be able to work with people, I am not ready to make promises which cannot be fulfilled, I recognize the dignity and worth of every individual, and I feel that a public servant should be an active member of the church.

Your vote and influence in electing me as your superintendent of education will be sincerely appreciated.

Subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries, May 1 and 29, 1962.

L. R. West In Memphis, Tenn.

L. R. West, ATCS, and his family are visiting relatives in Clanton and Birmingham this week.

West has been serving in the U. S. Navy since he graduated from Chilton County High School in 1946.

His Basic Training was in Corpus Christi, Texas, his first tour of duty was in Guam, he had several tours of duty in the Mediterranean, served with the Ground Control Approach Unit in Brunswick, Maine, has had 21 in Brunswick, Maine, has had several tours of duty at the Naval Base in Memphis, Tenn., and one duty tour at the Base in Jacksonville, Fla.

He is now returning to the Naval Base at Memphis, Tenn., for an eight months period of Advanced Aviation Electronics School, after just completed a seven months period of sea tour of the Atlantic And Submarine Forces with Patrol 26, out of Brunswick, Maine.

Mrs. L. R. West is the former June Elise Tucker, also a graduate of Chilton County High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tucker. They have six children, Ray 13, Richard 11, Robert 9, Sharon 8, Randal 2, and Nannette 3 months. They will return to their home in Tenn. the latter part of this week.

The children have visited many of the historical cities and places in their travels from North to South and East to West. On their first trip to Maine, they had the privilege of visiting the Capitol of the United States and seeing the huge Christmas tree all lighted up. They have received quite an Education traveling from one State to another with their father, but have not been over seas with him yet. However, their father has brought them gifts and filmed pictures from all over the World, which are priceless to them and most interesting and Educational.

Larry K. Langston
At Memphis, Tenn.

Larry K. Langston, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Langston of Route 1, Jenison, Ala., was graduated January 31, from the Aviation Structural Mechanics School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

During the eight week hydraulics course, students receive instruction in the fundamentals of aviation publications, supply and flight theory, aircraft controls, troubleshooting, and landing gear inspection techniques.

Prerequisites for the school include the Aviation Familiarization and Mechanical Fundamentals Schools, both at the Memphis center.

James L. Dennis
At Biggs AFB, Texas

Airman Third Class James L. Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Dennis of Route 5, Clanton, Ala., is being assigned to Biggs AFB, Texas, following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for accounting and finance specialists here.

Airman Dennis received training in Air Force financial and accounting procedures.

The airman, who attended Chilton County High School, entered the service in August 1961.

George H. Hamm
Serving Aboard
USS Antietam

George H. Hamm, Jr., aviation structural mechanic third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hamm of 108 1/2 Seventh St., Clanton, Ala., is serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare aircraft carrier USS Antietam, which participated in the recovery operations of the "Project Mercury" orbital space flight.

The Antietam is one of more than 40 U. S. Navy ships which were on station in the Atlantic for the operation.

The "Friendship 7" capsule which carried Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, Jr., on the history making third orbit flight was retrieved at sea by the destroyed USS NOA approximately five hours after launching.

Joseph D. Dennis
In Alaska

Army PFC Joseph D. Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie L. Dennis, Route 1, Verbena, Ala., is participating with other personnel from the 23rd Infantry in Exercise Great Bear, a joint U. S. - Canadian winter maneuver in Alaska, Feb. 12-21.

The exercise tests cold weather military doctrine and the ability of the two allied armies to work together as a fighting team. Exercise Great Bear is being conducted in the vicinity of Hanacross and Eielson Air Force Base, one of the most rugged areas over which an Alaskan maneuver has ever been held. Principle terrain features in the 3,200 square mile maneuver area are the heavily forested lowlands of the Tanana river valley and the mountains, which range as high as 4,000 feet, converging on both sides of the valley.

Dennis, a driver in the infantry's Company B at Fort Richardson, entered the Army in September 1960, completed basic training at Fort Benning, Ga., and arrived in Alaska in February 1961.

The 20 year old soldier is a 1959 graduate of Verbena High School.

Army Sgt. Chester Sparks, whose wife, Lois, lives on Route 2, Clanton, Ala., graduated from The Non-Commissioned Officer (NCO) Academy at Fort Richardson, Alaska, Feb. 3.

Sergeant Sparks received four weeks of refresher training in various subjects with emphasis on leadership and combat tactics. The purpose of the academy is to broaden the professional knowledge of the NCO and to instill in him the self confidence and sense of responsibility required to make him a capable leader of men.

Sergeant Sparks, a mortar squad leader in Company B of the 23d Infantry at Fort Richardson, entered the Army in

Deferred Student
Exams To Be April 17th

State Director Walter M. Thompson, Jr., said today that Alabama's annual Selective Service College Qualifications Tests will be held April 17, 1962.

The examinations will again be conducted at Auburn University, Auburn; Birmingham; Southern College, Birmingham; Florence State College, Florence; Spring Hill College, Mobile; Alabama State College, Montgomery; Huntington College, Montgomery and the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa.

Thompson said that any Selective registrant who is a full time college student may apply for the test, if eligible. To be eligible, the registrant must be one who intends to request deferment as a student. He must also be satisfactorily pursuing a full time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree (the applicant need not be in a four year college, but his entire course of study must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree granting institution.)

A third factor, he must not have previously taken the test. The Alabama Selective Service director said that applications for the test must be postmarked no later than midnight, Tuesday March 27, 1962. Complete information and application blanks may be obtained at any Alabama Selective Service local board.

DESPITE AUTOMATION the number of jobs in the telephone business is increasing. Today with over 97% of our state's telephones dial operated, Southern Bell employs over 6500 Alabamians. Ten years ago we telephone people numbered less than 5900, and at that time nearly 25% of our phones were operated manually. Expansion and improvements have created jobs in the communications field. Southern Bell's Alabama phones increased 90% during the past decade. This expansion was made possible by over 2,000,000 people who have elected to invest in our business.

WE AT THE TELEPHONE COMPANY are very grateful for the free enterprise system. It has permitted us to advance far beyond the nationalized systems of the world. It is interesting to note that the nine southeastern states served by Southern Bell contain more telephones than any other nation. Think of it. More telephones than Great Britain. More than France. Far more than the U.S.S.R.!

Mr. Bell's discovery was introduced to the world through individuals and companies willing to risk money on an idea. The same spirit has nurtured the telephone business for 85 years.

MORE THAN ONE-HALF the world's telephones are used by Americans. Improved communications have complimented all phases of our nation's endeavor. The future holds many challenges. I know that the free enterprise system will find the answers.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY, does everyone in your family know how to get help quickly by phone? First, keep a list of "Emergency Telephone Numbers" handy by the telephone. When calling the police or fire department, it's best to report details in person. But the operator is there to help, if you need assistance. Just dial "Operator."

"PARDON ME, BUT,
IS YOUR NAME BROWN?"

Are "administered" prices in the U.S. fair?

We don't think so. 88 per cent of all prices in the United States are administered* This simply means they are fixed by administrative decisions of managements of companies. This practice is possible only where the companies in question have monopolistic control in the industry. This is why the healthy competition of Rural Electric is helpful to all users of electricity.

Shell dealers suggest 10 ways to cut car repair bills

Your car is probably the second biggest single investment you'll ever make. Here are 10 pointers from Shell that can help you protect that investment. They're easy to follow. And they might well save you a lot of trouble, as well as needless expense.

- 1. Check your cooling system hose for weak spots. Inspect all of the rubber hoses that interconnect your cooling system. If they are cracked, cut or swollen, they could give way at any time and cause engine temperature to soar. The result: a troublesome breakdown. Less serious, but a potential cause of overheating, is a debris-clogged radiator. Ask your Shell dealer to use his air hose to clear away clutter on the outside of your radiator.
- 2. Touch up scratches before rust sets in. You can discourage the spread of rust by using touch-up paint on body scratches. Rust also likes to plug drainage holes on the underside of car doors and body panels. Keep those holes open (a screwdriver or any pointed instrument works fine) and you may prevent a rusted-through door or body section.
- 3. Avoid 100-foot trips. It's a mean trick to start a cold car, drive it just a few feet, then turn it off. Yet people often park in front of their homes, then drive into the garage later on. This can increase engine wear, dilute your oil with
- 4. Look for oil streaks on inner walls of tires. It may take a bit of back-bending, but it's well worth the effort to check the side of your tires you seldom see—the side facing in. If there's any sign of leaking fluid on tire walls, tell your Shell dealer. A leaking brake cylinder or rear axle oil seals could be at fault. Either can lead to extensive repairs if not corrected right away.
- 5. Obey the cardinal rule of car care. A professional lubrication job is still the best way to keep your car in good health. But it should be done on a regular basis—not "every so often." For safety's sake, Shelllubricate every 1000 miles. If your car has an automatic transmission, your transmission fluid level should be checked regularly. Your Shell serviceman can do this for you during Shelllubrication.
- 6. Never "gun" your car to warm up your engine. It doesn't help a bit. Matter of fact, it can do more harm than good, even increase engine wear. Many drivers also think it's worthwhile to idle their cars on a cold morning. But, with today's modern engines, it isn't necessary. It just wastes gasoline. Far better to start your engine, wait a few seconds until it's running smoothly—then be on your way, but at moderate speed.
- 7. Check a terribly neglected little accessory. People seldom give their windshield wipers a second thought—except when it rains. But wipers wear out too. Instead of wiping your windshield, they can smear and scratch it. Wiper blades are easy to replace—but windshield aren't. Ask your Shell dealer to check unburned fuel and give sludge more chance to form. If at all possible, drive right into the garage when you arrive home.

your blades and wiper arms next time you see him.

8. Get a midwinter anti-freeze check.

If you've had to add water to your radiator in the last few months, you may have less anti-freeze protection than you think. Let your Shell dealer check your coolant with a hydrometer—to make sure an extra cold night won't cause trouble. Reminder: If you got a Shellzone anti-freeze guarantee this winter, you're entitled to free refills, if necessary, until April 1, 1962.

9. Don't let front wheels hit the curb.

Banging front wheels against the curb is tough on wheel alignment—and tires too. So, approach the curb carefully when you park. This sounds like a small thing, but it can help prevent costly front end problems. Suggestion: look at the tread on your front wheels right now. If they show uneven wear, your front wheel alignment may need attention.

10. Give your car an occasional change of scenery.

A steady diet of city driving adds to the combustion deposits inside your engine. This deposit buildup can reduce your car's power and, eventually, may cause trouble. But many of the deposits that come with city driving will fly out the exhaust when you hit the open road. So, take your car for a turnpike drive this weekend. It can be good exercise for it. And a pleasant afternoon for you.

GAIL GRAHAM IS EIGHT
One of the loveliest parties for a little 8 year old was Saturday, February 23rd when Mrs. Tommie Graham feted her daughter Gail with a birthday party of her eight birthday. A group of about 18 youngsters of Thorbs including one of her little playmates Pam Davis of Birmingham.

Delicious punch was served with the beautiful cake, decorated with yellow and pink, was written across the cake Happy Birthdays Gail, also ice cream, candies was served. Favors were given to each of the little guest.

A box was placed at Thorbsby's tractor Co., P. F. Singley for about a week to vote for your candidate and they really didn't get a kick out of it, the box was opened Saturday and about 600 votes were counted, so if you are a candidate, maybe you can find out how you stand in around Thorbsby. If you were unable to spell names of the party running for Governor there were a lot of pieces of paper with "You'll Come". So we see that Mr. Folsom is still being remembered.

Miss Helen Jenkins is in Clinton County hospital, we wish for her a speedy recovery.

PLANNING A PROGRAM for your school, church, civic group, club? You'll be interested in one of the programs available without charge from Southern Bell. A variety of 16 mm sound films, demonstrations, teaching aids, tours and booklets designed to be entertaining as well as informative, can be borrowed from our business office. Make your request as far in advance as possible, though, to be sure you get the program you want — when you want it.

LONG DISTANCE is always a bargain, but it's an even bigger bargain when you place your calls after 6 p.m. weekdays or any time Sunday. Remember, too, that rates are lower if you call station-to-station. And calling by number saves time. A Long Distance call is the next best thing to being there in person . . . so keep in touch by Long Distance.

How Good Is Your Word?--

THERE are good Democrats in Chilton County and, as good Democrats, Southern Democrats if you please, we here in Chilton County have the greatest opportunity today that we have ever had to make our Democratic name mean something! The Republicans are sweating blood trying to raise an organization up by its bootstraps and are making some gains too; How impressive they are remains to be seen!

But, we are not concerned with Republicans at the moment. They are obliged to worry for themselves! What we are concerned with are those in Chilton County who call themselves Democrats, who have used the Democratic Party in this County and its most loyal supporters for their own personal gain, either to a public office or for some other reason, and are now, and have been in the past, selling that Party out to play mamby-pamby and pussy-foot with the opposition!

It should go unsaid, that we have a much higher regard for a man who is a Republican and stands up and says so loud and clear, than we do for a man who says he is a Democrat loud and clear and is no such thing! In fact we have no regard whatsoever for this particular breed, we hold him in considerable contempt!

We believe that an individual should stand for something. It happens that we also subscribe to the theory that an individual can do much more politically for his community by belonging to a party than he can by being anonymous! It is not wrong to feel otherwise it is still a free and wonderful country!

We need no lessons in the shortcomings of the Democratic Party, as a whole. We don't believe there is much we could do or say to improve it, were we not a part of it! The basic principles of the Democratic Party are good. We are Democrats and proud of the fact that our father and our grandfather were too, Democrats! We are not Democrats simply because 'pappy' and 'grandpappy' were; we believe in our Party.

This newspaper has always supported the Democratic Party! It has supported the nominees for public office of the Party and cooperated 100% with the public officials holding office as Democrats! Though we do not appreciate being "stabbed in the back" by those same individuals whom we have supported, we refuse to abandon the Party and its principles! Chilton County has progressed tremendously under Democratic leadership!

But, if we, as the Democratic organ in this community, giving all that we possibly can, in any way that we can to support our Party and its members, cannot command the same respect and support and allegiance from those whom we have given assistance time and again, then we fail to see why we should continue to support them, or their personal attitudes and opinions!

We do not intend to continue to support a man in public office under the auspices of the Democratic Party, if that man does not see fit to return that support! It is, in our opinion, an allegiance of mutual sacrifice, and certainly mutual necessity if we are to maintain a good Democratic Party in Chilton County! We are not speaking of "spoils" or "political payoffs"! We are talking about individual, personal and Party allegiance! If your allegiance is to no one but yourself, then you shouldn't have any need for help at any time. And if that is true, then don't expect to depend on the Democratic Party or it's Newspaper the next time you feel the need for support and concern!

There are Democratic officeholders in Chilton County, who are obviously, not Democrats! They prefer to play 'cat and mouse' and call it "being fair." When you take advantage of the name "Democrat" by running for office under that influence, then you are using those others of us who also are called "Democrats"! You may not feel that you owe any allegiance, but we would certainly assume that you expected a Democrat to vote that way! After all, isn't that why you ran for office on the Democratic ticket?

You have an allegiance all right, whether you choose to dishonor it choose to honor it or not! If you choose to dishonor it choose to honor it or not! And turn your back on those who have supported their Party consistently, including you during your time at bat, then don't expect allegiance in return! If we, as Democrats, made a mistake by electing you to office then don't presume that it will happen again! We learned a long time ago not to make the same foolish mistake twice! And those who haven't, are learning fast!

When YOU give - the Red Cross can help.
Courtesy National Cartoonists Society

NOW that they have started the rockets to rolling, there seems to be an ample supply of nominations for candidates to go to the moon, or some other distant planet! And we don't hear a word about volunteers either!

Chilton's Economy Is Sick--

TUESDAY and Wednesday of last week, a stranger passing through Chilton County would have thought the "Black Plague" was on its way to devastate the countryside. That's how dependent Chilton County's economy has become upon the peach crop and market.

It is an extremely unhealthy situation when the entire business economy of Chilton County hinges on the success or failure of one crop such as the fragile and comparatively unpredictable peach.

Chilton County has been called 'The Peach and Berry Center of The World', but the lack of proper and sufficient outlets coupled with some lean years on the production side, show that we are something less than that today.

This situation makes it doubly important that we diversify our economy to a greater degree; so that when one crop or one industry fails to materialize as expected our entire economy will not falter on the brink of total chaos!

And that is what was so apparent last week! Literally every businessman we talked with, and they were numerous, could think of little more than "what will we do if the peaches freeze!" And that was just about the extent of the promotion of their business last week! We don't have to say it is an unhealthy situation everything indicates that it is; but somebody had better say it!

Naming The New Schools--

ACCORDING to the contractors, the new school in Clanton will be finished in about five or six weeks and the one in Maplesville is well underway to completion.

We certainly hope that someone is working on what the new schools will be named. A public institution such as a school, for the sake of history and tradition should have a fine and impressive name. There are many who have served in Chilton County and helped greatly in our school system, improving the educational facilities for future generations, whose name would credit any school.

It is assumed by us that our new school buildings will be properly named, and properly Christened, in order to get them off to the start they deserve. Somebody be thinking about this!

An Opportune Time--

SPEAKING of statewide politics, now is probably the best chance in your lifetime for you to do some real good in government and the affairs of your state and community. One of our Congressmen, under the 9-8 plan, is going to be disposed of. Observing the volumes of mail we are receiving from all of our Congressmen lately, we would think that they are in a very receptive frame of mind, with regards to suggestions and opinions. If you have been nursing an idea that you think will improve the lot of the average American citizen, be it taxes or whatever, now is the time to sneak up! If we are ever going to have a revolution in our affairs of governing ourselves, we will never have a better opportunity than right now!

Across The Editor's Desk--

Mrs. Hannay Defends 'Freedom Of Speech'

Daily I receive invitations from different parts of the State to speak at Political Rallies. Many read along the following lines, "Each candidate will be charged $5.00 for the first three minutes and $1.00 for each additional minute", or similar words. Others mention $10.00 to $25.00 to register or qualify and yet other invitation contain books of tickets for donations.

I do not believe the voting people of our State are aware, or would approve of this apparently widespread practice that Candidates for Office are being charged to speak. Good citizens should be interested in hearing the views of Candidates for Office. Under these limitations only a millionaire could afford to run for State Office if every Candidate does this. In Lawrenburg County, the County Democratic Committee has specifically forbidden such practices and also the collecting of any form of donation other than for a meal served.

I urge all interested citizens to take immediate action now so that the FREEDOM of Speech of Candidates is not abridged by their having to pay to speak. If elected Secretary of State, I shall campaign vigorously for the next 4 years to prohibit the charging of fees for speaking by Candidates at Political Rallies.

Thank you,
Mrs. Hannay

Any person violating this order may be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

This order by the Commission is for the purpose of protecting the health, safety and welfare of LP-gas consumers who are offered used underground LP-gas containers. These containers must be inspected and approved by the Commission to ensure their safety before they are installed.

Do not jeopardize the health, safety and welfare of your family by using these containers before they are adequately inspected and duly approved by the Commission.

2 FROM CHILTON-- 175 Alabamians To Get March Induction Call

State Director Walter M. Thompson, Jr., said today that a total of 175 Alabama registrants will be called to the induction call before they come to fill the state's Selective Service quota.

The State Director said that all men included in the 6,000 man nationwide call are earmarked for Army service. Alabama's call will include, only volunteers, delinquents, and registrants without children in Classes I-A and I-A-O, of 22 years or older. Thompson explained that individual county calls are based on those available registrants already examined and acceptable.

County by county, in the Chilton area, the call includes: Autauga, 2; Bibb, 1; Chilton 2; Coosa, 0; Elmore, 2; Shelby, 2.

Purpose Of FFA Week

National Future Farmers of America Week seeks to focus attention on the work of the Future Farmers of today, who will be the successful farmers of tomorrow.

This nation must have constant supply of New farmers every year to replace those who die, retire, or otherwise leave farm. There must be men with experience and training, for the successful farmer today is both a scientist and a businessman; mechanic and a laborer; at the same time capable of leadership in the affairs of the community. Generally, they must be men who have begun farming at an early age, so that by the time they are ready they will be firmly established in a farming program that promises a good future.

Vocational Agriculture and the FFA constitute the most effective program yet developed for training boys to be good farmers and help them to become established in the farming occupations of their choice.

BUILDERS

During a spirited meeting on Thursday night President O. L. Bennett called for a report from all groups that had been selling spots for radio program of March 12, 1962. From all indications all spots that could be used had been sold and in all probability a worthy community project has already been selected a financial boost with these funds. The local radio station graciously gave the local Kiwanis Club 100 percent of all money taken in by local Kiwanians for that days program. Pres. Bennett also took names of club members that will serve as radio announcers to that day so don't be surprised at what you will hear.

An added attraction of this weeks program was J. C. Bynum, a local resident, who gave a life history and now we know why he looks so young, that old boy hasn't had much rough sledding.

The main program this week was under the direction of Agricultural Committee Speaker for the evening was O. L. O'Shields, Associate Chief of Real Estate Division, Farmers Home Administration of Alabama. Mr. O'Shields told us that there had been a tremendous change in Chilton County as to number of people here and where they are living for past ten years. We were told that the 1960 Census gave population of Chilton County as 25,693 which was 4.6% less than it was in 1950 and during that time the rural population had decreased 10%. Mr. O'Shields pointed out that the Farmers Home Administration was vitally concerned as to why people are leaving Chilton County and why even more are leaving the rural areas. He reported that the local Farmers Home Administration office has loaned $300,000 since July 1, 1961 to rural people of this area to help make a better living on the farm and to help provide better rural living conditions. The amount of $140,000 has gone into better rural homes that are scattered over Chilton County. He expects that this figure will be much higher by next July 1, according to Mr. O'Shields.

disability benefits

Q. Has the work law changed regarding disability benefits?
A. No, it hasn't. Work under Social Security for at least five years in the ten year period immediately before you become disabled is necessary to draw disability checks.

Q. I earned over $1200 in 1961 and drew checks for some months. Am I required to file an annual report?
A. Yes, you are. We suggest that you file this report right after you receive your Form W-2 for 1961, and before April 15, 1962.

Q. Do I have to bring my marriage certificate when I come in to file for the lump sum on my husband's account?
A. The marriage certificate is not usually needed. However, if it is not convenient for you please do bring it.

Forest Fires In Chilton County

THERE were more forest fires in Chilton County during the month of February, 1962, than any month within the past three years. Most of these fires were caused by careless wood burning or by deliberate burning of brush or weeds. There were a total of 172 acres and resulted in the loss or damage of $80,000 to landowners within the county.

The County Forest Ranger believes that if the following precautions are taken in the future there will be considerably less damage and loss to landowners in Chilton County.

1. Notify your Forest Ranger and neighbors before burning.
2. Have plenty of help and tools.
3. Make it safe. Plow or rake a firebreak at least six feet wide around the area to be burned.
4. Burn late in the afternoon. Wait until the wind lays and the woods are not too dry.
5. Stay with it until it is out.
6. Report forest fires to the county ranger. (Phone No. 53, Clanton.)

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

A bill to enlarge the House of Representatives by three seats was defeated last week following controversial and confusing debate on the issue. In the end, House members agreed to send the proposal back to the committee which had reported it for consideration. The recommittal action means almost certain burial of the bill.

The permanent membership of the House of Representatives under present law is 425. Although the number temporarily stands at 437 to accommodate Alaska and Hawaii, the membership is scheduled to revert back after the states losing representation as a result of the 1960 census have completed their redistricting. Alabama is one of the 16 congressional states that are a result of population changes over the past decade.

Three of the states scheduled to lose seats - Missouri, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, sought a solution to their difficult redistricting problems by proposing that the House be expanded to 438 seats.

Rejection by the House last week would have assigned the additional seats to those three states.

By the time the measure reached the floor, however, Pennsylvania and Missouri had resolved their redistricting problems, leaving only Massachusetts facing the original dilemma. During the debate, the Pennsylvania delegation discovered that passage of the bill might force them to run statewide in order to gain one extra seat. Gradually, the initial friends of the bill - including Speaker McCormack began to desert it. Once the Speaker announced his dissatisfaction with the measure, the House passed the death dealing recommittal motion on a voice vote.

Critics of the proposal have argued since the bill was introduced last year that the membership of the House should not be increased merely to accommodate three states and that any changes were way to take care of all the 16 states losing representation.

EDUCATIONAL TV BOOSTED

A bill to stimulate educational television was approved on a decisive vote of 336 to 68 by the House members last week. The measure, which provides assistance to states to carry out surveys and construct telecasting facilities, was prompted by hearings on the use of educational television during the past 10 years the current teacher shortage.

In 1952 the government set aside 273 channels in the United States for educational purposes, hoping that the states would develop methods of raising standards of education through the use of television. However, for a number of reasons, mostly financial, only 57 stations have gone on the air during the past 10 years. Many of these have experienced successful operations that could be duplicated by other communities. The House approved legislation that would encourage studies by states and communities on the feasibility of educational television.

Alabama stands to benefit from the legislation since only one of its 15 allocated channels are now in operation.

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

HEALTH RECORD

How many times have you needed a health facts about members of your family for school records, for insurance forms, for a doctor's medical history?

Your health record is your compilation of these facts. Like vital statistics in the family Bible notations on family health kept accurately and up to date can be of permanent value.

Your health record should contain pertinent facts on immunizations, illnesses, injuries and physical examinations. The record will prove its worth only if kept current. Start immediately to jot down basic information you need.

100 Years Ago SOUTH DISHEARTENED

Following the recent losses of Forts Henry and Donelson, Tennessee, the South suffered much from discouragement. When these forts were taken they were the first losses of the South in its own territory.

Why had the forts fallen? It was believed that at the four day battle of Fort Donelson Confederate soldiers themselves wanted to fight but those in command did not. What ever the reason, the loss of the forts was a blow to the South. The Southern Confederacy newspaper in Atlanta said of the results, "the whole transaction is without parallel in the history of the world."

To add to the South's discouragement Union forces met with success in various places during the days of March 13-16, 1862. General "Stonewall" Jackson's army was defeated at Kernstown, Virginia. Union Major General Ambrose E. Burnside took New Bern, North Carolina in March. In Missouri, the South abandoned New Madrid, which later led to a Federal attack on Island Number 10.

The Union Navy, after taking Forts Mendota and St. Augustine, Florida, occupied Jacksonville. At Washington President Abraham Lincoln issued his War Order 3 and took command of the Army himself. He placed General George McClellan in command of the Army of the Potomac, with an ultimate goal to reach Richmond.

In the South a new secretary of War, George W. Randolph, replaced John P. B. Heintz. James was promoted to Secretary of State, Randolph made General Robert E. Lee his Chief of Staff.

know already. Enter accurately all injuries and illnesses. When you next see your physician take your health facts with you. No notations can be made while they are fresh in your mind.

A small schoolboy's notebook will do for a record book, or you can obtain a small account book. Begin with a brief listing of the family history, date and place of birth of each member. If any are deceased, give date and cause of death. Then list pertinent medical facts about each family member, such as chronic diseases or illnesses (cancer, diabetes, epilepsy).

Next should come a section for dates of immunizations, and space to record a member of the family. The columns should allow room for listing immunizations against whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, typhoid, polio and smallpox. There should be space for noting dates of boosters.

A check of the more common diseases, chicken pox, measles, German measles, mumps, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria, should be included. Most of these are childhood diseases but sometimes an illness is reported. German measles can be very serious in an expectant mother. Mumps is a serious disease of adults.

Relatively few families have health records, but even sooner or later finds need for information. Keep your family health record up to date at all times as an added safeguard to your family's health.

What's different about Rambler's rustproofing?

It goes all the way up to the roof. Only Rambler has Deep-Dip rustproofing—entire body immersed in primer paint right up to roof—plus 8 other body rustproofing steps.

What's different about Rambler's brakes?

They stop when other brakes can't. Double-Safety Brake System has tandem master cylinders. If front brakes fail, rear brakes still work and vice versa. Self-adjusting brakes standard, too.

What's different about Rambler's headroom?

It's greater than any other American car's. Rambler Classic and Ambassador V-8 beat all other makes in front-seat headroom (even Cadillac)—can seat six 6-footers easily.

What's different about Rambler's muffler and tailpipe?

They won't rust out. Ceramic-Armored muffler, tailpipe guaranteed against defect as long as you own your new Rambler. If either rusts out, collision damage excepted, a Rambler dealer makes free replacement.

What's different about Rambler's prices?

They're America's lowest. Only Rambler brings you America's lowest suggested retail prices for convertible, 2-door and 4-door sedans and wagons—all quality-built with Rambler excellence.

MAINE

The Augusta State House designed by the famous Charles Bulfinch was erected in 1829. There have been many additions and changes, but the graceful portico is unchanged. It's open to the public from 8:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. daily. Included among the exhibits are paintings and battle flags. The Executive Mansion is nearby and is most famous as the home of James G. Blaine. The Mansion is open from 2:00 to 4:00 P.M. Monday through Friday. Restored Fort Western, was built in 1754 as a stronghold against the Indians, is a museum with an interesting collection of early Americana.

Northside Baptist Church News
Despite a downpour of rain last Sunday, and much illness, the attendance at the Northside Baptist church services was excellent, and the Spirit of the Lord was felt. The church enjoyed the presence and spirit of a number of visitors. Fine crowds are attending the mid week Prayer services and Choir rehearsal Wednesday 6:30 p.m. it is encouraging to know that many are visiting daily, and that some are cooperating with the church visitation program on Friday 3:00 p.m. each week. A roll call of the church will be conducted Sunday at both worship services. Every member is urged to be present. The classes and Unions will be given names on cards to visit in the interest of the Revival. Deacons meeting Sunday 4:00 p.m. at the church. Choir business meeting at the close of the evening service. At the morning worship Brother M. G. Fields will speak on the subject "Prerequisites to a Revival" and "Every Christian's Job" at the Evening Worship. Sunday School begins 9:45 Worship 11:00 a.m., Training Union begins 6:30. Evening worship 7:00 p.m. Everyone who does not attend church elsewhere, especially in the Dan River Mills area, are cordially invited to attend and you will receive a warm welcome. An eight day revival will begin at this church March 25. M. G. Fields will do the preaching.

Executive Committee Meets March 25

The Executive Committee of Chilton-Unity Association, to meet March 25, 2:15 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Clanton. This will be the beginning date of the Simultaneous Revivals March 25-April 9. Elsewhere in this paper will be found the calendar of the Simultaneous Revivals, the churches, pastors, Evangelists names, dates and the hour of service of the 24 churches efficiently announced. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the church revival of choice. A number of out of the county ministers will do the preaching at several of the churches. It is the prayer of hope of the Christian leaders that this Simultaneous revival effort will make a great spiritual impact upon Chilton County and the many thousands in this area.

are lost without hope in the world. A number of other churches in this Association will conduct a revival either before the above date, or sometime later in the spring. The following is a quotation titled "How Not To Have A Revival." Don't attend; but if you do, come late and sit back. Find fault with everything and everybody. Leave it all to the preacher, that's what he's paid for. Don't invite anybody to come. Don't sing. Don't compliment the choir or soloists. Just go through the revival. Don't let it go through you!"

NEWS OF...
MT NEBO
Rev. Smith delivered two fine messages on Sunday. Plans were made for spring revival. Beginning on Wednesday, March 14, through Sunday, March 18th. Services will be at 7:00 p.m. each night. Make your plans now to attend everyone.

There are several in the community that are still sick. We will begin work at Auburn March 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Culp spent Sunday in Boaz with the Harry Culps. Little Benita is in Boaz hospital. We are hoping that she is much better at this time.

Mrs. W. W. Culp spent several days with the Harry Culps in Boaz this week.

Be sure to remember prayer services at 7:00 p.m. each Wednesday night and the revival services coming up.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Culp held Hal Ellison celebrate his birthday on Monday night. He celebrated his 4th birthday and had cake and ice cream with his parents and the Culps.

Growth." The books suggested for study are as follows, "The Christian Life," Adults, "Victories in Living," Young People, "Eight Steps Toward Maturity," Intermediates; "As Jesus Grew," Juniors. The study of these books would assist in making adequate preparation for the revival meeting in the church. Awards for the study of these books will come from the Training Union Category of Church study course.

Rural Housing Loans

The Housing Act of 1961 broadened the eligibility requirements for rural housing loans, according to Isaac C. Byrd, County Supervisor, Farmers Home Administration for Chilton County. As a result, owners of non-farm tracts in rural areas in small rural communities of not more than 2,500, as well as farmers, may be eligible for this type of credit.

Housing loans are made for the construction, repair and remodeling of dwellings and essential farm buildings and to provide water for farmstead and household use.

In addition to major construction, funds are available to modernize homes, add bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens and other home improvements, as well as to enlarge and remodel farm service buildings and put in related facilities such as paved feedlots, yard fences, and driveways.

The interest rate is 4 percent per year on the unpaid balance of the loan. Loans may be scheduled for repayment over periods up to 33 years.

To be eligible an applicant must own a farm or a housing site in a rural area; be without decent, safe and sanitary housing; be unable to obtain the needed credit from other sources and be without sufficient resources to provide the necessary housing on his own account. He must also have on be able to obtain the county income to meet payments on existing debts, take care of his other expenses, and make payments on the proposed loan.

Rural families who need emergency housing repairs and do not have the ability to repay a loan may be able to obtain small grants for such purposes as repairing a roof, screening windows, and providing a sanitary supply of water.

Further information on rural housing loans may be obtained at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration located in the County Courthouse, Clanton, Alabama.

Sunday School Executive Meeting Monday, March 19

Monday, March 19

This is the last call to the Association Sunday School Workers, calling attention to the Executive Meeting Monday, March 19, 7:30 p.m. at the West End Baptist Church, to plan for the next quarterly meeting to meet at the Liberty Hill Baptist church. Also this is to remind every church that you voted at the annual Association last October to strive to increase the Sunday School enrollment at least 15 percent this year. 15,000 people in Chilton County do not attend Sunday School at all during the current year.

From Mr. Abrams

The Voice Of The People

Sometimes it sounds gentle like the breeze upon the still waters. Sometimes it sounds like the fury of the whirlwind. Sometimes it sounds like the rumbling of distant thunder. But it is speaking. It has even been known to belch forth fire and brimstone. It is the voice of the public thinking out aloud. It is the voice of discontent.

So, it is the voice crying in the wilderness. It is crying out for more enlightened and benevolent leadership in educational affairs. The day of reckoning is at hand.

Miss Mobley Weds Mr. Larry Culpepper

The First Baptist Church of Russellville was the scene at 2:30 P.M. Sunday, March 4 of the wedding of Miss Linda Gail Mobley and Larry Leon Culpepper of Clanton. Dr. J. O. Colley officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James L. Mobley of Russellville and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Culpepper of Clanton. Mrs. James C. Horton was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an emerald green dress and carried pink carnations. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress of Chantilly lace and ballerina length was made by her mother. Her veil of illusion was attached to a seed pearl tiara and she carried a white Bible covered with a white orchid.

Jackie Nichols of Russellville served as best man. Ushers were Jim Felton, John Felton and Buddy Nichols.

The couple are presently residing in Clanton, where the groom is employed by the Ira A. Watson Co.

For Superintendent of Education

The United States Chamber of Commerce said: "To maintain a free society, and to keep America's economy dynamic, educational levels must be steadily raised. When you take an active interest in providing better educational opportunities in your community, you make a real contribution toward good citizenship, good government, and good business."

As your county superintendent of education I shall do all in my power to provide better educational opportunities for our boys and girls. With your help and support, I can have that opportunity. I will be most grateful to you for your vote and influence in my behalf. Subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries, May 1 and 29, 1962.

FALLOUT SHELTER supplies necessary to be self-sustaining over a two-week period are shown in these drawings from the "Fallout Protection" booklet prepared by the Department of Defense and available free to the public through post offices and local civil defense offices. The most essential supplies are outlined in gray, including water, the most important individual item. Each shelter occupant would require at least a quart of water a day, and a gallon would be better to allow for cleansing.

Radiation meters, now commercially available, include pencil-like instruments for measuring amount of radiation per hour and total exposure to radiation, and a charger to eliminate previous readings by returning instruments to zero settings.

Our Youth Revival begins April 1st and lasts the week. Providence Church has a wonderful group of young people who are ready and willing to do anything they can for God and the good of the Church.

A student at Howard College, who brought the message at our "H" Day services, will be the guest speaker for the Sunday which begins our Revival. Keep the week of April 1st free and come to the Youth Revival at Providence.

NEWS OF— COX CHAPEL

We are working toward a perfect attendance through Lent up through April 22nd. Please try to come, and bring someone.

Those attending Quarterly Conference from Cox, at Mapleville, were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cox, Miss Brenda Ratliff and Mr. Bill Wilson.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Ratliff is not well at this time. Hope for her a speedy recovery. We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. John Hugh Morgan and son at church last Sunday. Mrs. Lavoda Wilson attended the Home Demonstration meeting at the home of Mrs. Morgan Ratliff Monday evening. There were 16 present and the County HD Agent, Mrs. Lane. The demonstration was on sewing machines and how to use them.

Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Sue Stevens gave Mr. Allen Wilson a surprise birthday party Saturday night. It was a very nice party.

NEWS OF—

MT NEBO

Revival services are in progress here. Services each night at 7:00 p.m. and on Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. Everyone is urged to attend the services if at all possible.

There are several still sick with flu in the community. We trust that each one will soon be on the mend. Mr. V. C. McKee hurt his leg last week and is confined to his home. We certainly wish for him a quick recovery. Congratulations go out to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ellison on the arrival of little Renee last Thursday. Mother and baby are at home and doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Marcus and children and Mrs. E. S. Chasteen of Birmingham were supper guests of the W. W. Culps on Saturday.

Are "administered"

in the U.S.
fair?

We don't think so. 88 per cent of all prices in the United States are administered*. This simply means they are fixed by administrative decisions of managements of companies. This practice is possible only where the companies in question have monopolistic control in the industry. This is why the healthy competition of Rural Electric is helpful to all users of electricity.

R. A. Conclave Held At Thorsby

The Royal Ambrosian Conclave service at the First Baptist Church, Thorsby, last Monday, was a record event. A crowd of boys and men and some ladies were present to hear the gospel messages that presented a challenge to the youth to hear the Call of God to Witness for Christ. 131 boys, 81 men, 10 ladies, 1 visitor were present representing Unity Baptist Association and ending 19 churches of the Chilton County. The gospel music and great messages and the winners with all the trimmings and wonderful fellowship. This opportunity is indulged to express a debt of gratitude to the host church for the generous entertainment through the generous hearted pastor and his wife, and the fine men and women who served the refreshments and made everyone feel a very warm welcome.

First Baptist Observes Week Of Prayer For Home Missions

Over the Southland this week the Woman's Missionary Union is observing the week of prayer for Home Missions and making an offering to the Annie Armstrong fund to be used throughout the Southern Baptist territory.

Monday morning marked the beginning of the First Baptist Program at nine o'clock in the chapel of the church. Mrs. W. C. Golden, prayer chairman for the WMS opened the meeting. The theme for the week is Help Us O God For The Glory of Thy Name. Mrs. Dick Arnold, prayer chairman for circle one, was leader for the day. Circle four was in part on the program with Mrs. John McKee, Mrs. Robert Powers, Mrs. Leo Thompson and Mrs. Nan Taylor. They gave an insight of the work being done by our Home Missionaries.

Each morning at nine o'clock through Friday a program will be had. Circle two had the program on Tuesday with Mrs. Willie Bean, prayer leader. Circle three Wednesday, Mrs. J. L. Teel is leader for Circle four. On Friday the Edyth Stewart and Margaret Crawley Circle will be in charge.

Music Appreciation Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Gordon Robertson was hostess to the Music Appreciation club for their February meeting when Alabama College Students were special guests. Miss Mary Paula Johnson, Denny Wood and Miss Katie Don Thompson were presented.

Selections by Miss Johnson were Nocturne No. 3, by Chopin, Six Romanian Folk Dances, by Bartok, La Plus Que Lente, by Debussy on the piano.

Mr. Wood a tenor soloist was accompanied by Miss Thompson when he sang Attestament From Love - Sickens To Fly, by Massenet, Into the Night by Edwards.

Clanton can certainly be proud of these talented musicians. They show great promise and have much to offer music lovers.

Prior to the program Mrs. L. G. Nichols club president presided over a brief business session.

Springtime floral arrangement offered a colorful setting in the rooms where the guests assembled.

The hostess served delightful refreshments to club members and guests.

Good Workers S. S. Class Met

Miss Shirley Moats was hostess to the Good Workers Sunday School class of the First Baptist church the past Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Moates president read scripture from Matthew and Mrs. Bean teacher of the class led in prayer. Bible quizzes and contests were the diversion.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Moates assisted by her daughter, Dr. Sandra Cox, Ginger Headley, Janice Hardy and Mrs. Bean.

The Study Club Tells New Slate

The Study Club of Clanton held its March second meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Powers with Mrs. Charles Patterson president presiding.

This was the annual business meeting with the election of officers and special reports.

Mrs. Robert Powers was named as president elect of the Study club for 1962-63. The new slate includes Mrs. Morgan Reynolds vice president; Mrs. L. H. Boden secretary; Mrs. J. E. Probst treasurer; Mrs. Hoyt Taylor, parliamentarian; Mrs. A. M. Thornton, reporter. They will take office at the October first meeting.

Mrs. Morgan Reynolds, secretary, gave a summary of the aspirations and achievements which characterized the work of the club from March 1961 up to present time.

The club has supported many of the AFWC projects as sale of Blind Made Goods, donations to Scholarship funds, State Training School for Girls, Boy's Industrial School, gift for Bryce and participated in United Appeal drives. Among these are recent donations of $5.00 each to T.B. fund, March of Dimes, Mental Health, Crippled Children Organization, Cancer Society, Red Cross and $4.00 to Clanton High School Library for a book.

A $2.00 donation to the Band Boosters club.

With Mrs. Omar Reynolds as chairman of Clanton Library Board she reports enthusiastic support by this club of 100 percent. The club went round the calendar with good deeds.

Mrs. Huch Jones, Education chairman of the Alabama Division of the American Cancer Society of Clanton County was in charge of a short program, A 12 minute film entitled Time and Two Women. This effort by the CFWC Conquer Uterine Cancer Crusade is emphasized by the AFWC of the importance of this test.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. W. C. Maddox served a delightful salad plate to 16 members.

Fred Phillips Announces For State Senator

FRED PHILLIPS

We are pleased to introduce to the readers of the Chilton County News, Mr. Fred F. Phillips of Siluria, Shelby County, Alabama. Mr. Phillips recently announced his candidacy for the Senate in the forthcoming primary.

The 15th Senatorial District, which he hopes to represent, is comprised of Autauga, Chilton and Shelby Counties.

Mr. Phillips, 45 years of age is from a family whose business interests have meant much to the growth and economy of Central Alabama. For many years their companies employed over 1,000 people and during that time, not one day was lost due to labor strife or reduction of the work week. He is president of Valley Mills in Columbiana, Alabama, and Buck Creek Cotton Mills in Starkville, Mississippi. His interest also include a warehouse distribution operation in North Georgia.

In the field of education, Mr. Phillips was for many years Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Thompson High School in Siluria and a Trustee of the Textile Education Foundation in Auburn. He is an engineering graduate of Georgia Tech.

In the field of medical welfare, Mr. Phillips serves as a trustee of the Crippled Children's Clinic in Birmingham as well as the Eye Foundation Hospital.

In public business, he is a founding director of Coastal States Life Insurance Company of Atlanta, Georgia plus additional directorships and management responsibilities in a variety of enterprises.

In his own industry he has served as president of the Alabama Cotton Manufacturers Association and is now a director.

Miss Lynn Thrash Has Party

The younger set of Clanton enjoyed a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Thrash when they honored their daughter Lynn with a party on Friday night March 9. Games and contests were enjoyed with Roger Crew and Joan Ray winning prizes. Music was enjoyed by records on the Hi Fi.

Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, candy and cup cakes were served and Pepsi Cola. A small apron tied around the Pepsi Cola with a straw in the pocket was very unique.

Those enjoying the party with Lynn were Susan Speaks, Brenda Leeroy, Belinda Headley, Dian Littlejohn, Laura Ann Klinger, Debbie Fulmer, Peggy Hayes, Patty Little, Joan Ray, Chuck Wyatt, Roger Crew, Frankie Mims, and Richard Ray.

Mr. Thrash made pictures of the group. Mrs. Thrash was assisted by Mrs. Carlos Wyatt with the party.

Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews and sons Jay and Jeff of Birmingham were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tucker and Mrs. Allen Ward.

Additionally, he has been a director of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute.

Like his esteemed father, the late Senator J. T. Phillips, he has a distinct identity in both local and state affairs, being unusually well acquainted with numerous officials in both State and National offices. In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Phillips stated "The Government of the State of Alabama is the largest business in Alabama. The broad and complex interests of the citizens of this district can only be fully served by a person of substantial business experience, wide acquaintance and a comprehension of the needs and problems of health, education, welfare and public benefit."

I believe that my whole career and current interests, plus education and maturity provide a base for good judgement in these affairs.

The 15th district is an important bridge between the State Capital and Alabama's largest city, both destined for even more greatness. We are in an ideal position to participate in the economic growth of this area and to this end, I will pledge myself as Senator.

As the campaign progresses, certain issues will become clearly drawn. I propose to solicit support with vigor and determination and will meet any challenge to my candidacy with a forthright position on issues of importance to all of the citizens of the 15th Senatorial District.

O.E.S. Meeting Thursday Night

The monthly meeting of the Eastern Star was held in the Masonic Lodge on Thursday night March 8th.

Mrs. Willie Lee Hayes, Associate Matron presided. Plans were made to send flowers to the sick of the chapter. A committee was appointed to investigate buying a refrigerator for the kitchen.

After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed in the dining room when Mrs. Essie Walker served refreshments.

Clanton Elementary School P.T.A.

The Clanton Elementary School Parents and Teachers Association held their March meeting on Monday p.m. at 2:45 o'clock. This meeting was a day early because of a county wide teachers meeting.

The Rev. Nelson White, pastor of the Temple Assembly of God church gave a most inspiring devotional.

After the usual business and reports Mrs. Carl McDowell, president, appointed the Nominating committee who are: Mrs. Elliott Thigpen, Mrs. Douglas Barton and Mrs. E. C. Hudgens.

The program was given by Mrs. Robert Bowers. She reviewed the book Children from Seed to Sapling which was very interesting.

Third grade won the room count.

by BOB

YOU'LL be hearing more about it, but the men at Clanton Motors have topped another award or two in the 300-500 club for sales achievement for the past year. As soon as we names and such, we will you in on their honors!

CLANTON Motors also was the 39 dealerships out to receive the Distinguished Service Award from the Ford Motor Company. Mr. C. Burnett, President of the company was in Atlanta recently to receive the award in behalf of the company. Another congratulations is in order. You see the award elsewhere in this issue (or a reasonable smile thereof)!

THE great whitewash! Clanton main street has taken on a new look since last Wednesday afternoon. New "day" lights have given the street a much brighter appearance. We didn't know about it enough, but the Mayor and Council are appreciated for this recent effort. It looks like a new look!

AD the distinct pleasure of dining with Dr. Delos P. Culp, Mr. Howard Bookholdt, former Superintendent of Education in Chilton County. They were here last week the annual get-together of the Superintendents. You'll find their picture on this page somewhere... all eight of them!

Senior Class Play
At Billingsley High
The Senior Class of Billingsley High School will present a three act comedy "Grandpa Goe to Comedy" Friday night, March 23 at 7:30 p.m. Admission will be 50c.

Members of the cast are: Doug Wright, Bobby Rhodes; Maxine, Nettie McCullough; Sam Manning, Kenneth Dykes; June Sherry Mates; Elmer Sloane; William Willis; Ruthie Gross; Rita Barber; Mary Shayne; Fred, Ed Carter; Jed (Don't know Grandpa) Parsons; Wm. Brigrance; Co-eds: Beth, Mae; Glenn; Angela, Louise; Kiddy; Betty Hose Hayes; Curtis Foshee and Milton Lange.

Properties and staging are being cared for by Jerry Gandy Daniel Wilson.

The public is invited to attend.

Education--Past And Present
FROM left to right, above, are: Gordon Conway, Chilton County Superintendent of Education; W. T. Bean, Howard Bookholdt, Rascoe Maddox, W. A. "Bing" Lecroy, Harold Foshee, Luther Little and Dr. Delos P. Culp, all former Superintendents of Education of Chilton County. This group meets each year for a gathering to talk over old times and new and most of them are still active in Alabama Education. (News Photo by SCOTT)

Simultaneous Revivals Begin March 25th

TWENTY-Five churches are cooperating in the Simultaneous Revivals March 25-April 8, in Chilton-Unity Association. 13 will begin their services the first week, and 12 churches will begin services the second week. The calendar of services at each church, except Oak Grove was printed in both County papers last week. (See it on Editorial Page this week.) The Oak Grove pastor, J. H. Dodd, will do the preaching, and their services will begin each evening at 7:00 P.M. throughout the week.

Two great Revival Rallies will be held Tuesday, March 27th, and April 3rd, 12:15 P.M. at Martin's Restaurant east of Free-way 65, on the Jemison Cloverleaf. Rev. Jerry Helms of Mobile, evangelist for the First Baptist Church, Thorsby, Revival, the first Rally speaker.

Rev. Cecil O. Sewell, Sr., the new pastor at the West End Baptist Church, Clanton, and also the evangelist for their Revival, will be the second Rally speaker.

Other churches in this Association will hold Revival Services the later in April or May.

Chilton-Unity Executive Meeting

THE Executive Committee will meet for the regular month of the Chilton-Unity Association by business meeting Sunday, March 25, 2:15 P.M. in the chapel of the First Baptist Church, Clanton. The pastor and a layman of each church, and the heads of the departments of the Association will attend to transact the Association's kingdom business of our Lord.

Library To Open Within Two Weeks

WORK is going forward now toward the opening of the Clanton Library.

Barth Lumber Company, John Higgins Lumber Company, and the McKee Lumber Company, have joined with the Graham Lumber Company to furnish the oak lumber for the shelves.

Tuesday night the Jaycees and the Redie Smith's sponsored a party to remove old paint from the ceiling of the old jail.

Members of Mr. Ivan Smith's Trigonometry class at CCHS have completed specifications and plans for the building and placing of the shelves. Their work has been approved by the Alabama Public Library Service.

Students participating in this project were David Gentry, Charles Beard, Jim Breen, Roscoe Williams, Jerald Clecker, Lynn Easterling and Jim Mullins.

The concrete floor was poured and leveled yesterday by Mr. W. B. Crowe, Sr., who gave a considerable price cut for this job.

The Vocational Ag. students at CCHS under the direction of Mr. J. Reid Thompson, are to begin the work of building the shelves in the near future.

Watch your paper for a progress report next week. The library is fast becoming a reality.

Kiwanis Club Celebrates 34th Anniversary

March 15th marked the 34th anniversary of Kiwanis in Clanton. A special program was held with Charter President Cohen E. Stapp being the guest speaker. Chilton County people well remember the outstanding accomplishments Mr. Stapp did as County Agent, Mayor, and numerous civic activities in which he served so ably.

"Freedom - Our Individual Responsibility" was the theme Mr. Stapp spoke on which was inspiring and very timely in the complex society we live in today.

Out of town past presidents attending were W. Mack Wyatt, Montevallo, and T. Horton Walke of Prattville. All the Past Presidents residing in Clanton were present.

Revival Services In Progress At Temple Assembly

W. CALVIN MELTON

Revival services are in progress at the Temple Assembly of God with Evangelist W. Calvin Melton of Mobile, Ala. This special evangelistic crusade began Tuesday night, and will continue each night, excepting Saturdays, through April 1.

Rev. Melton was in Clanton during November of 1957 for a most successful revival at the Temple.

The pastor of the church Rev. Nelson E. White, states that service time is 7:00 p.m. The Temple Assembly of God is located on Temple Road, three miles east of Clanton.

Folsom Draws Large Crowd Friday

FRIDAY, March 16, "Big Jim" Folsom spoke at the Courthouse in Clanton with a crowd of some 500 persons on hand to hear him. It was his first appearance in Clanton during this campaign, though not in Chilton County. "Forward With Folsom" is his theme, it seems, but the old "Y'all Come" slogan is pretty hard to shake. CORONET, KEYSTONE VARIETIES HIT HARDEST; FROST GREATEST FOE NOW!

WE continue to get inquiries concerning Peach Crop damage in Chilton County, from over the County as well as the State at large. The following information will give a good estimate of Chilton peach growers' chances with regards to profits from this season's crop. This information is compiled by and released through the cooperation of the County Agent's office, Mr. John D. Sellers, Agent.

"THERE is really no appreciable damage of either the early, mid, and late season varieties. On an average, the damage

	Damage
Hiland	40-50%
Coronet	60-70%
Redcap	20-30%
Regular Elberta	40-50%
Keystone	60-70%

"This will give you a general idea of the damage pattern. A summary of the major growers' (opinions) indicates that they are not really worried about the situation at this time. However, further damage from frost would be a serious situation for a great number of growers.

CRITICAL TIME

"This is the critical time for setting fruit for a normal peach crop. Extremely low temperature and heavy frost does great harm to fruit buds and tender blooms. Temperature recorded on Tuesday, March 6, caused great concern for those in the peach industry. Orchards in low areas, as well as some varieties, (in general) show rather heavy damage from cold; while better located orchards and more cold resistant varieties show very little damage.

EARLY BLOOMING

"Due to spring-like conditions during February, blooming of peach trees was about 30 days earlier than the same period in 1961. During the bloom stage, is the critical time for cold damage.

CRITICAL PERIOD—NOW

"Following this extremely low temperature has been a prolonged cold, damp condition that will result in further damage of the bloom and normal pollination. Normal bee activity has been greatly hampered, further reducing the possibility for pollinating fruit buds. The next few days will be the critical period and farmers are detecting more damage than they had previously expected. There is no practical method for correcting this pollination problem, and during the next few days, blooms not properly pollinated will dry up and fall from the trees.

SPRAYING IMPORTANT

"Some farmers have discontinued spraying until they can further determine their percentage of fruit set. Spraying of some varieties in poor locations is unjustifiable where too few fruit are set. However, timely spraying has been encouraged until extent of damage can be definitely determined.

90% LOSS COULD STILL MEAN PROFIT TO SOME

"The cost for these bloom sprays is very low and it's wise for farmers to spray until they can determine the feasibility for continuing the spray schedule. Even though it is hard to find some looking buds and blooms there is a possibility of there being enough fruit left to justify a continued spray program. In many cases a 90 per cent bloom damage would leave farmers enough fruit for a profitable income. This thinning may increase size and quality of his total peach crop.

BRADBERRY, EXAMPLE

"As of to date, Mr. J. W. Bradberry, Verbena, Route 2, states that he will not have enough fruit on three different acres to justify spraying. "I haven't completed fertilizing, and I'm going to save my fertilizer until I can tell if there is enough fruit left to make it worthwhile. To help take care of this loss I have decided to fertilize and spray two orchards I previously planned to abandon. These orchards show much less damage than those I have already pruned and fertilized near the house. I guess the variety makes the difference!"

Community Fallout Shelter Need Backed by U.S. Individual Action

The United States, through the Department of Defense, has launched a major program to provide fallout shelters for Americans as the key element of a greatly expanded civil defense program.

The new "Fallout Protection" booklet, prepared by the Defense Department and available to the public through post offices and local civil defense offices, explains that community fallout shelters are now being stressed because:

1. A LARGER than family-size group probably would be better prepared to face a nuclear attack than a single family, particularly if some members should be away from home at the time of an attack.
2. There would be more opportunity to find first aid and other emergency skills in a group, and the risk of radiation exposure after an attack would be more widely shared.
3. Community shelters would provide shelter for persons away from their homes at the time of an attack.
4. Group shelters could serve as a focus for integrated community recovery activities in a post-attack period.
5. Group shelters could serve other community purposes, as well as offer protection from fallout following an attack.

Group shelters in office buildings, schools, hospitals, subways and other structures accessible to the public will be stocked with austere rations of food and water for five days, radiation detection instruments, first aid kits, and necessary tools. Many structures are easily adaptable as community shelters.

Whatsoever things are true... think on these things... (Phil. 4:8).

We shall find that as we are aware of our thoughts and words and work consciously to keep them positive and true, we shall be healthier, happier, and a blessing to other persons

In addition, neighborhood and community groups in various parts of the country are forming tax districts or non-profit corporations to construct shelters for themselves.

A typical example of such a group is in Laketon Township, near Muskegon, Mich., where a 175 x 30-foot underground concrete block structure is nearly complete for 200 persons (48 families). By do-it-yourself methods, the shelter cost has been cut to $40 per person for those helping with the work, and $75 per person for those unable to work.

PROJECT HEAD William Weisner and the group working with him started the ball rolling by sending a circular to all registered voters of Laketon Township setting a meeting time and place to discuss the shelter. Expecting a turnout of about 75, they were overwhelmed by an interested crowd of about 300. Enough signed up to go ahead with the shelter by pooling finances and designing and construction talent.

The "Fallout Protection" booklet also recognizes that "many families, because of their location or individual preferences, will choose family fallout shelters." Several home fallout shelter designs are offered in the booklet, including some which could be built on a do-it-yourself basis for $150 or less.

What would happen to you if all the Rural Electric Co-ops in Alabama ceased to operate?

"Nothing," you say? You live in town. Think again!

Rural electricity supplied by the Rural Electric Cooperatives has done more than any other thing to raise the buying power of the Alabama farmer. Thanks to low-cost rural electricity, he can operate his farm more efficiently, can produce more and better crops, can make more money. And this money that he makes he spends in the towns and cities of Alabama. Take away Rural Electricity and you take away the farmer's power to buy. Business grows where a power line goes.

Woody's Birthday!

On Friday evening, March 9, at the Veteran's Club a group of seventy teenager gathered at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. George Fulmer to help Woody celebrate his fifteenth birthday.

This party was in the form of a semi-formal dance and fun-time. The boys and girls enjoyed the fun of dancing to recordings in a setting of Spring time. The club was set for the occasion with a color scheme of green and yellow.

The refreshment table covered with a large arrangement of yellow glads and a crystal punch bowl surrounded by composites of mints, nuts and the center piece was a huge white cake beautifully decorated in green and yellow. In the center of the cake was a miniature teenager and one candle and placed at the base of the cake was miniature records embossed in lovely gray colors of green and yellow.

All the fun lovers enjoyed singing Happy Birthday to Woody and presented to him gifts and thanks for a really happy evening of fun together.

Helping Mr. and Mrs. Fulmer with this entertainment were Mrs. Cecil Carter and Mrs. E. W. Walker.

Many happy returns of the day was the wish of all as they departed.

NEWS OF —
Chestnut Creek

Rev. F. F. Glidewell, Pastor Sunday School 10 a.m. Worship Service 11 a.m. Training Union 6 p.m. Evening Worship 6 p.m. Wednesday Service 7 p.m.

Our Sunday School attendance was 97. Bro. Glidewell preached on excellent sermon. Keeping Track with Christ, using as his text Psalms 18 verse 33.

Training Union attendance was 38 and there were p2 daily Bible readers. Our Sunday night sermon based on Joel 1, verses 1 to 14 was The Signs of Time. The preacher for our Youth Revival will be Bro. Richard Martindale of Texas.

Please remember our many sick and shut in members and friends in prayer.

Due to the increased number of military personnel for Chilton County. The home service of your chapter has greatly increased during the year. This service includes financial assistance to families of service men; emergency telephone calls, telegrams and tele-communications for service men; hardships discharge for service men, hardships for reassignments for service men; health and welfare reports on service men's families and other such to service men which is our prime expense in your Red Cross office.

The blood program has been a life saver as well as the medical necessity to our people. In 1961 our people used 485 pints of Red Cross blood. This cost our chapter $495 or $1 a pint. If this blood had been available from other sources and our people could have purchased it, the cost to users would have been $12,125, yet the blood program is an elective responsibility. It does not precede the Armed Forces services, nor does it precede our wonderful disaster project. So, please be generous so that we may give to our Country the advantages of all 3 above. Please give your maximum. We are in dire need of funds. Let us do a maximum job.

Suburban Gas Company Of Clanton Is Eleven Years Old

Dear 4-H Janes:

There seems to be instant everything now. Now we have "Instant Tops" and believe me, you can't top them. They are so simple to make and can be worn inside or out with skirts, shorts and slim jims. Cut along the lines of two main pattern pieces sew a few seams - take a few snips, a few more stitches for a collar or ash. Whether it's a 4-H project or an afternoon's work, you'll find this instant top the quickest blouse you've ever made: Let the print of the material be your only decoration or sprinkle generously with buttons, braid, fringe, rick rack, lace or applique. You may be the feminine type and like to add a ruffle to the bottom or on the sleeves. Remember when putting the trimming on these tops, and also when making them, that you want something becoming to you and your figure.

Last week at the 4-H meetings in Clanton, there were 24 aprons, 10 skirts and 1 dress exhibited by 32 girls. These meetings were held in the 5th, 6th and 7th

Eleven years old and still growing with Chilton County. To celebrate another birthday the Suburban Gas Company is holding an open house celebration Friday and Saturday, March 23rd and 24th.

Johnny Vines and Clyde Mims invite all Chilton Countians to come in and leisurely look around at the enlarged store and the all new 1962 merchandise on display. Ham and biscuits will be served all day both days. Further, a "CP" fully automatic Enterprise gas range will be given away Saturday at 4 p.m. You do not have to be present to win and you can register either day.

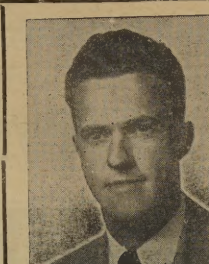

Lena B. Rush, Suburban Gas Co. Home Economist will be on hand both days along with Miss Louise Phillips, Home Service Advisor for the Alabama Gas Company. Also Herb Gable - Caloric Gas Ranges, Bill Moore - Enterprise Gas Ranges Gus

Shell dealers suggest 7 things to try if your car won't start

- 1 ANY TIME you have trouble getting your engine going, the first thing to do is check the obvious. For example, the fuel gauge. It's astonishing how often an empty fuel tank is all that keeps the engine from starting. According to American Automobile Association figures, motorists run out of fuel more than 5,000 times per day. If you have an automatic transmission, make sure your selector is in the correct position for starting. Next step is to run through these seven tips from Shell dealers. Any one of them could help you get started.
- 1 Use the starter in short bursts. A long, steady grinding runs your battery down drastically. In fact, if the car won't start in the first few attempts, it's a good idea to wait several minutes before trying again. This lets the battery recover some of its life.
- 2 If you have a manual shift, keep the clutch pressed all the way down when you're starting. This helps to take some of the strain off the battery, particularly in cold weather. NOTE: An engine in good mechanical condition should usually start in 3 or 4 seconds. Today's Super Shell gasoline can help. During coldest months, it contains an extra dose of Butane, a special quick-start ingredient.
- 3 Keep the battery connectors tight. If battery terminal connectors are loose, you may not get full battery voltage, when you try to start. With reduced voltage, the engine is harder to start. Sometimes the starter won't even turn the engine. It's easy to keep connectors tight.
- 4 All you need is a suitable wrench. Even a pair of pliers will do. If you have repeated starting troubles, your battery may be weak. Your Shell dealer can recharge it—or install a new one if needed.
- 4 Get maximum value from your choke. If you have an automatic choke, give the accelerator pedal a tap before you start. This sets the choke in the correct position—the way it should be for easy starting. NOTE: A small choke adjustment can often cure cold weather starting troubles. Your Shell dealer can do it for you. If you have a manual choke, remember to use it! When you pull the choke out, you increase the proportion of fuel in the air-fuel mixture. Could be all your engine needs for a start, especially on a cold morning. After you've started and warmed up, be sure to push the choke all the way back in.
- 5 Wipe moisture off the distributor, ignition leads and spark plugs. Condensed moisture—which can be a problem in cars left out overnight—could keep you from getting started. It's easy to find the distributor. Just follow the ignition leads—the wires that come from the spark plugs. They lead right to the distributor. Before you wipe the moisture away, make sure the ignition is turned off and nobody works the starter.
- 6 Turn off the lights, radio, heater, heater fan. This way there are no extra demands on the battery. It can devote its full power to starting the engine. NOTE: Don't forget to turn lights on again when you start up.
- 7 Never pump the accelerator if you suspect flooding. It only makes the flooding worse. Instead, try this: Wait 2 or 3 minutes. Then press the accelerator to the floor once and hold it there while the starter cranks the engine. When the engine does start, gradually let the accelerator return to idle position.

Here are the 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

- #1 is Butane for quick starts. Butane is so eager to get going it could even boil on ice.
- #2 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
- #4 is gum preventive to help keep carburetors clean inside.
- #5 is TCP* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power.
- #7 is an "anti-icer" added in cold weather to help keep carburetor icing stalls.
- #8 is Alkylate to help control "high-speed knock."
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U. S. Patent 2885215

SINCE everyone in Chilton County judges their chances by the peach crop, indications are that your chances are pretty good, thus far!

THEY introduce a bill in Congress to relieve the small businessman in the tax squeeze and at the same time, across the tisle, a gentleman from somewhere else is entering another bill to increase them somewhere else! We wonder if they really think that appeases or consoles the weary businessman?

BREVITY is a mark of wisdom! We don't know where the connection lies, but you'll probably see a lot of "wisdom" in girls and ladies apparel during the next several weeks of spring!

THEY are now trying to perfect a missile, which they claim will be ultimate, that will confuse the anti-missile missile! This is getting expensively ridiculous! Senator; Congressman; can't you do something?

Evidence Lacking--

SO far there are only rumors to the effect that all is not well in political leadership in Chilton County. However, the implications that there have been some underhanded dealings within our County government are strong enough to sicken the stout of heart and strong stomach.

There cannot be progress, nor can there be good, honest government with continuous suspicion of shady and unfair dealings. These kind of rumors do not persist unless they are based on, at least some scrap of fact!

Evidence is the only thing lacking, and just because we label them "rumors" does not signify that truth is entirely absent from the scene.

If you as a citizen of this community have any evidence of corruption in any form, in any official capacity in Chilton County, you are obligated to let it be known! No, not tomorrow, or next week! NOW!

Standard Bearers--

CHILTON County Democrats are holding the Party Standard a little higher, and more determined than ever before and it is refreshing to note that they are finally approaching the problems we are having in Chilton County on an equal level with those problems and with conviction and foresight not displayed for a long time!

It is finally reaching hme, even to the sublime and hard to move Party members, that if they are to have, hold and maintain a Party in Chilton County they are going to have to stop backsliding and covering from responsibility and speak their mind openly and without fear of political consequences!

As we said, it is certainly a refreshing state of affairs!

Clanton--A Paradox?--

We talk a lot about, and hear talked about, Clanton and it's possibilities, it's aims, ideals, accomplishments and future; but the common and accepted opinion of the citizenry seems to be contrary to fact!

Those who live in Clanton, and have for some time can feel the "sleeping giant" possibilities of our commerce and our society. Those who do not live here, and especially those who have, but have since moved away, seem to have nothing but contempt for our efforts, whether they materialize or fail!

Why do "outsiders" so to speak have such a low opinion of Clanton? Is it because we are always going to do something, and never quite get around to it? Is it because every modern community grows and prospers industrially and economically while we seem to stand still?

We don't know the "why", but we do know that practically every person we talk with, especially young people, who have moved away from Clanton, have very little good to say about our hometown! No, we didn't like it, but, why are we subjected to it? How do we rate such contempt from those who have spent much of their lives here and moved on to find the grass really is greener over yonder?

Always willing to stand up and argue for our community and our officials who run it, we try to impress on these folks just what efforts and accomplishments are being made. Most of them shrug off our enthusiasm with an "I've heard that before" attitude! They don't really believe that we have what it takes! As we said, we don't like it. But, what are we going to do about it?

Clanton has made tremendous progress during the past ten years in many categories. One of the outstanding is our Mayor and City Council team who have done so much to improve our community and it's facilities. Business establishments have put on new looks numerous times, and we have many new businesses in Clanton since ten years ago.

The real reason, as we conjecture a bit, is our attitude! Some of us have a defeatist attitude, and some of us have a "don't give a damn" attitude, and some don't even have an attitude at all, it seems! We cannot promote our community and it's people to the rest of the world, especially those who have known us before, if we do not believe that we have the possibilities which we profess to have!

A housewife noticed that on some mornings her whole family was grouchy. As she analyzed their attitude, she discovered that their attitude was determined by her own. When she was cheerful, they were happy. But when she was critical and irritable, they became grumpy. She resolved to start every day with a smile and a cheerful greeting. After a few weeks, she noticed that the morale of the whole family had improved.

1. We must first believe ourselves, that our community has potential.

2. We must seek every way possible to bring out that potential and make it work for the good of this community and it's people.

3. We must not let the snide remarks and pessimistic opinion of others affect our attitudes and our judgement.

4. Every living person in this community must work daily to sell it to everyone they meet, just as they work to "sell" themselves.

5. Planning and quipping will not be worth a plug nickel without positive thought, intelligent action and plenty of old-fashioned enthusiasm, determination and optimism!

RED CROSS ROLL CALL NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT!

The day of the "better mousetrap" and the path beaten to the door if the man who made it are gone forever.

Today, with a multitude of products and services and ideas competing with each other for the public's attention, advertising is a "must". Every businessman recognizes its value.

The Red Cross, too, needs advertising to help tell its story to the public so we want to tell it in terms forceful enough to win support in money and understanding in March and in volunteer support and blood donations, year 'round.

CHILTON County has a large number of Volunteers working this month, calling from door to door and the County Chapter has sent out many letters to the business firms!

ANSWER the door when the Red Cross volunteer knocks and give as much as you can! Answer those letters, Mr. Businessman--Let's make this year the one where the Red Cross Roll Call really counts!

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

HOW IS YOUR CONDUCT?

Does your happiness depend to a great extent on the way others treat you?

Most of us are influenced by the conversation at breakfast, the conduct of fellow workers, the attitude of the people we meet and the letters we receive. All of these things help determine the pleasure or the unhappiness of our day.

But we must remember, just as others influence our lives, we also influence theirs. This very day we are adding to the pleasure or to the misery of those around us.

A housewife noticed that on some mornings her whole family was grouchy. As she analyzed their attitude, she discovered that their attitude was determined by her own. When she was cheerful, they were happy. But when she was critical and irritable, they became grumpy. She resolved to start every day with a smile and a cheerful greeting. After a few weeks, she noticed that the morale of the whole family had improved.

Just as a ball rebounds at exactly the same angle it hits a wall, we are likely to respond to others in the same manner they treat us. The conduct of the other person is a determination of our conduct toward him. We react rather than act.

When someone mistreats us, our human nature wants to strike back. But in striking back, we are only reacting to the other person's moods and emotions. We are only helping to tear down a relationship, not restore it. We are part of the problem, not a part of the solution.

But when we have the nature of Christ in us, we can turn the other cheek. We can continue loving the person who is hateful to us. We can continue helping him and praying for him. In this way, our relationship with others is smooth and steady, because we set the pace. We even find that by giving love, we make friends out of our enemies.

As an example, David could have killed King Saul when he found him sleeping in a cave. Instead, David cut off only a piece of Saul's robe and spared his life. By showing mercy and love, David softened Saul's hatred.

Saul lifted up his voice and wept, saying, "You have rewarded me with good, whereas I have rewarded you with evil."

If a person, even one who dislikes us, is shown kindness and respect long enough, he will begin to reflect warmth and friendship.

When we follow the way of Christ, we are assured of treating others the right way. We will make friends and keep them. We will be strong enough to let our personalities show forth, for we will act rather than react.

Dear Sir:

May I congratulate you on your editorial in the March 8 issue of your publication entitled: "Fanatics Are a Minority". If it is available, will you please send us another copy or just another clipping of this editorial.

It is one of the best of its kind I have seen. It speaks well for Alabama when an Alabama Editor writes and publishes such logical facts as the intestinal fortitude common sense.

Canned Condensed Tomato Soup For Treats Galore

From soup to main dishes... yes, and even dessert (tomato soup), canned condensed tomato soup plays a star role for a command performance. It's the rosy red color needed for one... the smooth, flavorful sauce for another. Double-rich and double-thick, it's the ideal cooking ingredient. So for treats galore... canned condensed tomato soup... be sure you store.

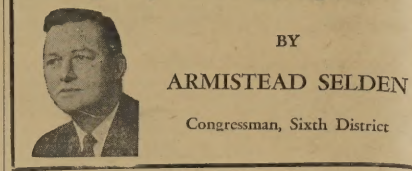

To show the versatility of this favorite soup, here are a few selected recipes:

Rosy Sauerkraut And Pork
4 pork chops (about 1 pound)
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
3/4 teaspoon caraway seed
1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut, drained
Brown chops on both sides; pour off drippings. Add tomato soup and caraway seed; spoon sauerkraut on chops. Cover; cook over low heat about 15 minutes. Let chops stand 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Tomato Butter Bean Soup
4 slices bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 soup can drained butter beans, water
Cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Add onion; cook until tender. Stir in soup, water, and beans. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 3 generous servings.

Serve for lunch with crisp crackers to go along and a fruit salad to follow.

100 Years Ago CSS FLORIDA

The South had no Navy at the beginning of the war, neither did it have adequate materials and facilities for ship building. Its only hope, therefore, for Naval war craft was to procure the assistance of foreign shipbuilders.

In order to obtain Naval craft James D. Bulloch was sent to England on June 4, 1861, by Secretary of the Navy, Stephen D. Mallory, with instructions to "procure a vessel of suitable type, speed and the quickest possible dispatch."

Secretly Bulloch negotiated ship purchases, often using fictitious names, and when complete the ship sailed from the port unnamed as if on a trial run. This maneuvering avoided conflict with the British laws that prohibited shipbuilding for nations at war.

The first vessel secured in England was the Florida that sailed from Liverpool March 23, 1862. Its departure as a Confederate property greatly alarmed Charles F. Adams, U. S. Minister to Great Britain. He had arrived in England one month earlier than Bulloch and yet had known nothing of the transactions of the ships for the Confederacy.

Q. I am 59 years old and totally disabled. I have never worked under Social Security, but my late husband did. Who can't I be paid disability benefits on his record?

A. The law requires that disability benefits be paid only to those persons who have worked under Social Security for at least five full years out of the ten years before becoming disabled.

Q. I am drawing $120.00 a month on a pension plan from my previous job. Will this have any effect on my Social Security benefits?

A. No, it will not. Only earnings affect a person's benefits--savings, investments, pensions.

Q. If my World War II military service is added to my account, how much earnings does a military credit actually represent?

A. $160.00 a month for each month of active service between September 15, 1940 and January of 1957.

guarantees of freedom of action by the states. The vote was 319 to 69.

The bill consists of amendments to the public assistance and child welfare programs of the Social Security Act. It changes grew out of criticism of the Act, enacted in 1935, was inadequate to meet the welfare requirements of the 1960's. An equally important consideration was the prevention of some long standing abuses in the programs particularly the one dealing with dependent children. Aid to the blind and aid to the totally disabled. In the past, the states and federal government shared these costs equally.

It was argued that his proposition would encourage states to streamline the administration of these programs and orient them toward rehabilitation whenever possible so that the individual could get off the relief rolls. In this sense, the bill complemented the recently passed manpower retraining act which was also designed to prevent or reduce dependency.

In this connection, special emphasis was put upon the correction of abuses in aid to needy children. There have been many cases where the guardian or parent used the money for his own benefit. To limit these abuses, the states are given broader discretion than they had in all the years of the program.

If the state chooses, it may give counseling service to the violators. If that fails, it may make a "protective payment," that is, a payment to a person other than a relative with whom the child is living. This has not been possible in the past.

The only limit on state authority is that the action taken must be specifically provided for by state law and must be in the best interests of the child.

Another important provision of the bill would provide matching funds to families where the children are in need because of unemployment of the father or both parents. Prior to May of 1961, when a temporary exemption was made for this matching funds were limited to families where there was due to death or absence of the parent. This had the effect of forcing many unemployed fathers to leave home so that their children could receive assistance, thus depriving the children of needed parental guidance.

In all these cases where federal funds are available, it is the state agency which actually determines whether the individual is in need.

Samaria

Don Graham, pastor The Juniors, Beginners and Primary met at the church for a party where they enjoyed the recreational period. They enjoyed hot dogs served by the ladies of the church. While there they had their practice in preparation for a choir special for Sunday morning.

We have changed the time for Prayer meeting and Training now meet at 6:30 instead of 6:00. We think this will be more convenient for all our members.

Don't forget that the Youth Rally will be held next Saturday night at the Chestnut Creek Baptist Church and will begin at 7:30. The program will be presented by the Montevallo College BSU Choir. This will not be like our usual programs, but we promise that you will really enjoy this and will also receive a great blessing. If you would like to go and do not have a car, there will be someone at the church that will gladly take you. Be there by 7:00.

We still have services and we want you to know that we miss you very much. We don't want to miss you again next Sunday, so you be sure to come.

Be The First To Try Zesty New Canned Beans & Ground Beef

Making its debut in grocery stores in this area is a new canned bean product with an added bonus! Selected tender beans plus ground lean beef have been cooked in a tantalizing new barbecue sauce to make a zesty and nourishing main dish that's hearty as all outdoors.

Robust and flavor-packed, canned beans & ground beef come ready to heat and eat. Served steaming hot these beans make a hearty and sustaining luncheon or supper dish with real "he-man" appeal. Youngsters will go for its satisfying goodness. They'll get a nutritional dividend, too, for each serving contains protein from beans plus protein from beef.

Canned beans & ground beef provides the savory basis for many tempting casseroles, hot sandwiches, and hearty-mixed chafing dish or skillet specials. Treat the teen-age crowd to cheese-broiled "Beans-&-Beef-Bun", pictured here, mugs of hot cider or beef broth; dessert fruit and cookies.

Beans-&-Beef-On-A-Bun

- 1 can (1 pound) beans & ground beef
- 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 3 hamburger buns, split and toasted
- 1 slice process or Mozzarella cheese

Combine beans and ground beef and mustard. Spread beans on bun; top with cheese. Broil slowly, about 6 inches from heat, until cheese melts and beans are hot. Makes 6 servings.

Early Spring Special

"Lime Fluff Pie"

Pretty to look at, divine to taste, and easy-as-pie to make is "Lime Fluff Pie". The no-bake crust and filling were created for each other to give a cool, refreshingly different flavor blend. The crust is made of finely crushed round buttery crackers mixed with sugar, nutmeg, grated lemon rind and butter, plus whole crackers for a prettily scalloped finish. Refrigerate, then fill with a simple filling of lime gelatin and whipped cream. Decorate with candy shot and silver dragees. Here's how to make it:

Lime Fluff Pie

1 1/2 cups finely crushed Hi Ho Crackers (36 whole crackers)
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

1/2 cup melted butter, 1 stick
12 whole Hi Ho Crackers
1 package lime gelatin dessert
1 cup boiling water
1 cup heavy cream, stiffly whipped

Crush crackers by rolling between two sheets of waxed paper. Combine with sugar, nutmeg, lemon rind and melted butter. Pat evenly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Press 12 whole crackers around side of plate to make scalloped edge; refrigerate. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and refrigerate. When mixture has reached consistency of unbeaten eggwhite, beat until slightly foamy and fold into stiffly whipped cream. (If small particles of gelatin remain, this only adds color to pie and does not prevent setting.) Pour into cracker crust, swirl the top with a spoon and refrigerate until needed. Remove from refrigerator 10 to 20 minutes before serving. Garnish with silver dragees or candy shot, if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

Quiche Oignon

"A Most Unusual Pie"

—Olney and Carpenter, Inc., Photo

QUICHE OIGNON (Onion Pie) — An adaptation of the traditional French favorite, Quiche Lorraine. Delightful for brunch, luncheon, or as an appetizer. — It's unusual yet easy to prepare.

People who love to cook and people who love to eat are always looking and asking for new and different recipes. Often the simplest ones can be among the best.

This Quiche Oignon (onion pie) is an adaptation of the ever favorite Quiche Lorraine, a very special pie, traditional in France. It is a rich custard with cheese. Often bacon or ham is added. And it may be served as an appetizer or as a main luncheon dish. To complete a meal serve a green salad, French bread and fruit for dessert.

The Quiche Oignon is easy to make using the handy French fried onions that come in 3 1/2-ounce cans, combined with milk, eggs, seasoning and cheese.

ONION PIE (Quiche Oignon)

2 (3 1/2 oz.) cans O & C French Fried Onions
4 eggs
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt

Dash pepper
1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
*Pastry for 10-inch pie

Prepare pastry and line 10-inch pie plate. Empty 2 cans of French fried onions into pastry. Beat eggs slightly, add milk slowly and blend well. Add salt and pepper. Pour over onions. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in hot oven 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce temperature to 350 degrees and bake additional 15 minutes or until custard is set. Avoid overbaking. Serve hot.

PASTRY

1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup vegetable shortening or lard
About 4 tablespoons ice water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture looks like coarse meal. Add water gradually, tossing lightly with a fork until dough is moistened and will form a ball. Roll dough out and fit into 10-inch pie plate. Flute edge.

See Bell Hdwe. in Clanton for your door and window units.

Received Fords

Achievement Award

J. C. Burnett, vice president of Clanton Motors, Inc., Clanton Ala., received Ford Motor Company's Distinguished Achievement Award Monday (March 19) in special ceremonies in Atlanta honoring the local dealership's outstanding record for 1961.

James M. Moore, Jr., Atlanta district sales manager of the Ford Division, made the presentation of a plaque during a luncheon awards program.

Mr. Moore pointed out that the Distinguished Achievement Award is presented to a select group of the nation's Ford dealers "in recognition of their progressive management, modern sound merchandising practices, high quality standards, and continuing interest in superior service."

"I am most happy to present this plaque to one of the outstanding dealership organizations in the Southeast," Mr. Moore said "and I extend my congratulations for your attainment of this professional honor."

"The Ford Distinguished Achievement Award recognizes your firm as an important member of your community's business citizenry," he added.

In addition to management members of the Atlanta district sales office, the awards luncheon was attended by S. A. Skillman, Ford Division Southeastern regional sales manager from Philadelphia.

Mr. Adams is enjoying his 16th year of practice here as a Public Accountant.

The Big Question:
When Will Our Library Be Open?

"When can I check out a book from our library?"

This is a question we hear frequently these days. When is the day?

The bookmobile is now waiting in the Capitol lot in Montgomery; 6000 books are ready in Clanton for our public library. But the Headquarters are not ready yet!

However work is going ahead rapidly toward a nearly opening. Here are some problems involved in converting a jail to a library:

1. Cleaning of walls, because of the accumulations of the years the paint had to be burned off and the walls scraped and sanded.
2. Removal of bars from windows and the taking down of some of the steel supports inside.
3. Cutting of a door space through concrete.
4. Leveling and refinishing floors.
5. Acquiring, building, and placing shelves.
6. Cutting down of jail fence.

The Jaycees with the help of prisoners furnished by Sheriff Hugh Champion, have removed the bars, are cleaning the walls, and are in the process of cutting the door. Mayor Hollis Jackson, Mr. Lewis Culver, and Mr. Reddie Smith have contributed their help to the Jaycees.

A new concrete floor will be poured to be finished with decorative chips, given by H. C. Christiansen of Snug Harbor Products in Thorsby.

Sherwin Williams Company has agreed to give part of the paint, to furnish the other paint at cost and to lend the sander for the job.

Joe Graham's Lumber Company of Maplesville is donating the lumber for the shelves. Some shelves have already been given by the Superintendent of Education. These were from the old office.

Mr. Monroe Crowson has volunteered to paint the library when the other work is completed. Miss Bertha Margolis, Mrs. Luther Little and Mr. Jerome Conway have each contributed a light fixture.

The Jaycees have volunteered to furnish the draperies. Watch next weeks paper for another progress report of your first public library!

NEWS OF—

Go Forward With Folsom Folsom's Forward Program For Education

Education Is First Order Of Business In My Program

1. I will promote a legislative program for education that will guarantee adequate funds for a full nine months school term.
2. I am for raising our classrooms teachers' salaries to a level that is equal to the average of our sister states. I worked toward that end while Governor before, when the average annual salary was increased $627 in my first term and $643 in my last term. I am proud of that record.
3. I stand for free textbooks for all students through the 12th grade.
4. I will call for special legislation to help brighten up the need of high school graduates to obtain a college education by setting up a program that will make long term, low interest loans for that purpose. This same loan program will also enable classroom teachers to complete their college education.
5. I will favor a program of Junior Colleges wherever they are needed in Alabama.
6. I favor the establishment of a state support college or university in the Mobile Area.
7. I fully support all space age research projects being conducted by our colleges and universities. I am for greater emphasis on science laboratories for our high schools to better train our students for the space age.

BRAD IS SIX YEARS OLD

Saturday, March 10th was a busy day for Brad Simmons. He jumped out of bed at 7:00 A.M. to find a long awaited gift from his parents, a B-B gun. He then went hunting birds, his favorite sport. In no time at all, he and his Dad, Princeton Simmons had bagged a Blue Jay.

Later in the morning he got another big thrill when his granddaddy Simmons let him shoot his 22 rifle for the first time. He hit the bullseye two out of two. At 2:30 in the afternoon his little playmates came to join in the fun. Mrs. Simmons had planned games for the gang. Prizes went to Don Leach, Mike Cobb, Mrs. Hanson Leach arranged the children in a circle and they played pass the ball, seeing which one could stand the longest. Mrs. Vester Scott assisted.

Later in the afternoon gifts and refreshment time came next.

The dining room table was lace-covered and centered with the birthday cake. Happy birthday napping with clown on them were used. Party cups were filled with grape Kool-Aide. Potato chips, cupcakes, suckers and ice cream were served to Dennis Scott, Rex Hall, Steve Carden, Mike Cobb, Don Leach, Judy Giles and the honoree Brad.

Joining Mrs. Simmons for refreshments were Mrs. Hanson Leach, Mrs. Vester Scott, Mrs. Robert Hall and Mr. Simmons. Party favors were sling shots. A rainy Saturday did not dampen the enthusiasm of Brad and his guests. Friends who came from Birmingham to wish him a Happy Birthday were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Phillips and daughter Debra.

VOTE FOR

Gordon Conway

For Superintendent of Education

Every day we read about and hear about and discuss the tremendous problems schools are facing in our nation, state and County. Yes, there are many problems. If elected your Superintendent, I shall strive to do all in my power to help solve some of the problems education faces in Chilton County.

I realize the building program needs to continue and I shall work unflinchingly to see that our boys and girls have adequate buildings and facilities.

I am cognizant of the fact that we need to make improvements in our school transportation. We need better buses with a fewer number of children riding each bus.

I know that the salaries for teachers, bus drivers, maintenance workers and all school personnel should be increased and I shall continue to support that belief.

I know that we must get the most education possible for every dollar spent and I shall put forth my earnest efforts to see that the people of Chilton County get their money's worth for every dollar spent for education.

Having been a classroom teacher and a principal, I am aware of the need for a better teacher-pupil ratio, and as your Superintendent I shall work toward the realization of that aim.

I have always been, and I shall always be for the general improvement in any area which is for the advancement of children, for I am interested in the educational welfare of every boy and every girl in Chilton County.

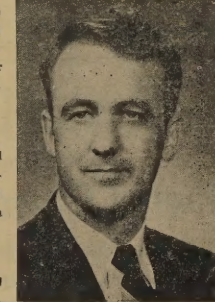

Your vote and influence in my behalf in the forthcoming election will be sincerely appreciated.

Subject of the action of the Democratic Primaries, May 1 and 29, 1962.

Re-Elect Francis W. Speaks As Your Representative of Chilton County

A YOUNG MAN

With EXPERIENCE

(1) Sponsored legislation requiring segregation of Races. Was one of the sponsors of the School Placement Act and Constitutional Amendment for voter registration qualifications.

(2) Wrote and sponsored legislation which has already provided $2,250,000.00 for school construction in Chilton County.

(3) Has constantly worked toward teachers' salary increases.

I feel that the experience that you have given me by allowing me to be your Representative for 8 years makes me better suited to serve you in the future. I will be grateful for your continued support and help.

(4) Wrote and sponsored local bill, which, if approved by people, would permit construction of Trade School and progress for rural and industrial development.

(5) Worked toward increasing unemployment and workmen compensation from $21 per week when elected to present $32 per week status and will continue working toward improvements.

(6) Worked for increased old-age benefits, medical care for aged, and for mentally sick and retarded.

MENTION should be made (it is made elsewhere in this issue) that Mrs. Zora Guy Smith has completed 20 years of faithful service with the local Board of Selected Service and has been awarded a citation to that effect.

BILLY Lawrence: "Anybody can have a girl" (speaking of Mrs. Zora Guy Smith). Dyer Shackelford: "Yeah, but not four in a row!"

SOME folks have been questioning about Primary Election laws and procedures. So, during the next few weeks we are going to quote some of the State Laws on the subject, according to the Code of 1940. "Any person found drunk or intoxicated about any polling place during any primary election, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, OR sentenced to hard labor for not less than ten nor more than one year." Title 17, Section 395. "Any person who gives or pays, or who offers to give or pay, any qualified elector any money or other valuable thing, in exchange for the vote of such elector for any particular candidate, or to induce him to vote for any particular candidate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or in lawful money of the United States."

"UNCLE OTT" was the Mystery Man last week and is the "Man Of The Week" this week. There are a couple of youngsters in Atlanta, G.A. who were particularly interested in this Mystery Man. He was actually a mystery to them. They are Diane and Susan Hooton, granddaughters of Mrs. Ed Nunn of Clanton. They are 10 and 12 years old and do not receive their news until Saturday; but last Saturday, they recognized "Uncle Ott" right quick. So they each mailed us a card. We thank you, ladies, for your interest.

MR. J. J. Pickens returned last Wednesday from a business trip to southern Illinois. He flew back Monday (by air) and flew back Wednesday (by train). He had an enjoyable trip, but talked like he would be a little wary of venturing north than "southern" Illinois!

LADIES DAY IN MM CONTEST

MRS. Floyd Minor and Mrs. S. M. Camp of Route One, Clanton, were the winners in last week's Mystery Man Contest. Mrs. Minor won in the office and Mrs. Camp sent in the earliest postmarked card, of which we had more this week than we ever before.

OTT MILLER was the right guess alright, but it took you folks two weeks to do the job. Mr. Miller holds the distinction of being the only Mystery Man yet to run two weeks in a row! To win the six months subscription to the News you must be the first person to either come by the News office as soon as possible after 8 A.M. Thursday or send in the earliest postmarked card. This gives everyone a 50-50 chance as we can make it! Interest is still very good, if anything, growing each week!

Can you identify this week's Mystery Man?

Tell Your Merchant You Saw It In The NEWS!!

Singing At Cane Creek

Sunday, April 1, at Cane Creek Baptist Church beginning about 1:15 there will be a singing. Everybody has a welcome, please come and bring someone with you. All singers have a special invitation to attend. We will be looking for you.

Grady Bates, Co-Chairman

Howard College To Be At The First Baptist April 1

A concert by the famed Appella Choir of Howard College will be given at the First Baptist Church of Clanton the night of April 1, Sunday at 7:30 under the direction of Mr. George W. Kosi, director of the Division of Music at Howard College. The choir will be completing its annual Spring Concert Tour of Alabama and Florida.

The entire program, made up if three groups of songs, is sung unaccompanied and from memory in the true tradition of the choir. The first group of songs contains masterpieces of church literature of the 16th and 17th centuries. The second group is made up entirely of familiar religious and programmatic music including some sacred harp numbers. The third group is made up of unusual music of contemporary composers. The works of Victoria, Scarlatti, Shreeke, Berger, and Christensen will be presented.

A special feature of the program for this year is the performance of Extolment I, composed for this choir by Dr. Newton D. Strandberg, on the Music Department faculty of Howard College. A group of Southern sacred folk hymns is also of special interest.

A second album recorded by the choir, "The Howard College Appella Choir on Tour," was released for public sale in the past year. It joins "Favorite Hymns" which has become a best seller.

The choir's concert will be performed without charge for admission and the audience will be given the opportunity to make a free will offering to the choir.

MYF To Have A Baby Sitting Day March 31

The Intermediate MYF of the Methodist Church is having a Baby Sitting Day, March 31, next Saturday in the Nursery of the Methodist church. The charges are 30c per hour for children between the ages of 1 and 10. Lunches may be brought if the child is staying between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

M. A. Pinson Succumbs At 93

Martin Alonzo Pinson, age 93 died at the Prville Nursing Home on March 25, 1962. He was a native of Chilton County. He leaves 3 sons, Emmett, Morris and Lloyd, one daughter Mrs. Vera Mae Miller; eight grand children and 12 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Chestnut Creek Baptist church with Rev. F. F. Gilwell and Rev. Helman officiating.

Burial was in the Verbena cemetery under the direction of Martin Funeral Home.

Palbearers included: R. E. Miller, Herbert Allen, Ezell Lewis, Hugh Champion, Howard Birchfield and H. J. Morrison. Flowers were arranged by friends of the family.

TALENT SHOW AT CCHS FRIDAY NITE

THE Belcher Homes Stage Show and Talent Contest will take place at Chilton County High School at 7:00 O'clock Friday night, March 30 at the High School gymnasium.

Aside from the regular door prizes which will be given away and the cash awards to the winners of the Talent competition Belcher is offering for the first time an outstanding gift to anyone who buys a Belcher TEH Home the night of the big show! You can get the details inside this issue of the News.

Leon Wilcutt, local Sales Manager for Belcher stated early this week that local dignitaries as well as officials of his company would be present for this event and they are counting on this being the biggest yet! Good clean entertainment and relaxation can be yours if you attend the Belcher Show Friday night.

And a P.S. please: There will also be a Stage Show and Talent Contest at the Randolph School north of Maplesville on Saturday night, March 31st. All patrons are invited to this event and students are urged to participate in the competition for cash awards!

Mrs. Elmore Langston is Youth Director of the church.

EVERY paper ballot on May 29 which has less than eight congressmen's names checked will be destroyed.

26 VIE FOR DEMO NOD ON MAY 1ST

A healthy slate of candidate for public office is emphasized this year by the fact that every race in Chilton County politics is drawing attention to itself with some unique issue.

In the race for Sheriff, which was expected to be the hottest, but which oddly enough seems to be the quietest to date, incumbent Hugh Champion is pitted against such men as J. Smales Thornton, Melvin Powell, Odell Payton and Reuben Gore.

Probably the most controversial political campaigning thus far has been done in the race for Supt. of Education. Three men are running hard for this position. They are incumbent Gordon L. Conway, U. H. Abrams, long time educator in Chilton County and Lloyd Mims.

The Representatives race, probably the hardest for the bigwig politicians to figure out at this point, is between incumbent Francis Speaks, E. A. "Red" Fulmer and Grady Heflin.

The County Coroner's race is quite a contrast as far as age is concerned. Incumbent, and long time funeral director R. L. "Bob" White is campaigning enthusiastically, as is his opponent young Jimmy Martin, who is seeking the position once held by his late father. Oddly enough this is a first in politics for both men.

Four men are seeking election to the Board of Revenue and Control from District Two. They are incumbent A. D. Headley, Marion S. Smith, Fred Robinson and Bill Porter.

In District One, Board of Revenue and Control, incumbent Dalton Champion seeks re-election and his opposition is Sidney Porter and Lonnie Cost.

For Deputy Solicitor of Chilton County are two local lawyers, L. F. "Bud" Gerald, Jr. and Walter C. Hayden, Jr.

For Board of Education, Place No. One, O. J. McGriff and O. J. "Doc" Baker are battling it out. For Place No. Two, incumbent F. Dudley Nix is seeking re-election. His opponent, Archie J. Taylor.

With only five weeks to go in the race to the Primary election of May 1st these candidates are shifting into high gear now and will be fighting for your vote on that date. Two final thoughts one for the voter and one for the candidate: Be sure you vote on May 1st, and may the best man win!

LEAVE one name blank on your "9-8" congressional paper ballot on May 29.

Rescue Squad Organizes A Radio Club

The Chilton County Civil Defense Rescue Squad held a meeting recently for the purpose of organizing a citizen radio club. This club was organized to save the people of Chilton County in the event of an emergency under the supervision of the Rescue Squad in case they are called out.

The officers of this club are: President: James Ray; Vice Pres.: Cecil Carter; Sec. and Treas.: Robert Earl Martin.

If you have a citizen Band Radio and would like to join this club please check with James Ray at Ray's TV Shop. Vernon Cleckler, Publicity chairman - KDB-8198.

Search Continues For Men Lost On River

THE two men who presumably drowned on the Coosa River last Saturday afternoon are still being sought by the Chilton County Civil Defense Rescue Squad and other volunteer workers from numerous counties and cities all over the State.

The men are Joseph Herbert Hughes, Montgomery, Assistant Manager of the Suburban Gas Co., the father of seven children and Alvin Fuller, Marbury an employee of Suburban. They were on a fishing trip out of Blue Creek above Mitchell Dam.

The search began Saturday afternoon late and really got underway Sunday. They have been dragging the river above and below Mitchell Dam since that time when daylight hours would permit and when the gates at the dam were closed. The River Company, according to a spokesman for the local Rescue Squad, has been very helpful and cooperative with the control of the water over the dam.

It was learned late Wednesday afternoon that dragging and trolling operations were being undertaken some five miles below Mitchell Dam, working north. Participating in the rescue operation at one point a spokesman for the group Wednesday afternoon said that they had plenty of volunteer help for dragging and skimming operations and that it looked like "just a matter of time!"

Revival Services Begin Sunday At Mulberry

Revival services begin Sunday, April 1 at the Mulberry Baptist Church. On that date the youth of the church will lead in all phases of the church program. April 2 through 8 the visiting evangelist will be Rev. Jerome Robinson, pastor of the Liberty Hill Baptist Church. Every one is invited and encouraged to come at 7:15 p.m. for class prayer meetings and revival services which will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Special music will be provided each night of this series of revival services by either the Mulberry Church or by visiting choirs, quartets, and soloists. Make plans now to come and share in the blessings which will come during this week of Bible centered preaching and gospel singing.

Dear 4-H Janes:

Many of you have wondered how you can have a complete wardrobe when the family budget can't stand a great deal of spending at this time. Of course everyone would like to get lots of new clothes each season, but believe it or not we can make a couple of simple dresses—change them with accessories—and others will think you have more clothes than you really do. To make these basic dresses start with a simple style which includes a clean neckline and also clean lines. You might make these in bright solids—one casual and the other one dressy. Both of these can be changed with jewelry, belts, shoes, scarfs and you might make bibs to wear with them. These bibs can be buttoned on, tucked, trimmed with rich rack and other edgings. Use your imagination.

Last week girls in the Verbena and Jewison 4-H Clubs had their school clothing revues. Many of these girls made aprons and for most—it was the first time they had sewn on the sewing machine. We are going to have some fine seamstresses in Chilton County.

There were 16 aprons, 17 skirts, 4 matching skirts and blouses, and 8 dresses exhibited. We are very proud of these girls and want all of them to enter the County Clothing Revue which will be held March 1. See you there.

That's Using Your BeanCoffee-Almond Bars with Brown Sugar 'n' Instant Coffee

Looking for ways to capture the distinctive flavor of coffee outside as well as in the cup? Then you'll certainly want a copy of a new free booklet just published by The Nestlé Company that's filled with taste treats using instant coffee as a basic ingredient.

Called "43 Ways to Use Your Bean," it features recipes for cookies, hot sauces, desserts, confections, and a host of other delectables that will be a hit at meal-time or when you entertain. You can obtain your free copy of "43 Ways to Use Your Bean" simply by writing to Nestlé, P.O. Box 99, Mt. Vernon, N.Y. Meanwhile, while waiting for the booklet to arrive, why not serve your family or friends those coffee-almond bars with brown sugar 'n' instant coffee today? Here's the quick-and-easy way:

COFFEE-ALMOND BARS

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 teaspoon Nescafé
1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) Nestlé's Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Preheat oven to 350°F. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; set aside. Combine butter, brown sugar, almond extract and Nescafé in bowl and beat until creamy. Gradually blend in dry ingredients. Stir in the semi-sweet chocolate morsels and nuts. Press dough into a greased 15 x 10 x 1-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Cut into bars while warm. Cool. Makes about 3 dozen bars.

BROWN SUGAR 'N' COFFEE

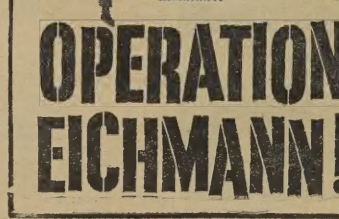

Make hot coffee with Nescafé and sweeten to taste with brown sugar crystals.

900 Acres Of Strawberries*Grown Last Year

Strawberry production began declining in Alabama after World War II. The downward trend continued until it leveled out about three years ago. According to Crop Reporting Service, figures, only about 900 acres of strawberries were grown last year. Production was a little over two billion pounds and grossed $354,000. At one time some 3,500 acres were in strawberries. Shortage of labor is most often cited as the big reason for the decline, but another reason is that people apparently aren't willing to put out the effort it takes to grow good strawberries.

County Agent Sellers states that local farmers may do quite well with limited acreage. District Agent Albritton of Florida says 90 varieties. He points out spray program is a must, as getting into the soil a heavy green manure crop. The soil must have the capacity to hold moisture. Almost any organic material will add to the normal water holding ability of the soil. Thinning of plants annually, good fertilizer practices and chemical weed control measures will also increase yields and decrease labor costs.

SERVICE is our BEST POLICY

The Financial Statement presented here shows that Liberty National is a large and strong company with more than ample resources to meet its obligations. As a matter of fact Liberty National now ranks 42nd in size among the more than 1400 life insurance companies in the United States.

A company grows in size only by remembering that it is in business to give service to people. The 3,000 men and women who make up the Liberty National organization know this, and no problem is too small to receive their careful attention. It is their constant aim to furnish sound insurance advice, quick and fair claim payments, careful investment of reserve funds, and efficient but human handling of day to day problems.

County Agent News
County agent dealers reports that under new regulations, common farmers can change their system of skip-row planted cotton.
In 1954, a cotton producer may choose a pattern best suited to his operation and only the advance of land actually planted to cotton will be counted against his acreage. (This means the skip will not be measured.) However, a uniform pattern should be followed throughout the field.
Growers having sufficient good cotton land to follow a skip-row system, can increase yields from skipped acres.
A "plant two rows, skip two rows" system will be very efficient. Perhaps this will be the most popular system also. To get maximum benefits from skip row planting, the skip must not be planted to crops which compete with cotton for moisture, sunlight and plant food. Weeds must also be kept down in the skip.
Principal advantages of skip-row planting are:
1. Increased yield from your allocation.
2. Improve quality through reduced boll rot.
3. Research at the Tennessee Valley station shows that yield of seed cotton can be increased about 50 percent when 2 rows are planted and 2 rows skipped.
For a five year period, 1950-1956 skip row cotton made 3025
pounds of seed cotton per acre compared to 1943 pounds per acre for a solid stand. This yield is based on the acreage actually planted to cotton. For example, a 10 acre field planted to the system only has 5 acres of cotton.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL
Farmers are finding that chemical weed control in cotton almost eliminates hoe labor. Tests at the Tennessee Valley show that hoe labor can be reduced from 17 man hours per acre to about 2 hours per acre.
Pre-emergence chemicals applied at planting will control weeds for 4 to 6 weeks. Diuron (Karmex DL) used at 19 pounds per acre on clay soils and 14 pounds per acre on sandy soils is recommended. CIPC used at 1 pound per acre on sandy soil and 2 to 2½ pounds on clay will also control small seeded annual weeds. These rates are recommended for treating a 12 inch band over the center of 40 inch rows.
Local producers should work toward April 15 for their cotton planting date. Use a resistant variety Auburn 56, Dixie
King, Plains, Coker 100A, Allin
One or Rex.
Soil test for fertilizer recommendations. See your County Agent for information. Lime on acid soils is a must for good production, efficient utilization of plant food, and reduction of soil born organisms that greatly reduce stands and hamper growth of young cotton plants, states Sellers. He also points out that 3-5 pounds per acre of boron on light sandy soils may also increase yields on appreciable amount.

Do Fast Ambulances Save Or Cost Lives

Is the speeding ambulance essential to the saving of lives? Or while adding to growing traffic hazards, does it run the risk of increasing a patient's injuries?
Bearing on those questions, the following is from an article in "Public Health Reports," a U.S.
Government publication:
"It has been noted that an ambulance traveling 30 miles per hour takes 10 minutes to go 5 miles, yet to arrive at its destination 5 minutes earlier the vehicle would have to travel at double this speed or 60 miles per hour over the same course."
A study conducted at Hurley Hospital, Flint, Mich., of 2,500 consecutive ambulance runs failed to show that 5 minutes would have influenced the course of a single injury.
"It was found that that haste was unnecessary in 98.2 per cent of the cases; they could have been transported according to traffic regulations.
"In 1.8 per cent, expeditious hauling was necessary, but the speeding ambulance could have increased injuries. In only one case was haste necessary to save life."
The study's conclusions: Ambulances should use sirens and flashers to warn the risk of way, but should observe local speed laws.

To The Voters Of Chilton County

J. Smolon Thornton, as you already know, is a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County. The only promise he is making is to be the best Sheriff possible. "Everything will be done to the best of my ability to see that the duties of the Sheriff are carried out to the extent of the law and in the best interests of the people of Chilton County."

"There will be a man on duty at all times.
These deputies will be Chilton County men, hired by application and based on their experience, character and ability.

"I have had experience as a Chief Deputy Sheriff and have worked with the people of Chilton County in public service work for 20 years.

"My election will insure for the people of this County good, honest and needed law enforcement for the continued growth and development of Chilton County."

J. Smolon Thornton For Sheriff Of Chilton County

Sweet Sour Raisin Sauce Enhances Lamb Shanks

Sweet California raisins add their delightful taste surprise to this economical yet glamorous entree. First, simmer lamb shanks in a sweet sour mixture of pineapple juice and vinegar for tenderness and flavor. Then add raisins and vegetables to cook in the tangy juice the last half hour. The thickened pan liquid is delicious sauce to serve over the richly flavored meat and vegetables.

ELEGANT LAMB SHANKS WITH RAISIN SAUCE
4 lamb shanks
Salt and pepper
Shortening
1½ cups pineapple juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
Sprinkle lamb shanks with salt and pepper. Brown slowly on all sides in small amount of shortening. Add pineapple juice and vinegar. Cover and simmer until tender, about 1½ hours. Add carrots cut into chunks, onions and raisins. Simmer until vegetables are tender, about 30 minutes. Skim any fat from surface. Mix cornstarch with cold water and stir into liquid. Cook until mixture boils thoroughly and is thickened.
Arrange meat and vegetables on serving platter and cover with sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Lloyd D. Mims For Superintendent Of Education

Have you noticed that a certain few, who either belong to the family connection or ring, have gotten very upset over the race for superintendent of education? Now, there isn't any reason to pull our hair out, for the only issue at hand is whether the people of Chilton County are ready to move forward in the field of education or continue with the same pace and the same faces that have been running the educational system for years, years, and more years. The people must decide whether they will continue to stand for unanswered questions and favoritism or elect Lloyd D. Mims. Because he agrees with the people when it comes to the following:
1. Over two million dollars of the people's money is a lot of money for anyone to handle without having to publish where it has gone, is obligated to go, or is tied up to the extent it can't be used. Lloyd D.

Mims will and can publish who or what has received this money or will receive it.
2. It is time we destroyed any ring or family affair that has been dominating the system for sometime. New faces never hurt anyone except making sure others have an opportunity at a job.
3. It is time the little man had a say so in whether his rural schools will be destroyed or remain to serve his children.
4. It is time local children supported their own school rather than passing and crowding other children out of their school.
5. It is time our educational system made progress along with the fields of science and medicine.
Sincerely,
Lloyd D. Mims

Attention All Veterans

Your vote for E. A. "Red" Fulmer for Representative from Chilton County is a vote for good Government because:

"Red" was born and reared in Chilton County and educated in the public schools here.

He represents no clique group and will not be obligated to anyone but the people of Chilton County.

He is well qualified through his training and his experience in dealing with people in public life.

"Red" was seriously injured during World War II in the "Battle of The Bulge" and is a 'paid up' member of the Disabled American Veterans. He is also a member of the V.F.W. and the American Legion.

He served as State Commander of the D.A.V. in 1951-52, and under his leadership and guidance the membership reached an all-time high.

"Red" served the veterans of Chilton County well as a member of the State Board of Veterans Affairs for eight years.

He personally donated the land to the veterans of Chilton County on which the Veterans Club now stands, used by every veterans group in the County.

In his efforts for veterans and their dependents, he has always been available when called. Nothing has ever kept him from going to the aid of a fellow veteran.

"Red" has spent much of his time and talents, and gained unmeasured experience, directly aiding his fellow veterans in this county.

A member of the Masonic bodies in Chilton County, he is also a member of the West End Baptist Church in Clanton.

He is the only candidate who has promised: "I will Represent All The People All Of The Time!"

"Red" has proved that he believes in practicing what he preaches.
LET'S SUPPORT A COMRADE WHO IS A PROVEN FRIEND AND HAS YOUR PERSONAL INTEREST AT WAYS IN HEART AND MIND.

Meet The Man Who Carried Chilton County In 1958

April 7 Is World Health Day

PRESERVE SIGHT — PREVENT BLINDNESS
Theme For 1962

This little girl is suffering from a "lazy eye". Though not too serious the condition diminishes the child's vision and, if not arrested in time, may lead to weak-sightedness and even eventual blindness. The way to correct this is through exercises like the one she performs here. By covering the good eye she trains the lazy one to work properly.

A lazy eye is only one of a host of menaces to good vision a child runs in growing up. Of the world's 10 million blind people about 650,000 are children. Yet fully two-thirds of this global burden of blindness need never have occurred. It could have been prevented. Naturally, the best place to begin blindness prevention is with children.

It was in recognition of the tragic and unnecessary waste that blindness inflicts on the world's human and economic health that the 109 member states of the World Health Organization chose "Preserve Sight—Prevent Blindness" as the theme for the celebration April 7 of the UN specialized agency's fourteenth anniversary.

WHO Director-General Dr. M. G. Candau says: "With proper treatment by drugs and surgery, sight could be restored to millions who are now losing it; preventive measures can ensure that in the future the numbers of the blind will be a third or less of what they are today."

"It cannot be repeated too often that the cost of preventive services is only a fraction of what could be saved by reducing the burden which the blind inevitably represent for any country's economy."

MEET MACDONALD GALLION SATURDAY

"Mac" will be in Chilton County this Saturday to shake hands with his many friends and followers while attending the Civilian Barbecue, being held at the Airport Hangar at 5 p.m. He is anxious to meet and greet you while he is here. If you are still on the fence about who you will the Masonic Hall there. He will vote for Governor, just spend 5 minutes with MacDonald Gallion and you will immediately find a man of dignity, honesty and integrity AND A MAN YOU WANT FOR GOVERNOR.

On the way to Clanton, from Shelby County Saturday, MacDonald Gallion will stop in Jemison about 1:45 to try out some of those luscious pan cakes at likes "Mac" in '62 too. Since then try to be in Thorshy around 2:30 and in Maplesville around 3:30. Then on to Clanton about 4 to 4:30. Let's all give "Mac" our support and good wishes. "Mac" likes Chilton County and let's show him that we like "Mac". We did it for him in 1958, and he has done a good job for the State. Let's show him that Chilton County the Barbecue starts at 5 p.m. It will be impossible for Gallion to make all of the county as he would like to do, so try to see him at some of the places mentioned above or at the Barbecue. Remember, MacDonald Gallion is running for Governor on what he has done right, not what somebody else has done wrong. (Pd. Pol. Adv. by Chilton County Committee for MacDonald Gallion, Exchange Hotel Bldg., Clanton)

FALLOUT SHELTER PLANS TO FIT ANY BUDGET FALLOUT SHELTER FOR NEW HOME

DUAL-PURPOSE underground fallout shelter of clay masonry construction and designed to be built as part of new house would combine some nuclear blast protection, excellent shielding from fallout, and the usefulness of an ordinary basement room. This six-person shelter, which would cost about $650 including $250 to $300 for labor, is one of eight designs in the Defense Department's new "Family Shelter Designs" handbook available at state and local civil defense offices.

Shelter Design Book Available

Those wishing to build their own home fallout shelters can now obtain the most up-to-date information through a handbook, "Family Shelter Designs," just distributed by the Department of Defense.

The booklet, prepared by the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense, provides detailed and detailed construction data for eight fallout shelters of different types. They range in cost from $75 to $650. All would cut to at least 1/100th the amount of outside fallout radiation reaching occupants.

These shelters, the booklet explains, are designed for "use by families who do not have access to community shelters or who prefer that their shelters be at their homes."

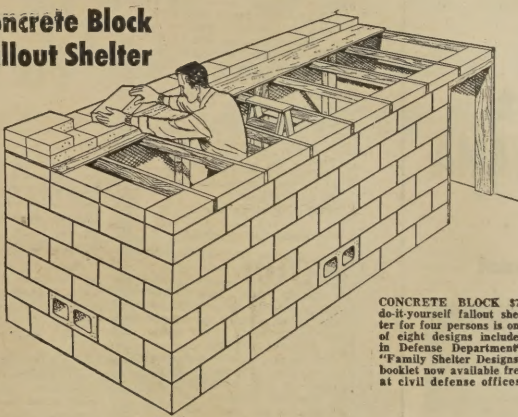

The handbook may be obtained from local Civil Defense offices or by writing to Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense, Battle Creek, Mich.

Easy to Build, Low in Cost

Corrugated steel basement fallout shelter shielded from radiation by sandbags is available in a kit for about $125, offers moderate fallout protection, and may be easily transported and put up. Details on this and other shelters are in the Defense Department's "Family Shelter Designs" booklet now at local civil defense offices.

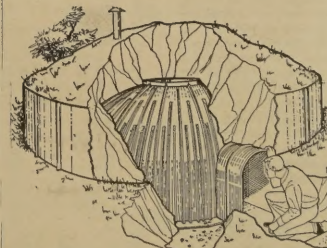

Concrete Block Fallout Shelter

CONCRETE BLOCK $75 do-it-yourself fallout shelter for four persons is one of eight designs included in Defense Department's "Family Shelter Designs" booklet now available free at civil defense offices.

Low-Cost Underground Shelter

STEEL IGLOO fallout shelter, more roomy than corrugated pipe type shelters of steel, could be self-assembled for about $175 from prefabricated sections available in department stores, building supply outlets and mail order firms. Details may be obtained from civil defense offices supplied with the "Family Shelter Designs" free booklet of the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense.

DATA ON HOME SHELTERS

The "Family Shelter Designs" booklet is now available free at local civil defense offices or from the Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Peppermint Frost Cookie Loaf

One of the most useful items the homemaker can have on her pantry shelf is a box of Carnation instant nonfat dry milk crystals. Magic crystals save refrigerator space, and there are no last minute dashes to the store when milk supplies get low. Use instant crystals for all cooking and baking needs, where recipes call for milk. No special recipes are needed.

As a beverage, plain or flavored, it's delicious and contains just 81 calories per eight-ounce glass when reconstituted according to package directions. . . good news for weight-watchers. The home economists of the Carnation Company have developed an easy-to-do, economical frozen dessert called Peppermint Frost. The Frost is made with whipped instant crystals which create an appealing lightness in texture. Try Peppermint Frost, layered with chocolate wafers for a colorful party dessert.

Whipped instant crystals are a perfect dessert topping, too. Try fluffy mounds of the topping on fruit or cake.

PEPPERMINT FROST COOKIE LOAF

(Makes 6-8 servings)
1/4 cup crushed peppermint stick candy
1/4 cup marshmallow whip
1/2 cup hot water

Combine peppermint candy, marshmallow whip and hot water. Stir well. Cool. Fold in instant crystals. Arrange 8 wafers in bottom of 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Top with half of frost mixture, 8 wafers, remaining frost mixture and remaining 8 wafers. Freeze until firm (about 3 hours).

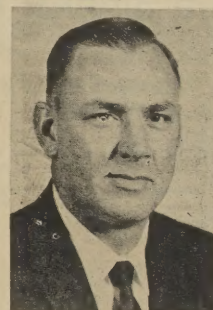

*To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals: (Makes about 2 1/2 cups)
1/2 cup ice water
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals

Pour ice water into a mixing bowl. Add instant nonfat dry milk crystals and whip until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add lemon juice and continue whipping until stiff (3-4 minutes).

LEAN-TO SHELTER made of lumber would provide low-cost protection against fallout in houses with basements. The shelter, costing less than $15 on a self-built basis, would provide as much fallout protection as some of the seven other designs included with it in the Defense Department's booklet "Family Shelter Designs." It combines simplicity of construction with easy availability of materials, and could be disassembled easily. Civil defense offices have the free booklet available now to the public.

"THE great question for all of us is not whether we have failed, but whether we are content with failure"

The Master's Touch--

THERE is nothing so inspiring and that makes a man feel completely free and happy with the world, than being out on the meadows and hillsides at dawn on one of these beautiful spring days. It is a closeness with nature that only the birds and the animal noises coupled with the fresh, crispness of a new day can bring. And in spite of all the cares and woes of the world, you just cannot help being glad you are alive to see, feel and enjoy the wonders of His hand!

Average Stupidity--

THERE is one thing we must say in behalf of American weekly newspapers: when they do take a stand, there is no question about just what that stand is, or which side of a particular controversy they are in sympathy with.

This is not true of many publications we receive through the mails each week! We take a look at these tabloid newspapers and magazines and after scanning through them, we actually cannot tell whether they are Communist propaganda or the honest opinion of some well-meaning crusader! One thing that the journalism schools fail to teach these fancy-dan writers and publishers is how to identify themselves to their readers! They are so wrapped up in their noble-writing ability, that we cannot see through the maze and tell what they are talking about! And we consider ourselves of about average stupidity!

Your Chamber Of Commerce--

IN the next few weeks a concerted effort will be made to interest and sign up new members for the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce.

And before you pass this by and grumble something about "what good is that bunch anyway. . ." or "I don't know what they're doing for me!" Stop and ask yourself how much of an effort have you made toward learning about the workings of your C of C and what have you contributed towards its efforts to improve this County!

A Chamber of Commerce is certainly no more effective or influential than the sum total of its members and the efforts which they put forth in behalf of their community! It is not a miracle organization which just happens to improve a community merely by existing! It is, with all the glamour and pretty ribbons removed, just plain hard work, and, just as in your business, or any other undertaking, you will not realize much from it without putting something into it!

The Chilton County Chamber of Commerce has some fine men working in it and for it! Their efforts in the future will be for naught without the cooperation and support of the businessmen in this area!

Officers and directors of the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce are:

John M. Higgins, President
J. H. "Skeeter" Stokes, Vice President
Board of Directors:
Johnny Vines, S. A. Jones, H. Gaines Burnett, T. E. Wyatt, John Ponder Lawrence, Jr., E. S. Monroe
Associate Members:
Gordon L. Robertson, Bob Tucker
Jon Will Pitts, Sec.-Treas.

If you were ever needed as a member of the Chamber of Commerce, it is now! Chilton's future economy depends largely on action taken now by the Chamber! If you do not know about your Chamber and you think you can help it, or it can help you, contact one of the above citizens and find out what, why, when, where, and how much!

Tell Your Merchant You Saw It In The NEWS!!

Did They Say "Jail"--

WHO do these Washington politicians think they're dealing with when the propose to "jail" a farmer for keeping improper records. . . or . . . for not keeping proper records. . . whichever the case may be?

We think we have seen the height of American apathy when an appointee official of the President whom we elected has the audacity to make such a proposal as the above stated!

It has been long stressed by this newspaper, and thousands like it, that government control is our weakest point! So far as we can see, there is very little being done about the encroachment on our rights by the Federal Government! When are the American people going to stop bowing low to these wheel-and-deal politicians, and let them know that we are still running this show we call the "Free Enterprise System"! You know a farmer has to clean out the barn, and the hen house, occasionally, if he wants to maintain a suitable operation. If we don't clean out the "barn" pretty soon, we'd just as well forget the whole thing! It's getting to be pretty messy!

The Elephant's View--

A stranger to local politics was talking with a Republican friend of ours the other day and during the course of the conversation he asked, "Just what is the basic difference, the real difference in the Democratic Party and the Republican Party in Chilton County?" Our friend pondered this question and after some amount of thought, said, "The biggest difference in the Democratic Party and the Republican Party in Chilton County is; they're in and we're out!"

MAN OF THE WEEK

OTT MILLER, the News Man Of The Week, is most decidedly one of Chilton County's most alert, energetic and influential citizens. He has been and is active in Little League, the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Alabama Sight Conservation Committee of the Lions, having served in high offices in that organization.

Ott's boundless energies have carried him into nearly every community activity and worth while project to come along. He is also very active in the Church in Clanton.

He is owner-manager of the Credit Bureau of Clanton and is now the County Treasurer, having won that office some two years ago.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

THE JOY OF THE LORD IS STRENGTH

A young woman working in an office was known to be quite ill-tempered on Monday morning. After a time, however, her fellow workers noticed a great change come over her. She began the week with radiance. Her work increased in quality as well as quantity.

When someone asked her about the change, she replied, "I have become a Christian. I dedicate my Monday's pay to God. I just bubble in with a deep joy because I know I am working for Him."

Almost everyone wants to enjoy life and to get along with others. But often the search for happiness is futile because we look in the wrong place. Personal joy is the product of right believing, high ideals and unselfish living. These, in turn, are the fruits of dedication to God.

When you are truly united in spirit with God, joy seems to spring up in you from a deep well within your being. Joy comes from spiritual attainment--from digging deep into the reservoirs of God's love and grace.

The joy of the Lord is important to your total well-being. It is essential to health of body and health of mind.

When David lost the joy of the Lord, he became physically ill. "O God," he cried, "restore the joy of thy salvation." For David, joy was the total answer.

Nothing else would help him. How do you feel when the joy of the Lord is upon you? You feel as strong as a lion. You are without a pain in your body. You have great assurance and peace of mind. You feel love for everyone around you. You are in unity with God and His universe.

Joy is strength. Joy is health. A person full of joy is stronger physically than he would be without that joy. When you are filled with the joy of the Lord, your outlook on life is better, your influence over others is greater.

Jesus had great joy in His heart when He walked with the Father and the strength of God was in that joy.

Christ provided a way for us to have His happiness and strength. He said, "These things [commandments] have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full."

The joy of the Lord is ours as we keep Christ's commandments of love. In Him, humor, wholesome fun and laughter are increased, not taken away. To be a fellow worker with Christ is to share His joy and bliss.

True and lasting happiness comes with a conscious communion with God. Man was made in the likeness of God, we live in unity with Him, real happiness and joy is found.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

In order to assist the thousands of property owners who suffered extensive losses as a result of the recent tidal storm along the East Coast of the United States, the House of Representatives approved legislation last week that will enable them to write off losses in income tax reports they will file this year.

Normally, such losses could not have been deducted until income tax returns were filed in 1963. Those affected by the legislation include residential property owners as well as the proprietors of commercial establishments.

The bill passed by the House also enables persons with large losses to file amended income tax reports for the last three years. This will make them eligible for lump sum tax refunds that they can apply to rebuilding costs.

The President has also requested $35 million in emergency funds to help restore roads, bridges and other public facilities in the storm hit areas.

In the meantime, the Army Corps of Engineers is undertaking surveys to determine how the severe beach damage, which extends from Cape Fear, N. C., to Atlantic Beach, N. J., can best be repaired.

The tidal storm that battered the Atlantic seaboard two weeks ago was the worst in decades in its impact on the coastline. As a result, the Coast and Geodetic Survey will have to redraw their maps of the region. Minor damage was done all the way down to the tip of Florida.

The income tax relief bill cleared the Senate on Monday.

'SAFETY
CHECK'

Southern Bell Telephone Company's plant department inaugurated an accident prevention program this month called "Safety Circle Check," according to Ervin Joiner, local plant foreman for the company. The purpose of the program, Joiner said, is to remind all drivers of company owned motor vehicles to make a check of the area surrounding the vehicle before moving it from its parking place.

The "Safety Circle Check" has already paid dividends for one Bell System Company according to Joiner. One of their drivers found two small children playing underneath his truck while another found a small boy kneeling under the rear bumper trying to retrieve a plastic toy that had rolled under the vehicle.

To help remind their drivers to circle the vehicle, a green plastic ring has been placed on the front door handle on the drivers side.

Southern Bell has one of the best safety records of any company in the county and Joiner advises that his company is continually striving to improve this record.

It is recommended that other companies as well as individual car owners practice the "Safety Circle Check," it might save lives and the use of a police car.

As a member of the Board of Education, Place No. 2, Chilton County, I have tried to serve you to the best of my ability and want you to know I will continue to do so.

I have been and will continue to do everything in my power to keep your trust. I think the people are interested in electing a good servant to serve them.

If you will speak a good word for me to your many friends and those with whom you come in contact from day to day, it will mean my carrying your section of Chilton County. I will be very grateful to you. Your influence and active support will be greatly appreciated.

Revival services last week were well attended. Everyone that attended received a blessing
There was a nice crowd out for both services on Sunday. We had several there that haven't been for sometime. We trust they will be able to attend and worship with us often.

We are very happy indeed to have Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Wil-

Many College Prospects Benefit From "GI Bill"

With the arrival of spring,
Walter C. Head, Jr., Director of Alabama's Department of Veterans' Affairs, has pointed out that hundreds of Alabama high school seniors are now formulating plans to enroll in college this fall.

"Many of these youths", remarked Head, "are entitled to educational benefits based upon the wartime military service of their parents under what's commonly referred to as the "Alabama GI Bill". Head pointed out that these benefits available under the laws of the State of Alabama, are in addition to those provided under the laws administered by the U. S. Veterans Administration. "Most Children, he added, who are entitled under Federal laws are also entitled under Alabama law." However, he continued, "the Act passed by the State Legislature shortly after World War Two makes educational assistance available to many children who are not entitled to benefits from the U. S.
Government."

The Director stated that Alabama law provides free tuition and fees in state supported institutions of higher learning and state trade schools. To be eligible, a person must be the child of a veteran with wartime service in World War One, World War Two, or the Korean Conflict, and who was a bonafide citizen of the State of Alabama for at least one year immediately preceding his entry in service and who:
1. Died in, or as the result of wartime service; or

We extend our sympathy to the Blackburn family and to the Terrell family in the loss of their loved one.

Those attending Mr. Terrell's funeral in Birmingham Sunday were the Chester Jones family and the McArthur Jones family.
We were very sorry to hear of Mrs. Ray Buxton's sister being very ill at her home. We do pray for her a speedy recovery.

We still have services and we want you to know we missed you last Sunday. We don't want to miss you next Sunday so please come and help us plan for our home coming which will be April 15th all day. All singers please keep this in mind and plan to be with us.

2. Had a wartime service connected disability of 40% or more at the time of death, regardless of the cause of death; or

3. If still living, has a wartime service connected disability of 40% or more.

Head added that since World War Two, the number taking advantage of these benefits has increased from year to year and that, "At the present time, more than 800 students are enrolled under the program. We anticipate that number to increase sharply for several years to come."

He cautioned that applications should be made within two years after graduation from high school as law sets that period as the delimiting date for commencing education or training. Those planning on entering service after graduation and continuing their education after discharge may meet the requirements of the law by making application prior to entry into service.

Schools and colleges offering free tuition and fees under the Act are: All state trade schools,

MASSACHUSETTS —
Boston's Beacon Hill was once crowned by a real beacon.
The gold dome of the State House was designed by Charles Bulfinch, and built in 1795, is still a sort of beacon today. The Hall of Flags on the inside is most interesting, Boston's Sacred God in the Hall of Re-

Dog and Horse tablet attracts many visitors. Near the State House in old Boston are Old North Church, Faneuil Hall and other buildings in a section which it is said more history has been written and its occurrence marked than in any other United States city.

NEWS OF - Samaria

Don Graham, pastor Along with the recognition of the Lord's Supper, next Sunday we will have a Baptismal Service. If you have never seen this dual recognition, you have really missed a blessing. We have several candidates for baptism who will be baptized as part of this inspiration program. We would like to invite you to be our guest on Sunday for this unusual and inspiring program.

The Juniors are going to have a weiner roast at the church on Saturday afternoon at 3:00. They will have a recreational period along with the hot dogs. Any of you Juniors who would like to come are invited.

The Young Married People have planned a spaghetti supper for April 21. There will be a lot of food and plenty for you to make your plans to be with us.

We want to thank each of you who went to the Youth Rally and we know you were well rewarded, because the Montecito Rally presented one of the best programs we have had. We want you to be sure to come to our next rally which will be at the West End Baptist Church on April 7.

Make your plans to be with us next Sunday.

$36,300 Road Project In Chilton County

Project SACP 3500-B(2) (6-29) Governor Patterson and Highway Director Englehardt have entered into a Contract with Chilton County to cover the plating of constructed roads on 124,642 miles of various County roads.

This bituminous seal will be placed by County forces and equipment at an approximate cost of $36,300.00 of which $13,150.00 by the County.

The work should get under way in the near future.

The paving of a bituminous seal on these County roads is part of the regular Road to Market Road program whereby already constructed roads are made safer for the traveling public.

We feel that this is a great step forward by both the County and the Highway Department in adding to the safety of the traveling public on all roads that have been paved.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this way of saying thank you very much to the kind and wonderful people of Clanton, Ala., and Chilton County who were so kind and good to us during our recent grief at the death of our father, Mr. Andrew J. Baker.

We thank you each and every one for your kind words of sympathy, for each kind thing you did, for your thoughts and prayers during this time, we thank you very much.

We want to say a special thanks to the Bryce Hospital doctors and nurses who cared for him during the last few weeks of his life, their patience and kindness is appreciated.

To the Highland Community and the Church and both preachers who gave a very inspiring talk. To the choir and organist for their beautiful renditions.

To the friends and relatives for the beautiful floral offerings. To the local florist for preparing them. To the wonderful staff at Spigner Funeral Home, for the kindness they showed us during this trying time. You can never know how much this meant to us.

Again let us say thank you very much. To each and every one of you we are eternally grateful for each and every kind thing you said and did for the children of Andrew J. Baker. To the children of Andrew J. Baker, Mrs. D. Baker and family, Clanton family, Houma, La., Myrtle Carmack, Houma, La., Wills Dean Dobbs, Talladega, Ala.

Simultaneous Revivals Begins This Week

Sure, we have a great nation. But do you know why? Because numerous dedicated people had the opportunity and applied the teachings of Christ. The teachings are being preached at Simultaneous evangelistic services in 26 Baptist churches this week and next week in Chilton-Unity Baptist Association. Every one is invited to be a part of revival congregations each night by attending the Baptists church nearest your home. Revivals of 14 churches will close Sunday. Revivals at 11 churches will begin Sunday as follows: Bethsalem: 7 o'clock nightly, J. H. Black, pastor-evangelist; Cane Creek: 7 o'clock nightly, J. W. Ellison, evangelist; Hillcrest: 7:30 o'clock nightly, Geo. L. Bark evangelist; Mt. Carmel No. One: 7 o'clock nightly, Calvin Ray, evangelist; Mulberry: 7:30 o'clock nightly, Jerome C. Robinson, evangelist; New Cedron: 7 o'clock nightly, Wayne Smith, evangelist; Poplar Springs, 7 o'clock nightly Don Graham, evangelist; Providence One: 7:00 nightly, Billy Austin, evangelist; Ebenezer: 7:30 nightly, Louis Brasher, evangelist. First Baptist Clanton, Revival April 15-22, Rev. John Jefferies, evangelist. America's greatest weapon is the spirit of God. For a better understanding of America's power, attend evangelistic services at a Baptist church this week end and also next week.

Youth Rally Draws Large Attendance

The Youth, Pastors and Adult leaders of 25 churches of the Chilton-Unity Baptist Association packed the auditorium of Chestnut Creek Baptist church last Saturday with 312 present at the Youth Rally. The roll call revealed Samaria Baptist church had 47 per cent of the Sunday School enrolment present, and was awarded the high attendance banner. Maple Springs was runner up with 41 per cent of the Sunday School enrolment present. A number of visitors representing areas all over Alabama were present including the Baptist Student Union of Alabama College at Montevallo, who presented a beautiful and impressive program. They sang some beautiful gospel anthems, led the congregation in singing hymns, and presented an inspiring drama of cross bearing. Due to an unforeseen service scheduled at the First Baptist church, Clanton, the next Youth Rally will meet at the West End Baptist Church, Clanton, April 7, 7:30 p.m. The officers have promised a very outstanding spiritual service for the young people.

To The Citizens Of Chilton County

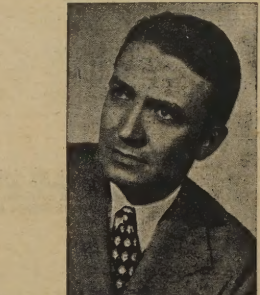

In a recent issue of the News, I was pleased to introduce myself and solicit your support to my candidacy for the Senate in the forthcoming primary. In that issue, I made a brief statement concerning my personal business experience. Now, I'd like to touch on probably my favorite subject: EDUCATION.

Personally, I had the privilege of a full educational including an engineering degree from Georgia Tech and since then special study courses in three additional colleges. I have a son at the University of Alabama and another in grammar school.

For many years, I was chairman of the board of trustees of Thompson High School at Siluria. During this time, our school became an accredited high school. While I was president of Buck Creek Cotton Mills, we provided that the company subsidize the local staff in such places and to the extent necessary to guarantee a top flight program at all times. The fact of our help to our school program is well known to practically every person connected with schools in this district and particularly well in Shelby County. Our mills have given more money to schools in this district than any other private enterprise.

Presently, I serve as a trustee of the Alabama Textile Education Foundation, an organization securing funds from its members to provide over $12,000 per year for staff subsidies at our Textile School in Auburn.

On these separate occasions, at the request of the school, I have appeared before the legis-

FRED F. PHILLIPS

Iative appropriations committee for Auburn University. My statewide acquaintanceships in both the legislature and Senate were of unquestionable assistance in each case.

In the last three or four weeks I have made it a point to go to the people who are most intimately connected with the actual running of our District and those are the principals in the schools. Certainly I have not seen them all, but I intend to make an effort to speak with every one of them. It is discouraging to discover that some of the most basic needs for the operation of the schools are not available, such as, funds to pay the light bills, inadequate furnishings in lunch rooms, no facilities for playgrounds other than open fields, no indoor recreational facilities for children and many others. The size of the problem is tremendous but it would be my hope that I can be instrumental in curing a good part of these shortcomings during my tenure of office. The people of this district owe it to themselves to talk to their own principals in their towns and communities and attend the PTA meetings and in general become aware personally of the terrible problems that our schools are facing. Every day we read of the increases which are unquestionable coming in school enrollment and we should be getting ready.

My interest in education didn't start with this race. The above facts are full proof of my full awareness and active concern with education. The future of Alabama and of the United States depends almost entirely on the training and education we provide for our children. To this program I am dedicated. May I have your support?

THINGS
We see
and hear
by BOB

WE keep hearing, from both sides of the apparent two-sided question, and nobody seems to be completely clear on the question of why $500,000 of school money is tied up in an cannot be used in Chilton County. Or is there seems to be quite a number of ideas about why, when, where, and who, damn it, nobody, as yet, has cleared the air on the subject. We think it politically expedient at this time for someone to do just that! Enough of this wondering and guessing, what's the story?

IT is our opinion on the above matter, that quite a few folks are getting the blame for the situation. If there should be a shed fit even who are not responsible at all, this is the thing we want cleared up!

IF you had a whole bunch of beautiful and had them up to end (scratch that) foot lot from one end of Alabama to the other, they'd swear that was all that was holding them together!

THERE are many good Democrats in Chilton County who do not know the complete story on the Executive Committee differences. We strongly urge them to check it out, at the time, before they draw any conclusions about which attitude they intend to support. We are pecking through the slats and not seeing anything but stripes!

THE only thing we can think that's worse for a politician in a busted hand, is a fever! A fellow just can't get a fever or no dutin' with fever blisters. Can't even kiss a bab!(ies)

WE have been "preaching" for some time now that the American people are losing their initiative, their backbone, their stomach for a fight. It's true. Nearly every day that we see by we have someone say, "Why don't you say so-and-so?" but will they say anything in their paper about so-and-so? Heck no! And we have folks that go into the office and give us that "because they think we are giving only one side of the picture" controversy. We very strongly urge them to write us, to let their views in black and white, as we do, and sign their name and we will be over at the prospect of print. It will they take pen in hand? Heck no! What's the matter with the American people when they want the pore old country editor to write their scragging for them? The thing is sure... the country editor has more scrap than a fight somebody! (Now we don't say that right; somebody's going to say we're full of scrap!) to heck with it!

IT is going to be hard to prove, but if we, in the Sixth Congressional District, want our count for our own Congressmen, Armistead Selden, then we are going to have to vote. We didn't make mistakes, so we'd better get busy and decide who we are going to vote for in May, or we will be cancelling out each other's right and left! That's like this noplacel!

RECEIVED greetings again last week from Misses Diane Susan Hodges of Decatur, Georgia. They are the ones I guessed "Uncle Ott" in the contest last week. Well we didn't appreciate their card, they missed their guess this time... it wasn't Mr. Otto!

OTHER had gone shopping and left the Junior and his sister banks. They were both in front of the car window, waiting to beat the band! To the boredom of waiting on the car, while she tries on all the ABOVE you see the last earthly remains of the old Chilton County Courthouse. This structure, for many years a landmark in Clanton, has given way to progress and is being razed so that beautification of the grounds around the newly-built County Courthouse can be completed.

The old Courthouse holds many memories for many of Chilton's present generation and has housed the offices of many an old-timer, since apart from the public scene. The building, purchased and demolished by the Conway Co., was built in 1896, and after being burned, was rebuilt to its most recent state in 1918. Many years of service to Chilton County, but long in need of a replacement. No regrets - just farewell!

Tell Your Merchant You Saw It In The NEWS!!

An Appeal To Merchants

IT has been brought to the attention of the News that several of Clanton's merchants are allowing the sidewalks in front of their places of business to become so cluttered with merchandise, that it is increasing the hazard if someone falling and getting badly injured. Especial note is made about the citizens in our community who are blind. It is dangerous for them, whether or not they have a Seeing-Eye Dog.

Merchants are requested to take a look for themselves at the crowded conditions of some of the sidewalks and rule themselves accordingly. It is clear that they would be doing the community as a whole a great service! Thank you!-THE EDITOR.

Revival In Progress At Mulberry

Rev. Neil Glauser

REVIVAL Services are continuing this week end at the Mulberry Baptist Church west of Clanton with very good attendance reported. Neil Glauser, pastor, extends for the people of Mulberry a cordial invitation to the general public to attend these services.

The services are at 7:30 p.m. each evening through Sunday, 8th. Rev. Jerome Robinson, pastor at Liberty Hill is the evangelist.

Red Cross Roll Calling Behind

If you have not made your contribution, please do so now. If we don't reach our County Quota of $4,261.00 we will lose our Blood Program. The health and possible emergency aid might arise at any time in our community depends on this Blood Program.

So far only $1500.00 has been turned in from over the County.

The Volunteer Workers are doing their share, how about you doing yours? by sending in your contribution. We can't afford to lose our Blood Program and Red Cross Facilities. Give now and be happy later that you did!

Body Of Hughes Found Monday; Search Continues For Alvin Fuller

THE body of Joseph Herbert Hughes 42 was located Monday morning of this week about 10:30 O'clock, by employees of the Suburban Gas Company, in which Hughes was an official. The body was found about 8 miles below Mitchell Dam south of Clanton.

In the picture above, surrounding the body are several members of the search team which worked for a week in the icy waters searching for Hughes and his companion Alvin Fuller of nearby Marbury. The search is continuing for Fuller. Chilton County Sheriff Hugh Champion is in the background of the above picture, which was taken by Highway patrolman Billy Lawrence after the body was brought up the river to Log Cabin Beach just below Mitchell Dam where the search was begun, Hughes had been a resident of Montgomery for the past 17 years. He was the father of seven children.

Accidental drowning is listed as the cause of death by County Coroner R. L. "Bob" White. No autopsy was made to determine otherwise. It is theorized that the men went over the dam with their boat due to the absence of bruises and cuts on the body of the man found. Some trawling is being done below Jordan Dam on the theory that the body of Fuller may have passed over that dam, also!

Funeral arrangements for Hughes were by the White Chapel Funeral Home in Montgomery!

Golf Tourney Here Sunday

THE Clanton County Club invites everyone to attend their annual one day Golf Tournament on Sunday, April 8.

Bhlock, Puckett Win Free Subscriptions

THIS week, according to our noble judges, Ollie Bhlock and Mrs. Delene Puckett of Route 3, Clanton are the winners in the Mystery Man contest. They both correctly identified Willie Crowson as the Mystery Man and were the earliest entries, after 8 A.M. Thursday. Mrs. Puckett sent in the winning post card.

We're getting more and more post cards in the mail and that is most encouraging for us. We know you're enjoying the Mystery Man feature in the News. By the way; if you're waiting to see your neighbor's copy of the News to see who the Mystery Man is, we have a quick solution to that problem: There is a coupon in this issue and you can get your very own "Alert Community Newspaper" into your home at a very nominal cost. Look it up... and send it in this week with your guess on the Mystery Man! WHO IS HE?

Announcement!

THE American Red Cross Blood Mobile will be at the 1st Baptist Church in Clanton, on Friday, April 6th from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

Please come and support your Chilton County Blood program, as you did last time. It is your solemn Duty!

ONLY eight of Alabama's nine congressmen can be reelected on May 29.

Here they are again.

School's open. Now it's the teacher's turn to keep them still. How do they do it? But this is the best part of my job. Nobody has so many friends, or sees so many big smiles. Always running and laughing. But what a job to protect them! Such darlings and such rascals. Too busy to watch out for themselves. It's up to me and the drivers. Mostly up to me. I'm afraid. Most drivers are fine. But there are the ones in a hurry, sneaking by the school bus when the youngsters are running for it, forgetting kids rush into the street from nowhere. They could be brought into line, but it takes real enforcement and a town that really supports it."

DRIVERS KILL AND CRIPPLE MORE CHILDREN THAN ANY DISEASE!

You've helped curb pneumonia, cancer, polio, and other terrible diseases. How about careless drivers? They kill and cripple more children from 1 to 14 years than any major disease.

You can do something. Just write to your local enforcement officials. Say...

"I support strict law enforcement!"

When traffic laws are strictly enforced and obeyed, traffic deaths go down. Your community can be another to prove it.

What If

AMERICANS have always grown in wisdom and stature and moral fibre through the hardships which they have encountered and the challenges which they have met and conquered. Then, it figures, that not many American citizens are going to improve in any of these basic categories as long as the Federal Government steps in, whenever a hardship or challenge arises and carries the burden for them!

"Whose bread I eat, His song I sing" is not simply a fancy play on words. It is a fact. If you have the intestinal fortitude and the gumption to work for, and eat your own bread, then you will have to sing nobody's song. That is the free American way of independent living.

Unknowningly, and that is the most ridiculous part of the whole thing, we are obliged to the Federal Government! But directly, we do not, and we never intend to hold out our hand to the Federal Government under any circumstances. We may not be individualists but we are independent enough to tell the Federal Government to take it's "help" elsewhere! In fact, we are in a position to tell the Federal Government to do something, and do it right now, about the colossal waste and unnecessary spending of our tax dollar.

The fellow who proposed to do away with the 16th amendment was not just whistling in the dark. The idea has merit! The American citizen will never be his own man and run his own life as long as he depends on Uncle Sam for his support. It is by far better to accept charity from your neighbors than to feed off the Federal Government. There is too much bowing and scraping and waste along the way. Not to mention the degradation of complete dependency and allegiance upon a system which tears the very spirit from the individual human being. The time for a revival of spirit and a revolution of direction is at hand and long overdue. We may be able to pick up the pieces and save our self respect in another generation, if we act now to halt Socialism and Communism. . . Slavery!

The Opportunities Of Man--

WE have been raised to always do what we thought was right in the eyes of God and our fellow-man regardless of the consequences to ourselves or our ambitions. After careful deliberation and thought and after considering the possibilities and probabilities of the actions, we join many other Chilton County citizens, as well as those from all over the State of Alabama in endorsing the candidacy of W. A. "Bing" LeCroy for State Superintendent of Education.

We have known "Bing" all of our life and with very few exceptions, he has always proved to be a man who is willing to go all the way for what he thinks to be right and just. We had an opportunity to work closely with him in the effort to pass the One-Cent Sales Tax for education in Chilton County. It passed, but not without much work by many persons, not in the least of these being "Bing" LeCroy.

If it were not known, we would want it to be, that we do not agree with everything "Bing" has done in the past or proposes for the future. He assures us that he has profited well by some of his mistakes. We take that to mean that he is sincere in his beliefs and that his errors, when made, are of the head and not the heart.

We too have made mistakes, as many will testify, and it is always good to hear a man admit his mistakes and profess to be a wiser man for having made them. We think "Bing" has grown much wiser in his past several months of dealing with Alabama's large problems in education. He has the background and the perseverance to do an honorable job and service for those of us in his home community and for his native State of Alabama.

With the active support and backing of his friends and constituents "Bing" LeCroy can make for this State a fine leader in the field of education. Some lessons which he should have learned early in life, he learned only recently. We do not condemn him for that and we respect him for having learned and profited by those same lessons. A man is never too old to learn, perhaps a tired old phrase. . . true nevertheless!

If, as we believe, "Bing" LeCroy is interested in a better education for the children of this State then we are behind him all the way. He has the tenacity, the ability and the opportunity to do something great for his people. With God's help, a firm conviction on the part of the man, tempered by a keen sense of justice, fairness, humility and respect for human rights and dignity, "Bing" LeCroy can go down in history as having served his fellow man well. Should he forget these basic principles, which we hold very dear, we will be the first to admit that we made a mistake. We are not troubled that we will ever have to make such an admission.

They say patience is a virtue! Indeed, we were patient in the belief that "Bing" LeCroy's virtues far outweigh his liabilities. If that were not true he would not be where he is today and we would certainly not knowingly support the man. His greatest trouble seems to be one of properly presenting his views to those who oppose his opinions. If he has the Power behind him, and truly aspires to help the cause of education, he will overcome this inability. It is, at least, a shortcoming of mechanics rather than one of principle. We wish him great success in his efforts to help others, and remind him of patience, and also the fact that we will closely observe his progress during the months and years to come!

An Appeal For Credit--

THE Republicans in Chilton County are asking for credit due them with regards to the building of a new courthouse in Chilton County.

The credit that is due them, and the credit they deserve for the support of the project are far from identical, and we think most Democrats in the County are more than willing to give them the credit they "deserve."

For 10 or 15 years the Republicans fought any move for a new Courthouse building that was made. It is true that they had a lot to do with keeping progress down for this length of time by always blocking the efforts. Their reasoning, as we recall, was not entirely in favor of the mistreated voter and citizen, either. They opposed the building of a new courthouse for a number of reasons. Not in the least of these was their claims that we did not need a new courthouse building, the one we had was adequate.

Then when public sympathy began to turn and it was obvious that a move was on to get the new building, our Republican friends immediately jumped on the bandwagon and have been riding there ever since.

If, as they profess, Republicans in Chilton County are primarily interested in a good two party system, they will make some noticeable efforts to bring some of their lost sheep back into the political fold. We don't mind folks being Republicans at all, but we surely don't like a fellow with two faces!

We most certainly concur that everyone has had a hand in the physical erection of the new building as far as taxes are concerned, be they Democrat or Republican or what not; but we also would expect those who want credit for their deeds, to accept the credit due them for holding up the building of a new courthouse for years and thus holding back Chilton County's progress greatly. We have only made progress in spite of some Republicans, not because of them! And if they want that credit, who are we to stand in their way?

We do believe that the people of Chilton County should be mindful of the fact that we have made some progress under the Democratic leadership in this County, in spite of all the shenanigans against it!

Heroics Without The Happy Ending--

THERE are quite a few heroes in Chilton County, but in this particular case, there is no happy ending to go along with the rest of the story.

The body of one of the fishermen who drowned in Coosa River, near Clanton Saturday, March 24th was located Monday of this week, nearly nine days after the man was reported missing. Since that time, we would say a conservative estimate of 10,000 man hours has been spent looking for the two men, above and below Mitchell Dam. We have heard many accounts of heroic actions by individuals since the beginning of the search nine days ago. At this writing, the other man has not been found. He will probably be found, dead, before you read this.

The river, especially the Coosa, is a treacherous body of water and not to be dealt with by amateurs. The man who has been searching and diving all last week can hardly be classed as amateurs, but they took their lives into their own hands many times in the efforts to locate the bodies of the drowned men.

This case points out vividly, the fact, that the river is not particularly about its victims. There is no way of knowing how this tragedy took place. It may have been carelessness or it may have been complete accident. At any rate, two men are dead and two families, including nearly a dozen children are left fatherless. It is tragic!

But these men needn't have died in vain. Surely those of us who use and enjoy the river can take a lesson from their unfortunate accident. When you use the river, be sure you use every precaution known to you, regardless of how unnecessary it may seem. . . it may save your life!

Library Week April 8-14

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, we live in a world which demands a re-education to the enduring intellectual and spiritual values essential to the progress of a free people in a free society;

WHEREAS, our libraries make accessible the accumulated experience of all mankind, from which present and future generations may derive the wisdom and understanding vital to our National survival;

WHEREAS, the development of life-time reading habits are necessary for individual fulfillment and for achieving the highest qualities of citizen capability;

WHEREAS, the freedom to read is the responsibility and privilege of all people in a democracy;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Hollis Jackson, Mayor of the City of Clanton, Alabama do hereby proclaim the week of April 8-14 as Library Week and urge all citizens to unite in the National effort to achieve a better-read, and better informed America, to stimulate interest in libraries of all kinds to the end that we realize the full potential of our National purpose.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

A major tax reform bill was accepted by the House of Representatives last week on a vote of 219 to 196. Passage of the measure climaxed almost 11 months of hearings and revision which saw the bill returned to the Ways and Means Committee for major amendments even after it had been reported to the House.

With the addition of the Committee's last minute amendments the tax reform measure is expected to bring in as much revenue as that which will be lost through special credits to businesses. In its original form, the bill projected a revenue loss of about $500 million annually.

The controversial tax bill represents a compromise measure reflecting the judgment of the 25 members of the House Ways and Means Committee. Once the bill reached the House floor, it could not be amended by individual congressmen. Since it had to be accepted in its entirety or rejected altogether, doubtless there are few who are completely satisfied with its outcome.

As approved by the House, the revenue act is a complicated document of nearly 200 pages, involving 21 policy changes in tax laws. However, its more important provisions affect six major areas. One, the tax credit for businesses, is proposed as an effort to assist American businesses in modernizing their facilities in order to compete more successfully with foreign firms. By allowing a tax credit of seven per cent to most businesses for the purchase of machinery and other equipment, the new bill is designed to encourage rapid modernization than that possible under present tax laws.

REVENUE PROVISIONS

Those parts of the tax bill designed to produce more revenue include a tightening up of certain loopholes in expense accounts and income from foreign investments, increased taxation of savings and loan associations and the first time of certain cooperatives, and taxation of dividends at their source.

The provision pertaining to expense accounts allows deduction only for that portion of entertainment expenses relating directly to the conduct of business, and it requires that expense accounts be fully substantiated. The revenue gain from this section of the bill is expected to reach $109 million annually. An additional $100 million will be collected on foreign earnings, unless those earnings are re-invested in the same company or a subsidiary in an underdeveloped country.

Another $200 million is expected to be realized from the 20 percent tax on the net income of savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks. All earnings by cooperatives are to be taxed, either as income or as dividends. An exception is extended, however, to all rural electric cooperatives operating under the Rural Electrification Act. The cooperative tax provision of the bill is expected to bring in about $30 million annually.

The more stringent provisions relating to dividend income taxation are estimated to increase revenue by approximately $640 million.

The House approved bill now goes to the Senate where committee hearings on the subject are scheduled to begin this week.

ARE YOU FIT TO SPEAK?

Solomon John Mattar, keeper of the garden tomb of Joseph of Arimathea, where Jesus was buried and rose from the dead, recently visited the Abundant Life Building, our International Headquarters in Tulsa.

While addressing our office staff, he said, "You know, dear friends, we can easily speak about the Lord Jesus, but it is another thing to be fit to speak. My prayer and the prayer of my wife every morning in the garden tomb is that the Lord will make us fit to be witnesses in this place or any other place."

He gave three things as being especially necessary to be fit to speak the message of the living Son of the living God:

1. Compassion
2. Consecration
3. Service

This incident illustrates the famous keeper's own fitness to witness for Jesus Christ anywhere, including one of the holiest places in the Holy Land, the garden tomb.

About 10,000 people a year visit the tomb. They usually come in small groups, sometimes only one or two at a time. On each occasion, Mr. Mattar takes them first to Golgotha Hill where he begins the narrative of the crucifixion and death of our Saviour.

WHY FIGHT ON SUNDAY?

This week in 1862, the Battle of Shiloh was a great loss and the South began to take inventory as to the cause of losing the battle. Among the questions raised were: Why was the battle started on Sunday? And if started why did troops rest over night on Sunday rather than give the final drive before Union reinforcement arrived?

No Sunday battle has had as much success as the Union attack at the Battle of Shiloh April 6, 1862, the day the South was a peaceful Sunday. But by the end of the day the Union command had changed from General A. S. Johnston to General P. G. T. Beauregard. General Johnston had been killed by a stray bullet.

New in the area and new in command, Beauregard advanced his troops within close range of the enemy but chose to rest over night. Many believe the battle might have been won had the Union command been able to force Union re-enforcement under General Don Carlos Buell arrived. Some reasoned, "Was Beauregard a new day to claim the regard to new in command? Did he finish a battle started that day by the slain Johnston?"

But whatever the cause of the delay, April 7, 1862, ended one of the bloodiest battles in the history of the North, and it was a Sunday battle.

The South could cite two other Sunday battles lost: January 19, 1862, at Mills Springs, Kentucky, the South had lost the battle that gave the North control of Eastern Kentucky. A valuable officer, General Felix Zollicoffer, was killed--and the loss of the battle eventually led to losses at Forts Henry and Donelson, Tennessee.

Another Sunday loss to the Confederacy was the Battle of Kernstown, Virginia on March 23, 1862. It was the only battle lost of the six battles of the Shenandoah Valley Campaign. Fighting Sunday battles was much against the conscience of General "Stonewall" Jackson, and he never fought another Sunday battle after Kernstown.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

(This series of questions about Social Security is compiled from the questions sent to the Social Security Office from Chilton County and for the week of David G. Adams, Field Representative. Any questions that you want to ask may be sent to: Social Security, c/o Chilton County News, Clanton, Ala.)

Q. I am seventy-five years old and my employer is still taking Social Security tax from my salary. I thought he would stop this when I reached seventy five but he says as long as I work he will withhold this tax. Is he right?

A. Yes, he is. Just as long as you work your employer must deduct Social Security taxes from earnings.

Q. Do I have to come down to your office to have the name changed on my Social Security card since I have married?

A. No, just mail the card to us with request for change and we'll be glad to take care of it for you.

Q. I find that I have two Social Security numbers. What can I do to straighten out my accounts?

A. Contact us and we'll assist you in completing the necessary papers.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by Dr. Francis Sacka, M.D., Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

PROPER EXERCISE

The fifty year old athlete was challenged by youngsters to a race at the company outdoor. The former track star didn't win, and instead he suffered a heart attack.

Spring can be a dangerous time for the sedentary man. He is a victim of the "spring fever" and to play golf, baseball and tennis; but the body cannot change its mode of operation instantly.

The heart will not increase its stroke volume and capacity the first day of the year. It takes a long time to get used to the change. This can come about only after the heart muscles have gradually gained their power by gradually increased exercise. Normally, this conditioning requires four to five weeks of moderate exercise. The desk worker who decides he needs more exercise should arrange a conditioning period to get himself adjusted for lively activity that includes walking, swimming and even gardening.

As generally agreed, physical activity for the healthy person is beneficial and conducive to longer life. Statistically, the death rate for athletes under 40 is about the same as that for non-athletes. After fifty, the death rate is slightly higher for athletes.

Athletes often discontinue their regular program of vigorous activity as they get older and put on weight which does not promote long life; and former athletes sometimes forget the risks that come with strenuous competition with younger individuals.

TID BITS TO REMEMBER

Kindness will influence more people than eloquence. The joy is over when we come to the end of the way. Remember, the world is a camera; keep smiling. If you stop pedaling a bicycle you will fall, life is like that. To bury your own troubles, bury them out of his. Try to hold on, when the fellow quits -- Be interested in the future that is where you spend the rest of your life.

NEWS OF -

Don Graham, Pastor
 Last Sunday night we recognized two of the most important ordinances of the church - baptism and the Lord's Supper.
 These two ordinances commemorate the death of our Lord Jesus Christ and the new life in Him.
 We had several candidates for baptism and are sure they covet your prayers.
 On Sunday afternoon the Northside Baptist Church and the Maple Springs Baptist church had their baptismal services at the church.

Next Saturday night at the West End Baptist Church the Youth Rally will hold their April meeting. We have a wonderful speaker who will also present a talk to the church. If you have seen a chalk talk, you have great blessing in store. If anyone needs a way, please contact the pastor who will gladly make arrangements for your transportation. Remember it starts at 7:30.

On April 21 the Young Married
 People have made plans for a spaghetti supper which is really going to be a party with all you can eat.

We missed you last Sunday,
 will we see you next Sunday?

Toward This End I Pledge to Support

1. EDUCATION: Increased teachers' salaries; more money for schools. (Alabama ranks 50th among the states)
 2. SEGREGATION
 3. Old-Age Pension and Medical Care for the aged.
 4. NEW INDUSTRIES: I will lead the fight to take full advantage of the Area Redevelopment Act passed in the last session of Congress. This act provides for loans and grants to state and local governments to establish new industries within depressed areas. (Chilton and Autauga Counties.)
 5. Legislation to improve marketing facilities.
- I will represent YOU in the State Senate with full recognition that prosperity of the farmers and all employed people insures prosperity of merchants and industry. I am qualified by 25 years working experience to represent you toward that end. I am aware of the dignity and responsibilities of this office and of my responsibility as your representative to seek YOUR ADVISE.

 them."
 This promise to you by Judge George C. Wallace is solidly backed up by a proven record of help for Alabama's educational needs. As Governor, Wallace intends to take all necessary steps, and take them immediately, to see that all Alabama's young people enjoy the advantages of:
 • FULL SCHOOL TERMS
 • TUITION FREE SCHOOLS
 • MORE SCHOOL BUILDINGS
 • BETTER PAY FOR TEACHERS
 • LOWER TEXTBOOK COSTS
 • LEGISLATION TO PROVIDE TWO YEARS of Technical Training beyond High School to every boy and girl in Ala-

Telephone Talk

W. R. Waters

Your Telephone Manager

IT'S HARD to imagine how the President of the United States could perform his many duties without the aid of telephones in his office. Yet, a telephone on the desk of the Chief Executive is relatively new. President Rutherford B. Hayes directed the installation of the first White House telephone in December, 1878. Some time later, the President's telephone was placed in a booth near, but not inside, his office. This arrangement lasted for more than 50 years. President Hoover, in 1929, became the first Chief Executive to have a telephone on his desk.

WON'T BE LONG before we'll be "folding our tents" and moving outside again... ready for another pleasant summer on the patio! And here's a suggestion that'll make your outdoor living even more pleasant this year — an extension telephone on your patio... either the portable or the permanent type. The cost is small, the convenience great. Why not call our business office, or ask any telephone serviceman, about an extension phone for your patio... right away!

NEXT WEEK, April 8-14, is National Library Week. This marks the fifth observance of National Library Week, sponsored by the National Book Committee in cooperation with the American Library Association, and dedicated to the expansion and increased use of library facilities.

AN INTERESTING sidelight to this year's National Library Week is that it coincides with National Foreign Language Week. With this in mind, a special flyer containing the Library Week slogan, "Read — and Watch Your World Grow," is being printed in 12 languages!

APRIL SHOWERS make you blue? Cheer yourself and someone else... go visiting by telephone!

Folsom says:

FORWARD with INDUSTRY

INDUSTRY IS OUR LIFE'S-BLOOD DOLLAR

Here is Folsom's stand on industry:

1. Alabama's industrial growth sets the pace for our entire economy of tomorrow.
2. To have more payrolls, means we must have more manufacturing plants and factories.
3. To lasso these plants, Folsom proposes a State Rural Development Agency which will help local communities—especially unincorporated ones—get financing to bring in new industries.

Folsom says it is the small communities all over Alabama which need a special economic uplift.

YOUR VOTE FOR FOLSOM is a vote for industrial growth

Alabama got over $700 million in new and expanded industry in Folsom's last term alone, after he created the State Industrial Development Board in Montgomery.

"CAREER DAY" At Jemison, 22nd

The students of Jemison High School had the privilege of participating in Career Day, March 22.

During the day the students had the opportunity to hear outstanding consultants in specific fields such as nursing, military, industry, trades and educational institutions.

Mrs. Billie Henderson and Miss Dorothy Scott represented the Birmingham Baptist School of Nursing. They presented the careers that were possible in hospitals and the related fields. They were assisted by Mr. Gilbert of the Alabama Mental Association. The students were very impressed by these discussions.

M-Sgt. Hoyt G. Greene of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service, Sgt. Izells Bendell of the Women's Army Corps, and Sgt. McCann of the Air Force interested the students in military opportunities.

In the field of industry and trade the discussions were obly presented by Mr. David Walenfang of Coosa River Newsprint Company and Mr. Horace Porter, Alabama School of Trades.

Professor Clarence Cook of Auburn University, spoke to the Junior High group and gave some very inspiring thoughts to them. Professor Cook and Dean John B. Walters, Jr. of Alabama College discussed college guidance to the senior high students. English, mathematics and science were stressed very heavily.

Career Day was supervised by Mr. L. C. Shieles, principal of Jemison High, and Mr. J. R. Ekblad, Guidance Director, and a committee from the students and faculty.

The educators stressed the fact that the student should not be satisfied with "just a passing grade." "A D is considered an insult," said Professor Cook, and the business world requires a high passing score.

Good Workers S. S. Class Met

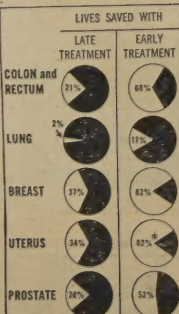

Sandra Cox was hostess to the Good Workers Sunday School Class of the First Baptist church when they met on Tuesday p.m. at 3 o'clock.

The devotional was given by Sandra reading scripture from the 1st chapter of Genesis, followed with the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The class was reminded of what they are to do in the coming revival which will be the week before Easter Sunday. Bible quizzes were enjoyed. Each member had a part on the program.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Cox assisted by her daughter, Wanda Jean served ice cream and cookies to member present and their teacher, Mrs. Willie Bean.

CORONER

1. To hold inquests and investigate deaths which occurs in the absence of a physician, to direct that an autopsy be performed when needed and to investigate all circumstances which gives rise to a suspicion of accident or of foul play.
2. To fill out insurance forms stating the cause of death and to appear in court as a witness in cases investigated
3. To act as sheriff when the office of sheriff is vacated due to death or other reasons until a sheriff is appointed by the Governor of Alabama.
4. The coroner does not receive a salary or fee from the county.
5. The coroner must work closely with the Sheriff, County and Circuit Solicitor and the representative of the State Toxicologist.
6. The 5 years which I have served the people of Chilton County as Coroner I have signed 81 death certificates and turned over approximately twenty-two hundred dollars found on deceased persons or held in a local bank until the county authorities decided on the rightful owners.
7. I have been in the Funeral Profession for 45 years and if re-elected to the office of County Coroner I will uphold the duties and functions of the office and work closely with the Sheriff, County and Circuit Solicitor and State Toxicologist for the best interest of justice for Chilton County. I am manager and a partner in the Spigener Brown-Service Funeral Home.

To The Voters Of Chilton County

J. Smoln Thornton, as you already know, is a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County. The only promise he is making is to be the best Sheriff possible. "Everything will be done to the best of my ability to see that the duties of the Sheriff are carried out to the extent of the law and in the best interests of the people of Chilton County."

"There will be a man on duty at all times. These deputies will be Chilton County men, hired by application and based on their experience, character and ability."

"I have had experience as a Chief Deputy Sheriff and have worked with the people of Chilton County in public service work for 20 years."

"My election will insure for the people of this County good, honest and needed law enforcement for the continued growth and development of Chilton County."

J. Smoln Thornton For Sheriff Of Chilton County

(Pd. Pol. Adv. by J. Smoln Thornton, Clanton, Ala.)

To The Citizens Of Chilton County

In prior editions of the Chilton County News, I have briefly stated my personal business background and also my belief in and dedication to the educational needs of this State. I'd like to discuss now what I'd call "Other People's Business".

A good measure of the regard in which a man is held is that extent to which his counsel and advice is sought. I feel humble and yet I am proud that:

1. I was President of the Alabama Cotton Manufacturers Association representing sixty textile organizations and 55,000 textile employees in this state. Am still a director.
2. Was for many years a trustee of Darlington School, Rome, Georgia.
3. Have for 14 years been a full director of Coastal States Life Insurance Company, Atlanta, Georgia.
4. Am now a trustee of the Crippled Children's Clinic in Birmingham.
5. Am now a trustee of The Eye Foundation Hospital in Birmingham.
6. Served as trustee chairman of my local school many years.
7. Was President of my Civitan Club, my Men's Bible Class and captain of my Quarterback Club.
8. I now head special promotion for the State Maid of Cotton Contest.

As a candidate for the Senate in the forth-coming primary, I believe my broad acquaintanceships, my training and the many honors which have come to me can unquestionably be of great benefit to this district and bring new dignity to the office. I sincerely solicit your support and your help.

Winners In 4-H Club Clothing Contest

By Martha K. Radford

Dear 4-H Janes:
Saturday, March 31, was a very exciting day for many 4-H girls in Chilton County. This was the climax to many days of trials and tribulations for some girls as this was the time when they entered with other girls from all over the county for places in the Chilton County clothing revue.

This date also closed a month of studying clothing construction in the 28 girls' 4-H Clubs. There was a total of 214 girls exhibiting garments they had made in the past weeks at their respective club meetings. At the clothing revue, there was a total of 119 girls who exhibited aprons, skirts, blouses and dresses they had made.

The winners in the apron group and their schools were: 1st, Carolyn Smith, Clanton Jr.; 2nd, Barbara Morrison, Clanton, Jr.; 3rd - Brenda Smithman, Jemison; and 4th - Gaynell Gilmore, Mineral Springs.

In the junior skirt revue, first place was awarded to Dian Cummings Isabella Jr., 2nd Place to Donna Weldon from Cooper Jr.; 3rd place to Pamela Davis from Clanton and Honorable mention to Cathy Carmichael from the Verbena Jr.

Cathy's sister, Nancy, won 1st place in the senior skirt revue. Second place in this group went to Deborah Collins from Thors-by Jr. High; 3rd place to Carol Patterson, Thorsby Jr. High; and the two Honorable Mention places were awarded to Janice Pitts from Chilton County High school and Charlotte Brown from Maplesville.

The winners in the junior dress revue were as follows: 1st - Judy O'Neal, Maplesville Sr.;

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, April 15, 16, 17, Glenn Ford and Betty Davis in "Pocketful of Miracles" At The Clanton Drive-In Theatre.

Jemison F.F.A. News

The Jemison Vo. Ag. Dept. began a welding school for adults and have 13 enrolled. We have completed three of the 6 scheduled meetings, which are held each Monday night at 7 p.m.

The Jemison FFA Herd bull was brought back into the care of the Dept. for two shows; he was shown Thursday, the 29th in our Fat Calf Show here at the Jemison High School; the Jemison High School dismissed school for the show. The bull (Hoppy) was shown Tuesday, April 3 in Clanton at the County Fat Calf Show. He will then be placed with an on the farm of Mr. Charley Chilles in a very fine herd of Registered Herefords.

The Jemison Vo. Ag. Dept. sponsored a School Fat Calf show Thursday, the 29th of March, the following calves were shown and the placings: The Jemison Vo. Ag. Dept. is feeding two calves but only showed one, it was placed number one; Roger Littleton's calf number 2; Charles Strain number 3; Royace Davis number 4, and Jimmy Williamson number 5. James Crowson was to show his but the calf was frightened by the students and broke away. He thought it best not to bring him back for the show. As mentioned above, our herd bull led the show.

The Dept. has top dressed 15 acres of oats which belong to the school. Most of these oats will be combined in the early summer.

The Dept. has prepared and planted 8 acres of Bahis grass

4-H Club News

The 4-H Club met in Miss Black's room, Tuesday, March 27, 1962.

The president Judy Cole called the meeting to order. The song, My Country 'Tis of Thee was sung. The devotional was given by Ginger Baker, Pledge of Allegiance to the flags were said by the club.

Dian Doss, secretary called the roll and read the minutes.

The rally and talent show were discussed. The rally will be held April 20. The talent show will be the 27 at Thorsby.

The girls that made skirts and dresses were the following: Jane Cox, Jeanette Seals, Janis Pitts, Carolyn Minor and Faye Pitts.

The meeting was adjourned until April 16, Monday.

which will be pastured within the near future.
The Dept. has built a new cattle trailer which is to be used in moving our herd bull from one farm to another.

The Dept. has added a complete Ox-Acetylene Welding and cutting outfit to the shop.

Mr. McGee states that he would be happy for any and all adults to visit with him in the Jemison Vo. Ag. Dept. any time you can. Any way that I can help or assist you in any way, feel free to call on me.

The Dept. has planted another 100 pine seedlings on the school farm; this totals 4000 for the school farm. We have also cut out the hardwood on several acres of the school woodland.

Lloyd D. Mims Is An American
Yes, Lloyd D. Mims is proud to say he is an American and is privileged to live in the United States; therefore, he wishes to remind a select few that as long as this Country remains free, he intends to enjoy the freedoms now available.
One of these freedoms is the right to use the press in any way he chooses, so long as the truth and facts are not given the wrong twist.
No one now or ever will make Lloyd D. Mims recall any statement or fact used in this race nor does he intend to withdraw because of threats or smears which answers have already been given to prove were false.
He welcomes any last desperate act by the self appointed leaders to confuse the people, for then all of them can see just who is getting upset and why.
Lloyd D. Mims wishes to state at this time if any of his promises or facts presented can't be carried out or they are false, then let anyone prove otherwise. He intends to continue the open stand that has been used from the beginning, no one can stop him from promising the people justice or asking any questions that should have been answered if the race was so public.
The following points in my promises are so public:
1. Promise has been made to publish where any of the taxpayer's money has and will be spent.
2. Promise to give every merchant an equal share of the board purchases.
3. Promise to publish the minutes of the board of education.
4. Promise to stop one person from having sole power to purchase from a chosen few and never having to publish which select few does receive the lion's share.
5. Promise to give new faces a chance at certain jobs.
6. Promise to stop sectional favoritism and give the people at Jemison, Thorsby and Maplesville their share.
7. Promise to make sure that employees of the board of education take care of their jobs before taking the roads and entering into politics. Isn't it strange that those people who are drawing more money to serve your interests can be found in the schools and old line the same politicians? Trust notice the time of day these

John D. Sellers
County Agent

If you see black spots before you see when you look at prize roses, you'd better busy. Chances are they're illusion. It might be a disease appropriately called black spot. And it means trouble, says County Agent, John Sellers. The first noticeable symptoms are small purplish or dark gray spots on the rose leaves, or which the newly opening blooms are the most susceptible. The spots increase in size and darkness of color, and after a few days the surrounding area becomes yellow. Black spot can cause complete defoliation if not checked. The best control is prevention. Mr. Sellers recommends a weekly dust or spray schedule of both a fungicide and insecticide. Recommended fungicides are Ferbam, sulphur, or Karathane and the recommended insecticide, malathion.

A combination of these materials will also be useful for a general spray for shrubbery around the home.

National FHA Week April 1-7, 1962

More than 16,000 Alabama Future Homemakers join with 500,000 members over the United States and Territories in observing National FHA Week, April 1-7.

FHA or Future Homemakers of America is the National youth organization for pupils studying home economics in Junior and Senior high schools. The overall goal of the organization is to help individuals improve personal, family and community living, now and in the future.

FHA in Alabama is sponsored by the Home Economics Service Vocational Division, State Department of Education, Montgomery, and U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C.

THE FHA CREED

We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage. And high hope. For we have the clear consciousness of seeking Old and precious values.

For we are the builders of homes. Homes for America's future. Homes where living will be the expression of everything that is good and fair. Homes where truth and love and security and faith will be realities, not dreams.

We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage. And high hope.

Peach Spray Schedule For Home Orchards

BY JOHN D. SELLERS
County Agent

It seems that we have gotten over the "hump" or beyond the critical stage for severe damage to the peach crop, states County Agent Sellers. If no further adverse weather conditions occur, Chilton County farmers should go to market with practically a normal harvest. All commercial growers have received the latest complete peach spray schedule and are urged to follow very closely the practices therein.

I'm listing below spray schedules for the home orchard enthusiast and for those who have fruit trees located in their landscape plan.

CLUBS D.

By Johnnie M. Lane
Home Demonstration Agent

Spring fashions will be on display in Home Demonstration Club meetings in April. Clubs having their revues and each member is encouraged to participate. Dresses may be of any material and style, but they must be divided into the following groups: work dress, street dress, dressy dress, and two-piece ensemble. After members model their dresses in the club house they will then participate in the county revue. The demonstration for April settings is "Lining Skirts." Members and visitors attending will learn more about lining skirts and dresses. Linings may be made separately and attached only at the waist or the lining and skirt may be sewed together as one unit. Details for both methods will be illustrated. The dates and places for Home Demonstration meetings being held next week are: April 5th, Maplesville, Mrs. Preston McGee and Verbena, Miss Annalee Lamar, April 6th Poplar Springs, Mrs. Mozelle Miller, April 9th, Cooper, Mrs. Lillie Mae Jones, April 10th Fairview Mrs. Bulah Williams and Cane Creek, Club House, April 11th Progressive Woman's, Mrs. H. H. Miller, April 12th, Maple Springs, Mrs. Ruth Bulger; Bethsalem Mrs. G. C. Hathcock.

FUTRAL ON 4-H

By William R. Futral
Assistant County Agent

It's almost corn planting time. All 4-H boys who wish to participate in the 1962 corn growing contest should contact their Assistant County Agent, William R. Futral, and get your seed now. Remember, planting on time, proper fertilization, and selecting recommended hybrid varieties is a "must" if you expect to be a member of the 100 bushel corn club. Cash prizes totaling $125.00 will be presented to the five boys who grew the most corn per acre in 1962. These awards will be presented by Mr. A. R. Taylor at your 4-H Club Rally on April 20.

MIMS REPORTS

By Daniel R. Mims
Assistant County Agent

One of the major problems confronting the beef cattle industry in Chilton County is the low percent calf crop weaned. If we continue in our present production, we must be competitive with other sections of the country. To be competitive, we will need to increase our percent calf crop to the national average, or preferably higher. Last year the national average was 86 percent calf crop and Chilton County produced approximately 80 percent calf crop. This 6 percent difference means a big dollar loss to the producers of the county who own brood cows. When we consider that there are 6,500 head of beef cattle in the county, and allow 80 dollars per calf at weaning time, we see that the present 6 per cent loss in calves weaned is costing the cattle producers of the county $31,200.00 per year.

Can you stay in business and be competitive with the percent calf crop now being produced? To help you answer this question let us look at some information concerning the cost of owning a brood cow for 12 months in Alabama. A study of 22 North Alabama Unit Test Demonstrations, carried out by commercial cattlemen, reveals the following yearly cost to maintain a brood cow.

Interest, depreciation and mortality per cow - $10.41.
Interest, fertilization, and taxes on land - $31.67.
Interest and depreciation on equipment - $9.41.
Bull charge and bought feed - $9.27.
Fuel, fees, and veterinarian supplies - $5.94, and a total cost of $66.70.
These cattlemen weaned a 92 percent calf crop, which makes a cost of $72.50 for each calf weaned. Had an 80 percent calf crop been weaned, the cost per calf would have been $83.38.

FARM REPORT:

Here's what the experts recommend for cotton and corn fertilization

COTTON (humid areas)

Part of the total nitrogen requirement should be applied as sidedressing—it helps cut down nitrogen loss by leaching, particularly on sandy soils. The nitrogen should be sidedressed after the first cultivation and not later than the early-square stage of growth. For consistent effectiveness, apply the nitrogen far enough to the side of the row to avoid mechanical root injury, and deep enough so it will not be disturbed by later cultivation. Tests show that deep placement is very good in dry years. If potash is applied as sidedressing, place it at the edge of the root zone, two to three inches below the normal cultivation depth, and just prior to early-square formation. Where leaching is no problem, potash can be applied safely at planting time or before. Many farmers, especially on sandy land, sidedress with a nitrogen-potash fertilizer such as 15-0-15.

CORN

Additional nitrogen should be applied as sidedressing when the corn is about knee-high, or five to eight weeks after planting. Place the sidedressing at the most convenient spot between rows. On sloping land it's important to cover the fertilizer with cultivated soil to prevent any loss by surface runoff water. Be sure to have the soil tested to determine the lime and mixed fertilizer needs for both crops.

Sidedress cotton after first cultivation with 250 to 300 pounds of USS Ammonium Sulfate per acre. For corn, sidedress when knee-high with 300 to 400 pounds of USS Ammonium Sulfate. It's guaranteed 21% nitrogen, with a bonus of 24% sulfur. It flows freely from any type spreader. It increases your yields. Order USS Ammonium Sulfate now from your dealer. A quality product of United States Steel.

Youth Rally At West End Baptist Saturday, April 7

Rev. Lowell Vann, Speaker The Youth Rally of the Chilton County Baptist Association meets at the West End Baptist Church Clanton, Saturday, April 7, 7:30 p.m. Rev. Lowell Vann, the featured speaker and chalk artist, will speak on the subject Swapping Rocks for Pearls, and the chalk drawing will be Sunset of Life. Both before and since his graduation from Howard College in 1957, he has served as pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist Church Cullman, January 1961, his home church where he is still serving. He also ordained him to the gospel ministry in 1956. He taught art and English for 3 and a half years in the public school system in Cullman County. He has drawn in over 35 revivals plus numerous Youth Rallies, City Crusades and church encampments. Over 40 churches in Alabama have seen and heard this artist-preacher in addition to those in other Southeastern States. Bro. Vann's subject and drawing Saturday night will emphasize the folly of the waste of one's self in living a life. The drawing will take only about 10

Gordon Conway

For Superintendent of Education

I believe that a public official should be closely associated all the time with the three most important institutions in his community - the church, the home and the school. I believe that a public official should exert all of his efforts and influence toward the upbuilding of these three institutions and he should be recognized by the citizens of his community and county as a stalwart leader in any program for the betterment of the church, the home and the school.

I shall strive always to work for the betterment of my county, state and nation through exerting my energy, influence and financial support in these institutions for the welfare of your children and my children.

I earnestly solicit the vote and influence of the good people of Chilton County. I shall be very grateful to each of you.

Subject to the action of the Demo. Primaries, May 1 and 29, 1962

C. T. Rutherford
In Korea

Army Pvt. Charles T. Rutherford, 19 whose wife Harriett Ann and parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Rutherford, live at 107 Second Ave., S. Clanton, Ala., recently participated in Exercise Hailstorm II, the largest field training maneuver ever held in Korea.

During the four day exercise more than 75,000 United Nations Command soldiers from the U. S., Republic of Korea, Thailand and Turkish armies participated in both day and night tactical maneuvers under simulated combat conditions. Designed to furnish cold weather training, Hailstorm II provided infantry, artillery, armor and support units from different countries with the opportunity to work together to accomplish their common mission.

Rutherford, who entered the Army in November 1961 and arrived overseas in January, is a tank gunner in Company B of the 7th Infantry Division's 40th Armor in Korea.

He attended Ensley High School in Birmingham and worked for Joe Powell Electric prior to entering the Army.

Peach Festival Plans All Set

THE Peach Festival, sponsored by the Clanton Jaycees, will be held for two days, May 21-22, which will include a parade, selection of Peach Queen and concluded with a dance, according to this year's chairman, Johnny Mack Taylor.

PEACH QUEEN

Entries for the Peach Queen Contest will be similar to last year's very successful program, which crowned Miss Mary Kate Tucker as Queen of 1961.

Each high school is asked to select a queen from the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. Organizations, clubs or business establishments may also sponsor entries. A total of 33 entered last year. Entries must be single, 21 years of age and under.

Judging will be on beauty, poise and charm. Each contestant will be expected to model in sports clothes, street clothes and an evening dress. They will be expected to furnish two pictures and pay $2 entry fee which will go to cover cost of cuts made for the newspaper. Any merchant sponsoring an entry will be expected to pay $2 for cuts and $5 for advertisement in the program, or the equivalent in merchandise.

Entries, it says here, will be handled by Johnny Mack Taylor and Morris Moats, co-chairman. Staging, Tom Widener; gifts and program, James Connell; Judging, Bill Helms; publicity, Dr. Parker; Parade chairman, Bobby Futral and dance, Edward Davis.

The parade should include floats from all school, civic and service clubs, garden clubs, and others. The GCHS Band will lead the parade.

The Queen Contest will be held in the new high school auditorium on Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 21 and 22. The Dance will be at the Clanton Armory with an outstanding band furnishing the music.

DEDICATION OF CATHOLIC CHURCH TO BE SUNDAY

SUNDAY, April 15, His Excellency the Most Reverend Archbishop T. J. Toolen will be in Clanton, Ala. to dedicate the Church of the Resurrection with the ceremonies starting at 10 a.m. A high Mass will follow the blessing.

The Mass will be celebrated by the Very Rev. John Grobowski, C.R., Provincial of the Resurrection Fathers who take care of Clanton. The present pastor is the Rev. Joseph Furmanek, C.R.

The church has been in use since June of 1961 when Mass was first offered in it. The building was formerly used by the Assembly of God Church and was bought and remodeled for use as a Catholic church. Funds for the purchase of the building were given by the people of the Clanton Mission and the Resurrection Fathers.

This new brick church replaces the little frame church in use since 1943, when the Resurrection Fathers took over the mission. But Mass has been offered in Clanton since 1913 when members of the diocesan clergy began regular visitation of the Catholics who live in the area of Clanton, Jimenson and Thorsby.

From 1913 to 1943 Mass was held in the home of Mrs. Hugh

Widener, later Catholic lay of Clanton, who has been honored with the title of "for her more than fifty years of service to the mission church."

Prior to 1943 the Clanton Mission was served by the secular clergy from the Montgomery Diocese. When the Resurrection Fathers took over the mission in 1943, Father Walter Mikosz, C.R., pastor of the Nazareth Catholic Missions of North Montgomery was in charge. Then in 1959, Father Joseph Furmanek, C.R., of Holy Ghost Mission in Maury was placed in charge.

The SACRAMENT of Confirmation will be administered by the Archbishop at the conclusion of the high Mass.

Father Anthony Godzicki, C.R., pastor of Holy Ghost Mission, Maury and Father Wolter Mikosz, C.R., will assist the Archbishop.

The Vincentian Sisters of Charity from Montgomery will provide the music.

The CHURCH in Clanton is well known to the many fishermen who head that way every week end. Father Furmanek has invited all the friends of the mission to join with the local parishioners at the dedication on Palm Sunday. The public is cordially invited.

Tuna-Cheese Balls Meatless Treat

Take tuna and fluffy rice made golden and good with a saucing of rich, nippy cheese soup. Add well-beaten eggs and crisp piccalilli. Shape into balls; roll in crumbs, and deep-fat fry till beautifully browned. Tuna-Cheese Balls are a treat hard to beat.

By using packaged pre-cooked rice and creamy-smooth condensed cheese soup, kitchen time is held to a minimum and flavor is picked up to a maximum.

Tuna-Cheese Balls
3 eggs
1 can (10 1/4 ounces) Heinz Condensed Cheese Soup, undiluted
1 tablespoon apple cider vinegar
1 1/2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cans (6 1/2 ounces each) tuna, drained, flaked
1/2 cup piccalilli or sweet relish
Sifted bread crumbs

In a large bowl beat eggs well. Continue beating while adding soup and vinegar. Stir in rice and next 3 ingredients; mix well. Let stand at least 1/2 hour; stir. Using scant 1/4 cup measure, shape mixture and roll in bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat (375°F) 5-6 minutes or until well browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with additional soup as a sauce, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Variations: Substitute 2 cups finely chopped chicken for tuna or cream of chicken for cheese soup. Or, in place of the tuna and piccalilli, try 2 cups crabmeat and 1 cup well-drained chopped spinach.

Miss Northcutt Feted At Tea

All of the pretties of Spring seem to bloom out at the very beautiful miscellaneous tea on Friday night, April 6 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Dodd. The honoree being Miss Joan Northcutt who will become Mrs. Marvin Robinson at 7:00 Thursday night April 12.

Miss Northcutt was radiant as she received her guest wearing a lovely white sheath. Her mother Mrs. Paul Northcutt wearing a mint green jacket dress and the prospective bridegrooms mother wearing Navy blue Crepe received with her. Each was adorned with a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

The living and dining rooms were made even more lovely with the traditional white wedding.

div bells and other bridal decorations. The gift tables were spread with a floor length cloth trimmed with white ribbon bows and streamers; white burning tapers adorned the refreshment table which was spread with a lace cloth trimmed with white ribbon bows and wedding bells. Larder wedding bells hung from the ceiling circling the table.

Spring flowers in green and white added to the cheerfulness of the den.

The green and white color scheme was further carried out in the delicious line punch, individual iced cakes, nuts and mints were served in tiny white paraisols. The hostess gift to the bride to be was beautifully arranged of flowers with a fountain effect.

Assisting the hostess in serving was Shirley Gentry Penny Satterwhite, Carolyn and Ann Oaks. Sandy Watts and Jacque Martin Mrs. Bernice Childress presided at the Brides book as she registered 117 gifts.

Lloyd D. Mims Dodges No Issues

FROM the very start of this race, Lloyd D. Mims has shown the people that he has been presenting the true picture of the financial situation, as well as other facts in our educational system. Now, maybe a few, who have not fully understood why every attempt has been used to smear Lloyd D. Mims, have seen the light.

Doesn't it make sense that many facts presented or questions asked were not true, then every effort would have been made to disprove them, for these facts and questions sting where it hurts—the vote?

No wonder every effort has been made to find a scapegoat to pass the blame on to. If I were responsible for handling over two million dollars of the people's money and had made a mess of it, then I wouldn't try to explain either to the people of Jemison, Maplesville, Thorby or Clanton, why they have not received a new school or gymnasium.

If I'm elected, the citizens won't have to wear the press out trying to find out where their money has gone. The answers have been very slow in coming, therefore, the farmers and the little man do not have to decide why they favor a change. Isn't it strange that one-half million dollars had to be deposited in an out-of-town bank? Don't our educational leaders trust our local people or were they afraid of the people finding out the truth?

A select few have said Lloyd D. Mims intends to change the picture for some of us, if he is elected. Yes, he intends to make a general tightening on how our schools are operated, making sure our schools measure up to certain standards. It is time some of our teachers were sent back to the classrooms and stopped from using the children's time to politics.

It is a disgrace when our teachers are allowed to use the children in their efforts to find out how their parents intend to vote, in order to inform certain ones.

If elected, I promise that certain changes will be made and your children will, at all times be found under close supervision. Never will their needs be neglected and you will never find them on the playgrounds running wild, parked in cars or lying on the front steps.

If you believe it is time to have changes, then vote for Lloyd D. Mims for he is just at the right age to move with the times, not live with the past, or try to use the office of Superintendent as a stepping stone to higher goals.

Sincerely,
LLOYD D. MIMS
Rt. 2, Clanton, Ala.

To The People Of Chilton County

My decision to be a candidate for the State Senate from this district was made after much careful consideration. I could not, in good conscience, come to you to ask that you elect me to this important office unless I had served you in every possible way in the past. Based upon this service and my sincere desire to be YOUR State Senator I am asking your help. This record of service, that I wish to discuss briefly with you, began in January, 1942 when I enlisted in the U. S. Navy where I served 3 years and 9 months (the last year aboard the U.S.S. Wasp in the Pacific Theatre). After being honorably discharged in October 1945 I opened an automobile business (McDow Motor Co.) in Clanton, Ala. In 1949 this business was moved to Columbiana, Ala. Having lived in two of the counties of this district I believe I understand the interest and problems of our people.

YOU are interested in the BEST EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM possible for our children and so am I. We have 3 children, one in college at the University of Alabama, one in high school and one in the first grade. It has been my privilege to serve as Chairman of the Columbiana School Trustees for more than ten years, to work with the Alabama Citizens Committee for Better Schools and to go to almost every session of the Legislature for the past 12 years in the interest of Education.

YOU are interested in the Industrial Development of our section, in providing more jobs for our people and so am I. While living in Chilton County it was my privilege to be a charter member of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce and to work on the first two Peach Festivals. The success of any small businessman is dependent upon improving the conditions of the working man and the farmer. Toward that end I have been able to work as member and President of the Shelby County Industrial Board member of Coosa-Alabama River Improvement Association and to represent the City of Columbiana in successfully securing its only new industry in the last 14 years.

You are interested in Integrity in Government and so am I. GOOD GOVERNMENT without HONESTY is impossible. My friendships, my reputation, have been built upon an honest effort to treat everyone fairly. I am humbly grateful that my church has allowed me to serve as Chairman of the Deacons and Moderator of The Shelby Baptist Association.

Naturally I can not cover all our mutual interests in this statement. In Chilton County, Shelby County and our state I have attempted to make this a BETTER PLACE IN WHICH TO LIVE AND WORK. Since January I have been going over this district attempting to see YOU, to ask for your consideration, your vote and your help. I have a sincere desire to serve YOU as YOUR STATE SENATOR.

Thank you for your consideration of this statement and for your courteous reception of me when I have visited your community. I shall continue to try to see you personally. I regret it will be impossible for me to see everyone in the district.

Grabbing At 'Straws' --

YOU know, these straw votes, and so-called "polls" of public opinion aren't worth the paper they're printed in or the air waves they're broadcast over and they certainly are a waste of time. A game of cards can be interesting and appealing, but it is nevertheless, a waste of time!

The Rabbit Habit--

IN St. Louis, State Representative Peter Rabbit has announced the arrival of his fifth son. This is his 10th child. Can you guess what the newest Rabbit's name is? Peter Rabbit, III, naturally!

All The Fun--

WHY does the Federal Government insist on taking all the fun out of life? The minute you think you have made enough to hold out a bit, and enjoy yourself for a change, you get a demanding notice from the Bureau of Eternal Revenue concerning a slight oversight! And we've never seen a "slight oversight" yet, in our favor! Our incentive is in danger!

Whu Aren't You Alarmed?--

IT is often seen, in remarks by high government officials, that "there is an urgent need for more federal spending!"

We would like to know what circumstances obligate the Federal Government to "spend more" money than we can make! We personally, aren't demanding any more spending by them. The Government (Federal) should not be in the position of having to pay for public improvements or even support them. If we are to continue as a free people, governed by and for ourselves, we will pay for improvements only as we can afford them, within reason and not until.

The individuals who promote more Government spending, are running the nation's business in quite a haphazard way, because they have brought themselves to believe that we "must" have this, and we "must" spend that! Hogwash!

From 1955 through 1963 the Federal Government will have spent $25 billion more than it has collected!

Since they represent us; and since we know it is impossible to run any business in such a manner for very long, why do we continue to allow them to run our business? It is a simple fact of economics; the Government, in all its vast network of bureaus, organizations, etc. is nothing more than a group of incompetent men, trying to play "big-shots"! It is long overdue that we take them down off their high horse, and read to them, anew, the facts of life! And in great detail.

There has never been a more persuasive meeting place for discipline and common sense, than the woodshed! Don't you think it's about time we took the trip?

Cancer Progress Year--

THE American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute, the federal government's cancer research agency, have designated 1962 as "Cancer Progress Year" in an effort to point up the advances made against cancer in the last 25 years.

While they cannot offer anything as spectacular as the man in space science has given us, they can show in human terms, dramatic and remarkable results. Twenty-five years ago about 160,000 persons were alive, cured of cancer. Today there are more than 1,100,000. The number is increasing each day.

The cure rate for cancer climbed from one out of seven in the late 1930's to one out of three in the late 1950's. Today, according to the Society, it could be one out of two if all cancers were diagnosed early and treated promptly.

While the final conquest of cancer is not in sight the Society and the Institute can take great satisfaction in their uphill struggle. In 1962 some 42,000 men, women and children will be saved from cancer who would have died had they developed the disease 10 years ago. This is indeed compelling reason for all to join in observing Cancer Progress Year.

Progress against cancer is attributed to two major factors: First, developments in research which have resulted in new diagnostic techniques and improved methods of treatment; secondly, response to public and professional education which has resulted in earliest detection, prompt treatment and better, more available facilities.

Among the goals of Cancer Progress Year are, "to intensify the efforts being made to persuade the public to act for its own protection, to improve the care of the final victory over cancer". Final victory will come the cancer patient, and to step up all programs to speed from the laboratory, and while today we are in the midst of the most massive research attack ever launched against a disease, there is still great need for expanding the cancer research effort.

These are worthy goals. The best way to observe "Cancer Progress Year" is to have a health checkup and to make a contribution to the American Cancer Society's April Crusade.

BUILDERS

(A weekly report on local Kiwanis activities.)

The Lieut. Governor of Kiwanis International for this district, W. R. Evans, Jr., from the Selma Club, brought a most enlightening message Thursday night. The message was climaxed with a film presenting Kiwanis 1962 goals and theme. The Kiwanis theme is: "Freedom Our Individual Responsibility".

Kiwanian of the week, was T. Burnett DeLamus and he reported a most varied life. Burnett has seen more of this world than most of us will ever see, however, he is glad to be back in Chilton County at Verbena. A most important board of directors meeting was held following the regular meeting, so look out for things to start happening. A group of important projects was discussed and evidence of work being done will soon be visible.

YOU, FIGHT CANCER!

The death rate from uterine cancer has been cut in half in a generation. The American Cancer Society says that because of recently developed techniques of detection and treatment this form of cancer may be virtually eliminated as a cause of death. The Society has supported research resulting in these new techniques and treatment. Support the Society's attack on cancer and give to its April Crusade.

KEEP YOUR EYES UPON CHRIST

Once there was a boy who wanted to be a great musician. He studied earnestly at the feet of many great music professors until finally there were none available to teach him more than he already knew. Then he heard of a great music master in New York City. He went to him, but when he found him he learned the old gentleman was retired. "Sir, would you take me and teach me?" the boy asked.

The old, white-haired man replied, "No, Son, I am retired."

The boy asked, "May I strike just a few chords on your piano then?"

"Certainly," the old man answered.

The young man's playing moved the old gentleman so that after listening to him play a few minutes, he walked over and tapped the lad on the shoulder and said, "Son, I'll take you."

For months and years the old music master poured his soul into the soul of the young man, teaching him that great music is the real story of the human race transmitted into the readable script of life.

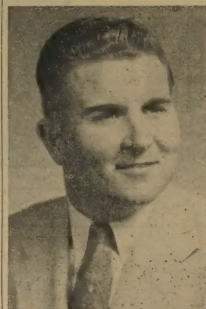

One day he finally said, "Son, you are ready." They hired a large music hall and announced his debut. That night the great auditorium was filled. As the boy played the great pieces of music, waves and waves of applause came from the multitude. Then came the grand finale. There was a hush over the auditorium. The young boy leaned over the keyboard and poured his very soul into it. Before he had finished, great strong men were crying like babies; women were taking their purses and flinging them at his feet. But not once did the young man ever look at the crowd. He kept his eyes focused on the balcony where the old white-haired music master sat. He was nodding his head and whispering, "You're on the right track, Son. Just keep it up; just keep it up."

Christ stands on the balcony of the heavenly world today keeping a watchful eye on us. Just keep your eyes on Him. Don't look at the crowd; don't look at the world; look at Jesus. As long as you keep your eyes on Him, you will not go astray. He's whispering to you: "You're on the right track, Son. Just keep it up."

Keep your eyes upon Christ. He will guide and direct you in His loving care. Your life will be a success if you yield your life to Him. Let Him pour His love into your soul.

MAN OF THE WEEK

JAMES LANGSTON, a native of Chilton County, the 33-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Langston of Clanton, is this week's News Man Of The Week.

"Junior," as he is called by his friends, graduated from Isabella High School in 1947. He served with Uncle Sam in the Army for two years from 1950 to '52. He went to work for T.C.I. in Birmingham where he was employed for seven years and has been in business in Clanton for five years, the last three of which he has been part owner and manager of Clanton Home & Auto Supply. James is married to the former Elnora Jones and they live on the Selma Highway west of Clanton.

He is active in the local Civitan Club, being President at the moment. He is a member of the Mulberry Baptist Church where he is chairman of the Board of Deacons, and he is active in the County organization for Retarded Children, serving now as chairman of the ways and means committee.

As a part of the business community and activities, James Langston is a citizen of Chilton County who is an asset to progress and an inspiration to those working with him!

Across The Editor's Desk-- Thanks From County CD Rescue Squad

Editor, Chilton County News

The Chilton County Civil Defense team wishes to extend our thanks and appreciation here to for all of the assistance given to us in the recovery of Mr. Herbert Hughes and Mr. Alvin Fuller who drowned recently in the Coosa River.

We are very grateful to the surrounding rescue teams that came to assist us in the longest mission of our experience, and certainly on that presented many problems, as well as very dangerous work.

The Sheriff's departments from surrounding Counties, the Fish and Game department, and the Water Safety Department of the Alabama State Conservation Department also had men on the job working diligently with us, for which we are thankful. The City of Clanton was almost liberal in giving us help.

Our Radio Station did another outstanding public service job by having men on the spot to relay our needs to our people.

The management of the Alabama Power Company at Mitchell Dam was most co-operative in controlling the waters below Mitchell Dam so that we could help you in time of trouble, we will be only too glad to do the best we can.

God bless each of you and with the fishing season coming up, may we caution you to always be careful on our beautiful waters, so that you will enjoy them and not have another terrible tragedy in our County.

Thank you, Alvin Ellison, Pres. Chilton County Civil Defense Rescue Squad.

Report from Washington

BY
ARMISTEAD SELDEN
Congressman, Sixth District

Among other legislation approved last week, the House of Representatives passed a bill providing higher monthly payments for veterans with service connected disabilities. The measure calls for 10 per cent overall average increases in disability benefits.

After its unanimous passage on a vote of 345 to 0, the bill was sent to the Senate for consideration. A similar measure was passed by the House last year, but final action was deferred when the Senate added a rider concerning National Service Life Insurance, which was objected to by the House Veterans Affairs Committee. The new bill does not contain the insurance provisions.

The House also passed last week and sent to the Senate several other bills dealing with veterans and relating to pensions, hospitalization, claims, arphants' education, and increased compensation for blind veterans.

PEACE CORPS

ENLARGED The Peace Corps was given an overwhelming vote of confidence last week when the House voted to approve expansion of the volunteer service. The approved legislation, authorities increasing the number of Peace Corps personnel either in training or in the field from around 3,000 in June of 1963.

Action on the legislation came just after the first birthday of the organization. When the program was originally set up on a temporary basis by Congress, there were many who seriously questioned its wisdom and predicted failure for a project which was then frequently termed too idealistic. Much of the criticism has apparently subsided during the program's first year, however, as evidenced by the favorable House vote of 70 to 0. During debate in the House it was pointed out that the countries which had volunteered during the first year of the Peace Corps operations were unanimous in their praise of the program and have requested volunteers that the Peace Corps can fill at this time.

One of the initial objections to the program concerned the fact that there would be no qualified volunteers to carry the project. Sponsors of the House bill stated, however, that the Corps had 10,000 applications as of June of 1961, and 16,000 in January and February additional 6,000 applications received, and it is expected the monthly trend in increasing applications will continue to the end of the current academic year.

AFTER GOD'S OWN HEART

David was described by the prophet Samuel, as a man after God's own heart. (1st Sam. 13:14) This does not mean David's heart was completely free from sin. When David was guilty of a sin he did not deny it. Instead, he promptly confessed his sin and accepted God's punishment. David's repentance was sincere and permanent. He was as full as a king in ruling over his people. God requires these things from his people today.

Spring is Garden Time for 4-H'ers

Well-thumbed pages of the seed catalog are among the first signs of spring in 4-H homes across the state where young gardeners abound. Whether it's cabbages or roses they hope to grow, the budding horticulturists all share the same enthusiasm.

The number of ambitious gardeners this year should reach well over 261,000, predicts the National 4-H Service Committee. The estimate is based on 1961 figures supplied by the state 4-H Club offices.

The 4-H garden award program, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and supported for the last 17 years by the Farm Equipment Division of Allis-Chalmers, is open to boys and girls from 10 to 21 years old enrolled in a 4-H Club.

Gain Know-How and Cash

Experience gained in the project adds to the business know-how of the "learner" and in many cases adds to the bank account as well, it was pointed out. Profits from roadside stands, selling directly to the local grocer or door-to-door customers have added considerable youngsters in a variety of endeavors.

Vegetables grown for the dinner table or flowers raised to beautify the home have added immeasurably to mutual family benefit and enjoyment, according to the 4-H garden records. Future careers often open up to the young people who have worked with garden projects over a long period. For example, Jerry Unruh, who will enter

They Grow 'em and Sell 'em

Pictured here (from left) are 4-H'ers Donald Weeks, 20, of Terra Haute, Ind.; Carolyn Garrison, 18, of Silverton, Tex.; and Jerry Unruh, 17, of Galva, Ill. This trio can't be fooled when it comes to quality and freshness because they are 1961 national 4-H garden champions and recipients of Allis-Chalmers 4-H garden scholarships. They have a combined total of 28 years of 4-H membership.

Kansas State University next fall, plans to major in horticulture. He not only has raised prize-winning vegetables, but has put aside earnings to help meet college expenses.

Gardening Is Popular

National champions Carolyn Garrison, who was among the 9,000 Lone Star States carrying the garden project last year, and Donald Weeks, a Purdue University junior, one of more than 9,400 Hoosier gardeners, are typical of top-notch producers in the state.

Gardening, it seems, is the ideal project for 4-H'ers no matter where they live. Weeks lives just outside Terra Haute in a 3 1/2 acre farm, while Miss Garrison lives on an sprawling 850 acre Texas ranch.

Again, this year, Allis-Chalmers will provide up to four garden medals for first place county winners; a state winner all-expense trip to the week-long National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago right after Thanksgiving; and eight $400 college scholarships.

Winners will be named by the Cooperative Extension Service, and awards distributed through the National 4-H Service Committee.

Executive Peace Corps

Exporting U. S. Know-How Paves Way To Better Understanding in Americas

We will have taken a giant step to improve relations between United States and Latin American countries if American business can successfully export its "know-how" and develop a better understanding of our free enterprise system abroad. This opinion was expressed by Jack C. Staehle, vice president and director of Aldens, Inc., who with top officials from other companies recently conducted a series of management seminars in Caracas and Maracay under the joint sponsorship of the Executive Peace Corps.

Jack C. Staehle

ship of the Venezuelan government and the United States Agency for Industrial Development. The aim of this agency (AID), which is an arm of the Peace Corps, is to help increase industrial production in other countries, on the theory that where the good things of life are plentiful, communist infiltration becomes difficult.

Mr. Staehle with other members of the "Executive Peace Corps" spent fourteen tightly scheduled days crisscrossing lectures, and meetings for the exchange of ideas, and returned with a very high regard for the Venezuelan people and the fast progress they are making in developing their country. "This is a very interesting group period for Venezuela," he said. The road joining Maracay, Caracas and Maracay which has been cut through mountains and stretches over valleys is an engineering achievement of the highest order. Everywhere in Caracas one sees architecture at its best. Housing developments for low income groups could easily be mistaken for luxury apartments.

In other ways Venezuela still has a long way to go. Although it boasts many modern factories, distribution channels and methods trail those of the United States by 25 years or more. As might be expected food products are prepared and produced under much less rigid standards than those which apply here, labeling and packaging controls as we know them are nonexistent and the manufacturer who offers an honest product must compete with items which are mislabeled and often packaged in containers with false bottoms.

Although accompanied by an interpreter throughout the journey and while all his talks were delivered with simultaneous interpretation, Mr. Staehle reports that most business men have a good knowledge of English and are well educated, many of them having secured their degrees from universities in the United States.

Venezuela is an oil rich country which has many other resources and there is no doubt it can attain a high level of industrial production. Rapid strides are being made and Venezuelan business men evidenced a keen desire to learn from American business how to move ahead even faster. Everywhere he talked, Mr. Staehle heard an audience that was attentive and with a keen and lively interest in every phase of American business.

Mr. Staehle, whose company is a leading merchandiser selling goods through catalogs, retail department stores and discount houses, commented that Aldens is not currently considering doing business in Venezuela or any other foreign country.

Pontiac Builds GM's 75-Millionth Automobile

PONTIAC, MICH. — With a junior astronaut in the front seat symbolizing an accomplishment never before reached in the auto industry, General Motors "launched" its 75 millionth car built in the United States in ceremonies at Pontiac's main plant. The pearl-ivory Bonneville convertible rolled off the assembly line 54 years after GM's organization and less than eight years after the corporation built its 50 millionth car in 1914. The smiling driver is E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Ruth Lawrence Circle Met

Mrs. R. C. Williams was hostess to her Circle on Tuesday a.m. April 10 at Nine o'clock. The devotional was given by Mrs. G. T. Murphree, reading scripture from 26 and 27 chapters of Matthew and closed with prayer. Mrs. R. C. Williams introduced Mrs. Lamar DeLoach who gave the program. Her topic was Symbolism in Christianity. She gave some symbols of the early Christians and explained different kinds of crosses we see today and what they stand for and concluded the program with a song At the Cry of the First Bird, and was accompanied by Miss Beverly Hicks on the piano.

In the business sessions, Mrs. Hollis Jackson, Chairman presided. Plans were made for the congregation dinner to be held on April 17 at the church. It was announced of the District annual meeting to be held at Marion Junction on May 1st at 9:30. Plans are in the making for the Progressive dinner for the Seniors. The meeting was closed by repeating Mischap.

In the social hour refreshments were served to 10 members and 3 visitors. Mrs. Phillip Craig Mrs. Virgil Newton and Miss Beverly Hicks.

Tangy Salad Of Frozen Peas and Cheddar Cheese Perks Appetites

The season for barbecues and outdoor cookery calls for spicy, taste-tempting salads. Here's a "make-ahead" treat that will have plates being passed for seconds accompanied by hostess pleasing compliments.

GREEN PEAS AND GOLDEN CHEESE SALAD
1 10-ounce package frozen green peas
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound dried American or cheddar cheese (3/4 cup)
8 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle
1/2 cup finely sliced celery
1/2 cup chopped green onions
1/2 cup bottled salad dressing (or commercial salad dressing)

Place frozen green peas in saucepan with water, salt and sugar. Cover. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, separating block with fork. If necessary, to hasten thawing. Reduce heat to medium and simmer 3-4 minutes. Turn peas immediately into a container with ice cubes and cover. Refrigerate thoroughly. Drain.

Combine with remaining ingredients, cover and let stand in refrigerator for an hour or so to let flavors blend. Serve in scooped out tomato cups or on crisp lettuce. Serves 5.

Grammatas-Eiland Vows Spoken

The First Baptist Church was the scene at seven P.M. Saturday, April 7, of the wedding of Miss Albert Grammatas and Albert Grammatas, Jr.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Marion Eiland and Mrs. Albert Grammatas and of Mrs. Grammatas all of Clanton.

Rev. James Ellison, pastor of Pates Chapel Church performed the ceremony before an improvised altar. A white arch was empaneled with Southern Smiles and on either side were two wrought iron floor standards filled with an arrangement of white gladioli, mums and greenery. There was one tiered candlestick with candles on each end and potted palms at each end. Pew seats were marked with white satin bows for the relative.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Jerry Bloxum of Wetumpka. She accompanied Roy Wood as he sang "I Love You Truly" and "I'll Walk Beside You".

Mrs. Billy DeVaughn, served as Matron of Honor. Vicki Littlejohn was flower girl. Ricky Watley, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The groom chose Lowell Thomas of Clanton as best man. The ushers were Francis Kane and Earl Monroe of Clanton.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was a picture of loveliness in her gown of lace and net over taffeta. Elongated bodice, that came to a point in front, long pointed sleeves, full skirt of lace with three wide ruffles of lace in front, a low scalloped neckline embroidered in sequins and pearls. She wore a finger-tip veil attached to a demi-cadof lace embroidered in seed pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was a white orchid, purple throated and white French carnations, butterfly roses on a white Bible.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a light blue batiste dress with bands of white lace. She wore a circular veil with satin bows on the sides. Her corsage was white carnations. The groom's mother wore a navy silk frock and a feathered hat with accessories to match. She also wore a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents had a reception in the downstairs auditorium. The bride's table was covered with a cloth of embroidery and cut-work, centered with pink and white snapdragons. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. The three tiered white cake was embossed in white with pink roses and lilies of the valley topped with a miniature bride and groom, under a fancy arch. The cake was placed on a mirror. After the traditional cutting of the cake it was served by Mrs. Geo. Zannis and Mrs. Nick Sfakianos of Birmingham, cousins of the groom and Mrs. Lois W. Mims.

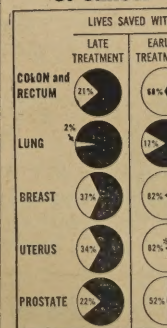

The bride's book was provided over by Miss Ruby Littleton from a table marked with white carnations in a crystal vase. For her going away suit, the bride was wearing a navy blue silk shantung with polka dot blouse and her corsage was an orchid from her bride's bouquet. The couple will make their home in Atlanta, Ga. where the groom is employed.

AFTER-REHEARSAL PARTY

Mrs. Albert Grammatas was hostess to the After-rehearsal wedding party and out-of-town guest on Friday night at a dinner in the private dining room of the Triple A Cafe in South Clanton for her son Albert Grammatas, Jr.

The table was centered with an arrangement of spring flowers for this occasion.

Importance of early diagnosis of cancer

Spring Is Here . . . And So Are Two New Soups

A double treat is in store for all this spring! Two new canned condensed soups . . . colorful and flavorful . . . will give spark and interest to your new season meals.

Split pea with ham . . . a smooth puree of green peas blended with tender split peas for extra goodness, pieces of smokehouse ham and delicate seasonings . . . is a deliciously hearty soup. It will add nourishment to a sandwich meal, please the palate, be the mainstay of a late supper menu. Serve it prepared according to label directions and topped with garnishes or for a real special treat try it curried.

Curried Split Pea Soup
1/2 cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons chopped green onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1 can (11 1/4 ounces) condensed split pea with ham soup
1 soup can water
Cook celery, onion, and onion in butter until onion is tender. Blend in soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then, 5 minutes.
Cheddar cheese soup . . . is the other new soup now available. It, too, is wholesome and nutritious. You'll like it as a soup or golden Cheddar cheese gives it rich tangy flavor while country cream makes it velvety smooth. It's a great dinner appetizer and a perfect soup for lunch with a sandwich or salad. You'll be just as thrilled with this new soup as a cooking ingredient. From simple sauces to hearty casseroles or skillet dishes, it's ideal.
For a quick easy supper turn this tempting soup into a tasty, economical rabbit.

Cheese and Frank Rabbit
3 frankfurters, sliced
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (11 ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 cup milk
1 slice onion
Brown frankfurters in Blend in soup, mustard, and milk. Heat, stirring now and then. Serve over toast. Makes 4 servings.

Deep in the heart of Texas is San Antonio with its immortal Alamo, old-world Spanish charm and missions. The exciting ride through the "Hill Country" of dude and working ranches. The vast herds of sheep and goats around Kerrville provide fine camera fare, while Fredericksburg has the interesting Pioneer Memorial Museum, and Easter Rabbit country, a century-old German custom.

Curving east, the route is through a vacation land where Angora goats are raised; the water sports mecca around Lake Buchanan; then south to Austin with its pink granite state capital and showplace, oil-rich University of Texas campus; and back to San Antonio via San Marcos and New Braunfels, famed for their crystal clear springs.

Buffaloes still roam the Wichita Mountains in Oklahoma. A fascinating Magic Circle motor tour of these great still-open spaces includes progressive lawns and adjacent Fort Sill, once an Indian campaign base, and currently said to be the world's leading artillery and missile center. Its old Post Guard House, now a museum, confers on the Chief White Horse, Big Tree and Geronimo. The tour continues through the Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge, inhabited by 800 buffalo, fabled Texas Longhorn steers, antelope, wild turkey and quail.

Oklahoma's Holy City, visited annually by 300,000, will hold its 57th annual Easter Sunrise Service this year for thousands of worshippers. Its permanent structures represent Herod's Court, the temple, stable and tomb; 1,000 life-size statues portray 60 scenes from the Life of Christ from 2 a.m. to sunrise. The route leads through wheat and cotton country to Quartz Mountain State Park and its huge man-created lake, popular for water skiing and ranch cookouts. Canals from the lake irrigate rich lands around Altus, known for its Larry Air Force Base, site of an Atlas Missile Project.

Southward, you cross the sprawling historic Red River into Vernon, Texas, scene of the annual Santa Rosa Roundup Rodeo. The precision drills performed by the Palomino Riding Club, Wichita Falls, an oil capital, is proud of its fine homes and newly established Midwestern University.

ATHLETIC BANQUET
The athletic banquet was held in the high school auditorium on March 30. The members of the football and basketball teams, their dates, school faculty, their guests, and others enjoyed a delicious meal and entertainment. The program was as follows:
Invocation: Mr. John Herrod
Welcome: Mr. J. L. Kelley Meal
Words of Appreciation: Mr. J. L. Kelley
Music presented by: F. H. A. Quartet: Martina Jo Adams, Mary Watson, Alice McMinn, and Ann Fancher. Trey sang Mr. Touchdown, and Cottonfield.
Coach Bob Haggard presented the following awards: the most valuable halfback, Jessie Harrison; most valuable lineman, Aubrey Giles; most valuable basketball player, Aubrey Giles. Other award letters were presented. Congratulations to each of these boys.

Mr. J. E. Bearden introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Jack Brown, a former athletic at the University of Alabama. He was coach at Parrish High School in Selma, and at present is with the Liberty National Life Insurance Company in Selma. He gave a very interesting talk and some excellent advice to the high school students.

Miss Mary Ann Watson was chosen as the Devil's Sweetheart last fall; she was presented with a white carnation corsage and an award letter.

Mrs. J. E. Bearden was in charge of the food and decoration. She was presented with a gift for her loyalty and work for the banquet.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated, carrying out the football and basketball colors.

Football captains for 1962 are Wayne Traywick, Layton Lenoir and Ronny Smithman.

FFA CATTLE SHOW
On Wednesday, March 21, the FFA boys of Maplesville High School showed eleven calves on the ball field. The prizes were given as follows:
First: Braxton Gibson
Second: Bobby O'Neal
Third: Braxton Gibson
Other prizes were given for good grooming and showmanship. Judges were Mr. Lewis of Auburn, Mr. J. Rod Thompson of Clanton, and Mr. Ray McGhee of Jemison. Mr. John Herrod was the announcer and Mr. Carlos Owen is the advisor. The Veterans Club and others sponsored the show.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, the FFA members showed thirteen calves at the Airport in Clanton and at the coliseum in Montgomery.

The three days were well spent with Mrs. Lewis teaching the boys how to groom and show their calves.

All the calves were sold at a fair price. The money received will be invested in calves for the future.

The boys were chaperoned these three days by their advisor Mr. Carlos Owens, and Mr. Briggs Gibson Sr., father of Braxton.

JR. BOYS 4-H CLUB MET
The Jr. Boys 4-H Club met on April 5 with Mr. Dan Mims as leader. The 4-H pledge and the pledge to the flag of the United States of America was led by Ronny Brantly.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Wayne Lawley.

Mr. Mims announced the rally which will be April 20 in Clanton. There will be field events, and rules to be followed at the rally.

This was the last meeting. Reporter: Ronny Brantly

TEACHERS MEET
Teachers Appreciation week was observed by the faculty of our school this week.

On Tuesday the hospitality committee of the P-T-A. served the faculty coffee and cake in the Home Economic Room at 9:40 a.m. Members of the P-T-A. taught for the teachers who enjoyed this social hour together.

Each faculty member was asked to write a note telling the things parents can do to help the teachers.

The annual "May Court" nights of Maplesville High School will be held on Thursday and Friday nights April 26 and 27 in the school auditorium. The public is invited.

YOU, FIGHT CANCER!

This year has been designated as Cancer Progress Year in recognition of 25 years of progress in cancer control. The American Cancer Society's programs of research, education and service have contributed greatly to this progress. Support of the 1962 April Crusade will assure continued progress.

MELVIN POWELL

In recent weeks I have seen and talked to many of you and in the next four weeks I intend to see and ask the support or as many more of you as I possibly can. In the communities I have worked thus far I have missed many of you. I will also miss some in the following weeks. So through the means of the papers I would again like to thank you for your encouragement and support thus far in this campaign and humbly ask every citizen of this county for your support and influence in the weeks ahead.

If elected your county sheriff I will again ask for your support in helping me carefully choose the best men available to help enforce the law in the most honorable manner possible.

I will exhaust every possible effort to operate the sheriff's office on such clean, high level standards to deserve the utmost respect of every person in this fine county of ours.

I believe all information given to the sheriff should be held in strict confidence, and thoroughly investigated. I believe a law enforcement officer should conduct himself in such manner to have the respect of all citizens young and old alike. I believe that right thinking citizens be given the chance to cooperate with the law enforcement agencies of the county to assure a cleaner better place in which to live.

If elected your sheriff I will strive every day to make these and other beliefs a reality. With your influence and support now and with continued cooperation if I'm elected I am sure this can be accomplished. — Melvin Powell.

What Happened To The Federal Agents "Little Judge" Threatened To Jail?

According To The Official Court Record, GEORGE WALLACE MET THE FEDERAL AGENTS IN HIS OFFICE AT NIGHT And Gave Them The Voting Records They Sought.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE MIDDLE

DISTRICT OF ALABAMA, NORTHERN DIVISION

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

vs.

GEORGE C. WALLACE

No. 11,098-N F I L E D

Jan. 26, 1959
By G. Dolson, Clerk
By Charles R. Hughes, Deputy Clerk

ORDER AND JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL

Upon consideration of the pleadings and testimony taken herein, and the pleadings and affidavits submitted in civil action 1438-N, styled in re: George C. Wallace, et al., the following order and judgment is now made and entered:

This court on the 9th day of January, 1959, entered an order in civil action 1487-N, a matter which was at that time pending before this court; said order required and directed the defendant in this present cause — George C. Wallace — who was a respondent in that numbered civil action, to make available for inspection by the Commission on Civil Rights, its agents or representatives, certain voting and registration records of Barbour and Bullock Counties, Alabama.

This Court finds that on January 12 and 13, 1959, George C. Wallace, after receiving actual notice of this Court's order, for some reason judicially unknown to this Court, attempted to give the impression that he was defying this Court's order by turning said records over to hastily summoned grand juries in Barbour and Bullock Counties, Alabama. However, this Court finds that said action did not constitute defiance or disobedience, since Wallace, from all appearances, continued to maintain control of said records in each of said counties.

This Court further finds and concludes that George C. Wallace, through devious methods, assisted said agents in obtaining the records in these two counties. Specifically, he assisted by:

(1) furnishing certain of the voting and registration records to the agents of the Commission on Civil Rights in his office in Clayton, Alabama, at 7:15 p.m., on January 8, 1959;

(2) contacting the agents on the night of Monday, January 12, 1959, and at that time advising them that the Barbour County records would be available in Clayton, Alabama, on January 13, 1959. The agents, acting upon this information, proceeded to Barbour County where they obtained the records as Wallace had advised they would; and

(3) informing the agents at approximately 3 p.m. on January 13, 1959, that the Bullock County records might also be made available in the same manner that the Barbour County records had been made available. These records in Bullock County were all later made available to representatives of the Commission.

This Court further finds that, even though it was accomplished through means of subterfuge, George C. Wallace did comply with the order of this Court concerning the production of the records in question. As to why the devious methods were used, this Court will not now judicially determine. In this connection, this Court feels it sufficient to observe that if these devious means were in good faith considered by Wallace to be essential to the proper exercise of his state judicial functions, then this Court will not and should not comment upon these methods. However, if these devious means were for political purposes, then this Court refuses to allow its authority and dignity to be bent or swayed by such politically-generated whirlwinds.

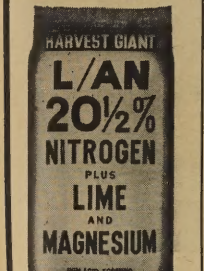

The defendant, George C. Wallace, is ORDERED to be and he is hereby found not guilty of contempt of this Court and stands discharged.

Done, this 26th day of January, 1959.

New and Economical

"Vanilla Banana Pudding-Pie"

This new variation of that perennial favorite is economical enough to serve frequently, yet special enough for special company. "Vanilla Banana Pudding-Pie" combines sliced bananas with sunny vanilla wafers and a custard-type mixture spiced with nutmeg and lemon rind. To be extra fancy, serve it with whipped cream. Here's how to make it:

Vanilla Banana Pudding-Pie

44 Sunshine Vanilla Wafers 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, firmly packed
2 small bananas 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups milk 2 tablespoons sugar

Coarsely break 17 vanilla wafers into about 10 to 12 pieces each. Place in layer over bottom of 8-inch pie plate. Arrange 15 whole wafers around side of plate to make a scalloped edge. Peel and slice bananas; arrange in a layer over broken wafers. Place remaining 12 wafers over bananas. Beat eggs, stir in milk, sugar, lemon rind and nutmeg. Pour slowly over top of wafers and bananas, allowing the fluid to soak in and not run over. Dot with butter or margarine. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) for 20 to 25 minutes, or until custard mixture begins to set. Cool to room temperature before serving. Serve with whipped cream if desired. Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

New Flavor and Texture
in Pineapple Juice

From our 50th state, Hawaii, comes a delightfully different product, Dole's new "Flavor-Spun" Pineapple Juice. The difference you can readily see and taste.

"Flavor-Spun" Pineapple Juice is light and smooth textured. You will notice immediately improved clarity and more fresh fruit flavor—the result of extensive research and a new million dollar method at the Dole cannery in Hawaii.

The new pineapple juice gets its name, "Flavor-Spun", from the spinning centrifuges used in the process which provides precise control over fruit solids and removes coarse fibers. The new method also excludes air which has long been an enemy of flavor. And the new "cold-fill" retains more volatile flavor esters than the old hot-fill method. The juice is sent immediately to canning and sealing lines, resulting in peak flavor retention.

H. C. Cornuelle, President of Dole, says, "It's the finest juice we've ever sent to the mainland, the result of the most modern methods we can achieve, both on plantations and in the cannery. We are convinced that acceptance will be quick and enthusiastic."

"Flavor-Spun" Pineapple Juice by Dole is delicious for breakfast or as a refresher—just chill and serve. Now available at your grocer's in several sizes to fit your needs, 12, 18, and 46-oz. cans.

County Teenage Safe Driving Rodeo To Be This Saturday

SATURDAY, April 14, 1962, the Clanton Jaycees are holding their annual county wide Safe Driving Road-E-O. It will be held at the Clanton County High School football field at 9:00 a.m. All high school students with drivers licenses are urged to enter this event.

The program is open to all persons who have not reached their nineteenth birthday on or before the late of the final day of the National Road-E-O (August 9, 1962). They must not be married or ever have been married. Entrants shall be declared ineligible to enter if they have been found guilty of a moving traffic violation by a competent court within a six (6) month period prior to the final day of the National Finals, or if they have a pending charge of a moving traffic violation at the time of the National Finals.

Surveys indicate that trained young drivers have only half as many accidents and traffic violations, as do their unschooled contemporaries. In an effort to reduce wholesale murder on our highways, and in a tangible way to help driver educators combat traffic accidents and violations, the Jaycees developed ten years ago the Safe Driving Road-E-O.

"Our aim is to encourage teenagers to practice safe driving habits. Through the use of driver obstacle courses and written driving tests, we seek to create an awareness in the young driver's mind of his limitations, while driving; and at the same time, to encourage, foster and stimulate a safe-driving attitude.

A WORD FROM CHILTON'S CHAIRMAN

Everyone is invited to watch these youngsters put their cars through the paces and after the contest, anyone of the older individuals are invited to try the course and compare skills with the youngsters.

Remember: That's this coming Saturday morning.

Honorary Club Met With Mrs. Moore

The Honorary Club met with Mrs. Moore in her room Friday, April 6th. The Club was brought to order by President Bill Speaks and the Club song, America, was sung. The pledge to the Flag was given, also. The Club motto was said and there was no old in new business.

The program was planned by Dorothy Davis.

Mrs. Moore chose for her devotion II Timothy 2:15. She also read a poem "Holy Bible, Book Divine". Her closing prayer was Psalm 119: 105-112.

The following reports were given. Wilbur and Orville Wright, by Ken Johnson. Prince Tom III, by Sandra Calfee. Louisa Alcott, by Sandro Lang-

VOTE FOR

Gordon Conway For Superintendent of Education

When you go to the polls on May 1 to vote for County Superintendent of Education, please consider experience and training in making your decision on this very important office.

I offer as my qualifications: four years of college training for teaching plus an additional year of college training for school administration thus making a total of five years of college training. I hold both a Bachelor's and Master's degree. In addition to this training I have had other graduate courses toward my sixth year of college training.

My experience includes nine and one-half years as a classroom teacher, two and one-half years as principal of a twelve grade school, and two years as a school bus driver. Since July 1, 1961 when I was appointed to fill an unexpired term, I have had invaluable experience as your superintendent of schools.

During my short tenure as your superintendent, I have endeavored to perform my duties in a creditable way. I invite you to check any or all records of my office. They are public and according to the examiners of the Department of Examiners of Public Accounts, State of Alabama, Montgomery, Alabama all records are clear.

I ask you to give me the opportunity and privilege to serve you for a full four year term as your Superintendent of Chilton County Schools. Your consideration, vote and influence in my behalf on May 1 will be greatly appreciated. Subj. to the action of the Democratic Primaries of May 1 and 29, 1962.

Subject to the action of the Demo. Primaries, May 1 and 29, 1962

Romance and history make New Orleans unique among American cities, and Mardi Gras transforms it briefly into a glittering land of imagination. But New Orleans is at its hospitable best during Spring Fiesta when mansions, including restored homes with their hidden gardens in the old French Quarter, are open and may be visited.

The Magic Circle auto tour starts at Jackson Square with its dramatic equestrian statue of Andrew Jackson, lovely 1794 St. Louis Cathedral, and the world renowned section of gourmet restaurants, Dixieland jazz spots, antique shops and pastel, old-world buildings with their lacy iron grillwork.

Across Canal Street is New Orleans of 1962: its stunningly modern Civic Center, State Supreme Court Building and multi-colored, $8 million City Hall. The route then follows tree-canopied St. Charles Street past Loyola University to Tulane University's campus of imaginative new buildings and the famed Super Bowl stadium; Audubon Park with its zoo of exotic and unusual birds; and Chalmette National Historical Park, which enshrines the battlefield where General Andrew Jackson crushed the British in the War of 1812.

The route curves north to photogenic Fort Pike State Park, east to Fontainebleau State Park with its majestic live oaks and shining beach, and then south via 24-mile Lake Pontchartrain Causeway, the world's longest bridge—which gives you the feeling of driving gone to sea in your automobile!

SELLERS SAYS

By John D. Sellers

If you're a tobacco user, the extra care in handling your tobacco plants this spring could give them an incurable virus.

Tomato and pepper plants are especially vulnerable. It's not that the smoke you touch to the plants, but gardeners who smoke, chew or dip tobacco of any kind transmit a tobacco mosaic virus from their hands to the plant.

Last year, an estimated 15 per cent of Alabama's tomato and pepper plantings fell victim to the virus. In many home gardens, the virus severely reduced production of tomatoes and peppers.

Suppose you touch tobacco, of course, and then touch the plants. The virus - which isn't killed in curing. But enough of it is infected to plague the garden.

Researchers have discovered that the virus can be kept out by a bathing your hands in the plant in milk. But not many home gardeners would go to this much trouble. Another method is washing your hands with soap and water before handling the plants.

ONE POINT OF CAUTION: If you notice infected plants, they will have a bushy appearance and puckered leaves with dark and light green spots - pull them out of the garden. If you don't, they will feed on the diseased plants and spread the virus over the garden.

NEMATODES
They may not get blamed for it, but nematodes do more damage than most gardeners realize. These little worms that live in the soil and attack roots are described by Dr. Norman McGlohon of Auburn University as "Probably the Number One problem in Alabama gardens."

Dr. McGlohon, a nematologist with the Extension Service, cited two reasons:
First, people don't rotate their crops, but plant the same crops on the land year after year, and second, every vegetable crop is susceptible to nematodes.

Once the root system of a plant is infected, it can't take up food or water. "Nematodes don't get the blame for the damage they do," said Dr. McGlohon. "They can reduce yields 20 to 50 per cent and you never know because you have nothing to compare it to. Most folks blame the weather or fertilizer."

You can buy a variety of materials, both granules and liquids at your garden center that will control the pests. Those mentioned here should be applied six inches deep in the row and all should be covered immediately. Thirty per cent Nemagon granules applied a few days before planting will be effective. Several liquids are recommended. Fumazone 70E and Nemagon liquid can be used just before planting or even at planting time. D-D and Dorsifol W-35 are also effective liquids, but they must be used at least 14 days before planting to prevent injury to plants. Different materials call for different rates of application, so check the directions for this information.

Remember: anything you do for nematode control must be done before or at planting time. After that, it is too late!

AZALEAS
Azaleas are getting a lot of attention around Alabama these days and it's hardly surprising. They're blooming out in all their glory. If you're an azalea grower, or interested in planting them, you'll find these tips from your County Agent's office helpful:

1. If azaleas have bloomed, it's a good time to fertilize them. Recommended rates: Two to three ounces of 8-8-8 (about a cupful) for each plant with a three-foot branch spread, or two to three pounds for each 100 square feet of planting area. If fertilizer gets on the foliage, wash it off immediately to prevent burn. In dry weather, be sure to thoroughly water the fertilizer in. An inch to an inch and a half of water will be enough.

2. If you transplant azaleas - this is true of other plants, too - give them plenty of water. They will need it badly in the coming hot months. Too, wet the foliage on newly transplanted plants every day or so.

3. Azaleas are shallow rooted, so plant them shallow (no deeper than they were in the container or nursery bed).

4. Now's a good time to loosen the mulch around azaleas to improve aeration and make it easier for water to get into the soil. Do dig the soil deep, though, because of possible root injury.

QUESTION AND ANSWER DEPARTMENT
Question: The gardenia is my favorite flower, but in trying to grow them I have trouble with whitefly. What can I do to get rid of these pests?
ANSWER: Many gardenia growers are asking the same question. Whiteflies are, in fact, the most serious pest of gardenias. If you look at your gardenia now, you may see the larval and pupal stages of the fly. They look like light greenish-colored scales - on the underside of the leaves. A black mold cowering the top surface of the leaves is a sure sign they are there. You can get rid of them by using three teaspoons of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder in one gallon of water.

By Johnnie M. Lane
Home Demonstration Agent

ONE of the most gratifying experiences of a homemaker is the moment when housecleaning is finished. It is a real thrill to have everything sparkling, shining, and neatly in place.

Why not add the deep satisfaction of knowing that your home is a safer place to live in than it was before? As you remove the clutter, you have a wonderful opportunity to check each room for possible hazards, and to take steps to eliminate them. This is the efficient, sensible way to clean, whether you use the once a year, including one over time method of housecleaning.

STORAGE AREAS
As you do cupboards and drawers, keep alert to the many ways you can eliminate hazards to you and your family. Knives, scissors, and other sharp objects should be kept in holders or some secure place. Store matches in a tightly closed metal container. Get rid of emeraldware if it is cracked or chipped. (Flakes of vitreous enamel can get into food.)

Also examine ceramic ware, and stop using it if the glaze is cracked. Dirt, fat, and moisture can be absorbed in the crack, creating an unsanitary condition. If you have any inexpensive tin-plated utensils, look them over for sharp corners and exposed raw edges. Check the handles of kettles and skillets to be sure they are securely attached. Examine small electrical appliances for frayed wires and loose connections. Rearrange high shelves to hold only items used infrequently.

Keep your children in mind as you work. Anything a child can swallow is potentially dangerous. Always replace covers tightly on containers. More than a few common household products, such as ketchup, soups, and bleaches, are high on the list of causes of poisoning, according to the National Safety Council. Don't keep household cleaners and detergents under the kitchen sink, unless the cabinet is locked when youngsters are around.

REMEMBER to read labels carefully, including the small print on many indispensable household products can be dangerous to children or are packaged in such a way that a hazard may be created through possible misuse. Most of these products have cautions printed on the labels - some statements require by law, others simply provided by the manufacturer. This great effort to help homemakers, however, will be wasted on women who do not use common sense in storing and handling packages. Drugs, of course, are particularly dangerous. Some manufacturers have recently fitted their packages with safety caps that are not likely to be removed by children, but this is not the entire answer to safety when you clean the medicine chest. Think what might happen if a youngster got his hands on razor blades, permanent wave solutions, and other supplies. This storage area should be kept locked if there are youngsters in your family.

For the safety of your family, discard all prescriptions not being used. Throw away anything that is old, stale, or outdated. Never transfer supplies into unmarked containers in order to save space. Every jar, bottle, and box should be clearly labeled. And if the medicine chest isn't in a convenient location, so that you can get at first aid supplies in a hurry, it's a good idea to fix up a kit to keep handy.

When you are cleaning a storage area where toys are kept, take a careful look at them. Check for sharp edges and other hazards. Get rid of anything that a small child could take apart, resulting in objects that are sharp or could be swallowed.

REMEMBER: Safe storage of all guns and knives, while the war souvenirs or hunting equipment, should be on your mind as you clean. If you have no children of your own, remember that you may, at times, have them as visitors. As a matter of fact, there is no guarantee that an adult will have any better sense than a child about handling such potential killers.

Next week, we will have more information on housecleaning and safety in the home. Watch for this information and help make your home a safer place in which to live.

HD CLUB SCHEDULE
The schedule for Home Demonstration Club meetings for the next week is: Today, April 12, Bethesda, Mrs. G. C. Rathcock; and Maple Springs, Mrs. Ruth Bulger; April 13, Cent. Hill, Mrs. Frances Daventport; and Friendship Extension Auditorium; April 17, J. M. Bryant; and Baker, Mrs. Johnny Culpepper; April 18, Thorby, Mrs. Ann Glass; and April 19, Mt. Pisgah, Mrs. Ethel Headley; and Shonits, Mrs. Fannie Lawley.

AN ORDINANCE
CHAPTER 15
Section 299: Building Permits.

In no case shall any building be erected, remodeled or repaired within the Corporate limits of the Town of Thorby, where the cost of repairing or remodeling shall cost for material and labor the sum of one hundred dollars or more without the owner thereof or his agent, first making application to the Town Council for a permit and securing same for the erection, remodeling or repairing of such building, and when making such application for permit he shall submit to the Town Council reasonably intelligent plans and specifications for the erection, remodeling or repairing of such building or buildings.

Any person who shall violate any provision of this chapter shall, upon conviction be fined not less than $1.00 nor more than $100.00 and may also be sentenced to hard labor for not more than sixty days.

Both Sunday School and Worship services were well attended Sunday.

Our visiting minister Rev. Elliot, his wife and daughter were with us for both morning and evening services.

Mr. George Olivera of Birmingham directed our music in Sunday night. We enjoyed it very much. He was accompanied at the piano by Miss Katie Thompson.

Mr. George Olivera was Sunday dinner guest of The Willie Jackson family.

The McArthur Jones family and the Chester Jones family visited in Mobile over the week end.

Mrs. A. D. Jines, her daughter Mildred Lovett and grandson visited the J. C. Jones Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jackson and family visited the J. C. Jones' Sunday afternoon.

Our Homecoming and singing will be this Sunday, April 15th. We are looking forward for a great day, time and be with us.

Clanton Elementary
D. T. A. Meets

The Clanton Elementary Parents and Teachers Association met in the lunch room on Tuesday p.m. at 2:45 o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Carl McDowell.

Rev. Hal Bray, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, gave a very timely devotional, reading scripture from Ephesians. His topic was Understanding Children.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Elliot V. Thigpen, secretary and approved.

The following officers for the coming year were elected: President Mrs. Morgan Reynolds, Vice President Mrs. Richard Mumpcher; Secretary Mrs. Elgie Hudgens; Treasurer Mrs. Tom C. Widner; Parliamentarian Mrs. Douglas Barton. There were others to be installed in the May meeting.

Mrs. L. C. Warr had charge of the program and presented Mr. Richard Madison, from the Bell Telephone Co. who presented a film, Communists Encircling the Globe. There was a good attendance.

The room count went to the first grade.

Your favorite congressman will lose your vote unless you vote for him on eleven others in the May 29 "9-0" election.

FOCUS ON 4-H

By William R. Futral
Assistant County Agent

FIFTY-FOUR top fed Clanton County animals were shown in the Montgomery Fat Stock Show, April 5th. Larry Fullen of Clanton took first place in the Light Weight Angus Class and Sherrell White took fourth place in the Medium Weight Angus Class.

Congratulations go to the Clanton Citizens for a job well done in sponsoring the 1962 Fat Stock Show. They are responsible for the $700.00 prize money awarded to the boys and girls who showed the 67 animals in our county show.

BUYS "TOP" ANIMALS
I would like to thank the Dixie Super Store for the support they gave us by purchasing the first place animal in the Light Weight Angus Class. This animal weighed 700 pounds and was owned by Benny Joe Gilbert, Clanton, Ala., Route 1.

PLANNING FOR '63
Wayne Carter of Fairview Community was the first 4-H member to purchase animals for the 1963 Show. Wayne returned from the Montgomery Show last week on Thursday an abedire he got home had already purchased two Angus calves for 1963. Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Carter.

Your town is not an island...

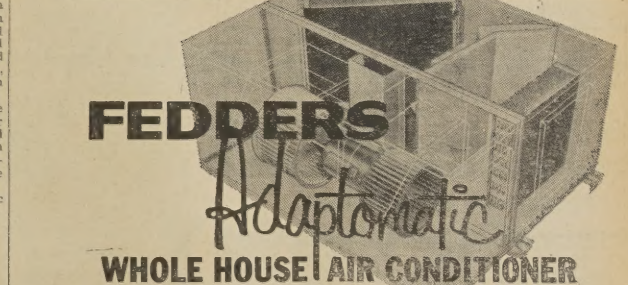

No Alabama town lives by itself, completely separated from the rural areas that surround it. The farms and country are a vital part of the urban community. The country depends on the town for goods and services... the town depends on the country for farm products and customers. What helps one is bound to help the other.

So, when the Alabama farm was modernized and improved with rural electricity, the town benefited. Low cost power made the farmer more efficient, more productive... put money in the farmer's pocket... money which he spends in the towns and cities in Alabama.

Business grows where a power line goes.

HOMEMAHER'S CLASS
TO MEET THURSDAY
The Homemakers' Sunday School Class will meet in the home of Miss Myrtice LeCroy Thursday night, April 19th, at 7:00 for their regular monthly meeting. The program will be "When The Heart Is Hungry". Mrs. Garland Smith is in charge of the program.

OUR SICK FRIENDS
Mrs. Maude DeShazo has not been doing well at all this past week. Her relatives have been sitting up with her. She is still in the Nursing Home in Prattville, but at this writing, some better.
Little Billy Nabors entered the Crippled Children's Hospital in Birmingham one day last week to get prepared for his operation, which was to take place this past Monday morning. Billy and family ask the prayers of the Christians in this community, in Chilton County and elsewhere. EDITOR'S NOTE: Late word from our correspondent is that Billy has had his operation as scheduled and is doing O.K.

For Supt. of Schools

Communism is an ugly cloud blown by an evil wind from across the waters. We must fight it thru our schools. We must perpetuate our American way of life thru our schools. We must bring to our Southern way of life.

Some new buildings we must build, others finished. Some must be renovated, others added to. Those already planned must come first.

Our instructional program we must move up, way up to new levels of excellence. Then our High School students will be well prepared for College or for life. And the Elementary students will be well prepared for High School.

Elect A Man
Who Is Experienced
In Law Enforcement

- 1. Do you want a Sheriff who will keep someone on duty day and night?
 - 2. Do you want all complaints answered and investigated immediately?
 - 3. Do you want a man who is interested in better law enforcement and good, clean government for Chilton County?
 - 4. Do you want a man who will cooperate with all city and state law enforcement officers, and all city, county and state elected officials?
- These are things that can and will be done if I am elected.
- If your answers to the above questions is yes, then vote for Reuben Gore, who has proven experience in law enforcement.
- Over three years as chief deputy sheriff under ex-sheriff, J. Luther Kendrick.
- Two years on the Clanton Police force.
- Two years as deputy under the late Mr. J. A. Nivens.

REUBEN GORE FOR SHERIFF OF CHILTON COUNTY
Your vote on May 1st will be greatly appreciated.

To the people and voters of Chilton County.
If elected I will always bear in mind that I am just a servant for the people, not just a special few, but all if the people. I will always work and strive to see that all of the people receive the benefit out of their tax dollars.
I will always vote in the Court for the very best interest of Chilton County. I will not hold any regular job while serving as your board member. I will ride the district very often to see the needs and wishes of the people and always work with them.
I will cooperate with all State and County Officials.
I will always abide by the wishes and majority of the people of Chilton County.
I will always bear in mind that we elected officials are in the voters hands after the election as well as before the election.
Your advice, support and vote respectively.

MRS. OLIVER WAS ONE OF CHILTON'S FINEST CITIZENS

Mrs. Mary E. Oliver of Verbena, prominent citizen and philanthropist, died on March 2 at the age of ninety-two. The daughter of Francis Asbury and Cordelia Anna (Collier) Gullede she was born in Rockford in October 1869. In 1878 the family moved to Verbena and Mr. Gullede opened a general mercantile business in 1877.

Mrs. Oliver was a member of the Baptist Church and during the past twenty years has made substantial contributions to the Baptist institutions of the State. In 1942, in memory of her late husband Hiram Bentley Oliver, Mrs. Oliver made possible the erection of dormitory for girls at the Alabama Baptist Children's Home in Troy. The Oliver Memorial Building is one of the larger buildings at the Home. It was through their friendship with Dr. James Oscar Colley, then superintendent of the Children's Home, that the Olivers took a foster daughter into their home as their own.

In memory of that daughter, whose death occurred a number of years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver built the Educational Building for the Verbena Baptist Church. Due to her generosity, a more adequate heating system was installed rest rooms were added and pianos were provided for the Sunday School rooms.

Since Mrs. Oliver's death, it has become known that in her will she left funds for building a parsonage for the church.

After Jewett Hall was destroyed by fire at Judson College in Marion, Mrs. Oliver made a large donation toward the rebuilding of that dormitory. A matching donation was made to Howard College toward moving the college to a new campus in East Birmingham several years ago.
